Bondholders' Defense Committee

To the Holders of Junior Bonds:

The modified Plan announced by the Reorganization Managers under the Kuhn, Loeb-National City Company Plan is a slight improvement on the original plan. However, this Committee considers that it does not substantially meet the objections heretofore made, and that, even as mofdiied, the proposed Plan of Reorganization requires the security-holders to make unnecessary sacrifices and is particularly inequitable to the Junior Bondholders. The modified Plan contemplates a still further modification contingent upon the action of Congress. There are other contingencies which may favorably affect the treatment which may justly be accorded security-holders.

This Committee will continue its efforts to secure a more just and equitable treatment of the interests it represents and renews its invitation to all Junior Bondholders in sympathy with its views to deposit their bonds with it.

Investors appreciate peace of mind

"WHAT is going to happen . . . ?" The broker shrugs his shoulders and remains silent. Business men find it difficult to concentrate on their work. Some, wholly dependent on their holdings for their incomes, watch the ticker restlessly.

There is no peace of mind.

But other men go about their business serenely through these very days. Their minds are free from worry. They have invested their funds "beyond the reach of the ticker." They know that their principal is safe. The earnings of their holdings do not vary with conditions in an industry. Let the ticker do what it will, their holdings never depreciate.

They have invested their funds in first mortgage real estate bonds.

The code of practice of the more conservative houses, specializing in this type of security, includes protection of the investor's holdings from the moment the sale is made until his last bond has been retired.

It is their duty to maintain the unequaled record of safety offered by real estate bonds. They have the experience and personnel to do so. Every issue is secured by a first mortgage on an apartment, office or hotel structure, which earns an income more than sufficient to pay all interest charges and provide funds for the retirement of bonds.

Miller Bonds have these features: Interest up to 7 per cent. . . . The guarantee clause. . . . Normal federal income tax refunded. . . . Various state taxes refunded or paid.

Our success depends upon keeping this statement true: "No investor ever lost a dollar in Miller Bonds." G. L. Miller & Co., Inc., 30 East 42nd Street, New York City. Offices and representatives in principal cities.

The FAIRFAX

Fireproof Furnished Apartments

CHICAGO

First Mortgage Leasehold 6½% Serial Gold Bonds

Dated: November 1, 1925 Due Serially: May 1, 1928 to May 1, 1935

CHICAGO TITLE AND TRUST COMPANY, TRUSTEE

Principal and semi-annual interest, May 1st and November 1st, payable at the office of Wollenberger & Co., Chicago. Redeemable at 102 and accrued interest on 60 days' notice to Wollenberger & Co. The Normal Federal Income Tax up to 2% will be paid by the borrower. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100.

OUR recommendation of these bonds is based on three outstanding factors—1st: The magnificent location of the mortgaged property; 2nd: The unusually wide margin of security under the loan, and, 3rd: The large excess of assured earnings over principal and interest charges.

LOCATION: The Fairfax Fireproof Furnished Apartments is located on the southwest corner of Hyde Park Boulevard and Dorchester Avenue, Chicago, in the very heart of the Hyde Park district. This is generally regarded as the most highly improved section of Chicago outside the "Loop." In the immediate vicinity are two of Chicago's finest parks—Jackson Park and Washington Park, Lake Michigan with its bathing beaches, the University of Chicago, and many of the city's largest and most exclusive hotels and apartment structures. The transportation facilities (Illinois Central R.R. suburban system; auto bus lines; street cars) are admittedly the best in Chicago.

SECURITY: These bonds are a closed First Mortgage on property conservatively appraised at $1,250,000. The security includes the building, equipment and furnishings of The Fairfax, together with the 197-year leasehold on the land. The building, which covers 100 by 120 feet, is a high-grade 10-story-and-basement structure now in process of erection. The property has a frontage of 150 feet on Hyde Park Boulevard and 100 feet on Dorchester Avenue.

The Fairfax will contain 135 high-grade, medium-priced furnished apartments, for which there is a strong demand in this section. In planning the building, every provision has been made for comfort, beauty and convenience.

VALUATION: The sound appraised valuation of The Fairfax is nearly TWICE the amount of the bond issue. In addition to the tangible security of $1,250,000, principal and interest are unconditionally guaranteed by four prominent Chicago business men with a reputed worth of more than $1,500,000.

EARNINGS: After deducting taxes, ground rent and all other expenses and making a liberal allowance for possible vacancies, the annual net income from rentals is estimated at $134,000. This is more than THREE TIMES the greatest annual interest charge on the bond issue, which is $43,875.

SAFEGUARDS: These bonds will be protected by all the customary Wollenberger safeguards: Title Guaranty Policy by the Chicago Title and Trust Company; Ample Fire Insurance; Monthly Payments to Wollenberger & Co. by the mortgagor, assuring the prompt payment of principal and interest when due.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO INVESTORS

FOR years Wollenberger & Co. has been making loans on high-grade Hyde Park properties. In the period from 1922 to 1925 we underwrote bond issues on FIVE large apartment and hotel structures in this section. All of these properties are in a highly flourishing condition, with earnings far in excess of interest requirements. The same favorable conditions assure the complete success of The Fairfax.

Orders and Reservations: Bonds may be reserved now for delivery any time prior to January 20, 1926. Late reservations by special arrangement.

Have You Considered
the Future of
THE LAUNDRY INDUSTRY?

Its Continued Expansion Is Inevitable

The Laundry business is one of this country's fastest growing industries with an increase of 500% in volume in the last 16 years. More than two million families are now being served and in addition hotels, pullman cars, restaurants, institutions, etc. The Laundry Industry shows every indication of being on the threshold of a large expansion. Some of the contributary factors are:

1. Consolidation of sound companies resulting in large economies in operating costs and greater efficiency in the service rendered, together with the ability to increase volume of business through combined advertising and educational campaigns.
2. Increasing congestion in living conditions which have rendered washing and drying at home almost a physical impossibility.
3. Evolution from what ten years ago was almost solely a "collar and shirt" business to include today the entire family wash.
4. Higher standards of living and dress.
5. Public appreciation of the general development and greatly increased efficiency throughout the entire industry.
6. Refusal of the present generation of housewives to launder at home.
7. Inability to obtain domestic help.
8. Reduction of cost, resulting from improved methods and increasing volume of business, which has rendered the service universally available.

We believe that the securities of well-established companies in this field offer most attractive and profitable investment opportunities.

Our Statistical Department has compiled a pamphlet on this interesting industry, which we shall be pleased to furnish upon request

UNITED STATES MORTGAGE & TRUST CO. OF NEW YORK, MORTGAGEE.

Semi-annual Sinking Fund payments commencing May 15, 1928, are provided to retire $50,000 Certificates annually.

The Fifth Avenue and 28th Street Realty Co., Inc., has filed a letter with us regarding this loan, and has summarized the letter as follows:

This loan will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a closed first mortgage on the South East corner of Fifth Ave. and 28th St., New York City, fronting 86 feet 10 inches on Fifth Avenue and 125 feet on 28th Street (an irregular plot containing approximately 11,100 square feet), and a modern 24-story store, office and loft building to be erected thereon.

The site, according to real estate authorities, is one of the most advantageous and desirable locations in New York City for its purpose.

The building will be modern, fireproof, sprinklered, and built of steel, stone and brick. It will have an estimated total rentable area of approximately 225,000 square feet.

The proceeds of the loan will be used as part payment for both the cost of the land and the cost of the construction of the building. So much thereof as is to be applied to the construction cost will be deposited with the United States Mortgage & Trust Co. and will be advanced from time to time against the cost of the work, on certificates of construction to specified stages, as certified to by Dwight P. Robinson & Co., Inc., Engineers, who will, in the interest of the Certificate holders, supervise construction for the Mortgagee. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy not later than December 1, 1926.

The Company is to furnish a bond of the National Surety Company and other surety companies guaranteeing the completion of the building, free and clear of liens.

Appraisals have been furnished as follows:

Land alone:
Brown, Wheelock: Harris, Vought & Co., Inc	$1,075,000
Land and building upon completion:
Charles F. Noyes Company	$3,018,925
Thoens & Flaunlacher, Inc	3,034,624

Based on these appraisals, the loan will be outstanding at about 66%.

Charles F. Noyes Company and Thoens & Flaunlacher, Inc., have estimated probable rentals, and the averages of these estimates are as follows:

Annual gross rentals	$450,020
Net Annual Income Estimated	$302,169

This estimated net annual income is equivalent to about 2 1-3 times the $130,000 maximum annual interest requirements on these Certificates.

We offer these Certificates when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to the approval of counsel. Delivery will be made in the form of Temporary Certificates exchangeable for Definitive Certificates when ready.

Salient features as summarized by Mr. R. B. Burdine, who will be President of Burdines, Inc.

History and Business: Burdines, Inc., which will be the successor of W. M. Burdine's Sons, now doing the largest volume of business of any department store south of Washington and east of New Orleans, has, through its predecessors, successfully conducted for the past 27 years the leading department store in Miami, Fla. Starting in 1898 with an initial capital of about $300, the business has been developed to its present outstanding position entirely through the reinvestment of profits. The business is operated as a thoroughly modern and complete department store, supplying practically all classes of high grade merchandise. The Store occupies a six-story building located in the heart of the business district of Miami, with entrances on three principal streets, containing at present 138,000 square feet of selling floor space. Due to the growth of the business, a six-story addition is now being constructed which will make the total floor space approximately 210,000 square feet, an increase of more than 50% over present selling space.

Assets: The balance sheet, as of July 31, 1925, adjusted to give effect to this financing and to the readjustment of capital, as prepared by Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., shows net tangible assets, applicable to the Preference Stock, of $2,822,965. Current assets are shown as over $1,826,625, as compared with current liabilities of $256,639, a ratio of better than seven to one.

Earnings: For the three years ended July 31, 1925, net profits, which would have been available for dividends on this Preference Stock, after all prior charges, including Federal Income Taxes, have averaged $291,305. For the year ended July 31, 1925, such profits were $535,822, or over 3 times total annual preference dividend requirements. In the first three months of the present fiscal year, October partially estimated, net profits after taxes were in excess of $275,000, or at the annual rate of $1,100,000, equivalent to almost 6½ times the annual dividend requirements on this Preference Stock. The profits for these three months alone were equal to over 1½ times a full year's dividend requirements on the Preference Stock, although this quarter is usually the poorest of the Company's fiscal year, and, after allowing for Preference dividends, were at the annual rate of over $5.00 per share on the Common Stock to be outstanding. Furthermore, these profits do not reflect the introduction of additional working capital now being provided nor the increased earning power to be derived from the 50% enlargement of floor space.

Purpose of Issue: Approximately 30,000 shares of this issue of Preference Stock are being purchased from the Company and the remainder of the Preference Stock and the 45,000 shares of Common Stock from individuals, and to this extent do not represent financing by the Company. The proceeds from the sale of the stock purchased from the Company will be used to pay for the cost of construction of the addition and to provide additional working capital required by the continued growth of the business.

Management: The management and ownership control will continue in the hands of the Burdine family, which has been in control of the company since its inception. The staff of the organization at present consists of about 850 employees, and it is estimated that by December 1st the number will be increased to about 1,200.

Legal details will be approved by Messrs. Beckman, Bogue, Clark and Griscom, of New York.

We offer this stock, when, as and if issued and accepted by us, subject to approval of counsel, in blocks of one share of Preference Stock, with a stock purchase warrant and one share of Common Stock.

NEW ISSUE

Williams Oil-O-Matic Heating Corporation

World's largest producer of Automatic Oil Burners

THIS STOCK IS BEING BOUGHT FROM INDIVIDUALS AND INVOLVES NO NEW FINANCING FOR THE COMPANY

Capitalization

	Authorized	Issued
Common Stock (no par value)	450,000 Shs.	350,000 Shs.

NO FUNDED DEBT. NO BANK DEBT. NO PREFERRED STOCK.

Mr. Charles U. Williams, President of the Company, summarizes his letter to bankers as follows:

History and Business

The Williams Oil-O-Matic Heating Corporation of Illinois is the largest manufacturer of electrically operated domestic oil burners in the world. Starting with the sale of one burner in 1919, sales have steadily increased, until in 1925 the Company expects to sell and deliver some 12,000 units. This growth has been financed entirely out of earnings. The Company's first national advertising campaign started in May, 1924, with a dealer organization of only 400. To-day this organization numbers 1,600 dealers located in every State in the Union, and the Company plans to spend $600,000 for advertising in 1926.

Product

The first Williams Oil-O-Matic installed in 1919 is still in operation and giving perfect satisfaction. The Williams Oil-O-Matic is an electrically driven unit designed for use in connection with the ordinary type of household heating plant, steam, hot air, or hot water. This burner is capable of using a materially lower gravity fuel oil than that which can be used by any of its chief competitors. As lower gravity oil contains a greater number of heat units per gallon, and as the cost per gallon is materially less, cost of operation of the Williams Oil-O-Matic is lower than that of any of the other household burners now on the market. Proven cost of operation in many cases has been less than the previous cost of operating a coal fired furnace.

Sales and Earnings

Sales and earnings of the present Company and its predecessor in recent years, as certified by Messrs. Ernst & Ernst, have been as follows:

Years	Units Sold	Net after Taxes
1925 (10 months)	10,502	$775,403.16 (10 months)
1924	7,038	664,433.81
1923	1,909	152,889.71

Based on orders on hand and shipments made since October 31st, it is estimated that total sales of units for the calendar year 1925 will exceed 12,000 and that earnings after taxes will approximate $2.50 per share.

It is the intention of the management immediately to place the common stock on a $1.50 annual dividend basis.

Assets

Without borrowing money the Company is doing the largest business in its history. Balance sheet of October 31st showed current assets of $1,356,867, including $275,238 of cash, compared with current liabilities of $320,830, leaving a working capital of $1,036,037, ample for the Company's needs. Present capitalization is based on earning power, as total net tangible assets amount to $1,753,406. This earning power and the valuable patents owned are valued at $1.00 on the Company's balance sheet.

Management of the Company will remain in the hands of those responsible for past growth. The Williams family have an option to purchase from the Company the 100,000 shares of unissued stock which will permit them to increase their present 71.4% interest in the Company to 77.7% at the end of five years, with a resulting increase of working capital.

We have sold the above 100,000 shares a $15 per share

THE CHASE NATIONAL BANK OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, Trustee

The following information regarding the Company has been summarized from letter of Mr. Harry H. Hunt, Chairman of the Board of Directors:

BUSINESS AND PROPERTY

Virginia Electric and Power Company (formerly Virginia Railway and Power Company) into which the Spottsylvania Power Company was merged in October 1925, was organized in 1909 under the laws of Virginia. The Company through ownership or control furnishes electric light and power, transportation and/or gas service in Richmond, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Williamsburg, Suffolk, Petersburg, Hopewell, Fredericksburg and Ashland, Virginia, and Weldon and Roanoke Rapids, North Carolina, and surrounding territory with an aggregate estimated population of about 500,000. The present industrial and commercial development of this territory affords unusual opportunities for increasing the electric light and power business. The combined properties, which are conservatively valued at more than $55,000,000, include electric generating stations with a capacity of 165,000 horsepower of which 28,000 is hydro-electric, also rights for further hydro-electric developments of 100,000 horsepower.

CAPITALIZATION

Assuming the complete exchange of the preferred and common stock of Virginia Railway and Power Company for the new stocks provided for in the merger agreement and after giving effect to the recent sale of an additional $1,500,000 par value of 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock locally through a customer ownership campaign, the consolidated capitalization of Virginia Electric and Power Company and its public utility subsidiaries will be as stated below, and the Company will have available for construction over $3,000,000:—

	Authorized	Outstanding
First and Ref. Mortgage Bonds (this issue)	Open	$3,000,000
Divisional Mortgage Bonds	Closed	20,847,000
Bonds and stocks of subsidiaries and Leased Company	------	5,746,000
7% Cumulative Preferred Stock	$15,000,000	10,487,000
Common Stock (no par value)	480,000 shares	478,020 shares

The $3,000,000 Series A, 5% Gold Bonds will be direct obligations of Virginia Electric and Power Company by virtue of its indenture dated November 2, 1925 supplemental to the First and Refunding Mortgage Indenture of Spottsylvania Power Company dated October 1, 1925, and are secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first lien on electric light and power properties which have been valued at substantially more than the principal amount of these bonds, a first lien by pledge on the stock of Virginia-Carolina Power Company, owning valuable rights for future hydro-electric developments, and a direct mortgage, subject to divisional mortgage bonds, on the other fixed physical properties and franchises of the Company. The combined public utility properties now owned or controlled by the Company are conservatively valued at over twice the principal amount of all bonds at present outstanding thereon.

Additional bonds are issuable under said indentures, without limit as to maximum amount, on the basis of 75% of the cost or fair value of additional property or for purposes of refunding, all under the conservative restrictions contained in said indentures.

EARNINGS

The consolidated earnings for the 12 months ending September 30, 1925 of the properties (August 31, 1925 for Spottsylvania Power Company) are as follows:

Gross Earnings		$12,051,214
Operating Expenses, Maintenance and Taxes		7,054,218
Net Earnings		4,996,996
Required for rentals	$338,900
Required for Interest on Divisional Bonds, and charges on securities of subsidiaries	1,132,230
Required for interest on First and Refunding Bonds (this issue)	150,000	$1,621,130

ISSUANCE AUTHORIZED BY THE RAILROAD COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

The following information is summarized from the letter of Mr. Karl Brehme, President of the Company:

PROPERTY The Feather River Power Company was organized for the purpose of developing its valuable water-rights on waterways tributary to the North Fork of the Feather River in Plumas County, California. The Company is now engaged in the construction of the first of the hydro-electric developments to be undertaken by it in the utilizing of these water-rights.

This project, known as the Bucks Creek Development, will have an installed generating capacity of 40,000 K W and will be operated under an effective head of about 2,368 feet, capable, according to engineers' calculations, of producing a mean annual output of 205,000,000 K W H of primary power at 63% plant factor. The Company has entered into a contract for the construction of the project by R. C. Storrie & Company, Contractors, of San Francisco, at a contract price not to exceed $7,691,889.00. This price includes lands, water-rights, carrying charges during construction (including interest on these bonds), engineering and superintendence, and the office expenses of the Company. The Company is not obligated to pay any portion of the contract price in excess of the net proceeds received by it from the sale of these bonds and the 21,000 shares of its capital stock, which it is now authorized by the Railroad Commission to issue, and the proceeds of such further shares of its capital stock as the Railroad Commission may hereafter authorize it to issue, for the purpose of constructing said project and paying the contract price thereof. Based on a rated output of 40,000 K W, the total cost of this development will not exceed $192 per K W, a unit cost well below the average of such costs throughout the State of California. Contractors faithful performance bond and labor and material bond in the aggregate amount of $6,850,000 have been deposited with the Trustee, insuring completion of the project within the contract time and price free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, except the lien of this bond issue.

GREAT WESTERN POWER COMPANY CONTRACT The Company has entered into a purchase contract with the Great Western Power Company of California under the terms of which the latter Company agrees to purchase the entire output of the Bucks Creek plant at a 63% plant factor, as defined in said contract, at a flat rate of four (4) mills per K W H, and, through such power purchase, will become the owner of the plant and all appurtenances and water-rights in 35 years from time of completion, subject, however, to the lien of any of these bonds which may be outstanding at that time. This power contract extends to the last maturity of these bonds and has been approved by the State Railroad Commission. Payments for power are to be made quarterly direct to the Trustee, to whom the contract has been assigned. The Trustee shall have sole custody of these funds and shall apply them, first towards the payment of operating expenses and taxes, and then towards the payment of the principal and interest of these bonds.

EARNINGS Based upon a mean annual output of 205,000,000 K W H primary power at a flat rate of four mills per K W H, the gross revenue to be received by the Trustee under the power contract would total $820,000 annually. Operating expenses, maintenance and taxes should not exceed $176,000 annually as estimated by Mr. W. A. Brackenridge, leaving a net income applicable to bond charges of $644,000. This net income is 2.90 times the average annual interest charge on these bonds, 1.95 times the maximum annual interest charge and 1.70 times the maximum annual amount required for the payment of principal and interest, and thus affords a wide margin of safety.

SECURITY These bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first closed mortgage on all lands, dams, power-house, generating equipment of 40,000 K W capacity, and all appurtenant property, comprising the Bucks Creek Development. They will be further secured by the assignment to the Trustee of the power contract with the Great Western Power Company of California, and by deposit with the Trustee of all water-rights, permits and licenses granted by the Federal Power Commission and the State Division of Water Rights, which are appurtenant to the present development. The equity behind these bonds will be further increased from year to year as the serial maturities of principal are paid off.

A thorough investigation of the Bucks Creek Development has been made by Mr. W. A. Brackenridge, consulting engineer, who has reported favorably as to the feasibility of this hydro-electric development, construction costs, the power output and the security for this bond issue.

LEGALITY AND TITLES The validity of the power contract between this Company and the Great Western Power Company of California, the form of trust indenture and completion bonds, and all the proceedings pertaining to the organization of the Company and the issuance of these bonds are under the direction of and subject to the approval of Messrs. Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, Attorneys, Los Angeles. A policy of title insurance will be issued by a title company, satisfactory to the underwriters of these bonds, showing the titles to the properties mortgaged to be vested in the Trustee, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, except that of current taxes not delinquent and the lien of this bond issue.

City of Duisburg

Germany

7% Serial Gold Bonds

(External Loan)

Dated November 1, 1925 Maturing serially as below

Interest payable May 1 and November 1. Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1,000. Not subject to redemption by call before November 1, 1930, but on that date and thereafter the Bonds will be redeemable at 103 and interest. Principal and interest payable at the office of Harris, Forbes & Co., New York, or at the option of the holder at the office of Harris Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, in United States gold coin of the weight and fineness now fixed by law.

The information contained herein is taken from statements of the City officials and other reliable sources.

Duisburg, situated at the junction of the Rhine and the Ruhr Rivers, has a larger traffic than any other inland port of Europe. The present population is estimated at 274,000. It is the center of the Ruhr iron industry and there are many industrial establishments within the City. The Ruhr Valley, to which Duisburg is the gateway, is universally known as one of the most concentrated industrial areas in the world. It contains coal and iron mines as well as great basic industries, of which the principal are the metallurgical and the chemical. The situation of Duisburg in relation to the Ruhr Valley insures the continued growth and prosperity of the City.

The value of properties owned by the City is conservatively estimated at $30,000,000, of which over 50% represents the value of the revenue producing properties, including harbor area, and plants which supply gas, water and electric power to practically the entire City.

Every year since 1910 the City has had a surplus of revenues over ordinary expenditures, with one exception. The City's revenues are derived principally from taxation and from the municipally owned properties. This issue will constitute the only external funded debt contracted since the stabilization of the currency. The other funded debt totals less than $4,000,000. The Bonds will be payable, principal and interest, without deduction for German taxes of any nature, past, present or future.

These Bonds will constitute the direct obligation of the City of Duisburg. The City has never pledged any of its property as security for a loan and will agree that if while any of these Bonds are outstanding, it should specifically pledge any of its revenues or any of its directly owned properties to secure any funded debt, the Bonds of this issue shall be secured by such pledge or charge equally and ratably with the other indebtedness thereby to be secured. The City further agrees that so long as any of these Bonds are outstanding it will not dispose of any part of its assets unless the entire net proceeds of such disposal are applied to the redemption by lot of these Bonds or to the acquisition of new property of an equal value or producing an equal income.

The proceeds of this issue will be used principally for the extension and betterment of the City's electric, gas and water systems and for harbor facilities, all of which are designed to increase the municipal revenues. The issue of these Bonds has been duly approved by all proper authorities including the Council for Foreign Loans of the Ministry of Finance of the German Reich.

Westphalia United Electric Power Corporation

First Mortgage Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

6½% Series due 1950

Dated December 1, 1925 Due December 1, 1950

Interest payable June 1 and December 1. Principal payable at the office of Speyer & Co., New York. Interest payable at the option of the holder at the office of Speyer & Co., New York, or Harris Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, in United States gold coin without deduction for any German Taxes of any nature. Callable at 100 and accrued interest. Coupon bonds in $1,000 and $500 denominations, registerable as to principal only. Deutsche Treuhand Gesellschaft, Berlin, Germany, Trustee, and Harris Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, Illinois, Co-Trustee.

Sinking fund commencing August 1, 1931, calculated to retire all Bonds of this Series at or before maturity.

Information regarding the Company, these Bonds and the security therefor is given in a letter signed by Messrs. Krone and Fischer, the General Directors of Westphalia United Electric Power Corporation, copies of which will be furnished on request. This information is summarized in part as follows:

Business: The Westphalia United Electric Power Corporation is one of the most important producers and distributors of electricity in Germany. Practically all of the capital of the Company is owned by the municipalities served. It supplies by far the greater part of all the electricity used in one of the foremost industrial sections of Europe, serving directly over 138,000 customers in more than 240 communities and supplying at wholesale most of the power requirements of various local distributing systems which in the aggregate supply electricity to about 160,000 additional customers in 106 communities. The Company also distributes gas to over 19,500 customers in 22 communities.

Security: These Bonds, the Company's sole funded debt, will be the direct obligations of Westphalia United Electric Power Corporation and will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by direct first mortgages on all of the more important fixed property of the system, including the four large modern power plants.

Valuation: The present reproduction value of the properties which will be directly subject to the lien of the mortgages, less a liberal allowance for depreciation, as shown by a recent appraisal by independent American engineers, amounts to over four times the total funded debt presently to be outstanding. A like valuation, based on costs prevailing in the United States, would be at least 50% greater.

Earnings: (as reported by Messrs. Haskins & Sells):

Twelve Months Ended	July 31, 1925	Dec. 31, 1924

Annual Interest Charge on Funded Debt (this issue)	487,500

Above Net Earnings over five times the Annual Interest Charges

Relation to Dawes Plan: The annual payments which the Company will be required to make under the Dawes Plan and the German laws enacted to carry the Dawes Plan into effect are estimated as not exceeding $75,000 per annum, a portion of which will be secured in accordance with the so-called Industrial Charges Law of August 30, 1924. Neither German law nor any international engagements assumed by the German Government involve any restrictions upon the acquisition by the Company of the foreign exchange requisite to permit the Company to meet the external obligations to be evidenced by these Bonds.

All conversions from German to United States currency have been made at 4.20 Gold Marks to the Dollar.

Application will be made to list these Bonds on the New York and Boston Stock Exchanges.

The proceeds of this Loan will be used for additions and betterments to the City's electric light and power plants, street railways, water and gas works, which should add substantially to its revenues.

The debt of the City, other than the above $5,000,000 Bonds and an internal loan equal to about $35,000, consists of obligations heretofore incurred in the former currency of Germany, the total liability for which (under the terms of the Law of the German Republic of July 16, 1925 for the revaluation of public obligations), it is estimated, will not exceed $10,952,000. Under the Dawes Plan, which is now in successful operation, to assure reparation payments under the Versailles Treaty (Article 248), it has been arranged to impose charges on municipally owned works similar to those on private industrial undertakings. Payments by Dresden's municipally owned utilities for this purpose are estimated at not to exceed $60,000 per annum.

SINKING FUND

A Sinking Fund is provided sufficient to retire all Bonds by maturity. A sum equal to 5% of the total amount of Bonds issued will be applied during each year for the first ten years to the purchase of Bonds, if obtainable at not exceeding par and accrued interest; unexpended funds are to revert to the City. During the ten years beginning November 1, 1935 not less than one-tenth of the amount of Bonds outstanding on that date is to be redeemed each year through purchase at not exceeding par and accrued interest, or, if not so obtainable, through drawings by lot at par.

Application will be made to list these Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

We offer these Bonds for subscription, when, as and if issued and received by us, at 94% and accrued interest, to yield about 7.60%.

The above issue has been approved by the German and the State Governments.

All conversions from German to United States currency have been made at 4.20 Gold Marks to the Dollar.

All proceedings in connection with the issuance of the above Bonds are subject to the approval of our counsel, Messrs. Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft.

Subscription lists will be opened at the office of Speyer & Co. at 10 o'clock A. M. November 23, 1925, and will be closed in our discretion.

We reserve the right to reject any application and to allot a smaller amount than applied for. Amounts due on allotment will be payable at the office of Speyer & Co., 24 and 26 Pine Street, in New York funds on or about December 7, 1925, as called for, against delivery of Interim Receipts exchangeable for Definitive Bonds when ready.

For further information concerning these bonds reference is made to descriptive circular obtainable at the offices of the undersigned.

The following information has been summarized by Mr. Harvey S. Firestone, President of the Company:

The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, incorporated under the laws of Ohio, is one of the largest manufacturers of automobile tires in the world.

The consolidated net income of the Company and its subsidiary companies in the United States, remaining after deduction of 6% Preferred Stock dividends and retirement fund, has averaged $7,306,833 per annum for the four years ended October 31, 1925, equivalent to more than 5½ times the annual dividend requirement of the 7% Preferred Stock to be outstanding upon completion of the present financing. For the year ended October 31, 1925, such remaining portion of the consolidated net income was $11,811,653, or more than 9 times such annual dividend requirement of the 7% Preferred Stock.

The proceeds of this issue will be used as additional working capital. Based on the consolidated balance sheet at October 31, 1925, and applying the proceeds of this issue to quick assets, the total of such quick assets amounts to over 7½ times quick liabilities, and net quick assets amount to over $43,500,000. Net tangible assets including the proceeds of this issue, after deducting reserves and the 6% Preferred Stock at its redemption price, amount to over $59,500,000, equivalent to over $320 per share of 7% Preferred Stock to be outstanding upon the completion of this financing. The foregoing figures are based upon a balance sheet and statement of earnings as certified by the Company's auditors, Messrs. Ernst & Ernst.

The articles of incorporation contain strong protective provisions requiring the maintenance of certain asset ratios and restricting the issuance of bonds and preferred stock. Also, the Company is required to apply not less than 10% of its annual net earnings, after provision for all charges, preferred dividends, and the retirement fund for the 6% Preferred Stock, to the purchase or redemption of 7% Preferred Stock at not exceeding 110.

The Company has outstanding 358,026 shares of Common Stock upon which dividends are being paid at the rate of $6 per share per annum. Present quotations for the Common Stock indicate an aggregate market equity of over $45,000,000 junior to the 7% Preferred Stock.

This issue is being offered to the holders of the Common Stock. We offer this stock if, as and when issued and received by us, subject to the subscription rights of stockholders, and subject to approval by our counsel of all legal proceedings in connection therewith. It is anticipated that delivery of temporary or definitive certificates, or trust receipts, will be made on or about December 4, 1925.

Henry Ittleson, Esq., President, has provided us with the following information:

BUSINESS

Commercial Investment Trust Corporation, through its subsidiaries, is engaged in a special field of banking, supplementing the usual functions of commercial banks. The business consists principally of financing manufacturers and merchants through purchasing notes and accounts arising from the sale of a large variety of nationally marketed products such as automobiles, electrical appliances and machinery. A considerable portion of the transactions differ from the usual bank loan or discount in that they represent the purchase of secured obligations resulting from completed sales of merchandise in moderate amounts to a large number of purchasers throughout the United States and Canada. A number of leading automobile manufacturers have contracts under which they obtain the services of the corporation in assisting their dealers to finance purchases and sales of cars. These companies include the manufacturers of the following cars: Dodge, Willys-Overland and Willys-Knight, Nash, Paige-Jewett, Hupmobile, Chandler and Cleveland. The soundness of the corporation's business is shown by the fact that total credit losses, not covered by indemnity bonds or insurance, for the period January 1, 1916 to October 31, 1925, have amounted to less than ⅛ of 1% of the total volume of business during that period.

MARKET EQUITY

On the basis of current quotations of common stock on the New York Stock Exchange, the market equity for the First Preferred Stock (represented by the common stock now outstanding, but not including common stock to be presently issued) amounts to more than $28,000,000. The corporation has heretofore paid regular dividends on its common stock at the rate of $2.50 per share per annum. At a recent meeting of the board of directors a dividend, at the rate of $3.60 per share per annum, was declared for the period from November 15, 1925 to December 31, 1925, after which the dividend periods of the common stock will coincide with dividend periods of the First Preferred Stock.

EARNINGS

Operations have resulted in substantial earnings every year since the inception of the business in 1908.

Consolidated net earnings, after taxes and all other charges, available for dividends, including earnings of subsidiaries on the basis of present ownership, as certified by Messrs. Touche, Niven & Co., have been as follows:

1923	1,858,506
Ten months to October 31, 1925	2,490,860

Consolidated net earnings for the first ten months of 1925, adjusted only to give effect to a saving of interest (at the rate of 6% per annum) resulting from new capital, but without giving any other effect to the present financing, would amount to $3,010,444 or over 4 times dividend requirements for a like period on the total amount of First Preferred Stock to be outstanding upon completion of this financing.

We offer this stock for delivery if, as and when issued and accepted by us, subject to the approval by stockholders of contemplated amendments to the certificate of incorporation, and subject to the approval of legal matters by counsel. Common Stock Purchase Warrants will be attached to, and delivered with, Certificates for 6½% First Preferred Stock as above stated. Deliveries will be made in the form of Interim Receipts of Dillon, Read & Co. on or about December 10, 1925.

Price $99 per share and Accrued Dividend

The corporation has agreed to pay an amount equal to interest at the rate of 6½% per annum on the par value of 6½% First Preferred Stock from the date of issue of Interim Receipts to January 1, 1926, from which date dividends will accrue.

Further information is contained in a circular which may be had on request.

The Financial Situation.

The investment situation has been greatly changed for the better by the liquidation that has been in progress the last two weeks on the Stock Exchange, with the resultant great break in prices. On the other hand, it is evident from the upward bound in prices which occurred yesterday on the news that there had been no advance in discount rates by either the Bank of England or the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, that the speculative fever is by no means dead. It is only too true that over-speculation must be followed by deflation, and that gambling with thin margins will produce individual losses; also, that riches easily won in periods of great prosperity produce, on the part of many individuals, indifference to business and moral laxity.

There are to-day men who are not giving adequate attention to their own businesses because of easily won profits in the stock market or in Florida. There are to-day workers in the factories who are not giving a full quota of effort because employment is general and positions easy to obtain. Yet it must also be admitted that there is nothing to show that these things have become characteristic of the whole situation. The constructive forces of growth seem still in control. Those who are keeping their feet on the ground and their heads in the air, with emphasis on service rather than personal advantage, may be well assured that they are still in the majority. Possibly, also, there are present constructive forces whose influence is not adequately recognized. This is no longer a country with a sharp contrast between a few rich and many poor. Wealth is becoming more generally distributed. Perhaps the most notable thing about the recent collapse in the stock market has been that the declines have been largely confined to stocks recently inflated by buying for a quick profit. There has been relatively little decline in the list as a whole, either bonds or stocks, and many notable movements against the current.

The French situation has again become acute. Failure to fund the debt to the United States and failure to provide for internal maturities, necessitating the issue of a billion and a half franc notes and accompanied by the fall of the Cabinet, have made holders of French securities, as well as holders of securities of the neighbors of France, realize the reality of the risk which has made it necessary for the American investor to charge 7% and 8% for advances made to Europe during this reconstruction period. The funding of the Italian debt on lenient terms followed by a large private loan to Italy has gone far to offset the fear of American investors, but, on the other hand, the current French situation has somewhat impaired the market for the Italian bonds. Nothing would be more helpful at the present time than a renewal of the negotiations between Paris and Washington in respect to debt settlement.

In the meantime the further decline of the franc to well below four cents is a disturbing element in international trade, bearing particularly hard upon Great Britain. It is a well-established fact that during a period of rapid decline in currency value, exporters can offer their goods at prices destructive of foreign competition and yet at a profit to themselves, though at a loss to their nation. Just at a time when there is real hope of revival of trade in Great Britain, British exporters are faced with a flood of cheap French goods. The situation is disturbing to all international markets. The stabilization of the franc and the correction of the French fiscal position is a matter which very immediately concerns all nations engaged in international trade. It would simultaneously remove from Europe a great threat and provide a stimulus to international trade.

On Nov. 24 the New York Federal Reserve Bank advised its members that a new United States bond issue would be shortly offered. There are maturities on Dec. 15 of $480,000,000 and interest payments of $66,000,000. Almost simultaneously the Government will receive from Great Britain $82,000,000, as also the final installment of the income tax payments. There is in the general fund at present about $150,000,000. In view of these figures the new issue may be $300,000,000 or $400,000,000. The rate of interest and terms will be watched with interest. The last Treasury financing was in September and consisted of $250,000,000 certificates, issued for nine months at 3½%. It is thought that if short time certificates are offered the rate will not be far different from this.

The cotton report issued by the Department of Agriculture on Saturday last regarding the probable size of this year's crop in the United States, according to the probabilities on Nov. 14, makes a small reduction (only 88,000 bales) in the estimate of yield previously shown. Production is now placed at 15,298,000 bales, and the belief prevails that this amount will remain substantially the same in the final estimate of yield to be issued Dec. 8. In addition, linters will add 5 or 6% more, giving an available supply from this year's growth well in excess of sixteen million bales. Last year the yield of cotton was 13,628,000 bales, and not since 1914, when a record production of 16,134,900 bales was reported, has the figure for this year been approached. In fact at the amount now estimated for 1925 there are two years only in which the yield was larger than this year—1914 and 1911. The abandoned acreage this year is estimated by the Department at 2,217,000 acres, or 4.8% of that planted, leaving for harvest 44,231,000 acres. The area harvested in 1924 was 41,360,000 acres, the largest up to that year. There is an increase in area harvested this year over 1924 of 6.8%. The increase in the extent of the crop this year over last is due both to the larger area available for picking, and to the increased yield per acre, the latter for this year now being estimated at 165.5 pounds, as against 157.4 pounds in 1924; 178.4 pounds in 1920, when the total production was 13,439,603 bales; 209.2 pounds in 1914, the year of the high record crop, and 207.7 pounds in 1911. Since 1920 the average yield per acre has been somewhat below this year—in 1921 it was only 124.5 pounds, the lowest recorded.

In all of the important cotton growing States excepting Texas and Oklahoma, the estimate of yield this year exceeds 1924, and in most of them by a considerable amount. This is chiefly the case for the State of Mississippi, where the increase in yield this year is 771,000 bales, or more than 70%. In that State the present season's yield per acre is 264 pounds, against 176 pounds last year. Louisiana shows an increase in quantity this year over last of 402,000 bales, or more than 80%—227 pounds to the acre, against 145 pounds last year. For Arkansas the gain in production this year is 382,000 pounds, or about 35% over 1924, a yield per acre of 199 pounds in 1925, against 169 in 1924. Alabama's product is larger by over 329,000 bales than in 1924, or more than one-third. The increased production this year in North Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee is also heavy, and there are substantial additions in most of the other States. The latest estimate as to Texas is 4,050,000 bales, a yield of only 117 pounds to the acre, against 4,951,000 bales last year, when the average per acre was 138 pounds, and for Oklahoma 1,500,000 bales, or an average of 150 pounds to the acre, against 1,511,000 bales in 1924, or 187 pounds per acre. There is a possibility that the estimate as to Texas may be increased, but this is now problematical. In some parts of Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, considerable lint is yet to be picked.

There was ginned to Nov. 14 this year a total of 12,249,935 bales of cotton, which contrasts with 11,162,235 bales for the corresponding period in 1924. Naturally, all of the States of large production show a considerable gain the present season, the only important exceptions being Texas and Oklahoma, the former showing a falling off to date, as compared with a year ago, of 901,000 bales, and the latter of 11,000 bales.

For still another time within a few weeks the French Cabinet has fallen. This time the familiar incident, not only in the French capital, but also in other important European capitals, including even that of Great Britain, occurred on Sunday, Nov. 22. Paul Painleve was the Premier and was trying to carry as well the extremely difficult portfolio of Minister of Finance. It was only a short time ago that he and his Cabinet resigned in order, as it was stated in Paris cable dispatches, to get rid of Joseph Caillaux as Minister of Finance. The downfall of the most recent Painleve Cabinet did not cause surprise. In fact, it was regarded as practically inevitable when it was reconstructed out of the preceding Ministry, of which M. Caillaux had been such a conspicuous and even spectacular member.

The Paris correspondent of the New York "Times" described the defeat of the latest Painleve Cabinet in part as follows: "Compromised by his too ready acceptance of schemes not his own, and caught in the toils of rivalries between bankers and between politicians, Paul Painleve and his Government were outvoted in the Chamber this afternoon and the Ministry resigned. Their great finance scheme which was to have created a sinking fund for the amortization of France's floating debt had, after three weeks' floundering, been killed by three votes. Until the last moment M. Painleve fought hard, convinced that what he was seeking to do was the only chance of France's salvation. He did not anticipate defeat. But the rivalries of which he has been the victim, the hard circumstances of the Treasury's position and the political conflict within the Chamber between the Right and Left, with the Communists throwing their thirty votes now here, now there, and the Socialists and Radicals now differing and now patching up their differences were more than any Government could long survive."

The event was further outlined in part as follows by the representative of the New York "Herald Tribune" in the French capital: "The new Painleve Ministry, in office less than three weeks, was defeated in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon, and France is again without a Government, despite the extremely urgent financial situation, which can be aggravated by the present political crisis. The Premier led his Cabinet to the Elysee Palace immediately after the adverse vote on the Government's proposition to consolidate the majority of its internal bond issues, and presented its formal resignation to President Doumergue. The vote defeating the Ministry was 278 to 275 and came on Article V of the finance bill."

France has a Cabinet again. Aristide Briand, many times Premier, and Minister of Foreign Affairs in both Painleve Ministries, and who earlier in the week had given up the task of forming a Cabinet, announced last night that on the second attempt he had succeeded. It was stated in an Associated Press dispatch that he would "hold the portfolio of Foreign Affairs in addition to that of Premier." According to the Havas Agency, "Louis Loucheur will be Minister of Finance, Paul Painleve Minister of War and M. Chautemps Minister of Justice." It was added that "M. Briand plans to appear in Parliament within three days for a vote of confidence, so he will be able to go to London Dec. 1 and sign the Locarno treaties. M. Briand's heart is set on carrying out the work of pacification commenced at Locarno, and, as he has no special competency in dealing with financial subjects, one of his first cares will be to get together a committee of experts whose duty it will be to suggest to the Minister of Finance reforms which will be capable of putting the country on a sound financial basis again."

It was claimed in Paris cable dispatches that the proposition to consolidate the bond issues would have been carried except for the charge of representatives of radical political groups in the Chamber of Deputies that the banks of Paris had received advance information on the increase and had profited greatly by advance transactions in the bonds that would be affected directly by it.

Looking to the future, the same correspondent said: "Almost everywhere to-night the name of Aristide Briand, former Premier and Foreign Minister, and hero of Locarno, is mentioned as a possible leader of a new combination, which would marshal enough strength to legislate the country out of its financial difficulties. Whether the day's events forecast the end of the Left bloc, at least temporarily, by the formation of a national coalition Government, could not be determined to-night." He added that "Briand was not in Paris to-day, but was notified of the situation by telephone, and announced that he would return to-morrow. It is expected that he will be called into consultation by President Doumergue, who late to-day sought the advice, as usual, of the Presidents of both Houses. The President announced that he had reserved decision until to-morrow."

Commenting on the situation left by M. Painleve as Finance Minister, the "Herald Tribune" correspondent said: "The fall of the Government means that the elaborate preparations for a financial measure designed to ameliorate the serious condition into which the Treasury has fallen are now useless, and new measures in the wake of the failure of both the Painleve and Caillaux schemes must quickly be devised in some form to meet the short-term bonds, amounting to 2,700,000,000 francs, which fall due Dec. 8. Painleve had planned to meet most of these obligations by limited inflation, which now seems the only course open to the Ministry which will succeed him, unless the dictatorial course of temporary repudiation is resorted to." With respect to the financial situation in France, the Paris correspondent of the New York "Times" said: "The fiscal situation left by the fall of Premier Painleve calls aloud for a strong man. If France is to escape additional inflation, if the country is to escape a Government moratorium even longer than that proposed by the vacillating M. Painleve, there is every evidence that Paris must see in power a Premier who can command a real majority in both Houses of Parliament—this Parliament or another Parliament—who will have the confidence of the business interests of the country and who will find a way to remove from the Government and the Chamber the conflicting influences of rival camps of financiers."

The predictions relative to the selection of Aristide Briand, Minister of Finance in the ill-fated Painleve Ministry, and also many times Premier, proved true and he was requested by President Doumergue to form still another Cabinet. The Paris representative of the Associated Press cabled in part as follows about the matter Monday afternoon: "For the ninth time in his long political career Aristide Briand to-day received the charge of the President of the Republic to form a Cabinet and to-night he stands on the verge of accepting his eighth Premiership. He promised President Doumergue he would consult his friends and bring him a definite reply in the course of the evening." It was added that " 'the man of Locarno' was the President's first choice last spring to head the Government after the fall of M. Herriot, but the Socialists refused their support and compelled M. Doumergue to call M. Painleve, the retiring Premier." The desperate character of the financial situation was shown by the fact that "the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon voted the bill authorizing an increase of 1,500,000,000 francs in the Bank of France's advances to the Government. The vote was 243 to 44, the national bloc and Socialists abstaining." The Associated Press correspondent further said that "M. Painleve, the fallen Premier, in a statement to the newspaper men to-day, replied to the rumors of an impending coup d'etat which have been circulating throughout the country for the last two weeks. 'Governments fall, but the Republic stands,' he said. 'We are still able to watch over her. Keep this in mind and if any one believes that the moment has come he is mistaken.' "

It became known here last Saturday morning, the day before the Painleve Cabinet fell, that it had a narrow escape from that experience the night before. Proceedings in the Chamber of Deputies on Friday evening (Nov. 19) were described in part as follows in a special Paris cable dispatch to the New York "Times" that same night: "Premier Painleve's finance bill came very near being wrecked this evening by the Government's own allies, the Socialists, and was saved only after three hours of hurried consultation between the Government and its supporters. During these three hours it was fully expected that the Government would not survive the night, but it managed on the first vote of confidence to obtain 294 supporters against 250 opposition votes. The majority figure included the Socialist vote, but marked the dissension of about thirty of the usual Radical and Socialist majority parties. At midnight the Chamber voted 287 to 257 to end the general debate on the bill and take up the measure article by article as well as the various counter projects." It was explained that "the sudden difference which arose between the Government and the Socialists and nearly caused the split, came during the speech of the Socialist leader and financial expert, Leon Blum. There has been during the last few days a sudden rush on the banks of holders of national defense bonds anxious to cash in. This sudden demand for payment has been ascribed to the disquiet felt by the public owing to the Government's proposal to meet the Dec. 8 maturity payments of Treasury bonds by the issue of new bonds so as to avoid inflation. The holders of defense bonds have become for the first time nervous about the situation and their applications for redemption have been such as to make an increase in circulation beyond the figure of 1,500,000,000 francs provided in the Government's bill almost, if not entirely, inevitable." Continuing his account of the situation, the "Times" correspondent said: "With this knowledge, M. Blum endeavored to exact from the Premier as a condition on which his party would support the bill a formal promise that under no circumstances would there be any inflation beyond 1,500,000,000 francs. M. Painleve, also fully aware of the situation, refused to make that promise formal, saying: 'It is impossible for me to make an engagement which is beyond the power of Government control and beyond the power of any Government.' M. Blum was insistent. He said he regarded the non-payment of the defense bonds as an extreme catastrophe, but if a choice must be made between the forced consolidation of the defense bonds and the systematic emission of bank notes, he would prefer the forced consolidation. It was on the condition that the Government would not ask for more than 1,500,000,000 francs in new money that the Socialists had voted for the project in committee, he said, and it was only if that undertaking were kept that they would vote for it in the Chamber. But M. Painleve refused to be bound. He said he would do his utmost not to exceed the legal limit of circulation and not ask for an increase, but in the present situation he could not promise that the present limit would not be passed." As noted in a previous paragraph, the Chamber voted the 1,500,000,000-franc increase the very next day after the fall of the Painleve Ministry.

M. Briand asked President Doumergue to be allowed until Tuesday, or about 24 hours, to give consideration to the latter's request to form a new Ministry. He decided to decline and so informed the President. The many times Premier is said to have recommended Senator Paul Doumer, and the latter, after having been summoned to the Elysee Palace, "accepted 'in principle' President Doumergue's request that he form a Cabinet, saying he would reply definitely within twenty-four hours." He also was reported to have told the President that "if he finally accepted he would take the Finance portfolio in addition to the Premiership, while M. Briand would remain as Foreign Minister." It was suggested in an Associated Press dispatch from Paris that "M. Doumer is not affiliated with the coalition of the Left. He is known as a man of few antagonisms, slow to act, safe and courageous. His friends believe he will have more success in forming a Cabinet than did M. Briand, as he will avoid attempting to take in too large a field in the concentration of parliamentary strength."

As for M. Briand's failure to form a Ministry, he was quoted as saying upon going to the Elysee Palace, "my intention was to form a Cabinet of the Left, including MM. Herriot, Painleve, Paul Boncour and Blum, but I have not succeeded and prefer to abandon the task." As he left a quarter of an hour later, he was reported to have announced: "I have been unable to find a basis upon which to form a Cabinet of wide concentration, ranging from the Centre, with the co-operation of the Socialists—that is to say, a Ministry capable of solving the financial prbolem."

It did not take Senator Doumer long to decide that he could not form a Ministry and he so informed the President on Wednesday. Announcement was made soon thereafter that "former Premier Edouard Herriot, Radical leader and President of the Chamber of Deputies, was summoned this afternoon by President Doumergue, but failure of his projected 'concentration Cabinet' of the Left is considered likely in well-informed circles." The Paris representative of the Associated Press said in a dispatch Wednesday afternoon that "a new factor has been added to the already confused situation by the rapid evolution of the Socialists, who last week held to the principle of non-participation in a bourgeois Government, but who now, after long deliberation, announce they are not only willing to participate but are willing to form a Government taking the principal portfolios, provide a program, notably the financial part of it, and accept the collaboration of radicals in minor roles. The Socialist announcement has proved by no means to the taste of the radicals." In a long cablegram to his paper the night before, the Paris representative of the New York "Times" explained in part as follows the position of the Socialists and the situation that they had brought about: "M. Briand's check was due to the Socialists, who dominate the present situation. Starting out to form a Government of the Centre which would be independent of Socialist support, M. Briand met the decision of the Left bloc parties to stick together, and since they control slightly over half the Chamber that meant that M. Briand's Centre Government could probably not gain a majority. Unwilling to place himself in the humiliating position M. Herriot and M. Painleve occupied when, depending on the Socialists' support, they were at the mercy of Leon Blum and his satellites, the Foreign Minister invited the Socialists to take part in the Cabinet so as to involve their responsibility, it being his idea to put them in a safe minority in the Government. Socialists met to-day and accepted the offer to take part in the Government, but they demanded seven of the fourteen Ministries, including the Premiership, Ministry of Finance and Ministry of the Interior. Of course M. Briand would not agree to any such plan as the Cabinet being dominated by the Socialists, whom he detests, and soon after getting M. Blum's answer he went to the Elysee and told President Doumergue he found it impossible to form a Government which would have any chance of a useful life."

The representative in the French capital of the New York "Herald Tribune" cabled the same evening that, "with utter disregard for public or political opinion, they gave the following terms to the country: Their willingness to form their own Ministry, despite the fact that they control less than one-sixth of the votes in the Chamber. Their agreement to participate in a Left Wing Ministry on the condition that seven of the most important Cabinet posts go to their party. Their agreement to take part in any coalition Ministry on the condition that this Ministry pledge itself to carry out the Socialistic legislative program. The Socialists are against further inflation of the currency or consolidation of the short-term bonds, and are for an immediate capital levy." The correspondent also suggested that, "while these terms appear bombastic or even ridiculous on their face, the Socialists are the only group in French politics which maintain party discipline. and with leaders such as Vincent Auriol and Paul Boncour they have the country at their mercy." It was recalled also that Edouard Herriot, Socialist

Mayor of Lyons, was Premier of France for ten months, his downfall coming last April as a result of opposition to his proposed 'forced loan' and other radical measures. His Government lasted about the same length of time as that of Ramsay MacDonald, Great Britain's first Socialist Prime Minister. Since Herriot resigned the failure of the Painleve Government to stabilize the national finances has caused a revival of Herriot's capital levy proposals." As to the numerical strength of the Socialists in proportion to the total membership in the Chamber of Deputies it was pointed out in a special Paris dispatch to the New York "Herald Tribune" that "behind this situation stand the Socialists—a minority party with 98 votes in the Chamber out of a total of 584 and representing 800,000 out of 9,000,000 electors in the country. To-day, flushed with paradoxical power, the Socialists are preparing to dictate their program of a capital levy and the conversion of the floating debt as a panacea for the country's desperate financial situation."

Late Thursday evening the French Cabinet situation looked better. The New York "Times" representative in the French capital cabled that "a master mind of French politics has apparently pulled the country out of the messy Government crisis. There is every prospect that to-morrow afternoon Aristide Briand will present a Cabinet to President Doumergue and become for the eighth time Premier of France." He further outlined the situation as follows: "By consummately skillful moves the veteran Frenchman has broken the Left bloc, which, with a majority in the Chamber, has controlled French politics since the election of May 11 last year and which for months past has itself been controlled by the Unified Socialists, occupying by their peculiar position the role of a tail which tried to wag a dog which would not be wagged. M. Briand will form a Centre Government, taking Ministers from the Poincarists, from his own Centre and from the moderate Left. It was after the Socialists had refused M. Herriot's invitation to come into the Cabinet unless he gave them control and had refused to promise to support him unless he guaranteed in advance to espouse a capital levy and other of their pet panaceas, that M. Herriot went to the Elysee late this afternoon and told President Doumergue that it was useless for him to try further. President Doumergue without hesitation sent for M. Briand, who fifteen minutes later had consented to form a Government, to the immense disappointment of the Socialists, whose leaders were almost ready to regard themselves as Ministers."

Commenting on the significance of the rout of the Socialists, the Paris representative of the New York "Herald Tribune" said: "The direct and most signal result of this event was that the Socialists, who in the last eighteen months have been responsible for the crash of three Left Wing Ministries as well as the present crisis, are isolated to-night and must retire from the political picture. The situation now resolves itself into a Parliamentary obligation to agree, without Socialist aid, on the formation of a Cabinet designed solely to solve the country's desperate financial problems."

As stated in an earlier paragraph, M. Briand announced last evening that he had formed a Cabinet to which he would serve as Minister of Foreign Affairs as well as Premier. It was reported that Louis Loucheur would be Minister of Finance.

The German Reichstag has ratified the Locarno treaties and also has approved Germany's entrance into the League of Nations. The final action was taken yesterday and the vote was 300 to 174. It was added in a Berlin Associated Press dispatch last evening that "when the treaties have been signed in London, Germany shortly will apply formally to the League of Nations for membership. The Centrists, the Democrats and the German People's Party desire the Government prior to entering the League to 'exercise all possible energy to obtain amplification of concessions in accordance with the spirit of Locarno.'"

Germany may be without a Cabinet soon. As briefly noted in last week's issue of the "Chronicle," Chancellor Luther was reported to have announced that after the Locarno treaties were approved by the Reichstag and signed in London on Dec. 1 he and his associates would resign "and that a new Cabinet will be formed in sympathy with the Locarno policies and obligations." The Berlin cable advices over the week-end indicated that a sufficiently large vote would be secured to pass the treaties. The Berlin representative of the New York "Times" said in a dispatch on Nov. 20 that "the Socialists to-night insured the Reichstag's immediate ratification of the Locarno treaties by scrapping their previously formulated demand for Parliamentary dissolution and formally deciding to vote for the Government's measure of enactment. They gracefully extricated themselves from their blind-alley position by observing that as the Reich's entry into the League of Nations, which is a basic item of the Socialists' program, was bound up with acceptance of the treaties forthwith, they would approve both." He added that "since it is officially fixed that ratification requires only a simple majority in the Reichstag, the Socialists' action makes the outcome certain. There is now every likelihood of the treaties being passed before the German envoys' departure for London, possibly on next Wednesday, two days after their presentation to Parliament." Commenting upon the situation, the "Times" correspondent said: "This victory for his policy was won by Chancellor Luther at the comparatively low cost of a promise to hand in his Cabinet's resignation to President von Hindenburg immediately after the signing of the security accords in London. It is feared here this ceremony may be postponed as a result of Queen Alexandra's death. Thereby reconstitution of the Cabinet would also be delayed, Germany meanwhile being governed by the present rump Ministry. In any event the present probabilities are that the President will invite Dr. Luther to form a new Government, which he is likely to undertake with or without Socialist support."

He likewise reported that "the Reichstag reassembled this afternoon after three months' vacation, but the Deputies spent more time gossiping about party politics in the lobbies than they devoted to the opening debate, which was confined to the recently signed Italo-German commercial treaty and gave rise to angry booing of Mussolini by the Socialists and Communists combined. The sitting was adjourned early to give the parties a chance to hold their caucuses on Locarno. The Socialists sat for two hours. Their leaders already had assured the Chancellor that the faction's vote would be cast for Locarno, which, indeed, they have always strongly favored.

They objected to its ratification in the present Reichstag merely because they felt to do so would be to act as a catspaw for the Nationalists. In other words, they hesitated to pass the treaties negotiated by a Government to which they have always stood in strong opposition. Common sense, plus Luther's resignation pledge, prevailed, however, and the party caucus dropped its irrational insistence on dissolution of the Reichstag and a general election."

The first definite official step toward the adoption of the treaties by the Reichstag was taken on Nov. 21, the next day after that body reassembled. Through a special wireless dispatch from Berlin to the New York "Times" it became known here on Nov. 22 that "the Reichsrat, or Reich's Federal Council, to-day [Nov. 21] approved the Government's project for ratification of the Locarno accords and German entry into the League of Nations by a huge majority. Only the representatives of East Prussia, Pomerania, Lower Silesia and Mecklenberg, the most Nationalistic of the German provinces, voted against the measure. The way is thus opened for the Reichstag to complete realization of the security compacts next week." In an Associated Press cablegram from Berlin under the same date announcement was made that "three hundred of the leading industrialists of all parties have issued a manifesto declaring that the signing of the Locarno treaties is necessary for the revival of German economic life. Those who signed the manifesto include Berlin, Hamburg, Frankfort and Cologne bankers, leaders of the Ruhr coal and steel industries, chemical and dye interests and hanseatic shipping, as well as academicians and scientists."

Two days later it was stated in Berlin cable advices that "debate on the Locarno security pact and collateral treaties began in the Reichstag to-day, with every prospect of favorable action on the Government's motion for ratification." The New York "Times" correspondent said in a later dispatch that "Chancellor Luther ushered in the debate on the Locarno treaties in the Reichstag this morning with a speech which told the Deputies nothing new but served admirably to clarify and emphasize the more significant features of the security program." Continuing his account of the session, he said: "The legislative chamber was tightly packed with a highly attentive audience, both on the floor and in the diplomatic, press and public galleries, who heard the Chancellor in silence that was broken only by infrequent applause from the Governmental factions and occasional interruptions from the Nationalist Voelkische and Communist opposition. In Dr. Luther's observations there were no rhetorical flourishes to inspire outbursts of enthusiasm among his hearers. His utterances were calmly, almost coldly, dispassionate, for in this spirit, as he said himself, must the results of the Locarno conference be judged by the representatives of the German people. Yet the Reichstag clearly felt the solemnity of this first occasion since the war on which it has been called upon to sanction or reject a political undertaking vitally affecting Germany's foreign relations and entered into by the Government of its own volition and on a basis of absolute international equality."

The "Times" representative also cabled that "the essential points of the speech were as follows: The Luther Cabinet, having completed its immediate task, will resign after signing the treaties at London, but the work begun at Locarno must be continued by Ministers favorable to its realization. There is no logical ground for the maintenance of Allied occupation of the Rhineland. Diplomatic negotiations for repeal of the restrictions on Germany's air activity are under way. The Reich's entry into the League of Nations offers the only effective means for the achievement of universal disarmament and the permanent preservation of world peace. League membership also will herald more positive German participation in world affairs. The Rhineland compact, by insuring a security understanding of the Allies with Germany, has averted a security entente against Germany."

The correspondent reported, furthermore, that "Nationalist politicians and publicists condemn the speech as 'thin and prosaic,' such phrases as 'threadbare theses' and 'delivering his own death sentence' being applied to it by the reactionary press. Hissing, in which the Nationalistic Deputies indulged at its conclusion, is stressed; but the Government's supporters, being certain of their overwhelming majority, voice complete satisfaction with their leader's pronouncement." Announcement was made that "the Reichstag adjourned until to-morrow immediately after the address and the Foregin Relations Committee assembled that afternoon to receive further elucidations from the Chancellor and Foreign Minister Stresemann. It is understood that the disarmament settlement and air negotiations were the subjects chiefly discussed."

In an Associated Press dispatch from Berlin the next day it was stated that "Count Friedrich von Westarp, leader of the Conservative wing of the Nationalists, announced in the Reichstag to-day that his party would submit a motion of non-confidence in the Government in connection with the Locarno treaties and another motion insisting upon the passage of a special law to sanction Germany's entry into the League of Nations." It was added that "to-day's session was devoted to speeches by the various party leaders on the Locarno agreements. Replying to a question, Foreign Minister Stresemann declared that from the texts of the treaties and from the declarations made by Allied statesmen at Locarno it was evident that the possibility is not precluded of changing existing frontiers by peaceful agreement. In regard to the question of Germany's war guilt, he said: 'We gave unequivocal declarations when the Locarno negotiations were initiated. The signature of the treaties must under no circumstances be considered a new confession of guilt." The correspondent also made it known that "during the debate Dr. Stresemann also informed the Reichstag that the French and Belgian Governments had declared it undesirable to continue the trials of absent German officers for alleged war-time crimes. 'We attached great importance to converting the Foreign Ministers of France and Belgium to our viewpoint in this matter,' Dr. Stresemann said. 'In view of the attitude of the French and Belgian Governments on this question now, we have no reason for undue distrust.' This is presumed to mean that France and Belgium will drop the proceedings against the so-called German war criminals and the demands for extradition of these persons."

At Thursday's session (Nov. 26) of the Reichstag, "by an overwhelming majority the Reichstag adopted, on the second reading, the law approving the security compact and arbitration treaties initialed at Locarno and Germany's entry into the League of Nations." It was added that "to-morrow the treaties will be formally ratified with the third reading of the measure, thus enabling Chancellor Luther and Foreign Secretary Stresemann to proceed to London to sign the compact and treaties. In the course of the next month Germany will make formal application for admission to the League. The only opposition to the various treaties came from the German Nationalists and Communists, and from the extreme Nationalists led by General Ludendorff. The attempt of the Nationalists to forestall Germany's adhesion to the League by demanding the enactment of a special law authorizing such procedure was defeated by a heavy vote." The vote on the second reading was said to have been 271 to 159. The treaties were finally ratified by the Reichstag yesterday by a vote of 300 to 174.

Even at midweek it was indicated in London cable advices that, because of mourning for Dowager Queen Alexandra, the signing of the Locarno treaties might be little more than a quiet and formal affair. On Nov. 24 the London representative of the New York "Herald Tribune" cabled that "the official banquets and receptions which have been planned to mark the signature of the Locarno treaty had been canceled on account of the death of Dowager Queen Alexandra and there is now a possibility that the ceremonial will be further curtailed. The suggestion has been made that the necessary signatures to the pact be affixed by the Ambassadors and plenipotentiaries in London of the nations concerned. In that case the Continental Premiers and Foreign Ministers would not be obliged to come to England for the ceremony. The new plan also would dispose automatically of the boycott threatened by Labor if Premier Mussolini of Italy came to London. The British Government has not yet advised the other parties to the security treaty that the plans originally drawn up for the signatures will be changed, but that possibility has been suggested in view of the period of official mourning. In any event the treaty will be formally signed at the Foreign Office Dec. 1, as previously decided."

In an Associated Press dispatch from London last evening it was stated that "it is considered practically certain that all the statesmen who initialed the treaties fo security and arbitration at Locarno except Premier Mussolini of Italy, will be present in London for the formal signature of these documents at the Foreign Office on Dec. 1. During their stay in London King George will give a private audience to the various Ministers. The evening of Dec. 1 Austen Chamberlain, the Foreign Secretary, will entertain the delegates at an unofficial dinner, and the following evening Premier Baldwin will give a private dinner at No. 10 Downing Street in their honor."

After an interval of many months Ireland has been heard from again. It is the old question of politics. The principal trouble has been over the boundary question. On Nov. 24 "Dr. James MacNeill, Minister of Education and former member of the Irish Boundary Commission, resigned from the Irish Free State Cabinet." It was added that "after his resignation from the Boundary Commission and from the Free State Cabinet had been accepted Dr. MacNeill lengthily explained his position to the Dail Eireann. He declared that as a member of the Commission he had considered himself a plenipotentiary and not simply a representative of the Free State and an advocate for a particular viewpoint. He admitted that the Commissioners had arrived at an agreement which they had hoped would provide the least possible fuel for renewal of the embittered boundary controversy." In a special London cablegram to the New York "Times" the same evening it was stated that "reports from Dublin say that within a week it is quite possible the Free State may declare a final break with England and, after the tentative naval clauses of the Anglo-Irish treaty come up for review next year, may undertake its own coastal defense with light cruisers, submarines and mines." The London representative of the New York "Times" cabled the next evening, Nov. 24, that "the Irish Boundary Commission, following a conference with a representative of the British Government to-night, announced its intention to deliver its award at an early date and intimated that the resignation of Professor James MacNeill, representative of the Irish Free State, was not in its view valid." The correspondent added that "it is difficult to see in the face of the Commission's determination how a crisis will be avoided in Ireland. The award as soon as issued will become law if the Commission is right in its contention that the resignation of one of its members has not invalidated its decisions."

According to a dispatch still a day later from the London representative of the New York "Herald Tribune" important developments with respect to the Irish situation were expected soon. He cabled that "President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State is on his way to London to confer with the British Government to-morrow, says a Dublin message received here to-night. As the Ulster Premier, Sir James Craig, who is now in London, has postponed his departure for Belfast for a few days at the request of Premier Baldwin, it is believed the two Irish leaders will meet together." He suggested that "for this reason proposals looking to a settlement between Dublin and Belfast which were broached in the 'Irish Times' to-day are regarded as significant. The proposals are said to be sponsored by influential persons in London as well as in the two principal Irish cities, and it is thought Cosgrave may put them before the British Government to-morrow." According to the same dispatch, "the proposals are, first, that Justices Feetham and Fisher, the two remaining members of the Irish Boundary Commission, cease their labors for the present; secondly, that there be an immediate conference between the British and the Free State Governments to consider as a basis for a settlement of the boundary question the cancellation of Articles XII and V of the Anglo-Irish treaty; and, thirdly, that the leaders of the two Irish Governments meet for the purpose of obtaining an understanding on these lines."

It was stated in a special London cablegram to the New York "Herald Tribune" on Thursday night (Nov. 26) that "leaders of Ireland, President Cosgrave of the Free State and Sir James Craig, Premier of Ulster, were in conference with Premier Baldwin for more than an hour to-day in the hope of reaching an amicable settlement of the Irish boundary question." The suggestion was made in the dispatch that "the fact that Cosgrave is returning by a late train to-night to Dublin is generally taken to mean that efforts to reach the basis of an agreement have failed. It is understood that the British Government will delay publication of the boundary commissions report in the hope that some sort of joint agreement may yet be reached by the two sections of Ireland. At best this is a desperate hope, as the failure of the three members of the commission and before them of Cosgrave and Craig in joint meetings testify." The late cable dispatches last evening did not contain any more definite information relative to the situation.

No changes have been noted in official bank rates at leading European centres from 9% in Berlin; 7% in Italy; 6½% in Belgium; 6% in Paris; 5½% in Denmark; 5% in Madrid and Norway; 4½% in Sweden; 4% in London and 3½ in Holland and Switzerland. Open market discount rates in London were firm and advanced to 3⅞@4% for short bills, against 3⅞@3 15-16%, although three months' bills were quoted at 3@4%, against 3 15-16% last week. Money on call at the British centre dropped abruptly yesterday to 2%, closing at 2⅛%. These quotations were in contrast with 2¾% a week ago. In Paris open market discounts remained at 4⅝%, the rate established last week, while in Switzerland the quotation continues at 2⅛%, the same as heretofore.

The Bank of England continues to lose gold and in its statement for the week ending Nov. 25 reported a reduction in its holdings of £945,753. At the same time note circulation was increased £751,000; hence, reserve of gold and notes in banking department fell £1,697,000, while the proportion of reserve to liabilities sustained a further sharp drop—to 19.51%, in comparison with 21.54% last week, and a high point touched in July of 31.67%. The lowest for the year was 11.48% last January. In the corresponding week of 1924 the ratio stood at 19.25% and a year earlier at 18⅝%. Material changes occurred in the deposit items; public deposits were reduced £874,000. "Other" deposits, however, expanded £4,809,000. The Bank's temporary loans to the Government showed a gain of £1,350,000, while loans on other securities increased £4,286,000. Total gold holdings are £146,734,262, which compares with £128,491,489 last year (before the transfer to the Bank of England of the £27,000,000 gold formerly held by the Redemption Account of the Currency Note issue), and £127,768,737 in 1923. It is of interest to recall that at the beginning of August the Bank's gold stocks amounted to £164,500,000, or the largest sum ever held by the institution; the subsequent decline being due, of course, to the drain that followed restoration of the gold basis. Reserve aggregates £24,534,000, as against £25,175,164 in 1924 and £22,503,077 a year earlier. Note circulation stands at £141,953,000. This compares with £123,066,325 a year ago and £125,015,660 in 1923. The loan total is £77,347,000, in comparison with £82,391,031 and £72,796,613 one and two years ago, respectively. Clearings through the London banks for the week were £770,768,000, against £739,997,000 last week and £783,849,000 a year ago. No change was made in the minimum discount rate from 4%. We append herewith comparisons of the different items of the Bank of England return for a series of years:

a Includes, beginning with April 29 1925, £27,000,000 gold coin and bullion previously held as security for currency note issues and which was transferred to the Bank of England on the British Government's decision to return to the gold standard.

b Beginning with the statement for April 29 1925, includes £27,000,000 of Bank of England notes issued in return for the same amount of gold coin and bullion held up to that time in redemption account of currency note issue.

A further increase of 141,220,000 francs in its note circulation was reported by the Bank of France the present week, bringing the total note circulation up to 48,085,448,855 francs, which is the highest figure ever recorded. Last year at this time the total amount outstanding stood at 40,447,011,195 francs and the previous year at 37,329,311,815 francs. The State borrowed 350,000,000 francs from the bank during the week. Advances to the State now stand at 31,900,000,000 francs, against 22,600,000,000 francs a year ago, and 22,800,000,000 francs two years ago. The vote of the French Parliament on June 27 increased the legal limit on such advances to 32,000,000,000 francs, against a previous maximum of 26,000,000,000 established on April 15. On Nov. 23 the Parliament further increased the legal limit to 33,500,000,000 francs. This week's total advances are the largest ever reached. The gold item of the Bank the present week shows another small gain, namely 158,521 francs. Total gold holdings, therefore, now aggregate 5,547,784,450 francs as against 5,544,700,135 francs for the corresponding date last year and 5,539,801,607 francs the year before; 1,864,320,907 francs were held abroad in each of the years. During the week silver increased 2,876,000 francs, bills discounted rose 195,644,000 francs and general deposits were augmented by 5,277,654,000 francs. On the other hand, advances decreased 71,636,000 francs and Treasury deposits fell off 21,177,000 francs. Comparisons of various items in this week's return with the statement of last week and with corresponding dates in both 1924 and 1923 are as follows:

Further contraction in note circulation and a small gain in gold were the features of the statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany, issued as of Nov. 23. In detail, the figures show that outstanding note circulation declined 134,979,000 marks, to 2,423,850,000 marks. Other maturing obligations, however, expanded 135,172,000 marks and other liabilities 11,622,000 marks. As to assets, there was another reduction in holdings of bills of exchange and checks, this time of 63,455,000 marks, although advances expanded 1,736,000 marks; reserve in foreign currencies 17,237,000 marks and silver and other coins 2,303,000 marks. There were also increases of 7,086,000 marks in notes on other banks, of 643,000 marks in investments and of 46,024,000 marks in other assets. The Bank's gold and bullion holdings aggregate 1,207,200,000 marks (there having been an increase of 241,000 marks during the week), which compares with 694,834,000 marks in the previous year and 467,025,000 marks in 1923.

This week's statement of Federal Reserve banks, because of the Thanksgiving holiday, was issued after the close of business on Friday instead of on Thursday, but the figures are up to the end of business on Wednesday, the same as in other weeks. The statement shows reductions in gold holdings, expansion in rediscounting operations, as well as, to a lesser extent, in open market dealings. The report for the System as a whole indicates a loss in gold reserve of $36,000,000. Rediscounting of Government secured paper increased $65,800,000. In "other" bills there was a reduction of $7,500,000, so that total discounts increased $58,300,000, bringing the whole up to $624,714,000, as compared with only $221,405,000 a year ago. Holdings of bills bought in the open market rose $4,500,000. Total bills and securities (earning assets) were enlarged more than $62,600,000, although deposits fell approximately $31,000,000. The amount of Federal Reserve notes in actual circulation expanded $23,400,000. At New York gold holdings declined $40,500,000. Rediscounts of all classes of bills increased slightly over $44,700,000, to $192,683,000, against $35,688,000 in 1924. Bill buying in the open market registered a gain of $9,100,000. Total bills and securities were up $51,800,000 and Federal Reserve notes in actual circulation $5,700,000. There was a decline in deposits of $5,600,000. Member bank reserve accounts were lowered both locally and nationally, $14,100,000 for the former and $41,000,000 for the latter. Reserve ratios reflected the losses in gold and declines occurred, notwithstanding the shrinkage in deposits. For the banks as a group the ratio fell 1.0%, to 71.1%, while at New York there was a decline to 79.6%, 3.2% off.

Aside from a reduction in surplus reserve of about $22,000,000, changes revealed by the New York Clearing House banks and trust companies of last Saturday were not particularly significant. The loan item expanded $4,822,000. Net demand deposits declined $3,418,000, but time deposits increased $5,769,000, to $564,527,000. The grand total of demand deposits, exclusive of $10,092,000 in Government deposits, is $4,497,684,000. Cash in own vaults of members of the Federal Reserve Bank expanded $1,703,000, to $48,738,000; although this sum is not counted as reserve. Reserves of State banks and trust companies in own vaults increased $220,000 and $503,000 in other depositories. A decline of $23,297,000 was shown in the reserves of member banks with the Reserve institution, and this was mainly responsible for the loss in surplus, which amounted to $22,304,490, and brought the total of excess reserves down to $22,378,980,000, as compared with $44,683,470 a week ago. In certain quarters the raising of rediscount rates at other Federal Reserve districts and resultant withdrawals of funds from New York was said to have had some effect in drawing down surplus reserves. It should be noted that the figures here given for surplus are on the basis of 13% legal reserves for member banks of the Federal Reserve System, but does not include $48,738,000 cash in vault held by these member institutions on Saturday last.

Inasmuch as the end of the month was so close at hand, and in view of the possibility of the New York Federal Reserve Board raising its rediscount rate to 4%, money rates in the local market were not in the least abnormal. Indeed, higher quotations would not have caused surprise to well-informed observers. A 5% quotation for call loans was touched, but there appeared to be sufficient funds with which to meet all requirements. Although it was Friday and next to the last day of the month for arranging loans, no calling of demand accommodations was reported yesterday. A feature of the money market at this centre, both Wednesday and yesterday, was the free offering of time money, even for the longest periods, at 4⅞%. It was regarded as particularly significant that a prominent international banking house should have taken the lead in this matter. The rediscount rate of the New York Federal Reserve Bank is still an uncertainty, so far as the public is concerned. Speculators in stocks are inclined to think that an advance to 4% has been largely discounted as a stock market factor. A favorable impression was created by the failure of the Bank of England to raise its discount rate above 4%. Reports relative to business in this country continue to reflect a steadily increasing volume in most lines. No reports of a scarcity of funds in any important interior centre has been reported. The offerings of new securities have included an issue each for two German cities and one for a prominent public service corporation in Germany. The general investment market has been rather slow. The United States Government is a factor in the American market for its own securities by reason of an offer to buy direct from holders Liberty 3% bonds. The Government is expected to offer soon at least $400,000,000 of its own short-term securities.

Dealing with specific rates for money, call loans this week continued to range between 4½ and 5%, the same as in recent weeks. Monday a flat rate of 4½% was named, at which all loans on call were negotiated. On Tuesday firmness set in and there was an advance to 5%, although renewals were again made at 4½%, which was the low. There was no range on Wednesday and call loans opened, ruled and closed at 4¾%. Thursday was a legal holiday (Thanksgiving Day). Call funds renewed at 4¾% on Friday, which was the low, but before the close the rate went up to 5%. In time money the market was generally dull but firm, with sixty days still quoted at 4⅞% and all longer maturities from ninety days to six months ranging between 4⅞ and 5%, unchanged. Toward the close of the week there was a slight easing and the bulk of the business was put through at 4⅞%.

Commercial paper is still quoted at 4¼@4½% for four to six months names of choice character with names not so well known at 4½%, the same as a week ago. New England mill paper and the shorter choice names continue to pass at 4¼%. Country banks were again the principal buyers, but the market was only moderately active. Offerings were usually restricted.

Banks' and bankers' acceptances remain at the levels previously current. Trading was dull and narrow. Interior institutions furnished most of the business, with the aggregate turnover light. The whole market was featureless with dealings still limited by the stiffening in call rates. For call loans against bankers' acceptances the posted rate of the American Acceptance Council is now 4¼%, against 4% a week ago. The Acceptance Council makes the discount rate on prime bankers' acceptances eligible for purchase by the Federal Reserve banks 3⅜% bid and 3¼% asked for bills running 30 days, 3½% bid and 3⅜% asked for 60 days, 3⅝ bid and 3½% asked for 90 days, 3¾% bid and 3⅝% asked for 120 days, 3⅞% bid and 3¾% asked for 150 days, and 4% bid and 3⅞% asked for 180 days. Sterling exchange moved narrowly but, in line with general expectations, toward lower levels, so that prices again approached the gold export point and the most interesting event of an otherwise dull week was the resumption of gold engagements for shipment to this country, though on a comparatively small scale. Trading in sterling exchange continues at low ebb and the volume of business passing was light. Offerings of commercial bills have dwindled of late and bankers are limiting their commitments as far as possible in order to await the outcome of some of the more important developments now pending; while intervention of the Thanksgiving holidays served to intensify the dulness. Announcement by cable from London that thus far Great Britain has not drawn upon her American credits for the purpose of supporting sterling quotations, attracted some attention, and was regarded as a favorable factor. Renewal of gold imports occasioned no surprise as the trend of prices has been downward for some little time and bankers have been stressing the possibility of further exports of the precious metal from London. It is not thought, however, that the movement will attain anything like the proportions of the initial one in the early autumn. It is worth noting that the previous gold inflow commenced when sterling declined to below 4.84¼ (for cable transfers), whereas some traders claim that the metal can now be profitably imported with sterling at 4.84⅜. The fresh collapse of French franc values, though exercising a generally depressing influence, failed to affect sterling price levels adversely. At the close of the week sudden improvement in the outlook for a settlement of France's political troubles brought about a firmer tone, that was accompanied by an advance to 4.84¼ for demand, or a trifle above the point at which it would be profitable to ship gold.

Referring to the day-to-day rates, sterling exchange on Saturday last was steady, at the levels of the previous Friday, namely 4.84⅛ (one rate) for demand, 4.84½ for cable transfers and 4.80⅞ for sixty days. Monday's market was quiet and only barely steady, with demand at 4.84 1-16@4.84⅛, cable transfers at 4.84 7-16@4.84½ and sixty days at 4.80 13-16@4.80⅞. Rates were maintained without change on Tuesday, so that the range was again 4.84 1-16@4.84⅛ for demand, 4.84 7-16@4.84½ for cable transfers and 4.80 13-16@4.80⅞ for sixty days; trading was dull and narrow. On Wednesday pre-holiday inactivity prevailed and quotations were little more than nominal, with demand still at 4 84 1-16@4 84⅛, cable transfers at 4 84 7-16@ 4 84½ and sixty days at 4 80 13-16@4 80⅞, Thursday was a holiday here (Thanksgiving Day). Friday improvement developed as a result of the relaxation in the tension over French politics and there was a fractional advance to 4.84⅛@4.84¼ for demand, to 4.84½@4.84⅝ for cable transfers and to 4.80⅞@4.81 for sixty days. Closing quotations were 4.81 for sixty days, 4.84¼ for demand and 4.84⅝ for cable transfers. Commercial sight bills finished at 4.84⅛, sixty days at 4.80½, ninety days at 4.79¾, documents for payment (sixty days) at 4.80¾ and seven-day grain bills at 4.83. Cotton and grain for payment 4.84⅛.

Gold engagements to this country were resumed this week, though on a restricted scale. The S. S. Aquitania (from Southampton) is bringing $1,500,000, consigned to the Irving Bank-Columbia Trust Co. The Chase National Bank has shipped $6,000,000 in gold to Canada and the Bank of Montreal $2,000,000. The Bank of England exported gold to Canada and Holland.

In Continental exchange attention centered almost wholly upon movements in French francs, which were once again subjected to heavy pressure and showed signs of alarming weakness. Conditions closely bordering upon panic prevailed at times and the market for this currency was completely demoralized up to Friday, when a partial rally set in on improvement in the political outlook. News over the week-end of the unexpected fall of the Painleve Cabinet had a decidedly bad effect on sentiment and franc quotations broke abruptly from 3.96, the closing rate on Friday last, to 3.88¼. Later on cable advices of the unsuccessful attempts by M. Briand to form a new Ministry caused serious uneasiness, since it was interpreted as meaning that no relief from the present financial and political tangle was in sight. Local bankers are alive to the fact that it would be futile to hope for a definite and constructive program of debt settlement or financial readjustment of any kind without the aid of a united Cabinet headed by strong leaders. This state of affairs naturally led to frenzied efforts to unload francs and these were flung in huge quantities upon totally unresponsive markets. The result was to force the rate down to 3.73¾, a new low for the year and only about 34 points above the lowest level ever touched, namely, 3.42 in March of last year, from which, however, there was a recovery to 3.89 before the close, on cable advices that M. Briand probably would succeed in forming a Cabinet on his second attempt. In early October francs were quoted around 4.76, so that the recent break equalled nearly 100 points.

Local dealers for the most part held aloof, but on the London and Paris markets feverish activity prevailed. Speculative operations figured in the dealings and on several occasions profit taking induced small rallies. On at least one day this week it was estimated that short covering amounted to 25,000,000 francs in the space of a couple of hours. Attempts to stem the decline by means of Government support were reported at intervals, but evidently met with scant success, although it is claimed that large amounts of the Morgan credit have been used for this purpose recently. Fears of the results of the inflation that must follow the increase authorized in advances by the Bank of France added to the general confusion for a time. In the early dealings nearly all of the losses were regained in the rush to cover shorts that followed the favorable Cabinet reports.

The debacle in French exchange failed to affect adversely the other leading European currencies, some of which, on the contrary, showed improvement. Italian lire were actively traded in and advanced about 6 points to 4.05, mainly on the encouragement felt over the favorable reception accorded by Italians generally to the requests of $1 voluntary contribution per person, to meet the first instalment of Italy's debt settlement. The Italian Institute of Exchange is believed to have been active throughout, buying up promptly all offerings of lire and thus counteracting the attempts of speculative interests to force down the rate. Belgian currency was firm and despite the crash in Paris francs, ruled at close to 4.52. This as well as the comparative stability of lire, emphasized strongly the beneficial effects of debt settlement. Prior to Belgium's debt agreement with the United States, Antwerp drafts moved in sympathy with France. In fact from the outbreak of the war, Belgian currency practically followed every move of French Exchange, much of the time indeed selling as much as a cent a franc under France. The present firmness is, therefore regarded as development of considerable importance. It is true that Italian and Belgian exchange are being artificially supported, but this support could not be effective without the confidence inspired by removal of war debt payment uncertainties. German and Austrian exchange remain inactive and nominal. Greek currency was a shade firmer at around 1.33. In the minor Central European division, changes were trifling, except for Polish zlotys, which dropped still lower and touched a new low record of 14.60, on continued selling and lack of support.

The London check rate on Paris finished at 125.56, against 122.30 last week. In New York sight bills on the French centre closed at 3.86¼, against 3.96¼; cable transfers at 3.87¼, against 3.97¼; commercial sight at 3.85¼, against 3.95¼, and commercial sixty days at 3.80¾, against 3.90¾ a week ago. Closing rates for Antwerp francs were 4.51½ for checks and 4.52½ for cable transfers, against 4.52 and 4.53 the previous week. Reichsmarks moved up fractionally to 23.81¼ (one rate) for both checks and cable transfers, against 23.81. Austrian kronen continue to be quoted at 0.0014⅛. Lire closed at 4.03 for bankers' sight bills and at 4.04 for cable transfers. This compares with 3.99¾ and 4.00¾ a week earlier. Exchange on Czechoslovakia finished at 2.96¼ (unchanged); on Bucharest at 0.45¼ (unchanged), and on Finland at 2.52½ (unchanged). Polish zlotys sold down to 14.60, as against 15.20 last week. Greek exchange finished at 1.32 for checks and at 1.33 for cable transfers, the same as last week.

There was very little in the way of news developments in the neutral exchanges, formerly so-called. Trading was dull and featureless, and the trend downward, although declines were limited to a few points and partial recovery set in at the close. Guilders, however, closed at a small net loss. Swiss francs lost about a point. Danish and Norwegian currencies were easier, losing 7 and 12 points, respectively. Swedish exchange remained unchanged, but Spanish pesetas again showed weakness, breaking to 14.13, about 10 points off. The weakness was partly in sympathy with the break in French exchange and partly international difficulties.

Bankers' sight on Amsterdam finished at 40.17½, against 40.20½; cable transfers at 40.19½, against 40.22½; commercial sight at 40.09½, against 40.12½, and commercial sixty days at 39.73½, against 39.76½ a week ago. Swiss francs closed at 19.26 for bankers' sight bills and at 19.27 against 19.27¼ and 19.28¼ last week. Copenhagen checks finished at 24.82 and cable transfers at 24.86, against 24.91 and 24.95. Checks on Sweden closed at 26.72 and cable transfers at 26.76 (unchanged), while checks on Norway finished at 20.30½ and cable transfers at 20.34½, against 20.39 and 20.43 a week earlier. Spanish pesetas closed at 14.16½ for checks and at 14.18½ for cable transfers, against 14.23½ and 14.25½ the preceding week.

Argentine pesos finished at 41.43 for checks and at 41.48 for cable transfers, against 41.65 and 41.71. Brazilian milreis declined to 14.12 for checks and at 14.14 for cable transfers, then closed at 14.16 and 14.21, in comparison with 14.33 and 14.38 a week earlier. Chilean exchange was about steady and finished at 12.25, against 12.26 the week previous, while Peru closed at 3.98 (unchanged).

Far Eastern exchange was as follows: Hong Kong, 58 1/8@58 5/8, against 58 1/8@58 3/4; Shanghai at 78@78 1/4, against 76@77; Yokohama at 43 1/4@43 5/8, against 42 3/4@43; Manila at 50@50 1/4 (unchanged); Singapore at 57@57 3/8, against 57 1/8@57 3/8; Bombay at 36 3/4@37 (unchanged), and Calcutta at 36 3/4@37 (unchanged).

The New York Clearing House banks, in their operations with interior banking institutions, have gained $3,617,775 net in cash as a result of the currency movements for the week ended Nov. 26. Their receipts from the interior have aggregated $4,654,275, while the shipments have reached $1,036,500, as per the following table:

Note.—The foregoing heavy credits reflect the huge mass of checks which come to the New York Reserve Bank from all parts of the country in the operation of the Federal Reserve Systems' par collection scheme. These large credit balances, however, reflect only a part of the Reserve Bank's operations with the Clearing House institutions, as only the items payable in New York City are represented in the daily balances. The large volume of checks on institutions located outside of New York are not accounted for in arriving at these balances, as such checks do not pass through the Clearing House but are deposited with the Federal Reserve Bank for collection for the account of the local Clearing House banks.

The Ministerial Crisis in France.

Politics and finance combined last Sunday to overthrow the reconstructed Painleve Government, and another short-lived French Ministry went down ingloriously to defeat. Of the two influences, it was politics that bulked largest throughout the proceeding, and politics of a kind which always raises doubt about the efficacy of parliamentary institutions and parliamentary methods in times of crisis. The spectacle of a small Communist Party, hitherto accustomed to play a lone hand in the Chamber of Deputies, joining forces with the Conservatives of the Right and overturning a Ministry by a majority of only three votes, is something which it would be difficult to match even in the variegated political history of France. What makes the action of the Chamber the more bewildering is the fact that the Right, while opposed in principle to the financial program of the Painleve Ministry, is itself in a minority in the Chamber, and the victory which was won with Communist aid is a wholly empty one. It is not within the power of the party groups of the Right to prevent, by reason of their numbers, the formation of a Government of the Left, nor can they by their own votes alone defeat such a Government if one were formed. As far as the leaders of the Right are concerned, the events of Sunday seem hardly creditable to their political shrewdness and foresight. It is the privilege of any party or any party group to register its dissent, and to fight as hard as it can against policies which it disapproves, but it only weakens its influence when it allows a situation to develop such as that which on Sunday relegated the Painleve Government to history.

The same political playing at cross-purposes operated to impede the choice of M. Painleve's successor. The combined parties of the Left, not counting the Communists, have a working numerical majority in the Chamber of Deputies, but between the various party groups which compose the combination there are differences of opinion and purpose almost as hard to reconcile as those which separate the Left from the Right. The difficulty has been increased by the apparent absence of a Centre, or moderate, group sufficiently numerous or effective to serve as a rallying point for the constructive and progressive elements in the Chamber, and the domination of the Senate by a Right instinctively hostile to most of the things for which the Left stands. Under such circumstances the formation of a Ministry to succeed that of M. Painleve has encountered almost insuperable obstacles. M. Briand, who was able to announce late yesterday, after a previous failure, that he had succeeded in forming a Cabinet, is reported to have divided the Left by skillful manoeuvring, and thereby to have gone a long way towards breaking the strangle hold which the Socialists have had upon the Chamber of Deputies. Numerically, however, the Socialists are strong enough, if they hang together, to make the position of the Government precarious, and it will obviously not be easy for M. Briand's coalition to carry through a clear-cut and vigorous financial policy such as France requires. The fact that M. Herriot, former Premier and now President of the Chamber, is reported to have freed himself in a measure from Socialist control, adds to the hope that M. Briand may succeed, although the full effect of M. Herriot's action is yet to be learned.

Back of all the political manoeuvring which has taken place, however, lies the Socialist demand for a capital levy, and unless the Socialist front has been shattered beyond repair, the question will have to be met before the budget can make progress. M. Caillaux, whose spectacular return to public life in the face of bitter opposition from the Poincare following made him the idol of many of the Socialists, not only rejected the idea of a capital levy root and branch, but brought forward a budget one of whose cardinal features was a heavy increase of taxation. Under Socialist pressure, reinforced by the failure of the debt negotiations at Washington, M. Caillaux was dropped, and the Painleve Ministry was reconstructed with M. Painleve himself as Minister of Finance. M. Painleve, whose original plans for dealing with the financial crisis had much to commend them, found himself forced, again by Socialist pressure, to go a long way in the direction of something very like a capital levy. His proposal for funding a mass of short-term obligations, however, alarmed the country, and his refusal to give assurance that further inflation of the currency, beyond what was needed to meet immediate payments by the Treasury, would not be resorted to, gave the Socialist opposition its opportunity, and the Government was forced to resign. The capital levy, accordingly, in one form or another, remains the fundamental issue, and unless the Socialists shall have been radically disintegrated by M. Briand's political skill and M. Herriot's revolt, it is hard to see how the new Government can avoid meeting the issue squarely, and standing or falling by the decision that is made.

For the predicament in which France finds itself there should be in this country, and it is earnestly to be hoped that there will be, continued sympathy and good-will. It is not for a people blessed with prosperity and financial stability to turn away from a nation which is confronted with the possibility of financial collapse. Looked at from a distance, however, the events of the past few days serve only to emphasize the fundamental causes of the present dangerous situation. Thanks to a fatuous belief in the possibility of extracting unlimited reparations from Germany, France has piled up an enormous debt for the restoration of its invaded departments in advance of reparations payments, only to find that reparations, when they come, will be very much less than was expected, and that payments will in any case be long deferred. An equally fatuous belief has been cherished that the war debt to the United States would in some way be wiped off the books, and that what was borrowed would not have to be repaid. Device after device for meeting the financial obligations of France has been brought forward, some of them good, some of them questionable, but every proposal which involved the two essential elements of drastic economy in public expenditure and drastic increases in taxation has encountered popular opposition in the country and partisan opposition in Parliament before which no Government has been able to make headway. There is no need to point the moral. No wizardry of finance can extricate France from its troubles. There is no remedy save to economize as France, a nation noted for its thrift in personal affairs, has never economized before, and to pay taxes to the limit of its strength. With this program established, the temporary inflation of the currency which the funding of the debt and the immediate need of cash seem to make inevitable should not, in wise and skillful hands, spell financial disaster, but without it the most ingenious devices will be only palliatives.

Perhaps it is well that the Socialists, apparently more intent upon forcing the adoption of their own financial program than upon saving the country, should have precipitated the Ministerial crisis through which France is now passing. Unless party Government is to give way to a dictatorship, the excesses of which a dominant party is capable must be allowed to run their course, if only that the hard lessons of experience may be the more thoroughly learned. The instability of coalition Governments has become proverbial, and it is too early to say that the new Briand Ministry may reasonably expect to enjoy a long life. The extreme urgency of the financial situation, on the other hand, may well have the effect of bringing about a co-operation among the parties sufficient to insure the speedy adoption of a budget and minimize the dangers of inflation, and to clear the immediate future of overshadowing and harassing anxiety is itself a step in the direction of financial health. What more can be done than that must await the event.

An Armistice Day Lesson.

The pathos and tragedy of war were illustrated in France on Armistice Day as the following incident shows: "Cirysalsogne, Department of Aisne, France, Nov. 11.—Celebrants here of Armistice Day had a grim reminder of war times to-day when three little girls between the ages of 7 and 10 were instantly killed when a shell which they had found in the fields exploded while they were examining it." The conventional words "grim reminder" fail utterly to convey the pathos of this happening. In a fair land that is burrowed with the graves of millions of the war's brave dead there is no more room for innocence to suffer, no more time for reminders of the actual horrors, no more cause to be shocked into remembrance, save to resolve that war shall never again occur. Yet one of the sad anomalies of the time is found in the fact that at the very time this great people are paying due reverence to their dead their Government is waging a war in far away Syria against a people alien in race and religion. Somehow this fragment of war does not seem much to stir other peoples. Are we growing indifferent already even while most we talk peace?

Three fair and promising little lives snuffed out by an accident will not much affect the economic production of the future. Three potential mothers lost to the world is not a worthy subject of statistical inquiry, even in a State the birth rate of which is almost stationary. But three children untimely dead in homes of quietude and love must waken the heart of humanity as citizens everywhere trace the unfortunate cause to a war that "engulfed a world." Is it not enough to lose these tender loved ones by the inevitable causes that surround the health of all, that they should thus die by the hand of a dead war? Is it not enough that these parents mourn in darkened rooms, that a world should again record the poignant truth that always war falls on the innocent?

We are told by some that in a spirit of "preparedness" we must continue to manufacture many other infernal shells to be used in other possible horrible wars, or perchance be left lying on other neglected battlefields to kill other innocent children at play. But in this one incident do we not find the whole lesson of war and its aftermath? No war was ever fought that did not in itself sow the seeds of other wars. No peace was ever concluded that did not in some way rasp the feelings of the conquered. Peace before war is never the same as peace after war. Always, though peace after war is inevitably desirable, there is left some sting to rancor in the hearts of men. Has, or has not, "a war to end war" proved a failure? If the question is asked it is for the purpose of saying that peace begets peace and war begets war. If no shadow of war could fall across the world for a hundred years it is reasonable to say peace would never again be broken. We dwell too close to this monster in our armaments not to feel its sinister presence among us. And our only hope of its banishment is to keep before our minds its calamitous power and its dire consequences. So that in the loss of these innocent lives on a fair though forgotten field in France the whole world may find a text on the continuing evils of war long after the conflict ceases. What explosive shells are in these war debts we are trying to "settle" by passing them on to the innocent generations that are to come? What explosive shells are in these tariffs now so freely made, containing in themselves bloodless conflicts of trade? What explosive shells are in these boundary lines of States springing into being, not through mutual agreements in times of peace, but by the force of a peace treaty that followed on the fate of a world war?

In our meditations on Armistice Day we ought to do more than revere the memory of our heroes, though that is exemplary, wise and just. We ought to count the costs of war. Not the dollar debts, but the debts to uncertainty, turmoil and possible future disasters. We are staking life and health on a germ theory of disease. Is there not a germ of war? Is it not now beginning to prey on the peace of the world? What is it, where is it? Physical armaments are not alone the things we must consider. There are political armaments. We say we must preserve our sovereignty, our honor, our ability, or rather capacity, to fight. Sovereignty of some sort we cannot escape. It is not so much a matter of pride as of use. It is a nation's power to live and speak and help. In a spirit of mutual esteem it ought to meet the world half way. There is no need to boast, or to lead, or to dominate. After all, as with the individual, no one can stain our national honor but ourselves.

These aftermaths, contingencies, penalties of war, do we think on them enough? Look how money and credit have been demoralized since the World War! Yet money and credit are not actual agencies of destruction—they are the necessary support of the contenders, and we may almost say the longest purse wins. But money and credit continue their natural inherent service after the war is over, only they have become so distracted from the normal that they are unable to serve their original purpose. How many individual fortunes have been wiped out by worthless marks in Germany? What a huge debt, internal and external, hangs over France, threatening almost revolution? How many doles to unemployed is proud, imperial England dealing out? What has been lost to the United States in falling exchange and slackening foreign trade?

The consequences of war are in many things as terrible as the war itself. We cannot measure them so accurately or so easily. The men and money sunk in that awful vortex we can count. But we cannot count the labor that the next generation must expend to pay the debts occasioned by that crime of wholesale murder. We cannot estimate the loss in joy and advancement the generations to follow will experience because they cannot take the wages and profits they earn for themselves, but must pour them out to pay debts that stand for nothing now but horrible and inexcusable waste. Do we really care anything about these generations when in our talk about honor, preparedness and sovereignty, we refuse to see that war continues to harm long after nominal peace comes. Heroes of the A. E. F. yes; honor them well! But in the slowly settling calm of each succeeding Armistice Day celebration, count the costs, not the principal of the debt, but the interest in toil and deprivation of those who must in after years suffer to pay for the inevitable consequences we put upon them in disorders as well as debts, in defeats as well as dollars!

War is conflagration with sparks falling far away to set other fires. A man cannot burn down his own house to wreck it without a permit and this is rarely granted. The danger to others is too great. Even with a fire department watching, a flying spark may set another blaze that may become uncontrollable. Yet the world views incipient small wars with a certain degree of complacency. However small, they leave unexploded shells of hate and envy on the field for future generations to pick up. We hold that Armistice Day celebrations are not alone to do honor to the heroes of war. For the living are silently conscious of duty done and the dead sleep well far from the clamor of this world's praise. Armistice Day is for the cementing of peace. Peace always needs expression in words as well as deeds. And the best analysis of the crime of war will not forget to point out its lasting influence in times of peace. Millions of men gone and billions of treasure destroyed are undoubtedly responsible for some of the fulsome and foolish living of to-day. If it were no more than that some of the profiteers still flourish like the green bay tree, that would be enough. But there is a far greater consequence. The "turmoil" teaches men to be reckless, to "live while they live," to give no care to the morrow. All the old landmarks of sobriety in building a fortune suffer a sneering contempt. Society becomes hectic for pleasure. Even the ordinary trust of religion decays. Nothing matters much if war can come to destroy everything!

Are we, the most prosperous people on earth, paying too much for what we eat and wear? Would not the abundance of materials, the eager plenteousness of labor, and the aid of invention and machinery, by this time have brought prices lower than they were in 1914? Let war answer. When the orchards are full-bearing, there are apples in every home. Is not abundant production of more value to all men than high wage or big profit? Is not the low level better than the high level? Undoubtedly so, for any any level is but an average. No level is an absolute thing. Wages and profits, each, will always be relatively high and low. Ask unorganized labor if it is getting a high wage to-day. Ask agriculture if it is reaping the same ratio of reward as manufacture. Ask structural steel if it is making the same profit as radio equipment or automobiles. War accentuates the natural divergence of wages and profits because it is an unnatural influence. And we are living in that condition to-day and will continue to do so for a long time to come. Are these things worth mentioning when we talk of the need of perpetual peace? Sixty-two years is nearly three generations, yet we are promising that the third generation will pay for war, world war, war dead and gone from the minds of men. If peace does come, if it stays the evils of this one war, the effect will remain for sixty-two years.

The other day in the Valley of the Tombs of the Kings a coffin of solid gold was unearthed, denoting an age of splendor in Egypt surpassing that of Rome. But the toiling artificers who fashioned this richly chased relic, what of them? What of the slaves who built the pyramids? Those who pay for war, though it defend civilization, what of them? Peace costs nothing now or at any time. War, though it defends, does cost—and the cost falls on those who come after it. Its legacy is always toil and deprivation, however holy and necessary its cause. And in the days when there is no war the world does well to think on this. The peoples of earth are thinking more on peace than ever before. But it is not that incisive thinking which points out the long-drawn-out evil consequences of war as a method for the preservation of democracy and civilization. In the flush of an inflated and speculative prosperity do we go back to the cause? Had war anything to do with three-million-share days on the Stock Exchange? If the train of events which resulted in a prodigal money and credit are traced carefully, it had. Will grim tomorrows pay in heavy toil for the losses already experienced, with more to come, because of this mad speculation in shares? They will. War, with its train of disorders, is a continuing evil that can only be banished at its source. The shells explode even in the hands of little children!

"What Is the Matter with New England"—The Worcester Conference.

It would be difficult to indicate any recent assembly in the country of more general immediate interest or importance than the Conference in Worcester, Mass., called to discuss the question "What is the Matter With New England?"

The variety and size of the interests and the character and standing of the chief speakers as well as of the 1,000 members of the assembly, were sufficient to give wide significance to the discussions. It may be admitted that the industrial problems of New England are serious, though we do not believe that her manufacturers "are going to meet their Waterloo." The discussions, direct and outspoken almost to the point of individual attack, showed that the thought of the community is profoundly stirred and that radical changes are to be looked for in many lines of business and industry having their home in that section of the country.

These discussions gathered largely about the views presented by Secretary Hoover and Mr. Owen D. Young, though they were by no means dependent on them, and covered a wide field. As a whole they deserve attention. New England apart from its other characteristics has long been considered the oldest commercial and manufacturing centre of the country and still has wide influence. Its inevitable conservatism may be a handicap, but when it sets about a thorough overhauling of its methods it cannot fail to be instructive to others, and that in lines little suspected. The fact is that the country cannot be economically successful by arraying one section against another. To-day the world is open and in movement. Every land has to adjust itself to world-wide relations, making its contribution and gathering its returns in close touch with all. Any business or State that ignores this connection is sure in due time to have it forced upon it, and perhaps with disastrous effect.

Secretary Hoover, for example, pointed out that New England with her accumulated skill in administration, in finance, in invention and in labor, so that her foresight and enterprise have served as a heritage and example in every State in the Union, has need to pay attention to certain obstructive factors. Chief among these is the change taking place in her population; in the effect of the war upon facilities of transportation, and in wages, fuel and factory development abroad. To these must be added the growth of absentee administration of the older industries, the development of mass production elsewhere, compelling a higher degree of production, of industrial and of distributive skill in the smaller units if they are to survive; a fundamental elimination of economic waste; with larger use of electrification, of standardization, and of foreign markets through the production of articles requiring a high degree of workmanship and special adaptation to the markets sought.

These are all definite problems quite capable of solution, especially if intelligence and co-operation are secured. Without these they cannot be solved, and here is where attention should begin and concentrate.

Dr. Julius Klein, Director of the Bureau of Domestic Commerce, confirmed Secretary Hoover's opinions in emphasizing the intensive competition arising abroad which should challenge the ability of America and which New England has already begun to meet successfully in some lines. He referred to the Locarno settlement as increasing the productive power of Europe, which will be followed by an unusual demand for such goods of quality as are made in New England.

These views were followed up by various business men. Mr. S. K. Liggett, President of the United Drug Co. of Boston, said: "The dead hand holds a grip on too many of our New England industries, too many of our investments and sometimes too much of our politics." Inherited management has not kept pace with competition, or holds fast to original policies which become traditional fixtures for all departments. Mr. L. E. Kerstein, of William Filene's Sons Co. of Boston, declared that lack of merchandising vision by manufacturers making the same kind of goods year after year, with no attention to change of style and markets, accounts for the slump in the sale of New England's textiles. He contrasted the local automobile industry with its general growth in the country, while New England manufacturers are expecting the public to be "content with goods of the day of the buggy."

Mr. H. E. Moses, President of the Eastern States League, pointed out that between 1881 and 1920 there was a decrease of 53½% in the acreage of New England devoted to agriculture, while the population had increased 84½%, or from 4,010,000 to 7,400,000. The result is that New England has now to obtain approximately 75% of her food outside.

Mr. Owen D. Young, now Chairman of the Directors of the General Electric Co., advocated the creation of a New England power pool to take up the flow of the New England rivers and tides in order to concentrate power required for industry at the most economical point of production. Referring to the fact that 29,000,000 horsepower in the factories of America do work equal to that performed by 290,000,000 men his contention is that if high wages are to be maintained more power must be put back of the individual workman. For this in a form that can be depended upon we look to electricity. It is therefore necessary to resort to this means of applying power to every form of service.

The New England States may be considered a natural economic unit, with industry the most important and agriculture the perishable source of its food supply. A power pool is needed for mobilizing and distributing the chief supply required for its industry at the various places of production. All sources of power should be developed to feed that central supply station. Falling water is the most available of these sources and is practically inexhaustible. Storage reservoirs in the rivers would furnish the necessary conservation and regulation of their flow. Here is the greatest of all tools available for the entire community. All that is needed is to have it placed at the disposal of all and not in any case reserved for the few. New England has many sources of this power in her rivers, lakes and tidal basins. If the States should co-operate in a place for developing the power so contained, with central stations and adequate transmission and supply through secondary lines, it would be available for all public service, in highway lighting, etc., and for all individual need as well. The project of a dam across the entrance to Passamaquoddy Bay to control the power of the tide in the Bay of Fundy, the most tremendous on the continent, by a financial corporation, is an instance of what is already being accomplished along this line in New England.

Mr. M. J. Insull, of Chicago, President of the Middle West Utilities Co., representing the interests of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, advocated for New England such a pool as Mr. Young suggested. He said that $6,500,000,000 are already invested in the electric power business, and that the people of the United States have invested $13,000,000,000 in order to use the electric service offered them. He defended the "holding company" which he admitted is attacked as standing between ownership and management. He said, what is obvious, that if the combination of capital had not been secured the electric light business would not be as extensive as it now is.

Others spoke of the necessity of some better plan than that now prevailing if electricity is to be made available on the farms at a price that can be afforded, and that the plan of Mr. Young for combined action by the New England States seemed the only way to obtain this result. Several instances were presented from the floor where small country communities had adopted similar plans for their own benefit with great advantage, furnishing power at one cent a kilowatt hour electricity in their kitchens and six cents for lighting. No adverse criticism was offered.

The convention secured wide attention and threw much light upon an economic problem of prime importance. Definite results with wide bearing may reasonably be expected.

The Thanksgiving of the Human Heart.

There are many holidays during the year, and but one Thanksgiving Day. At other dates we do reverence to great characters in our national history and on one occasion we commemorate the birth of our institutions and Government, but annually, on a day appointed, in November, we are asked, in accordance with a time-honored custom, by proclamation of the President, to assemble in our respective places of worship, and humbly give thanks to Almighty God for the manifold blessings He has bestowed upon us. This day, therefore, takes on a solemnity hallowed by direct worship in which all men and all creeds may take part. In our smaller cities and towns there is generally held what is known as a "union service" in which the entire community is asked to join. And as the bell rings out the hour of assembly, bigotry is foregone, religious schism is forgotten, and, in contemplative hearts there rises the glorious thought of the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man. Well it is, then, that once in every year we meet together, freed from our passions and prejudices, common worshippers at the everlasting shrine of obedience, tolerance, trust—children of the One God. For, back of all our personal ambitions and efforts, our individual trials and tribulations, there is the infinite Cause that shaped the processes of the suns and measured the little space on earth we call Life. Remote, unapproachable, hidden as by a cloud to our full understanding, yet as one poet has expressed it, to the soul of man, "closer is He than breathing and nearer than hands and feet." This fathomless though intimate relation of Man and God on a day of universal thanks giving brings home to every mind and heart the lesson of "Peace on Earth, Good-will to Men" which was the highest form of worship as exemplified by the lifework of the greatest religious teacher of all the ages. Governments, institutions, schools of thought, knowledge of science, the achievements of letters and art, may all pass, but the soul will seek its source and the Infinite Power will not forget the duty of wise and loving care for His handiwork made in His "own image."

For what, therefore, do we give thanks save for life, liberty and love, through which flow all the blessings that can come to us collectively and individually? Life, that mysterious be-ing, by which a human entity looks out upon other humans and upon an environment of earth and star and universe! Life, that is clothed in a body of marvelous construction, that is conscious of itself and aware of an intermingling of thought and love; life, the investiture of a soul that is solitary and apart from all else, seeking ever for its source in the source of all. It is not that the crops of the year have been bountiful, that wars and devastations have passed us by as a people, that business has been good and general prosperity our collective position—it is first that we have life by a divine decree, for without life there is no thought or feeling, no opportunity to enjoy, no power to work, overcome, accumulate, succeed. The blessing of life, though we do not understand its meaning or its motive, puts upon man the obligation of worship and reverence in which thanks are a mere manifestation. On Thanksgiving Day, it follows, no man lives who can say he has no cause for thanks. It is true that in the mysterious comings and goings of a single life there fall upon some burdens, sorrows, sufferings, that seem more than they can bear. A few end their own lives on earth by their own hands. They spurn this inestimable gift of God because pain and affliction, not of their own ordering, comes upon them. But out of nothingness by no will or volition of man's own, a being capable of joy and love, could there be a greater gift out of the heart of Benevolence?

Life translates itself into individual living—not what we do alone, but what we think and feel. Emerging into the plane of consciousness, this entity we call a human being owes its first relation to God. If the gift of live is worth having it is worth being thankful for, though the human relations we make for ourselves are imperfect, bringing suffering in their train. The Infinite One is the Perfect One—and in so far as man has any lesser powers, and like ones, they must in themselves be perfect. By the right exercise of these he can have all that by virtue of the gift of life he ought to have. He is his own maker and destroyer, in the God-like things we term the spiritual. The soul that aspires is free. It cannot be chained by circumstance or bounded by social environment. As all true worship, all giving of thanks, is personal, so neither earthly powers nor places nor principalities can cabin the human spirit. One of the most sublime of religious utterances is in the words "I accept"! We cannot probe the deeps of life, nor pass beyond the portals of death and return, but on a day devoted to thanks we can believe that all is for good, and that the "best is yet to come." As we rise above the mere circumstances of life we perceive the wondrous prescience and power of the gift of life. Life in its outward aspects may be sordid and stained, but in its inner essence it is pure and radiant. He who gives thanks pours out his spirit in libation to the Spirit whence he came.

Men stumble, and even fall, over the question of foreordination and free will. The religious world of to-day is convulsed over fundamentalism and modernism. But the unlearned man as well as the learned can perceive and appreciate that within certain limitations he is divine by virtue of his spiritual origin; and that in the progress of the race he has reached a high estate, crowned with the more "abundant life" of traditional religion. Thanks to the divine for the divine is not hard to understand. Henley, writing out of the gloom of almost unbelief, to thank "whatever gods there be" for his "imperishable soul" could still proclaim: "I am the master of my fate; I am the captain of my soul." And so, as we pause to give thanks for the precious gift of life we behold the magnificence and potentiality of its liberty. The liberty to think, to construct out of the power of mind, the glorious panoramas of literature, the wondrous revelations of law in nature, the beauties of art and the benevolences of institutions, governmental and commercial, the ever-improving machinery of civilization, albeit darkened by our selfishness, intolerance, and greed. Only the small mind and the deadened heart can fail to perceive the blessing of life, even though one own little of the physical environment. All the spiritual is here for every man who will appropriate it to himself; and, having appropriated, his own life-light shines more clearly, and others may find inspiration in its presence. Out of a cabin window may float the visions of genius. From the heights of worldly success may descend the voice of universal good-will. From the depths of deprivation and suffering may arise the song of a sweet content. We are what we are by virtue of the investiture of power to think and feel, and all our failures are our own, because we yield to worldly estimates and fail to come into the divine presence in us and about us.

And then the power to love—this is the greatest blessing life vouchsafes to us. Love that finds its highest expression in the outflowing of the soul! Love that treasures up the works of the ages, that transfigures individual and social freedom, that builds from generation to generation the things of the spirit, that yet finds time and opportunity for the millions of little deeds of kindness that surround us with joy and peace. By the rigid tenets of a primitive theology founded upon fear we dwell too much on our errors called sins. We forego the balancing of the book of good and evil. We refuse salvation by character; and, hopeless of developing within us the spark of immortality in a larger and better life because death is a door that opens only outward, we cringe and cower and despair in the thunderings of temporal authority and in the presence of a Deity fashioned upon the pattern of an implacable nature, when law is but the inviolate power of the spirit of kindliness and care. To be temperate in our thought; to be glad in our simplicity; to be tolerant of others; to be merciful, and thus just, to ourselves; to work and aspire and be faithful in our faith; this is to give thanks to the Maker of all. Not even in the greed of acquisitiveness and the frivolous follies of a social abandon can any life be irretrievably lost. The divine purpose is too wise not to provide a means of ultimate escape. Love as an attribute of life is but a means of preparation and of overcoming. Love is constructive, evolutional, transforming, the undying leaven. Love is life; and life is love!

Love finds its highest expression in altruism, in living for others, the parent for the child and child for parent, the man for the woman and the woman for the man, the friend for friend, and the individual for society and the State. In this way, only, can man live for God. He honors God who honors his kind. He worships best who does the most for his fellows. Prayer is aspiration, rather than petition. The fogs of religion are dispersed in the sunlight of earnest endeavor for the good. The faith in God that includes all other faiths is that He will reward those who are faithful in good works. Character is more than profession. He gives thanks to the Great Father who follows the common precept of all the great religious teachers and exemplars: "Do unto others as you would that others should do unto you." If the groves were God's first temples, the congregations and convocations of cities are His last. In the inevitable contacts of life are never-ending opportunity for the worship which is contained in be-ing and doing. But altruism requires the cultivation of self, that service may be worthwhile. Therefore, he gives thanks who increases accomplishment by the mastery of knowledge and the power of wisdom, who strives in letters, art, science and industrial commerce, for thus the relations of life are lifted above the sordidness of self-gratification. Just as the mind uses time and space as the tools of measurement so the soul uses deeds of kindness to others as the means of expression of its inner state and purpose. Always the doer is more than the deed. And he gives thanks to God who binds a sheaf of wheat or expresses a fine thought or paints a beautiful picture, or keeps a shop or a bank, or is tender to childhood and old age.

It is sufficient if a man give expression to the spirit of love that is within him according to the circumstances of his personal life. The greatest leaders are the most humble. We do not rightly construct Governments, societies and institutions that they shall exalt the few self-constituted teachers, but that they shall make more abundant the lives of all. Pride leads to tyranny. Democracy makes free the path of the humble and the earnest. Neither in the Church nor the Court nor the Market Place is success the true criterion of the life that is lived for others. All are but means and measurements of the outward expression of the indwelling soul. He worships who walks humbly among his fellows; who is tolerant to all honest opinion; who is forgiving to selfishness, hate and ignorance, that know not what they do; who serves in the low places of honor and helpfulness; or who, unable to solve all the riddles of philosophy and forum, bravely "stands and waits." To seek the truth is to find it. To appreciate the gift is to use it wisely. And to live by love is to give thanks for life and its liberty throughout all the days of the earthly pilgrimage. Congregations and societies, orders, groups, classes, parties and principalities and political States, are at most the mere instrumentalities by which the life-thinking express the values of life that are born in the human soul. The Infinite is greater than any conception in man. Reverence for God by adoration of His works is part of worship, but man's love for the love-absolute is all of it. The Star may lead but the Soul follows. Truth is a well-traveled road and progress an excursion into a new country. From the quiet places in the Valley of Contemplation thanks may ascend higher than from the mountain tops of creed where the trumpets of bigotry are blowing.

And now, as through the shadows and sunshine of life passes the man of love, there is laughter and joy and content by the way, albeit effort often fails, and sorrow comes, and suffering stays, and toil and trade bring inequalities of ownership of the material things all want or have, and in every worshipful heart there is a lurking doubt, and the unreturning dead voice not the truth of the ultimate end. Shall he, then, give thanks who knows not the answer to his own existence? Shall he listen only to the promise of priest and prelate proclaiming the faith, shall he bow down to a God who is unknown? What is the answer if it be not found in the consciousness of the fact of life itself, life that alone can love and trust and be kindly and merciful to others? Is the human tragedy but the divine comedy, and life a jest? Is man a walking mannikin in a universe of unfeeling matter ruled by a blind concourse of self-created laws? In his soul, that alone knoweth truth, he finds an answer. All religions and creeds are born of it, and it cannot die though the scroll of the stars be folded forever. The soul and the spirit are supreme over all. There is no love in physical law save as it is made to manifest the divine law of love. The soul that has spiritual eyes alone can see the purpose and the end of man and creation. And by the very truth of the existence and power of love in man is the presence of the eternal and spiritual made manifest. And shall he give less thanks who has loved and been loved in a life he cannot create?

Respective Merits of Stocks and Bonds as Investments.

The following letter is self-explanatory:

SCUDDER, STEVENS & CLARK.

Boston, Nov. 20 1925.

Editor Commercial & Financial Chronicle:

Dear Sir: I read in your Nov. 14 number an article by Arthur Hobart Herschel under the heading "The Investment Risk of Common Stocks," which in my opinion contains a larger number of unfair statements than I have ever noticed in one article before. May I point out to you some of these statements?

Mr. Herschel says: "It is understood that the comparison in the article just referred to" in the "American Review of Reviews" "is between capital or common stocks and well-secured bonds, bonds of the highest grade." He then proceeds to write his article comparing high-grade bonds with all sorts of stocks, particularly low-grade stocks. It is manifestly unfair to compare high-grade bonds with low-grade common stocks, just as it is unfair to place a gold-mining adventure on the same basis as a public utility enterprise.

Mr. Herschel says: "Is it possible that our laws governing the investment of trust funds have been founded on a fallacy? Will these laws be changed, and the billions of dollars in trust funds, now invested in bonds and real estate mortgages, be invested hereafter in common stocks?" It is very unfair for Mr. Herschel to insinuate that advocates of a reasonable amount of common stocks for investors take any such position. Examining the case, however, on its merits, there have been many laws which have been founded upon fallacies. The New York Act based upon recommendations of the Armstrong Committee in 1906 or thereabouts prohibited life insurance companies buying common stocks. This, however, was not, as Mr. Herschel insinuates, due to the fact that common stocks had been unprofitable investments. I have before me a table showing the results accomplished by 28 leading fire insurance companies over the years 1906 to 1909, inclusive, on both bonds and stocks. The stocks on every consideration average better than the bonds.

Mr. Herschel says that the investor is prepared to hold his investment indefinitely. This is a very loose statement, as most conservative investors expect to give some attention to their property with the intention of disposing of weak holdings. Mr. Herschel says: "An investor in well-secured bonds knows that he will receive the par value of the bonds at maturity and that the interest will be regularly paid."

Mr. Herschel should know that this is not true. He says that our currency is fairly satisfactory, that we should be thankful that we do not have to make investments in francs or in some other European money. Mr. Herschel should know that less than fifteen years ago the German mark and the English pound were considered by impartial observers exactly as stable as the United States dollar, and that what happens to one sound currency may possibly happen in the case of another.

He says: "It should be stated clearly and emphatically that all corporations do not pay larger dividends when commodity prices are rising," and he gives one example, Anaconda Copper, to illustrate his point. He never mentions the fact that more than one high-grade bond has defaulted.

With the same logic he draws from one example, the period after the Civil War, the further conclusion that we may now look to a general increase in the purchasing power of our money for many years to come.

He names a number of stocks which at present are not paying dividends. He names no bonds which at present are not paying interest.

Mr. Herschel says: "The stockholder in times of industrial depression and even in times of general prosperity may lose his entire investment." He does not mention the fact that other stocks may make up for the entire loss and a great deal more.

There are many other unfair and erroneous statements in this article, and you may find something of interest in the enclosed address delivered at the recent Babson conference. In addition to this I am enclosing a reprint of a recent article in the "Harvard Business Review" which I believe you will agree is more accurate than Mr. Herschel's article. [These two papers, both by Mr. Shaw, are too lengthy for reproduction in our columns.—Ed.]

Very truly yours,

A. VERE SHAW.

The New Capital Flotations in October and for the Ten Months to October 31

The new capital flotations during October were of about the same aggregate extent as those for September, which is tantamount to saying that they were heavy without being of the exceptional proportions as those of some other months especially distinguished in that respect. Corporate issues were considerably larger, but offerings of foreign Government bonds were on a reduced scale and so were municipal issues.

Our tabulations, as always, include the stock, bond and note issues by corporations, and by States and municipalities, foreign and domestic, and also Farm Loan emissions. The grand total of the offerings of new securities under these various heads during October reached $503,337,557, which is at the rate of six billion dollars a year. The amount compares with $490,336,366 in September. In August, when the new issues were the smallest in amount of any month since March 1924, the total was only $399,708,415, but in July, when the offerings were the largest of any month since October of last year the aggregate was $693,164,577. The June total, however, was but little smaller, having been $673,881,983. As for the months preceding, comparison is with $530,841,330 in May, with $607,128,553 in April, when the financing of the purchase of the Dodge Brothers automobile properties added $160,000,000 to the total; with $505,369,807 in March, with $664,632,971 in the short month of February, with $685,403,871 in January, with $557,168,130 in December 1924, and with $427,218,524 in November, when the amount was relatively small, even though the $100,000,000 French loan was brought out in that month.

It has already been indicated that in comparing with October last year we are comparing with a month of unusual size for new capital issues. The grand total then reached $740,221,848, as against $503,337,557 for the month the present year. The municipal issues then reached $92,079,368, as against $76,292,998 now, and the corporate total then was $418,447,480, against the present amount of $371,304,559, but the great bulk of the whole difference between the two years is found in the falling off in the amount of foreign Government bonds placed in the United States. The aggregate of the foreign Government issues in October last year was no less than $214,000,000, one large item in this having been the American portion ($110,000,000) of the German loan. The foreign Government offerings the present year in October were no more than $39,650,000. For November the foreign Government total will again be very heavy, since it will include the Italian loan for $100,000,000.

In the case of new corporate issues in October, offerings on behalf of industrial corporations for the second successive month led in volume with a total of $232,762,167, showing a big increase over the total of $165,922,500 reported for September. Public utility issues totaled only $109,590,162, as against $131,081,232 for the previous month. Railroad issues amounted to only $28,952,230, but were, nevertheless, double the total of $13,684,000 for September.

Total corporate offerings, as already stated, were $371,304,559, and of this amount $227,563,000 constituted long-term issues, $22,810,000 were short-term, and $120,931,559 represented stock issues. The portion used for refunding purposes was $70,310,089, or almost 19%; in September $16,378,900, or only 5%, was for refunding; in August the amount was $29,237,000, or 12%; in July $74,681,500, or almost 19%; in June $67,737,495, or over 17%; in May $34,947,015, or not quite 12%; in April, $71,134,000, or over 14%; in March $70,251,000, or almost 20%; in February $53,382,000, or only 10%, while in January $95,193,425, or over 18%, was for this purpose. In October last year $56,549,200, or 13% of the total, was for refunding purposes.

Of the $70,310,089 raised for refunding purposes in October of this year, $61,139,000 was new long-term issues to refund existing long-term, $4,000,000 was new short-term to refund existing long-term, $3,371,089 was new stock to refund existing long-term bond issues, and $1,800,000 was new stock to replace existing stock issues.

Foreign corporate issues sold here during October amounted to $43,400,000, and comprised the following: Canadian: $5,000,000 Bell Telephone Co. of Canada 1st mtge. 5s, "A," 1955, offered at 99, yielding about 5.05%, and $2,500,000 Montreal Tramways Co. gen. & ref. mtge. 5s, "B," 1955, sold at 93¾, to yield about 5.40%. Other foreign corporate issues were: $16,500,000 Anglo-Chilean Consolidated Nitrate Corp. deb. 7s, 1945, floated at par; $6,000,000 Rhine-Main-Danube Corp. deb. 7s, "A," 1950, offered at 96, to yield about 7.35%; $4,000,000 German-Atlantic Cable Co. 1st mtge. 7s, 1945, offered at 94, yielding about 7.59%; $4,000,000 Sauda Falls Co., Ltd., 1st mtge. 5s, "A," 1955, offered at 98, to yield about 5⅛%; $3,000,000 (Rudolph) Karstadt, Inc. Among domestic corporate offerings the largest individual corporate issue of the month was the offering of 200,000 shares of North American Edison Co. pref. stock cum. $6 per share, made at 97, to yield about 6.18%. Other important financing by public utility companies included the following: $10,000,000 Central States Electric Corp. sec. deb. 6s, 1945, offered at 98½, to yield about 6⅛%; $7,161,600 Detroit Edison Co. capital stock, offered to company's stockholders at par ($100); $6,500,000 Missouri Power & Light Co. 1st mtge. 5½s, "A," 1955, placed at 98½, yielding about 5.60%, and $5,500,000 Penn Central Light & Power Corp. 1st & ref. mtge. 5½s, 1975, sold at 97, yielding about 5.65%.

Industrial issues of unusual size were as follows: $15,000,000 Miller & Lux, Inc., 1st mtge. 6s, 1945, sold at par, and $10,000,000 of the same company's secured 7s, 1935, also priced at par; 260,000 shares of no par value partic. stock of American Brown Boveri Electric Corp., offered at $50 per share and involving a sum of $13,000,000; $9,500,000 61 Broadway Bldg. (N. Y. City) 1st mtge. 5½s, 1950, offered at 99¾, to yield about 5.52%; $3,000,000 of the same company's gen. mtge. 7s, 1945, offered at par; $12,500,000 Inland Steel Co. deb. 5½s, 1945, offered at 98½, yielding about 5⅝%; $10,000,000 Eastern Terminal Office Bldg. (N. Y. City) 1st mtge. lien 6¼s, 1943, brought out at par, and $8,000,000 United States Smelting, Refining & Mining Co. 10-year 5½s, 1935, sold at 99, yielding about 5⅝%.

Railroad issues worthy of special mention comprised: $14,218,230 Illinois Central RR. 6% conv. pref. stock, series "A," offered to stockholders at par ($100); $8,136,000 Minneapolis St. Paul & Sault Ste Marie Ry. Co. 1st cons. mtge. 5s, 1938, offered at 99½, yielding about 5.05%, and $5,598,000 Old Colony RR. 1st mtge. 5s, "B," 1945, offered at 100½, to yield about 4.96%.

Farm loan offerings during October amounted to $13,300,000, comprising seven separate issues on which the yields ranged from 4.25% to 4.62%. The largest of these offerings was $5,000,000 Chicago Joint Stock Land Bank 4½s, 1935-65, offered at 102, yielding 4.25%.

Foreign Government loans floated in this market during October aggregated $39,650,000. The issues were: $25,000,000 Czechoslovak Republic sec. external 7½s, "A," 1945, offered at 96, to yield about 8%; $8,400,000 State of Wurttemberg (Germany) consolidated municipal external 7s, 1926-45, offered at prices ranging from 100.48 to 93.90, and yielding from 6.50% to 7.60%; $3,000,000 Dept. of Antioquia (Rep. of Colombia, S. Offerings made during October, which did not represent new financing by the company whose securities were offered and which therefore are not included in our totals, consisted of 135,000 shares of $7 pref. stock of Wesson Oil & Snowdrift Co., Inc., offered at 93½, to yield 7.49%; $6,855,500 Aluminum Co. of America 6% cum. pref., offered at 97½, to yield 6.15%; 100,000 shares of John R. Thompson Co. com. stock, offered at $49½ per share, and $2,681,200 Rochester Gas & Elec. Corp. 6% cum. pref. "D," offered at par ($100).

The following is a complete summary of the new financing—corporate, State and city, foreign Government, as well as Farm Loan issues—for October and the ten months ending with October, of the current calendar year. It will be observed that in the case of the corporate offerings we subdivide the figures so as to show the long-term and the short-term issues separately and we also separate common stock from preferred stock, besides reporting the Canadian corporate issues and other foreign corporate issues as wholly distinct items.

Indications of Business Activity

THE STATE OF TRADE—COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

Friday Night, Nov. 27 1925.

General business, though somewhat slower than recently, so far as wholesale trade is concerned, makes a gratifying exhibit as compared with that of a year ago. In general the big industries are at their best for the year. Steel production and consumption are heavier than heretofore in 1925, and with the coal and coke trade are in the van of activity at the present time. Pig iron has not improved much, the trade being on only a fair scale at best. Bituminous coal is selling freely, a fact which neutralizes the effect of a very large output. Coke prices have weakened somewhat under the large production. An effort is being made to popularize it as domestic fuel, but it is a new thing to the householder and it apparently makes its way but slowly. The wheat markets are all 5 to 10 cents higher, mainly owing to the bad crop outlook in Argentina. To all appearances, it is growing worse, with a steady reduction in the available surplus for export. It is worthy of remark that since Nov. 9 Argentine prices have advanced 38 cents, Winnipeg and Liverpool 25 cents and Chicago 20 cents. The Canadian growers have the advantage, so far as export trade in this country is concerned, for they can undersell the American farmer by some 17 cents a bushel. The Canadian price of December is 22 cents lower than the same delivery in Argentina. At one time this week the sales of Manitoba wheat for export on a single day reached some 3,000,000 bushels. There are wild wheat markets daily in Buenos Aires, and with advances in a single day recently of as much as 8 to 9 cents a bushel. English and Canadian markets have also been soaring. Meanwhile, however, the corn trade is slow and prices for December delivery are 1½ cents lower than a week ago. The Iowa and other Western corn farmers want the Government to extend relief in the matter of credits, etc., and delegations have been sent to Washington to discuss the matter with the President. The United States Government cannot alter the laws of trade. They are immutable. What the West needs is diversification of crops. If it is raising too much corn, it should raise less. That is what it will have to do in the long run, no matter what the Government may do to help the corn farmer out of his present predicament. Rye has advanced some 4 to 5 cents per bushel during the past week and it looks now as though England, Scandinavia, Germany and perhaps Russia would have to buy in the American market.

Coffee has declined sharply on the December delivery, partly because it appears that Brazil cannot get a loan at home or abroad for the purpose of boosting coffee prices, but only for the purpose of promoting railroad construction and water supplies. Brazilian prices have fallen. Raw sugar has advanced during the week with a fair business and intimations that possibly the Cuban crop has been overestimated. The grinding season has begun in Cuba. Cotton has advanced on a steady demand for the actual staple and a prompt absorption of December notices. Europe and Japan have been buying for 1925 deliveries. And December has been a strong feature, although latterly the premium over January has declined. The scarcity of tenderable and good spinnable grades of cotton in this crop is for the most part accepted as something beyond dispute, although the better weather of late in the Southwest has resulted in the saving of a good deal of cotton there. Cotton goods have been rather quiet. Wool sales in foreign markets have been at somewhat lower prices, and American trade is rather slow. In woolen and worsted goods trade as usual at this time of the year has been quiet. Silk piece goods have sold to a fair extent. The silk mills have a large amount of business on hand, enough to keep them busy for a good while to come. But raw silk has been quiet, though steady. The lumber trade is not in a uniformly favorable shape. Some reports are good; others not so good. An excellent demand prevails for hard wood, but rains at the South have slowed up the output. Some of the saw mills on the Pacific Coast are expected to curtail their output. Building is active as possible at this time of the year, despite the demand for higher wages. The builders have refused to grant them. Florida is buying building materials here. Furniture factories have a good trade. Hardware business is brisk. The jewelry output is larger. There is a big business in radio materials. Some Eastern shoe manufacturers find trade less active. There is less retail demand for automobiles, and in some directions there is a reduction in the output. But in October the production was the largest on record. Crude petroleum has advanced. Rubber has been active, excited and higher on both sides of the water, especially in London, where there is also a craze to buy rubber shares. Failures were smaller than for two years past. The stock marke has latterly been stronger, partly as a rebound from overselling, with railroad stocks leading. London was stronger to-day and the French outlook more cheerful, although the franc has reached a new low this week. To add to the confusion, politics in France are in a chaotic state. The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged. Call money was up to 5% here to-day, while the fact was stressed that neither the New York Federal Reserve Bank nor the Bank of England has thus far deemed it advisable to raise the rate of discount. One gratifying feature is that the speculation in stocks has latterly dwindled noticeably, while the undertone so far as good securities are concerned is steady.

Bonds have been firm, especially railroad bonds, coincident with a plan of the Secretary of the Treasury to buy direct from holders some $50,000,000 of the third 4¼% Liberty bonds.

Building workers now demand higher wages. Plasterers want $14 a day, something that would sound like audacity carried to the grotesque if it were not a sober fact hampering the building of homes and other structures. Plasterers now receive $12 a day, as against $5 50 in 1914; the increase demanded would be 154.5% above the level of 1914. Stone masons want $16 a day, as compared with $14 now paid and $4 80 in 1914. The new wage demanded would mean an increase compared with the wage scale in 1924 of no less than 233.3%. Even bricklayers' laborers want $10, as against $3 in 1914. Common masons' laborers want $9, as against $2 62 in 1914. Increases in the pay demanded by the various building laborers compared with the scale of 1914 ranges from 100 to 309%. It is a kind of capital levy on the building trades. It would mean an increase in wages of 50 cents to $4 a day, or a total of $80,000,000 beginning Jan. 1 to 120,000 workers. Employers have very properly refused to accede to these high-handed demands, which are only a very thinly disguised hold-up not only of the builders but of thousands of the population who need housing.

Washington advices said that a delegation of bankers, farm implement manufacturers and other business men dependent upon the Western farmer were in Washington conferring with President Coolidge and other Government officials about means of tiding over a tense situation affecting both the farmers and the banks of the Middle West, especially the corn producing section. The price of corn is now said to be 15 cents below the cost of production.

At Fall River, Mass., the American Printing Co. started up machinery which had been idle for two months, giving employment to an additional 500 workers. A Boston dispatch said that the Lancaster mill had omitted the quarterly dividend on common due at this time. Three months ago the company declared a dividend of 1¼%, after having paid at an annual rate of 10% since June 1919. At West Warwick, R. I., operations in the weaving department of the B. B. & R. Knight, Inc., Royal mill have been resumed, following the ratification of an agreement between the weavers and the company. The workers went out on strike on Nov. 12 in protest against the 32-loom system. Under the agreement weavers are permitted to operate sixteen looms at a reduction of 10% in pay; the company agrees not to force any weaver to operate more than 16 looms; the workers agree not to molest, interfere with or intimidate anyone desiring to operate 32 looms, and the management agrees to give preference when additional workers are needed, to those who were employed at the plant on Aug. 15, the date preceding the curtailment in production which necessitated a reduction of the working force. At Hillsboro, N. H., the Hillsboro Woolen Mills Co. reports that it will be able to operate its plant on a 48-hour-week schedule throughout the winter. The company manufactures men's suitings and overcoatings. At Rochester, N. H., the Gonic Manufacturing Co. will be practically idle for the next two weeks. It was only recently that this company started to increase production. The Pepperell Manufacturing Co. at Biddeford, Me., has reached an agreement with operatives in the dispute over the multiple unit system. The operatives agree to accept the system as worked out by the management. That means, apparently, continuance of full time. Cotton duck mills, it is reported, are very well sold ahead, some of them to the close of the year and others into January and February. Tire fabric mills report a good business and many of them are now said to be supplied with enough orders to keep them running through the first quarter of next year. Badsden, Ala., advices say that plans are now on foot to operate the mills of the Dwight Manufacturing Co. day and night, giving employment to 1,700 more operatives. Charlotte, N. C., wired that the curtailment program of the Southern Power Co. has been further reduced by half a day a week and all mills will hereafter be able to run within one day of full time. The new schedule becomes effective next Monday. The reduction is made possible by higher water in the river, and it is expected that full time can be resumed within a few weeks. At North Bergen, N. J., considerable trouble has resulted from the strike at the Hillcrest silk mill, which began four weeks ago, when the company cut wages 20%. Workers have been forbidden by the courts to picket. The company wants to install the multiple loom system. The American Woolen Co. opened its blanket sale on Wednesday at prices reported to be lower than a year ago.

Lancashire, Eng., mills using American cotton have rejected the proposal to curtail working time. French cotton mills are sold ahead for six to seven months.

The weather was milder early in the week, but became colder Monday, with temperature 32 degrees; in Chicago, 20; in Cincinnati, 22; in Buffalo and Detroit, 24, and in Milwaukee and St. Paul, 16. The temperature here fell to 27 degrees on the 24th inst., and to 28 on the 25th, when Chicago, Kansas City and Cincinnati had 38, Cleveland 30, Detroit 32, Montreal 22, St. Paul 24, Winnipeg 4, New Orleans 52 and Texas points 58. It has been cold in the South Atlantic States, with temperatures of 28 to 32 at West Palm Beach, Fla., on the 24th and 25th insts. Schools were closed because of cold weather, the coldest in ten years. In England the weather is the worst, especially in the northern and eastern parts, at this season for many years past, aggravated by fog, impeding traffic, and incidentally causing a postponement of the big wool sale in London yesterday. London had snow to-day. At Winnipeg it was 1 degree below zero this morning. In Alberta it was 2 degrees below. In the Yukon Territory it was 6 below. In New York it has been raining to-day after sleeting and snowing on Wednesday. To-day it was mild, with the temperature 52. The forecast was for snow late to-night.

Domestic Business Conditions According to the Government.

Further reports on business conditions to the Department of Commerce covering the month of October show increases over September in the consumption of cotton, activity of cotton spindles, the production of copper at the mines, of steel sheets, newsprint paper, Douglas fir lumber and of beehive and by-product coke, and in the bookings of fabricated structural steel, newspaper advertising and wholesale prices of plumbing fixtures. Sugar meltings, sales of mechanical stokers and building contracts awarded in 36 states declined. Imports and exports of merchandise and of gold showed increases over the previous month, as did new life-insurance sales, bond sales, receipts of gold at the United States mint, outstanding loans of the Intermediate credit banks and postal savings, while outstanding loans of the War Finance Corporation showed a further decline.

In comparison with October, 1924, increases occurred in the production of mine copper, coke, Douglas fir lumber, steel sheets, newsprint paper and of building contracts awarded, newspaper advertising, cotton consumption, activity of cotton spindles, imports of merchandise, bookings of fabricated structural steel and sales of mechanical stokers, while exports of merchandise and the wholesale prices of plumbing fixtures declined. New life-insurance business was greater than a year ago, as were receipts of gold at the mint, outstanding loans of the Intermediate credit banks and imports and exports of gold, while postal savings, bond sales, and outstanding loans of the War Finance Corporation declined.

Department Store Sales in New England Less Active.

During the first three weeks of November department store sales in New England, according to reports received by the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, were not maintained at the high level of activity of the previous month. For these three weeks in November, preliminary reports showed sales to be 1% above the sales of the first three weeks of November last year. During the first week of November Boston department store sales were the largest of any week up to that time of either this year or last year. During the following two weeks, however, the sales volume declined appreciably. With a colder October than normal, some of the usual November trade in seasonable merchandise may have been obtained in October, increasing the volume of sales in that month, with a resulting reduction in November business. Corresponding to the excellent sales of women's wear in the department stores during October, the Boston women's apparel shops had a very favorable sales volume during October and the early part of November, increases during some weeks ranging as high as 35% over the corresponding weeks of last year. The following summary of wholesale and retail sales is based on the final figures for October and for the year to date:

SALES CONDITIONS.

	Oct. 1925 Compared with Oct 1924.	Jan. through Oct. 1925. Compared with Jan. through Oct. 1924.
Connecticut Department Stores	+10.7%	+3.8%
Maine Department Stores	+6.6%	+1.0%
Massachusetts Department Stores	+15.2%	+2.2%
Rhode Island Department Stores	+6.7%	+2.8%
Vermont Department Stores	+10.2%	—0.8%
Boston Department Stores	+14.0%	+0.8%
Boston Women's Apparel Shops	+25.2%	+9.0%
New Haven Department Stores	+11.0%	+4.0%
Providence Department Stores	+6.2%	+2.7%
New England Department Stores	+12.5%	+1.2%
New England Wholesale Grocers	—5.5%	—2.0%
New England Wholesale Shoe Concerns	+23.4%	+10.2%

New England department store sales for October were the largest on record for that month, and after adjustment for the usual seasonal variation in sales October business was the most satisfactory in over a year and a half. The improvement in retail trade during the late summer and this fall has now brought the sales volume of the average New England concern for the year to date above that of the same period last year. With the exception of a slight decline in Vermont trade, all sections of New England during the first 10 months of this year have had a larger volume of sales than during the same period of 1924. The average New England store has not accumulated stocks of merchandise during this fall in proportion to the increased volume of sales. At the close of October stocks of the average store were nearly 3% less than at the same time a year ago, a condition which has accompanied the hesitancy of the average store to increase its volume of future orders.

Wholesale Grocers' Sales Smaller.

Sales of the New England wholesale grocers during October were less than during October of last year of the year before. Stocks were considerably heavier than at the same time last year, which has resulted in a less rapid rate of turnover of their merchandise this fall than a year ago. Sales of the average New England wholesale shoe concern were considerably higher than a year ago, and well above the average October of the past six years. A large proportion of the increase in sales volume was due to large increases in the sales of rubber shoes. Stocks of both leather and rubber footwear in the hands of the wholesalers n Nov. 1 were considerably less than at the same time a year ago.

Credit Conditions.

Variations in New England credit conditions are outlined in the following table:

CREDIT CONDITIONS—PERCENTAGE OF TOTAL ACCOUNTS OUTSTANDING AT THE FIRST OF OCTOBER COLLECTED DURING OCTOBER.

Boston Department Stores	51.1%	53.5%
Boston Women's Apparel Shops	48.9%	50.2%
New Haven Department Stores	60.1%	58.3%
Providence Department Stores	58.6%	57.1%
New England Department Stores	52.5%	54.2%
New England Wholesale Grocery Concerns	72.6%	70.8%
New England Wholesale Shoe Concerns	30.9%	34.7%

In the average New England department store, as well as the average wholesale shoe concern, a larger proportion of their receivables outstanding on Oct. 1 were collected during October than was true during October 1923 or 1924.

The following table shows the condition of sales and stocks in some of the leading departments of the New England department stores during the first ten months of this year, as compared with the corresponding months in 1924:

Youth's ready-to-wear during October continued to show larger increases in sales over last year than did the adult lines of this type of merchandise. In yard goods, silks and velvets sold better during October than woolens and cottons. Women's and children's gloves had an exceptional volume of sales during October, after very poor trade during the first nine months of this year.

Life Insurance Sales in United States Show Large Increases in October.

The amount of ordinary life insurance purchased in the United States in October was 17% ahead of the corresponding month of last year, according to a report just published by the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau of Hartford, Conn. During that month $668,794,000 of new business, which is an increase of $97,000,000 over October 1924, was delivered and paid for by companies having in force 88% of the total life insurance in all the United States legal reserve companies. The statement issued by the Bureau continues as follows:

Every section of the country shows improved conditions. The increases in the various sections range from 8% in the West South Central section to 26% in the South Atlantic section.

So widespread is the evidence of good business conditions that practically every State in the country shows a gain over the record of a year ago, although there is a wide variation in the records. Eleven States, which are listed below, show increases of 30% or more in sales for October:

Gain Over October 1924.

Florida ---------122%	Idaho----------41%	Maine ----------35%
New Hampshire- 65%	North Carolina--41%	Minnesota ------35%
Dist. of Columbia 51%	Wisconsin -------41%	Arkansas--------32%
Rhode Island--- 43%	Mississippi ------40%

The amount of insurance purchased during the first ten months of this year amounted to $6,625,727,000, an increase of $821,000,000, or 14%, over the same months of 1924.

All sections of the country share in the general gain. The West North Central section leads with a gain of 17%. This section comprises the States of Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas.

Practically all the States show gains for the first ten months of 1925. Florida leads in the cumulative comparison with a gain of 73% over the corresponding period of 1924. This gain is a probable outgrowth of the widely discussed land boom in Florida.

October Life Insurance Sales in Canada—12% Increase Reported.

The amount of ordinary life insurance purchased in Canada in October is 12% ahead of the corresponding month last year, according to the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau of Hartford, Conn. During this month $36,259,000 of new business was paid for by companies having in force 83% of the total business in Canada. This is an increase of $4,000,000 over the sales of October of last year. Continuing, the Bureau says:

Practically every Province in the Dominion shows improved condition. The increases in the various Provinces range from 3% in Alberta to 37% in Manitoba. The highest gain in Canada is 45% in Newfoundland.

Improving business conditions over last year in the West are reflected by the records of British Columbia with a gain of 6%, Alberta with a gain of 3%, Saskatchewan with a gain of 7% and Manitoba with the record gain of 37%. In the East, Ontario, Quebec and Prince Edward Island show gains of 10%, 14% and 27%, respectively.

There is a wide variation in the records of the different cities. Improvement is most noticeable in Winnipeg with a gain of 30%, Montreal with a gain of 29% and Toronto with a gain of 25%.

The amount of insurance purchased during the first ten months of this year is 8% over the same months of 1924. Most of the Provinces share in the gain for the ten months. The gain in the twelve months ended Oct. 31 1925 over the preceding twelve months is 7%.

Great Building Activity in New York State.

A total of almost $125,000,000 for building plans filed in New York State during October made it one of the two busiest months of the year. The other peak came in the spring when the value of construction planned reached an equally high figure. The unprecedented activity in the building offices through the summer and early fall has succeeded in bringing the total for the ten months of 1925 15% above a similar period in 1924, which previously had been a record-breaking year. Residential building, including hotels, passed the total for all of last year in these ten months. This statement was issued by Industrial Commissioner James A. Hamilton on Nov. 25, and he added:

New York City Carries State Upward.

It was New York City alone which was responsible for the increased activity in October. All of the boroughs excepting Queens gained over September and Brooklyn and the Bronx, with totals of $28,000,000 and $20,000,000, respectively, established new high figures for the year. Manhattan duplicated the record valuation of 45 millions made in August. Residential building still remained the chief factor in the heavy building program, but commercial building was a close second. One of the characteristic developments of 1925 is the numerous projects for apartment houses which have been advanced in all the boroughs except Richmond. One-family houses have been planned at about the same rate as last year, but there was a noticeable drop in the demand for two-family dwellings.

The increase of $3,700,000 in the total of the Bronx for October was entirely due to a jump in residential work. Non-residential structures fell off following the filing of plans for three schools in September. There was a decrease in commercial construction also. Brooklyn ranked next to Manhattan in the size of its increase this month. The large number of permits issued for amusement places, factories and schools brought non-residential building higher than it has been since February 1924. Over 200 plans for apartments were equally important in pushing up the October valuation. In Queens a slight gain in two-family dwellings and apartment houses was offset by a general decrease in other classes of structures. Permits issued during October were valued at $16,400,000, close to the monthly average for this year. Richmond reported a valuation for October of $1,500,000, about $600,000 above September, as more work of all kinds was planned. Commercial structures in Manhattan continued to be planned at a rapid rate through the fall. Plans for six office buildings were valued at 14 million dollars, but fewer permits for factory structures were issued after an active September. Mercantile buildings, hotels and high-priced apartments were responsible for the rest of the increase in October.

The three Westchester cities, Yonkers, New Rochelle and White Plains, which had been particularly active in September, reported lower valuations this month. Decreases in residential building and the absence of plans for schools, which formed such an important part of the up-State building in September, explained the loss. Mt. Vernon stayed close to the September total, however. A drop in commercial buildings was offset by plans for several large apartment houses. The increased importance of apartment houses in residential building, which was mentioned in connection with New York City, is true of the Westchester district also. How much of this construction is the result of a need for increased living accommodations is a question. There is always the possibility of a substitution of apartments for old one and two-family dwellings to meet changes in the mode of living.

Value of Permits Issued in Westchester Cities.

	October 1925.	Ten Month of 1925.
Mount Vernon	$959,000	$8,946,000
New Rochelle	516,000	8,274,000
White Plains	627,000	7,414,000
Yonkers	1,303,000	17,706,000

The estimated cost of construction planned in the eighteen up-State cities was placed at $10,000,000, a decrease of a little over two millions from September. This is the lowest total reported since February. Residential building gained very slightly, but public buildings, mostly schools, fell off sharply after an active September. Fewer commercial structures were also planned.

Nine of the up-State cities gained in October, including Rochester, Binghamton and Utica. With the exception of Kingston, Newburgh and Jamestown, however, these cities are behind last year for the ten months' period. Rochester should be excepted from this statement as plans for all classes of building except those of a public nature have proceeded at a remarkable pace this year and compare favorably with the unusual figures of 1924.

Watertown	209,800	85,200

The larger cities in which building activity declined during October include Buffalo, Syracuse and Schenectady. Although Albany had a lower valuation than in September, when a large school was included, the October figure was high compared with other months. There was a large increase in the number of one-family houses planned. The slowing up in Buffalo appeared chiefly in one and two-family houses. Fewer plans for all kinds of non-residential structures was the main cause for the decrease in Syracuse. In Schenectady, as in Syracuse, the falling off in October appeared to be the seasonal reduction which appears about this time. The decrease was quite general, as the valuation for October reached the lowest point since February. The slight reduction in Niagara Falls followed a month of exceptional activity. Whereas September brought a large increase in all kinds of non-residential work, residential building led in October.

New York Board of Aldermen Asks Legislature to Retain Present Emergency Rent Laws.

The Board of Aldermen of New York City at its meeting on Nov. 24 voted unanimously to ask the State Legislature for an extension of emergency rent laws, which, unless extended will expire on Feb. 15 1926. Action was taken by the Board of Aldermen in the form of a resolution introduced by Alderman Edward W. Curley of the Bronx, setting forth that a housing crisis, as proved by the recent public hearings before the State Commission on Housing and Regional Planning, still existed. The Curley resolution was seconded by Alderman Peter J. McGuinness, who declared that the emergency rent laws should be reframed so that they would have more and sharper "teeth" to prevent unscrupulous landlords from ruthlessly raising the rent of every new tenant. Alderman McGuinness said that in his district, the Greenpoint section of Brooklyn, landlords had advanced rents in jumps of from $10 to $25 when new tenants moved into their apartments. The resolution, which will be sent to Governor Smith and both branches of the Legislature, says that over 100,000 families would be at the mercy of "unprincipled and profiteering" landlords if the rent restrictions were removed.

The Demands of Labor in the New York City Building Trades.

Fifty trades in the building industry in New York City are seeking new wage agreements for the year 1926. Thirty-seven of these trades demand increases of wages. The increases run from 50 cents a day to $4 00 a day. The $4 a day increase demanded by bricklayers and stone and marble masons would bring their daily wage to $16. Plasterers, whose present base rate is $12, are asking $14 a day. Building laborers, who in 1914 received $3 a day and now get $8, demand $10 a day. Should the demands be granted, labor in the various building trades would receive from 118 to 309% above the rates prevailing in 1914, while the cost of living is only about 75% higher than in 1914. In building costs only 40% of the cost now roughly represents material, while 60% goes to labor. The following figures showing the wage increases since 1914 of fifty selected trades and their wage demands for 1926, were made public by Christian G. Norman, Chairman of the Building Trades Employers' Association:

The Building Trades Employers' Association has refused the increases in wages, which average more than 14%, for the 120,000 men employed in the building trades in this city. Formal demand for a blanket contract, such as Robert P. Brindell was able to obtain when at the height of his power, was asked by the old Building Trades Council Nov. 4 and refused under the terms of the contract with the Association which requires that all scales shall be considered first by the unions and the trade organizations in the crafts involved. Nov. 14 the demands were presented to the several employers' associations and in a series ofconferences held last week were rejected. Under the system which has prevailed in this city more than twenty years, the question now goes to the governing board of the employees and the executive board of the Building Trades Council for mediation. If, as the leaders in the industry expect, this fails, the matter will go to arbitration. The possibility of a general strike is thought to be remote.

Other demands appear to be in prospect. The painters, who are not affiliated with the Building Trades Council, and some lesser trades have yet to file their demands, as have the hoisting engineers, who usually receive the rate paid bricklayers. With the demands for wage increases, which, it is estimated, will add $140,000,000 a year to the city's building bill, assuming that 1926 is as heavy as 1925, the carpenters and other trades ask for the five-day week now accorded the painters. In refusing to grant the increases the Employers' Association asserts that the number of working days has increased largely over pre-war times, the average number of days' work possible for outside men in five years having been 228½, while the average for inside men over the same period has been 280. Prior to the war there was a great deal of broken time. Now there is comparatively none. "The daily wages and the average earnings of building tradesmen," said C. G. Norman, Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Employers' Association, "are higher than those of employees in any of the other leading industries of the city. With the increase in wages the productivity of the workmen has not increased. Neither has the profits of the contractors. The cost of building materials has decreased as has the rate of interest on mortgage loans. The cost of building has not decreased as have the costs of other necessities of life.

"The shortage in business and commercial buildings, which was created during the war, has been fully met in New York. That in housing has been greatly reduced. The interest of those engaged in the industry, both contractors and workmen, will best be served by a friendly co-operation for the purpose of reducing building costs, meeting the obligation to the public, continuing the present wage scale and promoting efficiency both in management and production."

According to the figures of the Employers' Association the reductions in the cost of building materials have been absorbed by increases in the cost of labor. In 1920, 54% of building cost was represented by the cost of materials and 46% by labor costs. In 1925, 40.5% of building costs went for materials and 59.5% into labor. The contention of the building unions is that the increase is warranted by the value of and the demand for the work. They further contend it is unfair to compare existing wages with those prevailing in 1914 when the industry was depressed and there were nearly two men for every job in New York and other large centres, and it was necessary to divide work in order that all might have at least half-time employment. They further contend the increases asked really represent a return to the wages paid last year when bonuses were the rule in all or nearly all of the trades, with bricklayers and plasterers in demand at $18 to $20 a day or more. At present, bonuses, it is claimed, are being paid on but one large job in the city—the New Madison Square Garden, where the bricklayers are receiving $2 above the scale. Seasonal bonuses for painters and glaziers, paid in recent months, have ceased with the passing of the demand for furnishing older buildings and apartments. On the basis of a total building bill of $1,000,000,000 for New York in the current year, the total payroll will be $595,000,000, the largest amount ever paid out, it is asserted, in a single year in any city in the world.

Paper Production in October on Increased Scale.

According to statistics furnished by the American Paper & Pulp Association a further increase occurred in production and shipments of newsprint, book paper and paperboard (straw, fibre, leather, chip, box., &c.) during October. The figures are given below in tabulated form for a period of six months back. Newsprint paper production in October aggregated 135,225 tons, as against 121,019 tons in September and 120,902 tons in August. Shipments of newsprint paper in October were 142,204 tons, as against 127,409 tons in September and 119,752 tons in August. The associations which co-operate in the collection and compilation of data from their members are: Binders' Board Manufacturers' Association, Newsprint Service Bureau, Tissue Paper Manufacturers' Association, Converting Paper Mills Association, Cover Paper Manufacturers' Association, Wrapping Paper Manufacturers' Service Bureau and Writing Paper Manufacturers' Association. Changes in figures previously reported are due to corrections and the addition of reports received too late for the original summaries. The synopsis in full follows:

New Record in Automobile Production Reached in October.

October automobile production set a new high record, the Commerce Department reports, with the North American output of passenger cars for the month 406,569 and of trucks 45,823. The previous high record was established in April of this year, when 391,302 passenger cars and 47,823 trucks were produced. For the ten months of 1925, including October, the United States produced 3,073,007 passenger cars, against 2,771,719 in the same period of last year, while the truck production was 404,510, against 307,187 last year.

The table below is based on figures received from 180 manufacturers for recent months, 71 making passenger cars and 126 making trucks (17 making both passenger cars and trucks). Data for earlier months include 66 additional manufacturers now out of business, while September data for 20 small firms were not received in time for inclusion in this report. Figures on truck production also include fire apparatus, street sweepers and buses.

October Biggest Month in Parts and Accessories as Well as Cars and Trucks.

October was the high month of the year in automotive parts and accessories business as well as in car and truck production, according to figures compiled by the Motor and Accessory Manufacturers Association. A representative group of members of the Association reported October shipments to customers running ahead of all months of the year, including the spring peak in April, according to the November Business Bulletin, just issued to members. It is also stated that:

Shipments of parts and accessory makers for car and truck equipment were largely responsible for the tremendous October record. October deliveries for original equipment were 214% of the January figure as compared with 179% in September and 183% in April the previous peak of the year. The tremendous gain in original equipment business which included heavy shipments by several large manufacturers of closed bodies, wheels and kindred products, brought the total shipments for companies reporting from all divisions of the industry up to 188% of January as compared with 158% for September and 168% for April, the previous high month.

Shipments of replacement parts to wholesalers aggregated 131% of January as compared with a total in September even with January and 130% in August. Accessory shipments to the trade exclusive of vehicle manufacturers aggregated 163% of January as compared with 155% for September and 193% for April, the previous high month. Shipments of service equipment, that is, repair shop machinery and tools, in October ran even with January as compared with 123% of January in September and 113% in August.

The tremendous October business in original equipment was in keeping with the car and truck production of more than 452,000, setting a new monthly record.

M. & A. M. A. members reported their plants operating in October at an average of 82% of capacity as compared with 78% in September. November business is also reported to be proceeding at a record pace for this time of year and prospects for the rest of 1925 and early 1926 are excellent.

West Coast Lumbermen's Association Weekly Review.

One hundred and four mills reporting to West Coast Lumbermen's Association for the week ending Nov. 14 manufactured 99,989,931 feet of lumber; sold 108,766,554 feet, and shipped 75,495,032 feet. New business was 9% above production. Shipments were 31% below new business.

Fifty-six per cent of all new business taken during the week was for future water delivery. This amounted to 60,799,547 feet, of which 41,579,431 feet was for domestic cargo delivery and 19,220,116 feet export. New business by rail amounted to 1,447 cars.

Forty-two per cent of the lumber shipments moved by water. This amounted to 31,518,025 feet, of which 23,076,277 feet moved coastwise and intercoastal and 8,441,748 feet export. Rail shipments totaled 1,314 cars.

Local auto and team deliveries totaled 4,557,007 feet.

Unfilled domestic cargo orders totaled 108,934,069 feet. Unfilled export orders, 115,482,858 feet. Unfilled rail trade orders, 2,938 cars.

In the forty-six weeks of the year production reported to West Coast Lumbermen's Association has been 4,604,427,213 feet, new business 4,698,894,162 feet, and shipments 4,754,409,676 feet.

Prices Advance in Crude Oil and Gasoline Markets.

The paying of premiums for certain grades of crude oil foreshadowed higher prices for this commodity and these, together with advances in the price of gasoline, were announced during the week just brought to a close. As early as last Saturday, premiums as high as 25c. and 35c. per barrel were being paid for Pennsylvania crude oil, according to dispatches from Oil City on the 21st. Reports from Houston, Texas, on Nov. 23 stated that the Humble Oil & Refining Co. posted a new schedule of prices for Midcontinent crude which matched prices posted by Prairie Oil & Gas on Aug. 27 last. Previously Humble's schedule had been in some variance with Prairie prices in that it has slightly higher prices for lower gravities of crude while on higher gravities its prices were less than the Prairie's prices. Humble's new prices compare as follows (per barrel):

* Covers Texas only.
† Covers Kansas, Oklahoma and North Central Texas.

The Texas Co. has changed its price schedule for light oils in Texas to make it conform with prices in Oklahoma, following the action by the Humble Oil & Refining Co. An advance of from 10c. to 25c. a barrel on crude oils quoted on the market at Pittsburgh was announced on Nov. 23 by the leading purchasing agencies. The new prices are:

Pennsylvania grade in New York Transit and Bradford District in National Transit lines, $3 40; Pennsylvania grade in National Transit and Southwest Pennsylvania lines, $3 30; Gaines grade in National Transit lines, $2 95; Pennsylvania grade in Eureka lines, $3 25; Pennsylvania grade in Buckeye lines, $3 05, all up 25c. Cabell grade in Eureka lines, $2 10; Somerset Medium in Cumberland lines, $2 20; Somerset Light in Cumberland lines, $2 35, all up 15. Ragland grade in Cumberland lines, $1 10, up 10c. Corning grade in Buckeye lines remains unchanged at $1 80.

The last change on Pennsylvania grade was on Aug. 30, when price was reduced 25c., while earlier in that month a similar cut in price had been made.

Additional reports from Oil City, Pa., on Nov. 24 indicated that independent buyers were still paying a premium of 25c. a barrel for Pennsylvania crude oil notwithstanding the advance of 25c. a barrel posted the day before.

The Magnolia Petroleum Co. at Dallas, Texas, on Nov. 24 announced that effective Nov. 23 it had advanced the posted price of below 28 gravity crude oil in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas 7c. a barrel to $1 07, and reduced 28 to 28.9 gravity 16c. a barrel to $1 15 and 29 to 29.9 gravity 8c. a barrel to $1 23. This action conforms to Humble's new schedule. Under its new schedule, Magnolia's posted prices are on a parity with Humble in Texas and Prairie Oil & Gas in Kansas and Oklahoma. Magnolia's new prices compare (per barrel) as follows:

Grade—	Magnolia.	Changes.	Humble.	Prairie.

This report is based on returns from 576 manufacturers received by the Bureau of the Census. It is exclusive of 23 manufacturers operating 71 mills, who failed to report for this quarter. According to reliable textile directories for 1925, these non-reporting mills are equipped with about 12,450 looms, 1,385 sets of woolen cards, 497 worsted combs and 962,810 spindles. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics received reports from 401 dealers. Schedules were not received from 13 concerns, 11 of which were listed in one of the leading credit rating books for September 1925 as follows: Two, $1,000,000; two, $500,000 to $750,000; one, $300,000 to $500,000; one, $125,000 to $200,000; one, $10,000 to $20,000, and four, high.

The Country's Foreign Trade in October—Imports and Exports.

The Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce at Washington on Nov. 16 issued the statement of the foreign trade of the United States for October and the ten months ending with October. The value of merchandise exported in October 1925 was $492,000,000, as compared with $527,171,781 in October 1924. The imports of merchandise are provisionally computed at $375,000,000 in October 1925, as against $310,751,608 in October the previous year, leaving a trade balance in favor of the United States on the merchandise movement for month of October 1925 of $117,000,000. Last year in October the favorable trade balance on the merchandise movement was $216,420,173. Imports for the ten months of 1925 have been $3,454,656,039, as against $2,980,622,522 for the corresponding ten months of 1924. The merchandise exports for the ten months of 1925 have been $3,995,167,727, against $3,651,662,531, giving a favorable trade balance of $540,511,688 in 1925, against $671,040,009 in 1924. Gold imports totaled $50,740,649 in October 1925, against $19,701,640 in the corresponding month the previous year, and for the ten months they were $110,601,053, as against $289,584,485. Gold exports in October 1925 were $28,039,190, against $4,125,268 in October 1924. For the ten months of 1925 the exports of the metal foot up $232,311,992, against but $15,284,478 in the ten months of 1924. Silver imports for the ten months of 1925 have been $54,799,427, as against $61,599,594 in 1924, and silver exports $83,420,022, as against $89,209,997. Some comments on the figures were given in our issue of last week in our article on "The Financial Situation." Following is the complete official report:

New Business in Steel Market Continues Good—Pig Iron and Steel Prices Remain Unchanged.

Leading steel companies continue to put new business on their books in excess of current shipments. In the case of the Steel Corp., orders have averaged for some time 10,000 tons a day more than the production of finishing mills, and taking the industry as a whole, November will show a substantial gain in unfilled orders, according to the "Iron Age" as expressed in its regular weekly market review from which we quote:

The outlook for December is that steel works operations will be at substantially the present rate, which is 83% for the Steel Corp. and 80% for Bethlehem, with other leading independent companies on about that basis.

As the bulk of the rail buying for 1926 is over, next month is not likely to equal November in orders for the heavier products, but prospects are good in lighter lines, as wire, sheets, tin plate and strip steel. Recent buying of bars has been heavy, and many consumers are now covered well into the first quarter.

Neither in pig iron nor in coke has the market shown signs of taking seriously the threat of a soft coal strike. From $5 to $5.50 a week ago blast furnace coke for spot shipment has dropped to a range of $4 to $4.50.

A few automobile companies are slowing down production—as much as 15% in some cases—but the average in the industry is still high for the season, notably in output of buses and taxicabs.

The American Sheet & Tin Plate Co. has opened its books for early 1926 business in tin plate at the present price of $5 50, despite the advance in tin. The company has also moved up to the prices for sheets recently announced by several independent producers.

In the export market the United States divided with Wales 60,000 base boxes of tin plate for Japan. An order for 350 tons of I-beams for Yokohama was lost to a British maker at a price $9 a ton under the American bid.

The range of European steel products offered for importation has broadened, and while prices, c.i.f., duty paid, are $8 and more a ton below the American prices, no business of moment has been done.

No change occurred this week in the "Iron Age" composite prices. That for pig iron stands at $21.29 for the third week. Finished steel remains at 2.439c. per lb. The usual table is as follows:

Finished Steel, Nov. 24 1925. 2.439c. Per Pound.

A further drawing in of available supplies of steel for early dispatch points again to the heavy magnitude of the current absorption of material by consumers, observes this week's issue of the "Iron Trade Review." The pressure upon steel-works output has developed a shortage in some semi-finished forms, especially sheet bars, and higher prices readily have been commanded this week. In finished steel, deliveries have fallen back another step with the position of steel bars the most pronounced, and buyers are more urgent in following up their needs. Promises of shipments on lighter bar sections by leading mills run from four weeks to two months, continues this journal's weekly summary of market conditions, adding:

Buying is going along at a good gait, especially in contracting for first quarter, on which some advance usually is quoted. Various mills continue to take in new tonnage in excess of their shipments. The demand for cold-finished steel is proclaimed the best in three years.

Production, already large, is being crowded up a bit further. At Youngstown, maximum operations or 88% of ingot capacity were reached this week. Chicago district works have raised themselves to 86%.

Steel prices delivered on the Pacific coast have been reduced $1 to $2 per ton due to the lowering of the water rate from Atlantic and Gulf to North Pacific ports $2 to $3 per ton on finished steel, both by conference and tramp steamships. Immediately upon receipt of this announcement, sellers of steel on the Coast advanced prices $1 per ton, so that the market actually is higher by that amount.

Heavy buying of tin plate for first half of 1926 has accompanied the opening of books by the mills for that period with the price unchanged at $5 50 Pittsburgh per base box. Western capacity of the American Sheet & Tin Plate Co. is booked full for seven months. Terne plate has been advanced $2 per ton and black plate by an equal amount.

The leading producer has also followed the action of independent makers in raising sheets $2 per ton. Talk persists that an advance of $2 in wire is imminent but some mills have been booking business for first quarter at the former level.

Western roads have their rail buying programs for 1926 about completed and with secondary orders to follow, it is believed the total tonnage placed will exceed 1925. In other directions, rail contracting is going ahead in a moderate way. A New England road is considering the purchase of 15,000 tons of foreign rails. Track accessory orders are heavy, those of the Southern Pacific being notable this week. Car orders have been few this week. The Santa Fe order, expected soon, now is put at 2,850. New inquiries include 1,000 for the Reading and 500 for the New York Central.

Recent car orders closed in Chicago territory will provide the rolling of 100,000 tons additional of plain material and axles for the mills in that district. Pittsburgh mills have taken 25,000 tons for New York Central cars.

American foundries have outbid French competitors on 17,000 tons of cast iron pipe for the City of Detroit. French shops, however, have taken 2,000 tons for New England gas companies. New York is soon to come out for 10,000 tons.

After its recent broad activity, the pig iron market has settled down to a modest run of business. The week's collective bookings reported were about 100,000 tons. Prices are strong and steady with some advancing tendency still apparent. Alabama producers are quoting $22 Birmingham for first quarter. Southern Ohio makers of silveries and bessemer ferrosilicon have made another raise of $1 per ton in their schedule for this year with $1 additional for first quarter.

The coke market has eased off again with supplies large, weather more moderate and apprehension less over labor outbreaks in the Connellsville region. Spot furnace coke is selling at $4 50 to $5 ovens. Accordingly, consumers of metallurgical coke are less concerned over future needs and are backward in making contracts.

The "Iron Trade Review" composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products edged up slightly again this week. This week's figure is $38 89, while last week it was $38 84.

The iron foundries output is maintained at a high rate, production of malleable iron in October showing the greatest increase. Large increases also are noted in shipments. However, unfilled orders, though ahead of last year's volume, declined in October below those for September. The statement follows:

The New York fuel market showed a marked lack of activity over the past week, principally on account of the warm weather prevailing. Quotations on all anthracite substitutes were lower than those of the past few weeks and it was predicted that these would not improve until sustained cold weather arrives. Dealers' stocks were reported as small, declared the "Coal Trade Journal" on Nov. 25, adding:

September temperatures flattened the demand at Boston for tidewater bituminous coal and the business in domestic sizes was slow. Prices on the latter dropped materially. For the first time in many weeks there was some distress tonnage at Boston. At Providence, however, stocks were small and prices in consequence were above those of the Hub City. The all-rail situation was slow but prices were firmly held. The demand for coke fell off sharply and prices on the Connellsville product dropped. The foreign anthracite on hand was not being taken up very fast and shippers were not pressing sales to any extent, being confident that the cold weather, which is bound to come shortly, will create an active demand for this fuel.

Mild weather conditions lessened the call at Philadelphia for domestic coal. Dealers have not stocked heavily, fearing to be left with a lot of anthracite substitutes if the strike should end suddenly. Buckwheat was in good demand and was easily procurable. Some bituminous run-of-mine was sold at retail and householders were learning to burn it in their furnaces. Pool prices were up on the average but those for coke fell off as did the demand.

At Baltimore the demand for prepared grades of bituminous coal changed places with that for run-of-mine last week, resulting in the prices on the latter being much firmer. Coke fell off sharply. Export shipments started in again with two cargoes of coal and coke to South American ports. Retailers had turned all their attention to bituminous coals but the demand from householders has not been large.

There is still no definite news of the tonnage available at the Southern loading piers. There was an increase, however, in offers, which tended to show that stocks on hand were larger than they have been for the past few weeks.

The demand for anthracite substitutes again caused the production of the central Pennsylvania producing district to increase last week although prices were off. Coal loadings so far this month were well over those of the corresponding period in October.

Last week the demand for coal from the Pittsburgh district shifted from domestic to industrial as manufacturing lines were more active and absorbed the bulk of the tonnage shipped. The railroads were taking a considerable amount of coal and showing more tendency to increase their stocks. The retail trade has been rather quiet although prices have been in favor of the consumer. On account of the drop in demand prices on Connellsville furnace coke fell off sharply although foundry grades were firm. Coke production fell off on account of the lower demand.

Due to the closing of the Lake season, slack became scarce last week in the Fairmont district and prices stiffened. A large amount of mine-run was moving from the field but the demand was not great enough to create much interest. This was also true of the prepared sizes, the production of which fell on account of the Lake season coming to an end. There was a final rush for three-quarters early in the week. Lake shipments for the entire season were well in line with those of the past few years.

Prices on both high and low volatile coals in southern West Virginia stiffened perceptibly towards the close of last week. Mine-run in all grades, however, fell off somewhat. In the smokeless coals both lump and egg were strong while the 4-inch lump was the strongest member of the high volatile family, with egg a close second. Production in Kanawha and Logan territories reached a new peak for the present year and a large tonnage was moving from the Winding Gulf and New River fields. Pocahontas and Tug River fields continued to ship a large volume of prepared, principally to the East.

General conditions in the Upper Potomac and western Maryland fields were unchanged, with the chief demand being for prepared sizes of coal and coke. The output of the Virginia district was high with the call being as above. Coke production was steadily increasing.

A reactionary tendency has appeared in the coal market during the last week, due in large measure to uncertainty brought about by rumors that the anthracite strike is nearing an end, declares the "Coal Age" in its market review of Nov. 26. A definite basis for such a belief is rather hard to find in view of the fact that predictions that the suspension will drag until well toward spring are not lacking. Retail dealers and domestic consumers are showing a hesitant attitude, however, compared with the activity of a few weeks ago. The tapering off is still most marked in screened and sized coals, whereas mine-run continues to move quite freely and prices retain considerable firmness. The steam trade is fairly stable, industrials taking full quotas in most instances on contracts, but showing no disposition to increase orders, adds the "Coal Age," giving further interesting details as follows:

West Virginia smokeless is in less demand in Midwestern markets, dealers in many instances having switched to less costly West Virginia splint and Kentucky grades. Eastern demand for smokeless is still strong, however, though the Pittsburgh district notes a further decline in business from that quarter. Movement from central Pennsylvania is in good volume, but prices on prepared sizes have sagged a little.

Mild weather has been an additional handicap in Midwest producing fields. Franklin County (Ill.) producers have advanced prices 25c. on all sizes, but new business has been scarce and "no bills" are beginning to be an annoying feature. The Indiana market is extremely quiet.

Coal traffic through the Cincinnati gateway registered a sharp upturn last week, when 14,437 cars went through, an increase of 1,426 cars over the preceding week and 3,192 over the corresponding week of last year. Headed for the lakes were 2,414 cars, a gain of 311 over the previous week. The trade is faced with the usual disturbing problem at this time concerning the effect of the cessation of lake shipments on the business in general.

As anthracite has almost totally vanished from the wholesale market and retail stocks are fast diminishing the use of substitutes is likely soon to become general, unless, of course, something should come of the efforts to end the suspension. Coke still seems to have preference, though it has suffered from the mild weather and the restraining influence of strike-settlement rumors.

The "Coal Age" index of spot prices of bituminous coal on Nov. 23 stood at 192, the corresponding price being $2 32, compared with 190 and $2 30 on Nov. 16.

Dumpings of coal at Hampton Roads during the week ended Nov. 19 totaled 332,720 net tons, against 402,152 tons in the previous week.

Output of Bituminous Coal Falls Slightly—No Change in Anthracite Outlook—Coke Gains.

Owing to the partial observance of Armistice Day at many mines, the output of bituminous coal declined by 4,000 net tons when compared with the preceding week. Coke, on the other hand, gained about 3,000 net tons in the week ended Nov. 14, as shown by the following statistics prepared by the U. S. Bureau of Mines:

Production of bituminous coal during the week ended Nov. 14, including lignite and coal coked at the mines, is estimated at 12,167,000 net tons. A partial observance of Armistice Day at many mines on Nov. 11 curtailed the output on that day. Apparently the day was equivalent to about seven-tenths of a normal working day. Notwithstanding the fact that the first two weeks in November included holidays, their productions have been exceeded only once since 1920—during the week ended Jan. 10 1925.

BEEHIVE COKE.

Production of beehive coke during the week ended Nov. 14 is estimated at 295,000 net tons, an increase of 3,000 tons, or 1%, compared with that of the preceding week. The increase was confined to the Southern States, there being a slight decline in Pennsylvania. Compared with the corresponding week of 1924, the week of Nov. 14 shows an increase of 145,000 tons, or 96.7%. Total output during the calendar year to date is 8,781,000 tons, 4.9% more than during the same period in 1924.

According to the "Weekly Courier" output in the Connellsville district during the week of Nov. 14 declined about 3.6%.

Current Events and Discussions

The Week With the Federal Reserve Banks.

The consolidated statement of condition of the Federal Reserve banks on Nov. 25, made public by the Federal Reserve Board, and which deals with the results for the twelve Federal Reserve banks combined, shows an increase of $58,300,000 in holdings of discounted bills, of $4,500,000 in acceptances purchased in open market, and of $800,000 in foreign loans on gold, together with a decline of $1,000,000 in holdings of Government securities. Total bills and securities went up $62,600,000 and Federal Reserve note circulation $23,500,000, while gold reserves declined $36,400,000, other cash reserves $8,200,000, and non-reserve cash $5,600,000. After noting these facts, the Federal Reserve Board proceeds as follows:

Discount holdings were larger than a week ago by $44,700,000 at New York, $16,400,000 at Chicago, $9,300,000 at San Francisco and $4,100,000 at Kansas City. The Boston bank reports a decline in discount holdings of $9,600,000 and Cleveland a decline of $4,600,000.

Holdings of acceptances purchased in open market went up $9,200,000 at the New York bank and $4,700,000 at Boston, and declined $3,900,000 at Kansas City. Treasury certificates on hand went down $1,100,000 and U. S. bonds $100,000, while holdings of Treasury notes increased $200,000

All Federal Reserve banks report increases in Federal Reserve note circulation for the week with the exception of St. Louis and San Francisco, which show a total decrease of $900,000. The principal increases were New York, $5,700,000; Cleveland, $5,500,000; Philadelphia, $5,400,000, and Boston, $2,900,000.

The statement in full, in comparison with the preceding week and with the corresponding date last year, will be found on subsequent pages—namely, pages 2611 and 2612. The Week With the Member Banks of the Federal Reserve System.

The Federal Reserve Board's weekly statement of condition of 722 reporting member banks in leading cities as of Nov. 18 shows reductions of $7,000,000 in loans and discounts, $40,000,000 in investments, $23,000,000 in time deposits and $28,000,000 in Government deposits. These changes were accompanied by an increase of $10,000,000 in borrowings from the Federal Reserve banks. Member banks in New York City reported an increase of $6,000,000 in loans and discounts and declines of $24,000,000 in investments and of $25,000,000 in net demand deposits. It should be noted that the figures for these member banks are always a week behind those for the Reserve banks themselves.

Loans on U. S. Government securities were larger by $6,000,000 in the New York district, banks in other districts reporting little or no change in this item. Loans on corporate stocks and bonds went up $29,000,000, increases of $28,000,000 in the New York district and $17,000,000 in the Boston district being partly offset by declines of $12,000,000 and $5,000,000 in the Cleveland and Philadelphia districts, respectively. All other loans and discounts fell off $40,000,000. The principal changes in this item include reductions of $29,000,000 in the New York district, $12,000,000 and $7,000,000, respectively, in the Boston and Chicago districts, and an increase of $7,000,000 in the Cleveland district.

Investments in United States securities declined $25,000,000, of which $10,000,000 was reported by banks in the Boston district and $8,000,000 and $6,000,000 by banks in the New York and Chicago districts, respectively. Holdings of other bonds, stocks and securities went down $15,000,000, a decline of $18,000,000 in the New York district being offset in part by an increase of $6,000,000 in the Chicago district. Further comments regarding the changes shown by these member banks are as follows:

Net demand deposits showed but little change for the system, although relatively large changes were reported for six of the twelve districts. Increases of $18,000,000 were reported for the Cleveland district, $16,000,000 for the Kansas City district and $14,000,000 for the San Francisco district, while declines of $25,000,000, $11,000,000 and $9,000,000 were shown for the New York, Boston and Philadelphia districts, respectively.

Time deposits fell off $23,000,000, of which $17,000,000 was reported by banks in the Kansas City district. Net withdrawals of Government deposits aggregated $28,000,000, all of the districts showing reductions in this item.

The principal changes in borrowings from the Federal Reserve banks included increases of $7,000,000 each for the Philadelphia and St. Loui, districts and of $5,000,000 each for the New York and Atlanta districts: and reductions of $9,000,000 for the San Francisco district and of $8,000,000 and $5,000,000 for the Chicago and Boston districts, respectively.

On a subsequent page—that is, on page 2612—we give the figures in full contained in this latest weekly return of the member banks of the Reserve System. In the following is furnished a summary of the changes in the principal items as compared with a week ago and with last year:

Weekly Digests of Cables Received From Foreign Offices of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

JAPAN.

The continued favorable volume of export trade, advancing exchange and lowered stocks of import commodities are causing improvement in import business in Japan. The steel and machinery markets are quiet. Electrical business during October was below the preceding month but considerable business in steam units is awaiting the completion of specifications. Postal savings deposits reached the highest point of the past two years, reflecting the prevailing prosperity in agricultural districts. October production of cotton yarns was the largest in the history of the industry. Similiarly exports of cotton textiles broke all previous records.

CHINA.

Conditions in China have shown some improvement during the past month. The military atmosphere in North China has become somewhat cleared and action between the major military groups appears at least temporarily postponed. In the Yangtze valley the situation also shows improvement but in South China conditions have not materially changed, with Canton forces occupying Swatow.

INDIA.

The Indian mill strike shows little or no improvement. To date only about 5,000 of the 145,000 striking operatives have resumed work. No mills are running as yet, the few workers who have returned being employed in cleaning machinery. The broad aspect of foreign trade shows no material alteration. Exchange is stable and reports indicate that general lines are moving well and that the turnover is encouraging. Banks report, however, that dealers are somewhat slower in meeting drafts and that the majority of bazaar dealers are short of ready money. Except in the cotton mill industry the labor situation is generally satisfactory.

AUSTRALIA.

The commerical situation in Australia shows considerable improvement. Although the seamen's strike has not been officially settled, the movement of deep sea vessels is practically unhampered except in some minor cases or job control. It is expected that a fortnight will see the resumption of normal shipping conditions and oversea shipments moving with pre-strike regularity. The wool situation has shown general improvement during the month. Wheat quotations are also better.

PHILLIPPINE ISLANDS.

October business of the Philippine Islands was good in most lines. Other lines, however, were affected by a cholera epidemic, delayed sugar milling and damage from drought to the rice crop. Wholesale import trade in textiles was especially affected, though conditions appear to have somewhat improved in the second half of November and the retail trade is fairly good. Record breaking sales of automobiles continue and the tire trade is also excellent. Demand for imported foodstuffs in October improved in most lines. There is a scarcity of hide imports, with the result that local tanneries are operating at 75% capacity. The islands' copra market was strong in October but abaca fairly inactive. Sugar milling has been slightly delayed by rains. Rice growers estimate a loss of 30,000,000 pesos from crop damage. The government is releasing funds for irrigation.

DUTCH EAST INDIES.

Sales of imports to the European population of the Dutch East Indies were well sustained in October but the native trade of Java was depressed owing to unseasonal weather and crop shortages. Java demand for textiles was the lowest in months. Native trade of Sumatra and Borneo, however, continues its boomed conditions as a result of good rubber profits. A comparison of the first three quarter periods of 1925 and 1924 shows an increase of about 15% in import trade of Java. Import duties of the Outer Districts advanced 50%. The record of harvested areas of native crops showed a decline. The general movement of export cargoes in October was low.

BRITISH MALAYA.

Continued high prices for rubber and tin and Straits' produce generally, advanced the total trade of British Malaya for October to the record high level of 231,233,000 Straits dollars. Imports from America increased in volume, and local agents carrying American lines reported encouraging activity. Exports of refined tin during the month totaled 6,280 long tons, 54% of which was shipped to the United States. The average price of this commodity was 141 Strait dollars per picul of 133 1-3 pounds. Exchange was firm throughout the month at $0.56¾. Banks found it necessary to approach the government for funds.

SIAM.

Total trade through the Port of Bangkok for October amounted to approximately 30,000,000 ticals, a slight increase over the preceding month, and a considerable increase over the corresponding period of 1924. General conditions seem to indicate that business is steadily improving.

INDO CHINA.

The general situation in Indo-China was quiet during the month of October, however the rice trade advanced as compared with the preceding month, due to the resumption of shipments to Hongkong. Prices of this commodity were firm throughout the month.

HAWAII.

An increase in raw sugar prices has given the industry a more hopeful outlook in Hawaii, according to cable advices from Secretary Ernest B. Clark, Honolulu Chamber of Commerce. Frequent rains during November, coupled with above-normal temperature, have favored growing crops and assured a good yield for the coming year. The tourist traffic continues to increase as the winter advances. Building and construction continues active. A gift from Japan of 500,000 sea trout eggs for stocking Hawaiian waters arrived during the month.

AUSTRIA.

The Austrian National Bank maintains a high percentage of cover for its circulation and deposits. The sound money cover on November 15 was 60%, the same as a month ago and the highest yet attained. Savings deposits continue to increase at the rate of about $3,000,000 per month. Stocks are lower than they were a month ago but the market is now steadier and quotations are considerably higher than the minimum last June. Wholesale prices continue to decline. Railway traffic is about the same as in August but considerably higher than a year ago. All the industrial strikes have been settled except the one in the automobile works at Styr. The principal industries are active but there is a seasonal increase of unemployment chiefly in the building industries.

SWEDEN.

General conditions in Sweden are much the same as last month. Compared with a year ago, business is more flourishing and is not exposed to any very adverse influences. The improvement in the money market continues and is reflected in a rising movement on the stock exchange, in lower interest rates and large issues of capital. Lumber sales, so far, are estimated at 1,920,600,000 board ft., but the outlook for next season's business is somewhat discouraging. Paper and wood pulp activities remain at the same high level, with a large volume of business being done for 1926 delivery. Foreign trade showed a further favorable balance during the month of October.

Economic and Industrial Conditions in Denmark During October 1925.

The National Bank in Copenhagen and the Statistical Department of the Danish Government have issued the following statement of economic and industrial conditions in Denmark during the month of October 1925:

The value of the Danish crown has in the average been unchanged during the month of October. A slight increase in the value of the crown has, however, taken place during this month after the temporary decrease in September, as the dollar exchange which during the first half of the month was the same as the end of September: 4.14—4.15, but during the last week of the month it was 4.00—4.04. Hereby the average of daily quotations have become slightly lower than in September, namely Kr. 19.70 for one pound sterling (September Kr. 19.77), Kr. 4.08 for one dollar (equal to 24.51 c. for one crown), (September Kr. 4.09 (equal to 24.45 c. for one crown) which corresponds to an average gold value for the crown in October of 91.5 Ore against 91.2 in September. The same stability which has ruled the foreign exchange during the past month also seems to have marked the activities of the banks as shown by the October balance of the three main private banks. There has been no esential changes in the deposits and loans of these banks since the expiration of September, and the smaller changes which have taken place, namely a decrease of 7 Mill. Kr. in the loans and 8 Mill. Kr. in the deposits, point towards a continuation of the quiet liquidation of the loan and deposit activities of the previous months.

As always towards November 1, the amount of notes in circulation has increased somewhat, namely from 430 Mill. Kr. to 464 Mill. Kr. while the amount in circulation per October 31 1924 was 495 Mill. Kr.

The transactions of stocks and bonds on the Copenhagen Exchange were less than in the previous months as the average weekly transactions in stocks were 1.8 Mill. Kr., in bonds 3.4 Mill. Kr. against respectively 2.2 and 5.5 Mill. Kr. in September.

There was some increase in the stock index especially on account of the stocks in the big companies which mostly have their interests in foreign countries having increased some. The increase is believed to be caused by demand from foreign countries especially France. On the average the exchange of the bonds were lower than in September. The stock index for October was 99.1 (September 96.1), the bond index 87.5 (September 83.1) when the exchanges July 1 1914 is fixed at 100.

The wholesale price of the Statistical Department has decreased 7 points in October from 186—179. While the decrease in August and September in all were 26 points, it has thus been considerably smaller in the past month as the great increase in the foreign value of the crown has influenced the wholesale price level.

The trade balance with the foreign countries shows an excess of export of 2 Mill. Kr. for September, the imports amounting to 146 Mill. Kr. and the exports 148 Mill. Kr. In September 1924 the excess of exports was 6 Mill. Kr.

For January-September inclusive the excess of imports is considerably smaller this year than last, namely 82 Mill. Kr. against 150 Mill. Kr. in 1924. This considerable smaller excess of imports this year is first of all directly caused by the falling prices, but secondly the imports particularly of raw materials are smaller under the present rather difficult conditions for the industries. When the exports at the same time have not decreased at the same rate, it is owing to the fact that the agricultural exports are not essentially smaller than last year. During October the agricultural exports have been somewhat smaller than September for all products except pork, the average weekly exports of butter being 20,820 hkg. (September 23,635 hkg.), eggs 632,700 scores (September 936,300 scores), pork and swine 35,325 hkg. (September 33,671 hkg.) and for meat and cattle 6,212 hkg. (September 6,589 hkg.). The prices of the agricultural products have during the past month been somewhat variable, as the butter and egg prices were higher than in September while the prices on pork and meat were lower. The average of the official weekly quotations was for butter 417 Kr. (September 411 Kr.) per 100 kg., pork 197 Ore (September 206 Ore) per kg., eggs 254 Ore (September 205 Ore per kg. and for meat 572 Ore (September 78 Ore per kg. live weight.

For the greater part of this year the unemployment has been a great deal higher than in the corresponding period in 1924, and this has especially been the case in the past month as the percentage at the end of October was 12.7% against 6.5 in October 1924; in the industries the conditions were almost the same, as the unemployment was 15.1% against 7.3% in October 1924.

The Government receipts of taxes on articles of consumption was in October 24.0 Mill. Kr., of which 12.0 Mill. Kr. were customs receipts. In October 1924 the corresponding figures were 25.1 Mill. Kr. and 10.5 Mill. Kr.

Italian Chamber of Commerce Luncheon to Italian Debt Commission.

Count Volpi, head of the Italian Debt Commission, received a warm welcome at a luncheon given at the Plaza Hotel in New York City on Nov. 23 to members of the Commission by the Italian Chamber of Commerce, about 500 persons being present. Count Volpi expressed his gratitude at the outcome of the debt negotiations and said that "Italy would regard the amount to be paid, not as a debt, but as a duty to be fulfilled." Italy, he added, was "the first European nation which had been able to forget the war, balance its budget and attain prosperity without aid from outside The country, poor in natural resources, is nevertheless rich in man power, as evidenced by the ten million Italians beyond its boundaries." In the evening the Italian Debt Commission, headed by Count Volpi, with the Italian Ambassador, Giacomo di Martino, enjoyed the opera of "Mefistofele" at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Italy-American Society Dinner to Italian Debt Commission—Members Take Their Departure for Home.

A dinner was given by the Italy-America Society in honor of the Italian Debt Commission headed by Count Volpi. Henry P. Fletcher, American Ambassador to Italy, and Giacomo di Martino, the Italian Ambassador, at the Hotel Biltmore on the evening of Nov. 24, at which more than 800 members of the Italy-America Society were present. Thomas W. Lamont presided. Mr. Lamont read a message from President Coolidge expressing his "high appreciation of the friendly spirit of accommodation and concession which on both parts characterized the recent negotiations for the funding of Italy's debt to the United States" and his "gratification" at the mutually satisfactory agreement that, in justness to Italy and in fairness to the people of the United States resulted therefrom." The Italian debt settlement, Mr. Lamont told the diners, has met "with prompt public approval both here and Italy." If there be any discordant notes, he continued, "they have come from the very limited portion of our community known as the 'Last Red Centres,' persons who are the real advocates of cancellation, because they apparently prefer to receive no payments at all rather than accept what our European debtors can actually arrange to pay us." Both the Italian and the American Commissions who negotiated the settlement have been guided by a thorough appreciation of the human and financial favors involved, Mr. Lamont said, and have particularly taken into consideration the difficulty in the transfer of funds from a country with a depreciated currency like Italy. "This is the same principle that comes into play in the working of the Dawes plan as applied to Germany," Mr. Lamont said. "I feel sure," he added, "that the principles of the Italian debt settlement have now come to be fairly recognized, and that our public will realize clearly that the American Debt Commission was thoroughly justified from every point of view in making the lenient settlements which it has recently concluded with Italy and Belgium. With the extremely reasonable and lenient terms granted in these settlements we can only regret that, on account of some of the ill-considered observations made from time to time on this side of the water, most of the European peoples have gained the impression that America was a stern creditor, hanging out for the last dollar. When we might have gained in European circles a deserved reputation for consideration and generosity it is unfortunate to have created instead just the opposite impression." Count Volpi, in speaking of the settlement said:

> We can presume that history will consider this agreement a fair one because of the unanimous consent on both sides. The American Debt Commission, presided over by that illustrious financier and statesman, Mr. Mellon, acted with the greatness, broadness of view and examined with every care the ample documentation which my Department had thought well to bring, so as to enable the American Commission to realize with all exactitude what the actual social, economic and financial activity of Italy represents to-day.
> The Italian people have been satisfied by the Washington agreement and have demonstrated it by a movement born of the most modest working classes who desire to contribute small yearly sums to the national Treasury. The consolidation of our war debt has enabled us to dissipate a cloud which was hanging over the friendly sentiments that have always prevailed between Italy and America and which it was necessary to dispel in the mutual interest of both our countries. It has further constituted a useful step toward the peace and economic stability of Europe and the world.

At the close of the dinner Count Volpi and his colleagues went directly to the pier at Fifteenth Street and Hudson River and boarded the "Mauretania" for their departure to Europe.

Offering of $5,000,000 City of Dresden Twenty-Year Bonds—Books Closed.

On Monday (Nov. 23) Speyer & Co. and Blyth, Witter & Co. offered $5,000,000 20-year 7% sinking fund gold bonds of the City of Dresden, external loan of 1925, at 94% and accrued interest. These bonds, dated Nov. 1 1925, are in coupon form in denominations of $1,000 and $500, registerable as to principal and will yield about 7.60% to date of maturity, Nov. 1 1925. The entire issue was disposed of on the day of offering, the books being closed at noon. $1,250,000 bonds of the present offering were withdrawn for distribution in Holland. Such principal and interest is collectible, at the option of the holders, in Holland at the offices of Messrs. Teizeira de Mattos Brothers, the Nederlandsche Handel-Maatschappij, Messrs. Mendelssohn & Co., Amsterdam, Messrs. Pierson & Co., the Rotterdamsche Bankvereeniging, Amsterdam, and Messrs. R. Mees & Zoonen, Rotterdam, in Dutch guilders at their then current rate for sight exchange in New York. Interest payable May 1 and Nov. 1. In the case of the bonds issued in this country, principal and interest is payable in New York City, in United States gold coin of, or equal to, the present standard of weight and fineness, free from all past, present or future taxes of the German Republic, or of any State, municipality or other taxing authority therein, at the office of Speyer & Co., fiscal agents for the loan. All conversions from German to United States currency have been at 4.20 gold marks to the dollar. A sinking fund is provided sufficient to retire all bonds by maturity. A sum equal to 5% of the total amount of bonds issued will be applied during each year for the first ten years to the purchase of bonds, if obtainable at not exceeding par and accrued interest; unexpended funds are to revert to the city. During the ten years beginning Nov. 1 1935 not less than one-tenth of the amount of bonds outstanding on that date is to be redeemed each year through purchase at not exceeding par and accrued interest, or, if not so obtainable, through drawings by lot at par. Not callable before Nov. 1 1935. The city reserves the right to call for redemption at par on that date, or any interest date thereafter, all or any part of the bonds then outstanding upon not less than sixty days' previous notice. Herr Bernhard Blueher, Mayor-in-Chief of the City of Dresden, furnished the following statement to the bankers:

The total authorized issue of these bonds is limited to $5,000,000. The bonds are issued with the approval of the German and Saxon Governments and will be the direct obligation of the City of Dresden. None of the revenues or assets of the city is specifically pledged for any loan and the city covenants that, if in the future it shall issue any loan secured by a lien on any of its revenues or assets, these bonds shall be secured equally and ratably with such loan.

The City of Dresden, one of the oldest cities of Germany and an important industrial and commercial centre, is the capital of the Free State of Saxony, which ranks first in density of population and second in industrial development among the German States. The city, with a population of about 620,000, is located on the River Elbe, has direct connection by water with Hamburg, the leading port of Germany, and excellent railroad connections, particularly with Bavaria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Austria and Hungary. The leading industries of the city include the manufacture of porcelain, glassware, tobacco products, machinery, scientific instruments, cameras and typewriters. The value of property subject to taxation in the city is estimated at $714,000,000 and the taxable income of the inhabitants for the year 1924 was about $95,000,000.

The city owns valuable real estate, municipal buildings and productive enterprises, including water supply, gas, electric light and power plants, docks, street railways, markets, stock yards, etc., the value of which is conservatively estimated at approximately $90,500,000, of which about $27,800,000 is the estimated value of income-producing properties. The gross revenues of these productive enterprises were, for the year ended March 31 1925 about $12,090,000; each was operated at a profit and their total net profits were about $1,890,000, after substantial reserves for depreciation. The total revenues of the city, derived principally from taxation and from municipally owned properties, were for the above fiscal year about $22,400,000, as against expenditures of about $19,940,000, leaving a surplus of about $2,460,000 for the period. Since 1900 the city has had a surplus each year.

The proceeds of this loan will be used for additions and betterments to the city's electric light and power plants, street railways, water and gas works, which should add substantially to its revenues.

The debt of the city, other than the above $5,000,000 bonds and an internal loan equal to about $35,000, consists of obligations heretofore incurred in the former currency of Germany, the total liability for which (under the terms of the law of the German Republic of July 16 1925 for the revaluation of public obligations), it is estimated, will not exceed $10,952,000. Under the Dawes plan, which is now in successful operation, to assure reparations payments under the Versailles Treaty (Article 248), it has been arranged to impose charges on municipally owned works similar to those on private industrial undertakings. Payments by Dresden's municipally owned utilities for this purpose are estimated at not to exceed $60,000 per annum.

The credit of the City of Dresden has always ranked high and for a period of about thirty years before the war the city issued only 3½% or 4% bonds.

Dr. Ludwig Landmann, Mayor-in-Chief of the City of Frankfort-on Main, furnished the following statement to the bankers:

The total authorized issue of these bonds is limited to $4,000,000. The bonds are issued with the approval of the German and Prussian Governments and will be the direct obligation of the City of Frankfort. None of the revenues or assets of the city are specifically pledged for any loan and the city covenants that, if in the future it shall issue any loan secured by a lien on any of its revenues or assets, these bonds shall be secured equally and ratably with such loan.

The City of Frankfort, one of the oldest and most important financial and commercial centres of Germany has a population of about 460,000 inhabitants and with surrounding communities forms a metropolitan district with about 1,000,000 inhabitants. The city has excellent railroad connections with all parts of Germany and other countries and direct communication by water with the Rhine. Its leading industries include the manufacture of machinery and electrical equipment and in and around the city are located some of the most prominent German dye and chemical plants. Frankfort is an important market for hides and leather, grain, lumber and textiles. The value of property subject to taxation in the city is estimated at $1,090,000,000 and the taxable income of the inhabitants for the year 1924 was about $120,000,000.

The city owns valuable real estate, municipal buildings and productive enterprises, including water supply, gas, electric light and power plants, street railways, docks, markets, stock yards, etc., the value of which is conservatively estimated at about $83,500,000, of which about $28,405,000 is the estimated value of income-producing properties. The gross revenues of these productive enterprises were, for the year ended March 31 1925, about $10,956,000; each was operated at a profit and their total net profits were about $3,118,000 after substantial reserves for depreciation. The total revenues of the city, derived principally from taxation and from municipally owned properties, were, for the above fiscal year, about $23,270,000, as against expenditures of about $22,910,000 for the period.

The proceeds of this loan will be used for additions and betterments to the city's electric light and power plants, water and gas works, which should add substantially to its revenues.

The debt of the city, other than the above $4,000,000 bonds, consists of obligations heretofore incurred in the former currency of Germany, the total liability for which (under the terms of the law of the German Republic of July 16 1925 for the revaluation of public obligations), it is estimated, will not exceed $17,500,000. Under the Dawes Plan, which is now in successful operation, to assure reparations payments under the Versailles Treaty (Article 248), it has been arranged to impose charges on municipally owned works similar to those on private industrial undertakings. Payments by Frankfort's municipally owned utilities for this purpose are estimated at not to exceed $20,000 per annum.

The credit of the City of Frankfort has always ranked high; for a period of more than thirty years before the war, its bonds, bearing interest at the rate of 3½% or 4%, were issued at prices at which the yield was between 3½% and 4.20% per annum.

The following information regarding the City of Duisburg is also furnished by the bankers:

Historical records of Duisburg extend back prior to the year 700. In 1905 two other towns, Meiderich and Ruhrort, were incorporated with Duisburg, the population after incorporation being 190,342. The present population is estimated at 274,000. There has thus been a growth of 44% in the last 20 years. The City is situated at the junction of the Ruhr River with the River Rhine. Its recent rapid growth has been due to its excellent harbor and the development of the great industries of the Rheinish-Westphalian Industrial District, including the Ruhr Valley. Duisburg has become the principal inland port of Europe.

The principal railroad lines of the Rheinish-Westphalian District converge in Duisburg and international lines from Amsterdam to Switzerland and from Paris to Berlin pass through the City. In Germany the commercial air traffic has reached considerable proportions. The principal airplane harbor for the Ruhr is near Duisburg. Regular air service is maintained with the principal German cities and the capitals of Europe. Duisburg is the center of the Ruhr iron industry, and there are many industrial establishments within the City. The capital investment in industrial property is estimated at $107,000,000. The industries of Duisburg include the manufacture of machinery, nautical equipment, railway coaches, cranes, chemical products and dyestuffs. Ships for the Rhine traffic are built, also steel constructions such as bridges and lighthouses.

A larger shipping tonnage passes through the harbor of Duisburg than through any other inland port of Europe. Incoming freight is confined principally to raw materials such as iron ore, lumber and grains. The principal outgoing items are coal, coke by-products, iron and steel, potash and dyestuffs. In 1913 the shipping tonnage amounted to 29,000,000 tons. Though not yet restored to its former volume, the traffic has been increasing each year since 1928. For 1924 it reached 18,500,000 tons and it is estimated that for 1925 it will amount to 23,000,000 tons.

The development of the harbor was begun about 1815. The total harbor frontage is 34 miles and the area over 1,704 acres, of which more than 444 acres is water. The harbor works consist of an extensive system of basins, warehouses, railway and canals extending along both sides of the River Ruhr. The equipment for handling freight includes 174 miles of railways, 144 warehouses and 137 cranes. One-third of the harbor area is owned by Duisburg and the remainder by the State of Prussia. The interest of the City in the harbor is valued at over $5,380,000. The harbor is to be extended and its equipment enlarged and in order to facilitate the projected improvements it is intended to incorporate the harbor so that it can be separately financed. The Rhine-Herne Canal, which joins the Rivers Rhine and Elbe, gives Duisburg an outlet to the North Sea.

The Ruhr Valley, to which Duisburg is the gateway, is universally known as one of the most concentrated industrial areas in the world. It contains coal and iron mines as well as great basic industries, of which the principal are the metallurgical and the chemical. Among the iron worker are sveral of the most important in Germany. These include such well-known enterprises as those of August Thyssen, Friedrich Krupp and Phoenix. A section of the great Krupp works is situated on the Rhine just below Duisburg. The situation of Duisburg in relation to the Ruhr Valley insures the continued growth and prosperity of the city.

City-Owned Properties

The city of Duisburg owns and operates an electric light and power system and gas and water works supplying practically the entire community and, to some extent, adjacent sections In 1924 these city properties distributed 47,000,000 k.w.h. produced in its own plants, 211,000,000 cubic feet of gas and over 1,500,000,000 gallons of water. The city owns a controlling interest in the companies which operate two tramway systems and autobus lines serving the city. Duisburg also owns jointly with Dusseldorf the stock of a company operating an electric tramway line which connects the two cities. Each of these public services is operated at a profit. On the basis of earnings so far for the year 1925, it is expected that the electric system, gas and water works alone will show net profits of $600,000 for the year, after due allowance for interest on the investment and depreciation. Other minor enterprises of the city are its slaughter houses, baths and public markets.

The total assets of the city are carried on its books at about $30,000,000, but their present real value is estimated to be greatly in excess of that amount. Of this total more than half represents the value of revenue producing properties.

Finances.

The value of the assessable property and capital within the city of Duisburg is estimated at over $150,000,000. The revenues of the city are derived principally from taxation and from the municipal properties. The tax revenue is derived from taxes levied exclusively by the city as well as the share of the city in certain taxes levied by the Reich and by the State of Prussia. The city's revenues from taxation in 1924 were $5,526,000.

For the period from 1910 to 1924 the City's receipts exceeded its ordinary expenditures in every year but one. Furthermore, the total of receipts for the above period was largely in excess of the total of expenditures, notwithstanding the fact that in each year there were extraordinary expenditures for capital account. In 1924, expenditures amounted to approximately $6,319,000, while receipts were over $6,558,000. The 1925 budget is balanced at about $9,634,000. The difference between the figures for 1924 and 1925 is due in large part to expansion of the municipally owned properties.

Debt

This issue is the only external funded debt contracted since the stabilization of the currency. The City's other funded debt now totals less than $4,000,000, including debt issued previous to the stabilization of the mark, as to which the liability of the City is officially estimated at approximately $2,000,000 under the terms of the Revaluation Act of July 16 1925. The City's total funded deot, including the present issue, will thus amount to less than $7,000,000. As against this debt are city owned properties valued in excess of $30,000,000.

Security.

These bonds will constitute the direct obligation of the City of Duisburg. The City has never pledged any of its property or revenues as security for a loan. The City has agreed that, while any of these bonds are outstanding, it will not pledge or mortgage any of its income or revenues or any of its directly owned properties, (other than its harbor facilities if separately incorporated), unless the bonds of this issue shall be secured by such pledge or mortgage equally and ratably with the other indebtedness thereby to be secured. The City further agrees that so long as any of these bonds are outstanding it will not dispose of any enterprise (including the stock of any corporation constituting a part of the capital assets of the City), unless the entire net proceeds of such disposal are applied to the redemption by lot of these bonds or to the acquisition of new property of at least equal value or producing an equal income.

These bonds will be dated Nov. 1 1925, and will be issued in twenty series of equal principal amount, one of the series to mature Nov. 1, of each of the years 1926 to 1945, both inclusive. They will be in denominations of $1,000, in bearer form with coupons, and will bear interest at the rate of 7% per annum, payable semi-annually on May 1 and Nov. 1. Both principal and interest will be payable at the office of Harris, Forbes & Co., in New York City, or at the option of the holder at the office of Harris Trust & Savings Bank, in Chicago, in United States gold coin of the weight and fineness now fixed by law, and without deduction for German taxes of any nature. The bonds will not be redeemable prior to Nov. 1 1930, but on that date and on any interest date thereafter the bonds may be redeemed at the option of the City in whole or in part, on at least 60 days' prior published notice, at 103 and accrued interest.

Government Restrictions.

The German law establishes certain restrictions on the financial operations of the cities, which operate as safeguards. The budgets of the cities must be drawn up including all debt charges and submitted in advance for the approval of the State Government, whose duty it is to see that the cities meet their obligations. In contracting loans of more than $500,000 the cities must obtain the consent of the State Government, which gives sanction only if the cities in position to meet the charges of the loan required. In general, the cities have the right to levy taxes, provided that such levies do not conflict in any way with the taxes of the Reich and the State.

Report of Upper Austrian Loan Distribution.

According to a report made to the Upper Austrian Provincial Diet on the recent $5,000,000 Upper Austrian 20-year external secured sinking fund 7% gold bonds, offered here at 92½ and interest, to yield about 7.75% to maturity, the par value of the loan has been distributed as follows among the provincial establishments: Upper Austria, $1,785,680; Land Mortgage Bank, $1,250,000; Wolfsegg Traunthaler Coal Co., $1,250,000; Stern & Hafferl Electric Manufacturing & Power Co., $535,740; and to the Upper Austrian Hydro-Electric Power Co., $178,580. Thus, while the Province only is liable to the creditors, the three corporations mentioned as benefiting from the loan are in turn liable to the Province for their share of it.

The report points to the interesting fact that prior to and subsequent to the passage of a law on May 6 1925, authorizing a combined common loan for the Austrian Provinces, Upper Austria, whose revenues in 1924 from all sources were $2,918,950, equivalent to more than six times interest and sinking fund charges on its entire debt, was in receipt of some fifty different offers. English bankers bid for the loan in 1923, but this bid was rejected because the debtor would have had to take part of the credit in merchandise of English origin—20 to 25%. For Upper Austria to have accepted the English bid on these terms would have largely offset the advantages to her of the loan, because this would defeat Austria's successful program of attaining an increase, it is contended, in her export balance. An American dollar loan was finally made and carried no such condition as that stipulated by the English.

Recent advices from Vienna show that her imports of coal have been decreasing. This is regarded as significant, in view of the fact that a large portion of Austria's import balance is created by her need for coal. These advices indicate that the steady progress in water power development is offsetting Austria's necessity of importing coal and is stimulating development of her own natural resources.

$500,000 Bond Offering of First Joint Stock Land Bank of New Orleans.

The bond department of Harris Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago has brought out an issue of $500,000 5% bonds of the First Joint Stock Land Bank of New Orleans at 103¼ and interest, to yield about 4.60% to the optional date and 5% thereafter to redemption or maturity. The bonds are dated Dec. 1 1925 and will become due Dec. 1 1945. Optional Dec. 1 1935. Interest payable semi-annually June 1 and Dec. 1. Principal and interest payable at First Joint Stock Land Bank, New Orleans, La., or through the bank's fiscal agency in New York City. These bonds are in coupon form, fully registerable and interchangeable in denomination of $1,000. Redeemable at par and interest on any interest date on or after Dec. 1 1935. Tax exempt from any Federal, State, municipal and local taxation. These bonds, issued under the Federal Farm Loan Act and acceptable as security for postal savings and other deposits of Government funds, are obligations of the First Joint Stock Land Bank of New Orleans and are collaterally secured by either first mortgages on farm lands or temporarily by United States Government bonds or certificates of indebtedness. The bank is under private ownership and management and its operations are restricted and supervised by the Government. The First Joint Stock Land Bank of New Orleans was chartered by the Federal Farm Loan Board on April 10 1922 and has a paid-in capital of $250,000 and surplus, reserves and undivided profits of $34,599. Its operations are confined to the State of Louisiana and Mississippi, and the policy of the bank is to restrict its loans to selected sections of these two States. In their circular the bankers also say:

The Mortgage & Securities Co. of New Orleans, which owns the controlling interest in the First Joint Stock Land Bank of New Orleans, was organized in 1905 by a group of bankers throughout Louisiana and Mississippi for the purpose of furnishing long-time credits to the agricultural interests in that section. The total amount of mortgage business handled annually exceeds $12,000,000 and the business is enjoying a steady growth from year to year. The mortgages have been sold to a number of large insurance companies, including the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co., the New York Life Insurance Co., the Life Insurance Co. of Virginia and the National Life Insurance Co.

The Mortgage & Securities Co. has a record of not having experienced a loss on any of its loans during the twenty years of its existence. The company has a capital of $800,000 and has built up out of earnings a surplus of $563,000, making a combined capital and surplus of $1,363,000.

The bonds of the First Joint Stock Land Bank of New Orleans are issued under the Federal Farm Loan Act. The security consists of approved first mortgages on farm lands or United States Government securities, in either case not less than an amount equal to the bonds outstanding, such mortgages or securities being deposited with the Treasury Department and approved by the Federal Farm Loan Board, a bureau of the Treasury Department. These first mortgages on selected farm property are limited by law to 50% of the appraised value of the land and 20% of the improvements.

All loans are made on an amortization plan which provides for the payment of substantially equal amounts each six months, a portion of each payment being interest and the balance reducing the principal of the loan, which is entirely retired at the end of the period. With each payment the amount applied in reduction of principal is automatically increased until the loan is completely paid off. As a result of this system of installment payments of principal, there is a constantly increasing margin of security in the mortgage loans pledged as collateral to secure the bonds.

The bank may not issue bonds in excess of 15 times the amount of its capital and surplus. The amount of bonds authorized, including the present issue, is $2,500,000.

Tax Exemption.

By a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States rendered Feb. 28 1921, the constitutionality of this Act and the tax exemption features of these bonds were fully sustained.

During the past 43 years the Harris Organization (Harris Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago; Harris, Forbes & Co., New York; Harris, Forbes & Co., Inc., Boston, and Harris, Forbes & Co., Ltd., Montreal) have selected and purchased, after careful investigations, over six billion dollars of bonds and notes, which have been sold to a constantly growing list of conservative clients, of which more than seven thousand are banks. In buying of this organization the investor secures the benefit of the extensive experience and trained judgment gained through the selection of this large amount of safe investments.

This bank limits its purchase to those deemed suitable for its own investment and sells only such securities to its clients. It buys and sells for its own account. All statements in this circular are based upon information this bank regards as reliable, being the data upon which it has acted in its purchase and valuation of the investments offered.

Delivery will be made at any responsible bank, shipping charges prepaid, payment to be made in Chicago exchange without deduction. Offerings are made subject to prior sale and change in price. Telegrams may be sent at this bank's expense.

New York State Comptroller to Buy Additional Bonds of the Land Bank of the State of New York.

The following circular notice has been sent to savings and loan associations by the Managing Director of the Land Bank of the State of New York:

LAND BANK OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.
220 Broadway, New York City.

Nov. 20 1925.

To the Savings and Loan Associations:

Gentlemen;—The State Comptroller, the Honorable Vincent B. Murphy of Rochester, has given further evidence of his desire to do his share towards relieving the housing situation to which renewed attention is now being given, and of his recognition of the Land Bank and its member associations as efficient agencies in accomplishing this purpose.

He has already consummated the purchase of one million dollars of Land Bank bonds, the proceeds of which have been distributed among savings and loan associations throughout the State for the purpose of providing homes for workers upon easy terms. He is so well satisfied with the results that he has agreed to purchase at par additional bonds to the amount of half a million dollars to bear interest at the rate of 4½% per annum, although the funds available are unusually limited.

This sum is offered to the savings and loan associations of the State at that rate plus a commission of three-eighths of 1%, the amount now necessary to pay the expenses of the Land Bank and the dividend declared to member associations upon its shares.

A number of savings banks whose investment in Land Bank bonds has proved very satisfactory have indicated their purpose to purchase additional bonds at an early date and it is hoped that some subscriptions may be obtained from them soon so that these funds also may be apportioned at the same time.

Should your association desire to share in the allotment of the funds available, application should be filed for the amount desired not later than Dec. 1 1925.

The Managing Director has made arrangements with the Manufacturers Trust Co., 139 Broadway, New York City, to make temporary loans at the rate of 5% per annum to associations whose applications for advances have been approved by the Land Bank, until such time as all details have been completed and the bonds issued.

Very truly yours,

DAVID B. HUTTON, Managing Director.

Why Commodity Prices Have Remained Relatively Stable.

Why commodity prices have remained stable in spite of the spectacular activity of the stock market is explained in The Bank of America Review issued today. Heretofore conditions like the present of rapid expansion in bank credit operations and speculative rise in Stock Exchange values have usually been accompanied by a rapidly rising level of commodity prices induced by heavy forward buying in both retail and wholesale fields. The Bank says:

"A factor is stabilizing the price level," says The Bank of America, "has been the increase in the buying power of practically all classes of the American population. The record volume of output in such industries as automobile manufacturing would in former years have led to intensified competition and drastic price cutting by manufacturers. Such a policy in turn tends to cut down the margin of profit to the producers, thus reducing corporate earnings with a depressing effect on stock market prices. What normally would have been a declining tendency in certain commodity and security prices has therefore been offset by the unprecedented buying power both domestic and foreign, which was encountered in our markets.

"A redistribution of wealth which has been taking place in this country during the past few years accounts for much of this increased domestic buying power. Besides, the new creditor status of this country is now beginning to make itself felt in the same direction. The volume of foreign pruchases has resulted from the extensive loans floated in this country. Thus while a tremendous production has so far kept commodity prices at a low level, the satisfactory margin of profit has tended to raise security prices in a market abundantly supplied with cheap money."

The present industrial situation is reflected in The Bank of America's Chart of Business Barometers which indicate that while production of crude oil and building contracts went down in October as compared with September, the production of bituminous coal and pig iron and unfilled orders of the U. S. Steel Corporation went up. In the aggregate production and distribution activity increased, as freight car loadings continued their climb to record levels. Both cotton and wheat prices continued their declines.

Increases in the following financial indices in October as compared with September are reported: Total earnings assets and total circulation of the Federal Reserve System and the ratio of loans to deposits of the member banks. The ratio of reserves to deposits of the Federal Reserve System declined. Both sterling and franc exchange continued to decline. The number of bank failures increased but the amount of liabilities involved decreased. Speculative activity was reflected in the increase in railroad and industrial stock prices and the decline in bond prices.

A. C. Miller on the Operation of the Federal Reserve System.

Speaking before the Commercial Club of Boston Tuesday evening, Nov. 17, on the operation of the Federal Reserve System, A. C. Miller, member of the Federal Reserve Board, took occasion to point out how the scope, influence and importance of the Federal Reserve System under present credit and business conditions had increased since the establishment of the System eleven years ago.

"Originally conceived as a system of elastic bank note issues and reserve credits to overcome the disabilities from which our banking system formerly suffered because of the rigid provisions governing reserves and restricting note issues, the Federal Reserve banks, by force of the unprecedented conditions growing out of the World War that have shaped their development along broader lines almost from the day of their establishment, have had to form a larger conception of their function in the country's credit and economic system—one best to be defined to be to steady credit conditions, to give at all times a firm basis of strength and health to the country's credit organization so far as it lies in the power of the Federal Reserve, and through the wise and intelligent exercise of this function to give steadiness, stability and strength to underlying business conditions. It is morely widely recognized now than ever before what a vital and shaping influence credit is throughout the whole economic system. The good functioning of trade, agriculture and industry, experience has demonstrated, can be greatly aided by good functioning of the Federal Reserve System. The good functioning of the Federal Reserve System means that the current productive industry of the country shall be at all times supplied with all the credit it needs from the Federal Reserve banks to meet its legitimate operating requirements on the lowest terms consistent with economic safety. This statement needs no extended argument. But the American public does not yet fully understand that at times when industry and trade through excessive optimism or speculative enthusiasm are getting into a state of feverish activity they must not get the credit facilities of the Federal Reserve banks on too easy terms—that is, on terms so low as to encourage needless borrowing and invite inflationary developments. While credit wisely extended can do much in a healthful way to stimulate, the dangers of over-stimulation can never safely be lost sight of."

"This, briefly stated," continued Mr. Miller, "is the philosophy of variable discount rates."

"There is a prejudice of long standing in the United States," said Mr. Miller, "against variable discount rates. This prejudice constitutes one of the difficulties in the administration of the Federal Reserve banks. The discount rates of central banks are made to be moved. This is well understood in England, where the Bank of England for decades has employed the changeable discount rate with marvelous effect in giving stability to the British banking and credit system. The banking and business public there, before the World War, understood very accurately the basis of the Bank of England's discount policy and the meaning of changes of the Bank's official rates. There resulted from this a co-operation between the Bank and the business public. The success of the British banking and credit system was largely due to this intelligent co-operation."

"We may expect that in time a similar situation will exist in the United States. As the Federal Reserve System itself more fully works out its guiding and operating principles and as these come to be understood and accepted by the business public, we may expect to see the prejudice against changes of discount rate and other methods of credit control overcome and the good functioning of the Federal Reserve System promoted by intelligent co-operation between the Federal Reserve banks and the general business public." Mr. Miller expressed the fear, however, that "until this result is attained we are likely to suffer from hesitant or tardy action in the matter of Federal Reserve discount policy."

"Time is of the essence of success in matters of credit and currency regulation by Central or Reserve banks. There are times on an upward trend of industry when the intervention of the Federal Reserve System by suitable discount policy can stimulate a forward movement in industry by maintaining a low rate; and later on by an advance of rate restrain the speculative extension of industry and thus serve to maintain a good condition of activity and prosperity. The function of rate policy is thus at times to accelerate the flow of reserve credit by a rate that invites borrowing and at other times to retard it by a rate that discourages undue resort to the facilities of the Federal Reserve banks. On a downward trend of industry, when the thing most to be feared is hasty liquidation under the pressure or fear of monetary stringency, Federal Reserve banks through their rate policy can do much to make the inevitable liquidation gradual and orderly by lowering the terms upon which their credit is made available.

"Action by the Federal Reserve banks on the all-important matters of discount policy and open market operations to be competent must, of course, be based upon insight into the economic factors governing the state and trend of industry, trade and credit. Without such knowledge there can be no real conviction and, consequently, no real policy. But more than conviction is necessary to make Federal Reserve action effective. Such action when taken must be rightly timed and be prompt. Hesitation and delay are the deadly causes of miscarriage and failure in the matter of central banking administration. They have beset central banking administration in all countries. To overcome them must be a primary concern in the development of our Federal Reserve System. As yet our System lacks that high degree of initiative essential to its most effective operation. This is in part due to the complex character of our Federal Reserve organization and the resulting wide distribution of authority and responsibility for its management. But it is also due to the fact that the larger economic and credit problems with which the Federal Reserve System is called on to deal are lacking in the definiteness of character which makes for definiteness of action. The processes of inflation with which our Federal Reserve System, like other central banking systems, is called upon at times to cope are insidious in their character. Inflation does not announce its coming in advance. It is not born full-fledged. It begins as expansion. It becomes inflation when expansion has gone beyond the limit of economic safety, that is when further additions to the country's supply of credit cannot be digested by the body economic in alimenting productive industry. The excess goes to feed the appetite for speculation, and that appetite, more than most appetites, grows by what it feeds on. Thus inflation makes rapidly for more inflation unless its incipient stage is clearly perceived by those responsible for the maintenance of a healthy credit and business situation and subjected to appropriate restraining influence."

Turning to the present situation in the United States Mr. Miller pointed out the various evidences of the high state of activity of the country's productive industry and trade. "We are in the midst of a very considerable industrial expansion with many of the factors that make for prosperity gaining in momentum. Production, trade, employment and payroll disbursements are all in materially greater volume than a year ago. There can be no doubting that we are already in an era of prosperity. The year 1925 has brought a great many new constructive factors into play in our economic situation. Of these, the most important is the recovery, even though not yet complete, of agriculture. Of very great importance also is the marked economic recovery of Europe in the past two years. The leading industries of Western Europe bid fair before long to be on a normal basis of productivity. Our export trade will benefit. The atmosphere of the world at large, moreover, has become more conducive to economic adventure by reason of the settlement of many of the perplexing economic and political problems left at the end of the war. Among these, of particular interest to the United States are the Dawes plan of reparations payments and the progress made in arranging funding terms of debts owed to the United States. The outlook has never been so bright since the close of the war. Whether the prosperity which beckons is to be short-lived or of long duration will depend largely upon the wisdom and skill with which we handle ourselves in the United States. The business community of the United States learned several great lessons from the disastrous crisis and depression of 1920-1922. It has developed in recent years a capacity for economic self-government that should go far toward insuring preservation of business sanity and the avoidance of the extravagances and excesses that inevitably culminate in prosperity booms. The Federal Reserve also has a very great responsibility for the maintenance of sound conditions to the extent at least that this can be helped or accomplished by maintaining the credit situation healthy.

"The floating supply of credit in the United States has never been so large as at the present time and never so much in excess of current and prospective requirements of commerce, agriculture and industry. The principal factors that have contributed to this result are (1) the large influx of gold in recent years; (2) economy in the use of credit resulting from the smaller volume of credit required for carrying inventories because of improved transportation conditions and the promptness with which plant facilities in all leading lines of industry are able to respond to increased demands for their products; (3) the thawing out, largely as a result of improved agricultural conditions in this and the last crop season, of credits that became frozen after the crisis of 1920; and, finally, to rapid seasonal liquidation this autumn. These factors account for the comparatively slight growth in the volume of credit taken for commercial uses from the banks of the country in the course of last year. The great growth in the loan account of the banks of the country has not been in the commercial loan account, but in the collateral loan account. And the great growth in this branch of banking operations is due mainly to the huge volume of credit absorbed by the call market in the country's great speculative centre since the opening of the year. This condition, along with the considerable volume of credit absorbed by land speculation in some parts of the country and speculative building operations constitute the danger spots in our present situation. There is evidence that a section of the public is losing its bearings and being drawn into the arena of thoughtless speculation. Cheaper and more abundant credit than the country has ever known on so extensive a scale are giving them aid and encouragement. It is time for a halt lest a speculative frame of mind should be engendered which might in time invade the field of legitimate trade and industry.

"It is not the duty of the Federal Reserve System to undertake to regulate stock or other speculation or to interfere unnecessarily in the affairs of their member banks. But it is well to recall that the Federal Reserve System was not established to provide a life preserver for the speculator. It was set up as an aid to industry, agriculture and commerce. It is a system of liquid productive credits. The use of Federal Reserve credit for speculative or investment purposes is precluded by specific provisions of the Federal Reserve Act. It is clear, therefore, that no bank has a proper status as an applicant for Reserve bank accommodation, which is supplying credit for speculative uses. It is the duty of the Federal Reserve banks to hold true to the course plotted for them in the fundamental provisions of the Federal Reserve Act."

Reserve Bank Aim to Avert Fever in Commodities Price—Governor Norris Cites Active Speculation as Factor in Discount-Rate Rise—Growth in Installment Buying is Consideration.

A very active speculation in stocks and in land, and an enormous and unprecedented increase in the volume of installment buying, were among the considerations that influenced the directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia last week when they voted to increase the rediscount rate from 3½ to 4%. This was the statement made on Monday night Nov. 21 by George W. Norris, governor of the bank, in an address before the Bond Club of Philadelphia at the Bellevue-Stratford. His subject was "Inflation and the Federal Reserve System." Other factors that entered into the rate advance were the large increase in the demand for credit accommodations at the bank, higher rates for money in the outside markets and a sharp dip in the bank's reserve ratio when compared with June, 1924, when the rediscount rate was reduced from 4½ to 3½%. We quote as follows from th Philadelphia Public Ledger's account of the address which we are informed is authentic.

Trade Needs No Stimulus.

Anticipating that the large gathering of investment bankers and bank officials present was desirous of gathering first-hand information on the subject, Governor Norris said after pointing out that in June 1924 business was depressed, apparently without any particular reason for such depression, and it was felt that an assurance of a low rate on money for a considerable period might assist in business revival:

"At present business, as evidenced by the volume of production, the universality of employment, bank clearings, car loadings and other indices of commerce, is in large volume, and apparently in no need of stimulus. The general average price level is somewhat higher and shows a rising tendency. There is a very active speculation in stocks and in land, not only in Florida and along the New Jersey coast, but throughout the United States. There has been an enormous and unprecedented increase in the volume of installment buying.

"This was a new feature in the situation, which might prove harmless, but which has potentialities of danger. This buying has been going on, not only in automobiles and radio apparatus, but has extended to house furnishings and various other things of general consumption.

"A survey recently made in a large Eastern city had shown that the volume of installment accounts outstanding in the department stores of that city was 30% greater in May last year than in the same month of the previous year, 35% greater in June, 38% in July, 42% in August and 78% in September.

Two Possible Dangers.

"There are at least two possible dangers in this business. First, it indicates that consumers are largely anticipating their requirements for six months or a year ahead, and are carrying only partly paid-for goods, goods that under former conditions would still have been in the hands of either manufacturers, jobbers or retailers. Secondly, because any extensive unemployment or reduction in wages might make it impossible for many of these purchasers to continue their installment payments.

"It is not one of the functions of a Federal Reserve Bank to determine whether prices of either stocks or commodities are too high or too low, or to make any effort to raise or lower such prices. It was never the intention of Congress to give any such power to the System. It would be a very dangerous power to put in the hands of any man or group of men, no matter how wise or altruistic they might be.

"It is a power which the American people would never be willing to intrust to any board or commission, and it is safe to say that it is a power which the Federal Reserve banks will never attempt to exercise.

"Neither are the operations of the stock market the concern of the Federal Reserve System, except when the stock market is absorbing credit that is needed in general business, as was the case in the fall of 1919, or when the activity of the market and the rapid advance of many stocks threatened to breed a speculative fever which is liable to spread to commodities.

Duty to Maintain Caution.

"In such cases, it seems to be the duty of those charged with the responsibility of administering the System to see to it that the price of Federal Reserve credit is not made so low as to encourage that tendency."

In his review of the situation that presented itself to the directors of the Philadelphia Reserve Bank last week, Mr. Norris showed that between June 18 1924 and Nov. 16 1925 the gold holdings of the bank had been reduced $39,000,000. There had been an increase of nearly $24,000,000 in the amount of bills discounted for member banks, and of more than $11,000,000 in the holdings of acceptances. These changes had reduced the reserve ratio of the bank from 85.10 to 75.68%.

"These changes," he said, "were material and significant, but the reserve position was still so strong that, while the changes themselves might be said to justify an increase in the discount rate, they could hardly be regarded as requiring such an increase."

Relation of Discount Rates.

The second class of considerations viewed by the directors was the relation of discount rates to other rates. These showed that in 17 months the rate on commercial paper had advanced from 3¾ to 4, to 4¼ to 4½%; the rate on bankers' acceptances from 2¼ to 3¼ and 3½%; the rate on New York call loans from 2 to 4½ and 5%, and the rate on time loans from 3 to 4¾ and 5%.

"The 3½% discount rate, when it was established," he said, "was therefore a shade below the rate on commercial paper, but 1¼% above the rate on bankers' acceptances."

Mr. Norris called attention to the fact that in the United States it is almost impossible to find a rate for money at a given time, the same as in England and other countries, but that the two rates most directly affecting Federal Reserve bank operations are those on commercial paper and bankers' acceptances.

Inflation, he termed a broad subject, one on which no one has yet been able to develop a phrase acceptable to all. He defined inflation as "extension of credit and currency beyond the legitimate needs of current business." He emphasized the fact that many persons underrated the importance of the operations of the Federal Reserve System, while many more overrated their importance.

Reserve Banks Good Standing.

"The discount rate of the Reserve banks affect directly less than one-sixth of the banks of the United States," he said. "On the other hand, the Reserve banks, with their 200 or more officers and directors, and their unequaled opportunities for knowing the real economic and financial conditions of the whole country, have come to be recognized as financial guides, not infallible, but certainly worth watching."

While the primary responsibility was as custodians of the ultimate banking reserves of the country, the speaker called attentjon to the fact that the Federal Reserve banks were charged with the further duty of accommodating commerce and business by assuring the avilability of currency and credit. This carried with it, he said, the collateral duty of seeing to it that credit expansion, necessary and proper in a period of business expansion, should not degenerate into credit inflation in a period of speculative activity.

Supreme Court Claimed to Have Upheld Federal Reserve Regulations for Par Collections of Checks.

The United States Supreme Court on Wednesday, Nov. 25, upheld the regulations of the Federal Reserve Board prohibiting national banks and non-member clearing banks from charging exchange on checks for collection, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington, which follows:

The regulations issued by the Federal Reserve Board prohibitng national banks and non-member clearing banks from charging exchange on checks drawn upon them and forwarded through Federal Reserve banks for collection, and the law under which the action was taken, were in effect sustained to-day by the Supreme Court.

The par clearance controversy came before the Court in an appeal by the Pascagoula National Bank of Moss Point and Pascagoula, Miss., which was refused an injunction by the United States Court for Northern Georgia, where it first challenged the constitutionality of the law and the regulations under which the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta required it to remit in full on checks drawn upon it.

Counsel for the Pascagoula bank was frequently interrupted from the bench as he presented his oral argument, the members of the Court plainly showing their inability to support his contentions that the law and regulations took property from his client without compensation.

When he had completed his argument, Chief Justice Taft, after a hasty conference with his associates, announced that it would not be necessary for the Atlanta bank to present any argument in defense of the statute of the regulation. The effect of this announcement, under the practice of the Court, will be to bring a dismissal of the appeal, thus giving full effect to the decision of the Georgia court.

Attempts by the Pascagoula bank's attorney to discuss the operation of the Federal Reserve System, particularly the relations which he thought should be maintained between it and national banks, were cut short, members of the Court bringing the argument back each time to constitutional ground with their questions.

National banks, under the Federal Reserve System, he insisted, had surrendered all their inherent rights but retained a constitutional power to require compensation for services rendered, and coudl not be compelled to bear all the expense of forwarding remittances to pay checks drawn upon them.

The principal purpose of the contested provision of law and the regulations was to enable the Federal Reserve banks to build up reserves, he asserted, estimating that national banks throughout the country were deprived of about $125,000,000 a year which they would otherwise collect as exchange charges.

New United States Treasury Issue Coming—Announcement by Federal Reserve Bank.

Benjamin J. Strong, Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, announced on Tuesday that a Treasury issue was coming but did not discuss the approximate date or amount in his notice. Transmitting an official Treasury notice to the financial institutions in the Second Federal Reserve District, Governor Strong called attention to ths provisions as follows:

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OF NEW YORK.
Government Bond Department.
[Circular No. 699—Nov. 24 1925.]

United States Treasury Solicits Offerings of Third Liberty Loan Bonds.

Secretary Mellon announced at Washington on Thursday (Nov. 26) a new policy under which holders of Third Liberty Loan bonds will have opportunity to sell them direct to the Treasury, thereby saving commission charges to both sellers and the Treasury. In making his announcement Secretary Mellon stated that it was planned to purchase $50,000,000 worth of these bonds next month. The transactions will be handled through banks or trust companies, which in turn will deal with the Federal Reserve banks as official agents of the Treasury. The following is the circular issued by Secretary Mellon in connection with the matter:

PURCHASE OF THIRD LIBERTY LOAN 4¼% BONDS FOR THE CUMULATIVE SINKING FUND.

1925 Treasury Department,
Department Circular No. 363 Office of the Secretary, Public Debt Washington, November 27 1925.

To Holders of Third Liberty Loan 4¼% Bonds, and Others Concerned;

The Treasury will purchase Third Liberty Loan bonds for account of the cumulative sinking fund, and solicits proposals for sale of such bonds to the Treasury. Purchase will be made of $50,000,000, or thereabouts, of Third Liberty Loan bonds, at the lowest prices offered, if at or below the price of 101½ and accrued interest. Proposals must be presented to the Federal Reserve Banks by Dec. 10, 1925, and payment will be made on Dec. 29 1925 for all bonds delivered in accordance with accepted proposals.

All transactions in connection with the proposals for sale, the delivery of bonds and payment therefor should be handled through banks or trust companies, which will act as agents for the owners of the bonds. The banks and trust companies will deal with Federal Reserve banks, which are the only official agencies of the United States in these transactions.

Proposals must be in writing, and must reach a Federal Reserve Bank before the close of business on Dec. 10 1925. (See form on reverse side [circular].) All proposals not received at Federal Reserve Banks by the close of business Dec. 10 1925 will be rejected. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject or accept in whole or in part any and all proposals, and his action in this respect shall be final. All proposals not accepted by Dec. 19 1925 (due time allowance being made for postal notification to the contrary) shall be considered as rejected.

Upon the acceptance of any proposal by the Secretary of the Treasury, the banking institution which forwarded such proposal will be notified by the Federal Reserve bank of such acceptance and will thereupon transmit the Third Liberty Loan bonds described in the proposal, at the seller's own expense and risk, to the Federal Reserve Bank. All bonds to be surrendered for purchase must reach the Federal Reserve Bank on or before Dec. 21 1925, and the Federal Reserve Bank on Dec. 29 1925 will pay therefor at the accepted proposal price. If not received by the Federal Reserve until after Dec. 21 1925, the bonds may, in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, be rejected. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject in whole or in part any and all bonds, and his action in this respect shall be final.

All coupon bonds of the Third Liberty Loan presented for sale to the United States in accordance with accepted proposals should have the interest coupon due March 15, 1926 and interest coupons due subsequent thereto, attached. All registered bonds of the Third Liberty Loan presented for sale to the United States in accordance with accepted proposals must be duly assigned to "The Secretary of the Treasury for Redemption," in accordance with the general regulations of the Treasury Department governing assignments. Bonds registered in the names of minors or incompetents will not be accepted unless accompanied by a certificate of court of competent jurisdiction showing that the preson assigning such bonds has authority to so assign.

Any further information which may be desired may be obtained from any Federal Reserve bank.

A. W. MELLON, Secretary of the Treasury.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York has also issued a circular directing attention to the matter. This reads:

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OF NEW YORK.
Securities Department.
[Circular No. 700, Nov. 27 1925.]
$50,000,000 (or thereabouts)

Purchase of Third Liberty Loan 4¼% Bonds for the cumulative sinking fund

To all Banks, Trust Companies, Savings Banks, Bankers, Investment Dealers, Principal Corporations and Others Concerned in the Second Federal Reserve District;

According to an announcement made public to-day, the Treasury will purchase $50,000,000, or thereabouts, of Third Liberty Loan 4¼% bonds of 1928, at the lowest prices offered, if at or below the price of 101½ and accrued interest. In announcing this purchase Seretary Mellon made the following statement:

"From time to time the Treasury makes purchases for the cumulative sinking fund on the market or through brokers. It is proposed to determine the feasibility of making such purchases, in part at least, directly from the holders and thus to give all holders of Third Liberty Loan bonds the opportunity to sell with the understanding that the lowest offers may be accepted within the limits stated below. This procedure will save commission charges to the sellers and to the Treasury.

"The Treasury now solicits from all holders of Third Liberty Loan bonds proposals to sell these bonds. From the lowest proposals received the Treasury expects to purchase Third Liberty Loan bonds to an aggregate amount of $50,000,000, or thereabouts, if offered below or at 101½ and accrued interest. All proposals should be handled through a bank or trust company, who will deal with the Federal Reserve banks, which are the official agencies for the Treasury in these transactions. Proposals must be received by a Federal Reserve bank not later than Dec. 10 1925. Payment for the bonds accepted will be made on Dec. 29 1925.

"The Treasury reserves the right to reject any or all proposals."

As all proposals for this sale of Third Liberty Loan bonds must be in writing, sellers are requested to use form P. D. 941 appearing on the reserve side of Department Circular 363 containing the provisions governing the purchase. A supply is enclosed herewith, and additional copies, if necessary, will be furnished upon request.

Very truly yours,
BENJ. STRONG. Governor.

The Tax Revision Bill in Congress—Rapid Progress.

It is expected that the tax revision bill on which the House Ways and Means Committee has practically completed its work, will be ready for final approval by the full committee on Dec. 2. Chairman Green says that "if possible the bill will be taken up at once for consideration on Tuesday, Dec. 8, but in any event unanimous consent will be asked to dispose of the regular business and take up the bill on calendar Wednesday, Dec. 9. It is believed unanimous consent will be given to conclude the general debate by Saturday of the same week. So far as I can see, there is no reason why the bill cannot be read in full and passed during the next week, and I do not think this would take more than four days, making the final vote come Dec. 17." It is thought probable that Democrats and Republicans will work together harmoniously and that the bill will pass the House as scheduled. Already, however, plans are being laid for opposition to the bill in the Senate. According to his present idea, Senator Smoot, Chairman of the Finance Committee, proposes to start hearings on the bill about Jan. 5 and continue them for a week or ten days. The Senator says he opposes undue delay in the hearings or on the floor, but he will be hard pressed to prevent Senators who want "more time to hear testimony," or "time to deliberate," from enforcing their demands. A recent telegram stated that Senator Reed of Missouri intended to discuss the tax bill "fully."

Final action was taken on Nov. 23 on the new tax revision bill and the House Ways and Means Committee, after approving numerous recommendations of sub-committees relative to administrative provisions of the law, voted unanimously to authorize Chairman Green to report the bill to the House on the first day of the opening session. According to revised estimates by Jos. S. McCoy, Treasury Actuary, the revenue losses under the new tax bill as completed by the House Ways and Means Committee will amount to $336,236,000. The Treasury estimates point to a surplus of about $350,000,000 for the fiscal year 1926, which is about $60,000,000 greater than the total given by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon when he advised the Committee not to reduce taxes by more than $250,000,000 to $300,000,000. The detailed estimates of a $336,236,000 tax cut and a corresponding revenue decrease for the year 1926 furnished by Mr. McCoy to the committee follow:

Personal Taxes.
Income and surtaxes	$193,575,000
Estate tax	20,000,000
Gift tax	2,000,000
		$215,575,000
Cigars	$12,000,000
Alcohol	4,000,000
		16,000,000
Excise Taxes.
Auto trucks	$9,000,000
Passenger cars, motorcycles	46,400,000
Tires and parts	25,000,000
Cameras	700,000
Films, plates	750,000
Firearms, ammunition	3,850,000
Cigar holders, &c	50,000
Slot machines	650,000
Mah jongg	1,000
Art works	650,000
Jewelry	8,000,000
Occupational Taxes.
Brokers	$2,000,000
Billiards, bowling	2,100,000
Shooting galleries	16,000
Riding academies	12,000
Autos for hire	1,750,000
Tobacco manufacturers	1,120,000
Yacht use	300,000
Opium dispensers	312,000
		7,610,000
Stamp tax, deeds and conveyances		2,000,000
Total		$336,236,000

The $20,000,000 estate tax loss figured by Mr. McCoy is due almost entirely to the retroactive action of the committee in making estates paying taxes under the 1924 rates benefit by the 1921 rates, with an added credit of 25% for inheritance taxes paid to the States. The new estate rates to go into effect in 1926 will not reflect a loss for a year.

Although the report of the committee was unanimous, any member may file a minority report. Representatives Rainey (Democrat, Illinois) and Hull (Democrat, Tennessee) are among those who will present minority views. They will urge the complete elimination of all excise taxes and will criticize the general structure of the present bill. The tax on automobiles, now fixed at 3% on passenger cars instead of 5, will furnish a bone of contention. Representative Rainey's views are outlined further below. Representative Garner (Tennessee), ranking Democrat of the Committee, is not satisfied with the exemption of $3,500 obtained for married men. He insists all incomes of $5,000 or under should be exempted from taxation.

"I contend," said Mr. Garner, "that wealth cannot be assembled by a married man with an income of $5,000 or less, and I would be willing to leave that question to any jury." In the new bill, the normal rates will be 1½% on the first $4,000 of income, 3% on the next $4,000 and 5% on the balance. All taxpayers will pay at this rate. Earned income is exempted up to $20,000. The new surtax rates begin at incomes of $42,000, the old rates remaining below that sum. It follows the rates will be 1% on incomes of $10,000 to $14,000, incomes under $10,000 not being subject to the surtax. The maximum rate is 20%, and a man with a $100,000 income will pay $12,360, as compared with $17,020 under the present law, and a man with an income of $70,000 will pay $6,670, as compared with $7,780 under the present rates. Effects of the reduced tax rates carried by the bill will be felt immediately upon its enactment. Income taxes alone would be cut by $193,575,000 under the Committee program, and the revised rates would be effective on incomes of the calendar year. The Congressional leaders plan to have the bill enacted by March 1. The first installment of income taxes falls due March 15.

The Committee will meet again on Dec. 2, when it is expected that printed copies of the completed bill will be available. Incorporated in the new revenue bill is the provision for a special commission to make investigation of the taxation system of the United States. The following with regard to that point is from the New York "Herald Tribune's" Washington Bureau under date of Nov. 23:

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon welcomes the plan of the Ways and Means Committee of the House which will be incorporated in the new revenue bill to provide for a special commission of 15 to make a sweeping investigation of the taxation system of the United States. There is every prospect that the matter will be approved by Congress and that a commission to be appointed by the President consisting of five Senators, five Representatives and five tax experts will begin work on the big undertaking in the near future.

The fact that the Treasury is eliminated from the commission concerns Secretary Mellon not at all. Inasmuch as the proposal concerns chiefly the legislative function of the tax problem, the Secretary said to-day that he thought it might result ultimately in great good to the country.

One matter which Secretary Mellon thinks should be given attention is the question of compromising cases wherein taxpayers are insolvent. As the law stands to-day, if the Government proceeds literally against insolvent taxpayers their financial ruin usually is complete.

On Nov. 25 Representative Rainey of Illinois came out with a statement announcing that he proposed to lead a fight in the House to make drastic changes in the measure. Mr. Rainey's views are diametrically opposed to tax principles laid down by Representative Garner, the ranking Democrat of the committee, and are against the compromises made by Mr. Garner with the Republicans for the sake of harmony. Mr. Rainey wants the personal exemptions to remain as they are, the estate taxes to stay at a maximum of 40%, the surtax to be fixed at a maximum of 25%, the earned income limit to be retained at $10,000, and the retroactive action in applying 1921 rates to estates falling under 1924 schedules to be stricken out of the bill. His statement follows:

The bill is non-partisan in its commendable features, which are many, and in its bad features, which in my judgment are serious. There is, however, a chance to amend it on the floor. We have raised the exemptions and have relieved nearly 2,000,000 taxpayers of the payment of $5 or $6 each in income taxes per year—a relief which they did not ask and did not want—and we have relieved less than 4,000 men of the payment of $100,000,000 in taxes every year—a greater relief than they asked for or expected. Forty-two men in the United States have been relieved of $20,000,000 in taxes per year, and we call this result "trading" and "balancing."

If this was a "trade" it is not difficult to see who got the better of it. To relieve 2,000,000 men of a conscious contribution which they were perfectly willing to make of $5 or $6 each per year is dangerous indeed from an economic standpoint. It leads in the direction of old-age pensions, widows' pensions, unemployment pensions, subsidies to industries in order to enable them to pay a better wage, &c.

We have raised the earned income allowances so as to apply to incomes of $20,000 a year, an unexpected gratuity. We have made the reduced estate taxes retroactive in 1924, relieving the estates of persons now deceased of the payment of $20,000,000 within the next twelve months into the Treasury of the United States—an unexpected gratuity.

If we had stopped the surtax rate at 25% and had permitted the very satisfactory exemptions to remain where they now are, and if we had not made the estate tax retroactive, and had permitted the earned income allowance to remain as it now is, we would have had sixty or seventy million dollars to apply to the relief of the taxpayers who are really burdened and who really carry on the industries of the country, to wit: Those who pay on incomes of between $25,000 a year and $70,000 a year. These taxpayers will never know there has been a reduction in the income tax rate, and they constitute that class which expected it most and which need it most.

The Rich Get the Most.

The elimination of estate taxes points in the direction of the complete destruction of this kind of taxes. The war between the States, led by Florida, anxious to furnish a refuge safe from taxation for the very rich, will go merrily on. The men of large incomes get more out of this bill than in their wildest dreams they ever expected. We are generous indeed in the bill to this class of our citizens. We gave them a maximum surtax rate of 20% when they were only asking for a maximum rate of 25%.

We have repealed the publicity provisions so that the public cannot tell how fast the number of men who receive incomes of $1,000,000 a year and over is increasing, and we have relieved their estates after they die from taxes. We have reduced the taxes on grain alcohol 50%, losing revenue variously estimated at from $4,000,000 to $8,000,000 per year.

This made it necessary to retain the stamp taxes on conveyances to the amount of $1,500,000. We could have completely eliminated this nuisance tax and the "washed" sales fraud which goes with it, and we could have taken the taxes off of the sales of farm products on exchanges, and we could still have had some millions of dollars left if we had permitted the alcohol tax to remain where it was.

There was no substantial reason for this reduction. This reduction will make cheaper and better material for bootleggers and their customers. But if the bootleggers and the multimillionaries are satisfied with this bill, those of us who do not belong to these favored classes ought, I presume, to be also satisfied.

The bill is a serious assault on our system of graduated income and estate taxes, and points in the direction of more sales taxes in the future. It perpetuates indefinitely the war taxes. In a very considerable measure it is merely a revamped war tax bill. It makes more difficult of realization the hope of a reduction in those most oppressive taxes of all—the tariff taxes.

The Anthracite Strike—Apparent Purpose of President Lewis of the United Mine Workers to Involve the Soft Coal Mines—His Letter to President Coolidge.

John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers of America, sent a letter on Nov. 21 to President Coolidge, charging violation of the Jacksonville wage agreement on the part of various large producers of soft coal. He asks the President whether, if Federal intervention is refused, the miners may not believe "that their own efforts in that direction may be considered as being justified"? Asked what he meant by "their own efforts in that direction," his reply was, "The letter is all." The belief is general that the letter was meant to covey a convert threat of a strike in the bituminous regions in addition to that in the anthracite fields. The so-called Jacksonville agreement continued war-time wages and working conditions in the union soft coal fields of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania for three years from April 1 1924. This territory is known as the central competitive field. The "Wall Street Journal" in its issue of Nov. 24 explained the circumstances under which the Jacksonville agreement was signed, and why it proved ineffective, as follows:

The bone of contention of the bituminous coal industry—the Jacksonville agreement—consists of 170 words written Feb. 14 1924 by a joint committee representing miners and operators of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania and calling for continuation of wages and conditions for three years from April 1 1924. Text of the agreement follows:

"This joint conference of operators and miners of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania, as now constituted, hereby reaffirms the wage scale contracts now existing between the United Mine Workers of America and the coal operators whose interests are represented in this conference, and hereby extends the same for a period of three years, from April 1 1924 to March 31 1927, in all of its terms, provisions and conditions. It is understood that the execution of this inter-State agreement extends, without further negotiations, the district and sub-district agreements now in effect in the districts affected.

"That an inter-State joint conference of the central competitive field shall assemble the second Monday in February 1927 at Miami, Fla., and the President of the United Mine Workers of America and the Chairman of this joint inter-State conference are authorized and instructed to send out notices at the proper time as to the assembling of the conference."

Companies Have Own Agreements.

Signing of the national agreement at Jacksonville was followed by the signing of similar agreements, but including local details, by district and sub-district union officials and the various coal-producing companies throughout the four States.

An example of these district agreements is that entered into by officers of District No. 17 and the Northern West Virginia Coal Operators' Association in Baltimore, March 28 1924. This included the Consolidation Coal Co., second largest independent coal mining company in the country. While section 6 of that agreement provided: "All workmen eligible for membership, employed in and around the coal mines or coke ovens, shall be members of the United Mine Workers of America," the agreement was signed "on behalf of the miners" by 24 local union members collectively for their fellow union members.

Mining companies struggled along under this contract with its $7 50 a day mining rate, which required a price of coal too high to permit competition with coal produced by non-union hands at a much lower wage rate. Non-union production consequently took a jump, until in the first quarter of this year Pittsburgh Coal and Consolidation Coal companies closed down all operations in preference to selling coal at a loss.

Who Broke the Contract?

Contention of John L. Lewis has been that subsequently the operators resumed mining after ignoring the agreement by announcing a lower wage scale, and on this C. W. Watson, President of the Consolidation Coal Co., replied to John L. Lewis last summer at the request of John D. Rockefeller Jr., a large stockholder in that company, thus:

"Eleven hundred employees have left Consolidation Coal Co., of whom a large number are now working for its competitors on reduced wages, while still continuing to occupy our houses. In addition, numbers of Consolidation employees, who have been either unemployed or partially employed for many months, are continually appealing to us for work under the same terms which are offered by our competitors and accepted by other union employees."

With appeals of such employees before it, the company resumed operations. "The duly elected district officials were supplanted by personal representatives of the President of the national organization and local autonomy and control suspended," Mr. Watson said, emphasizing that the district officials who made the contract were retired and the men those officials represented abrogated the agreement entered into on their behalf by applying for work at lower than agreed wage rates.

Lewis's Last Stand.

Willingness of many of its members to work for wage rates more than 30% lower than those provided by the Jacksonville agreement caused a sharp decline in the United Mine Workers' ranks which it has been impossible to stop. Unless the union succeeds in enforcing the agreement, its power is seriously threatened and, with this in mind, Lewis addressed an appeal to President Coolidge.

If the United States Army were placed at the service of the miners' union, a shutdown of all operations would have to be again ordered by the larger companies because they would be unable to sell coal mined at union wage rates in competition with non-union coal.

With winter and active industrial consumption ahead, and anthracite mines closed, it is the logical time for the miners' union to ask the Government for help, and, failing there, to call a strike, unless its leaders consider the fact that well over half the present soft coal production comes from non-union mines which offers an obstacle to success in that direction.

Mr. Lewis's letter to President Coolidge was as follows:

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 21 1925.

The President, White House.

Sir:—In February 1924 the operators and miners of the central competitive bituminous coal fields consummated a wage agreement designed to expire by limitation on March 31 1927. With this instrument as a base supplemental agreements of similar nature were executed between operators and miners in contiguous and outlying coal districts. The accomplishment met with general public approval, as the agreement gave promise of security and advantage to the public with respect to the factors of continuous supply and price. Agencies of the Federal Government co-operated in making possible the agreement, the Department of Justice, Commerce and Labor participating.

Cites Commerce Report.

The twelfth annual report of the Secretary of Commerce for the fiscal year ended June 30 1924, at pages 13 and 14, states as follows:

"Through co-operation by the department with the unionized operators and with the leaders of the United Mine Workers a long-term agreement has been entered upon which insures industrial peace in the industry. * * * The industry is now on the road to stabilization. * * * No better example of co-operation to secure the elimination of national waste can be presented. The past year, as compared to the year 1920, shows a saving to the consumer of about $1,000,000,000, which must be reflected in decreasing costs of production in every avenue of industry and commerce."

Without question, the foregoing declaration of accomplishment by the Federal Government in the public interest was heartily approved by every thoughtful citizen.

Notwithstanding the acknowledged virtue of the before-mentioned cotract, I am compelled to authoritatively advise you that substantial coal-producing interests, signatories to the arrangement, have violated and repudiated their written word of honor and in so doing have impaired the integrity of the wage structure throughout the entire bituminous industry. Among the coal companies thus trampling upon and dishonoring their wage agreements with the mine workers are four of the largest coal-producing groups in the nation, viz.: the Pittsburgh Coal Co., the Consolidation Coal Co., the Bethlehem Mines Corp. and the coal interest of the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburgh RR., their several operations being located in northern West Virginia, Ohio and the central and western Pennsylvania coal fields.

To attain their unmoral objective these companies, and certain others of lesser consequence, have utilized coercive and oppressive methods. Their actions have been destructive of all confidence between employer and employee and constitute an unwarranted, indefensible blow at the universally recognized principle of collective bargaining. The savage and dishonest acts of the before-mentioned group has added to the burden of those honest coal operators who desire in every particular to operate in accordance with their wage agreements. The most full information as affecting the representations which I make is available in the Departments of Commerce and Labor.

Request for Intervention.

The Federal Government upon occasion, and from time to time, has intervened in the coal industry. Not alone the operators but the miners have felt the weight of its influence and regulated their policies accordingly. In all respect, the mine workers now inquire whether the Federal Government desires to intervene to maintain the morality and integrity of the existing agreement in the bituminous coal industry.

If it should occur that the Federal Government is disposed not to intervene for the protection of a meritorious wage agreement, might the mine workers believe that their own efforts in that direction may be considered as justified?

Respectfully,

Members of the Anthracite Operators Conference regard the Lewis letter as clarifying what they said had been a dual situation existing from the outset of the present anthracite wage controversy. One operator member said:

This confirms our contention and illuminates a belief we have held from the beginning, that we were the victims of an attempt on the part of the United Mine Workers to uphold the Jacksonville agreement in the bituminous fields. Mr. Lewis informed us in 1922 that we could not hope to settle the anthracite strike until the bituminous coal strike was out of the way. Under slightly changed circumstances, there being no soft coal strike now, we are again at the mercy of union difficulties in the bituminous fields.

On Monday, Nov. 23, J. Aloui Markle, Chairman of the joint committee of the "Anthracite Operators' Negotiation Committee" and the "General Wage Committee," of the miners, invited Mr. Lewis to a conference with him at the Union League in Philadelphia and this was said to be the latest move towards bringing the operators and miners to joint conference. When the joint conference held at Atlantic City July 9 to Aug. 4—which ended in a deadlock—adjourned sine die, at which conference Mr. Markle presided, it was understood that if either side wished to reopen negotiations, the Chairman, Mr. Markle, would call a new conference.

In an open letter sent on Nov. 23 to President Coolidge, John E. Edgerton, President of the National Association of Manufacturers, strongly opposed the demand made by John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers, that the Government intervene in the bituminous coal industry. Following is the text of the letter:

Honorable Calvin Coolidge, White House, Washington, D. C.;

Dear Mr. President:—We have read with great interest in the press the letter sent you by John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers of America, requesting your intervention in the bituminous coal industry of the country.

Only recently Mr. Lewis stated that the domestic consumers of anthracite coal, many of whom are employed by members of this Association, are living in "a fool's paradise." We respectfully submit that the very evident purpose of the United Mine Workers is to secure a monopoly of both anthracite and bituminous coal production.

The attempt to control the bituminous output is commonly believed to be part of an understanding between the union and the bituminous operators who sign union contracts that the union will eliminate competition from all independent fields.

Your predecessor, Mr. Harding, said in 1922, referring to the bituminous fields:

"Except for such coal as comes from the districts worked by non-organized mines, the country is at the mercy of the United Mine Workers."

The production costs in the union fields have since mounted so high that they have been unable to retain, in competition with the independent fields, many of their former markets.

Mr. Lewis now plainly indicates that the United Mine Workers is willing to use its "own efforts" to regain and intensify the control of which Mr. Harding spoke.

The National Association of Manufacturers has for many months through a special committee, urged manufacturers not to overlook the independent coal fields in placing their orders for bituminous coal.

In our opinion the maintenance of a dependable and reliable source of coal for domestic and manufacturing use promotes both industrial and public welfare, the right of the public to a supply of fuel being superior to any alleged rights of operators, miners or any other group.

We submit that if the United Mine Workers now calls a strike in the unionized bituminous fields that manufacturers will be forced, in self-protection, to carefully consider the advisability of placing any future orders for coal from fields which cannot be depended upon as reliable sources of supply.

We are hopeful that you will not accede to the request for Government intervention in the soft coal fields of the country, but will instead strongly affirm the interest of the Government in uninterrupted fuel production. We believe that the primary reason for the request for such intervention is a conviction that it can be used to bolster an uneconomic wage agreement and to enable the union to prevent growing competition from independent fields, which were never parties in any way to the above agreement.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN E. EDGERTON, President.

On Tuesday Nov. 24, President Coolidge acknowledged receipt of the miners' union complaint in a letter to John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers, at Philadelphia, in which the President stated that he would make full reply after study of the charges. According to a special dispatch to the New York "Herald Tribune," John L. Lewis places responsibility for the continuance of the strike, now in its thirteenth week, upon the shoulders of the anthracite operators. Referring to the secret conference held on Nov. 23, between Mr. Lewis and J. A. Markle, Chairman of the joint committee of the anthracite operators and the General Wage Committee, Mr. Lewis reiterated that he "had made overtures for a resumption of negotiations, but that they had been passed by the mine owners unheeded."

Chambers of commerce from all cities and towns in the anthracite region met in session at Scranton on Nov. 24 in a movement to settle the coal strike and it was hoped that some plans might be devised by which the operators and unions could get together and sign a peace pact. With the exception of a brief statement, nothing was given out at the conclusion of the meeting. This statement said:

A meeting was held this afternoon in Scranton by representatives of various chambers of commerce of the anthracite region to discuss the anthracite situation.

Ralph E. Weeks, E. J. Lynett and R. A. Amerman, constituting a special committee to act as Scranton Chamber of Commerce mediators, reported their efforts to date.

After a thorough deliberation the Scranton committee was instructed to formulate some practical method by which a resumption of conferences between miners and operators could be negotiated.

Depletion Reserve, When Distributed, Taxable Under the Income Tax Law—United States Supreme Court, 5 to 4, Upholds Income Levy on Phelps-Dodge 1917 Extra Distribution.

In a 5-to-4 decision handed down on Nov. 23 in the Douglas tax case the United States Supreme Court, holding that shareholders of the Phelps-Dodge Corp. of New York must pay income taxes on the extra distribution of 1917, laid down the principle that such a distribution from a "depletion reserve" must be regarded as income and taxable as such and not construed as a "capital return," exempt from taxation, as contended by the defendant. The opinion was by Associate Justice Brandeis, whose views were concurred in by Chief Justice Taft and Associate Justices Holmes, Sanford and Stone. Associate Justices Vandevanter, McReynolds, Sutherland and Butler dissented. The case was brought on behalf of the Government by William H. Edwards, Collector of Internal Revenue, to enforce collection of income tax on the estate of the late Dr. James Douglas of New York City. The amount of the tax involved was $173,579.72, which the Treasury Department imposed upon the sum of $328,400, representing the amount of two cash dividends declared by the Phelps-Dodge Corp., which is engaged in the business of mining copper and coal, and paid to Dr. Douglas in 1917. Dr. Douglas paid the tax under protest. The decree of the District Court in New York upholding the amount of tax assessed was sustained by the Supreme Court, which reversed the judgment of the Circuit Court of Appeals. In the majority opinion Justice Brandeis said:

"Ordinarily an income tax is laid upon all income actually received during the taxable year and the tax is payable at the rate of the year in which it is received, although none of the income may have been earned by the taxpayer during the year, or, where the income consists of dividends, although the corporation may not have earned in that year any part of the profits of which the dividend is a distribution."

Justice Brandeis, declaring that Congress had the special aim of making the war profits pay the high war taxes, said further:

"To this end it was essential that the law should, in determining the applicable tax rate, disregard any declaration of the corporation as to what year's profits were being distributed. Not only was it essential that every such declaration of the corporation should be disregarded, but also that the dividend should not thereupon be deemed to have been paid from the profits of the earliest year of which there remained accumulated profits available for distribution.

"To accomplish the purpose of Congress it was necessary that the dividend be deemed to have been paid out of the available profits or earnings of the most recent year or years. Its intention so to provide was adequately expressed by the use of the phrase 'most recently accumulated' in connection with the words 'undivided profits or surplus.' As, in the case at bar, there were profits of the year 1917 ample to cover all dividends, those here in suit must be deemed to have been paid therefrom."

The case was heard by the Supreme Court on April 17, when the court permitted the filing of several briefs by lawyers interested in similar proceedings. Apparently because of the closeness of the issues involved the Supreme Court during the past month granted the extraordinary privilege to the taxpayer and other counsel to file supplementary briefs while the case was under consideration. Reply briefs also were filed by the Government.

Appeal of "Bankers' and Brokers' Committee" of the United Hospital Fund.

The usual appeal is being made by the "Bankers' and Brokers' Committee" of the United Hospital Fund of New York for contributions from bankers and brokers of Greater New York to the forty-seventh annual collection for the 57 non-municipal hospitals which are members of the fund. All auxiliaries are going to make a special effort to bring the total collection for this year up to $1,000,000. Ecker, President of the Chamber of Commerce; Lucius R. Eastman, President of the Merchants' Association; Otto R. Bannard, Arthur Curtiss James, Edwin P. Maynard, James Speyer and Henry J. Fisher, President of the fund.

The committee consists of 100 well-known bankers and brokers, who are trustees or directors of one or more of the 57 hospitals, with James Speyer, Chairman, and Walter E. Frew, Associate Chairman. ITEMS ABOUT BANKS, TRUST COMPANIES, &C.

The New York Stock Exchange membership of Jacob Field was reported posted for transfer to Irving H. Bernstein, the consideration being stated as $152,000, a new high record price. The last previous sale was for $150,000.

At a regular meeting of the executive committee of the National City Bank of New York Horace O. Westman was appointed an Assistant Cashier.

C. Stanley Mitchell, President of the Central Mercantile Bank of this city, announces the opening of a second branch bank at the corner of Varick and Spring streets. The new branch will probably be opened about Jan. 15 1926. The last statement of the Central Mercantile Bank showed total resources of about $25,000,000, a noteworthy achievement when it is recalled that eighteen months ago the total resources were only three million dollars.

The new bank for Greenwich Village, which has been organized by James J. Riordan, formerly President of the United States Trucking Corporation, under the title of the New York County Trust Co. (reference to which was made in our issue of July 4, page 38, and subsequent issues) will open for business on Jan. 15 next, according to the New York "World" of Nov. 22. Mr. Riordan and his attorneys, it is said, have voluntarily consented to modify the new bank's name and call it the County Trust Co. of New York. As noted in these columns Aug. 22, suit was brought by the New York Trust Co. in the State Supreme Court on Aug. 18 to restrain the use of the name "New York County Trust Co." by the organizers of the latter, the plaintiff contending that the similarity in titles was likely to lead to the confusing of the one institution with the other. This suit was decided in favor of Mr. Riordan and his associates, it is said, as was also a subsequent appeal to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. The new bank will begin business at Eighth Avenue and 15th Street, in a new building, occupying the three lower floors of a six-story structure. It was originally intended to have the institution capitalized at $500,000 with surplus of $250,000. Now, however, according to the "World," it has been decided to increase the capital to $1,000,000 and the surplus to $500,000.

The Seventh National Bank of New York received this week from the Comptroller of the Currency in Washington official authorization to issue the additional 4,000 shares representing stock recently sold and now fully paid in. The progress of this bank during the past year is indicated by the fact that it has to-day a capital of $1,000,000 and resources of more than $8,000,000.

Application to organize a new bank in this city under the title of the Prudential National Bank of New York, with capital of $200,000, was received by the Comptroller of the Currency on Nov. 19. Edward Polak, 1932 Arthur Avenue, the Bronx, is correspondent.

William M. Spackman, a Vice-President of the Bowery Savings Bank of this city and former Secretary to J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, died on Nov. 18 at his residence, 820 Madison Avenue. Mr. Spackman was at one time in the employ of the Mexican Government and also of other railroads. He served as Vice-President of the Bowery Savings Bank from 1908 to 1918 and from 1920 to his death.

Stockholders of the People's Trust Co. of Brooklyn will meet on Dec. 9 to vote on a proposed increase in the bank's capital from $1,600,000 to $2,000,000, decided upon by the directors at a meeting held Nov. 18. Charles A. Boody, President of the institution, explained in a letter to the stockholders that the increase was to meet the expanding needs of the bank. Rights to subscribe to the new stock will be issued at the rate of one new share for each four shares now held, the subscription price to be $200. The rights at present are selling at about $150 each.

Announcement was made on Nov. 20 by the directors of the State Trust Co. of Plainfield, N. J., of the election of Dr. Frank C. Ard as President of the institution to succeed Edward F. Feickert, resigned. Dr. Ard, the new President, has been a Vice-President of the company since 1918 and a director for the past fourteen years. Mr. Feickert was instrumental in the formation of the State Street Trust Co. in 1910 and had headed the company since that time.

The Comptroller of the Currency has approved the application of the People's National Bank of Irvington, N. J., to organize with a capital of $100,000. The bank is expected to begin business about Jan. 1 1926. The par value of the stock is $100, and it will be disposed of at $155 a share. Walter Momm will be President: I. J. Casey Jr., First Vice-President, and George Fisher, Second Vice-President. The surplus will be $55,000.

The Providence "Journal" of Nov. 19 stated that Frederick S. Sibley had announced the previous day his resignation as a Vice-President of the Rhode Island hospital Trust Co. of that city to become Manager of Dutee W. Flint, Inc., in Connecticut, with headquarters at New Haven.

That the Aquidneck National Bank of Newport, R. I., and the National Exchange Bank of that place are to be consolidated shortly, was reported in the following, taken from the Providence "Journal" of Nov. 24:

> It became definitely known yesterday (Nov. 23) that the Aquidneck National Bank and the National Exchange Bank of Newport, two of the strongest institutions in that city, will merge. There have been intimations to this effect for several days, particularly since the latter institution took over the Island Savings Bank a few days ago.
> Under the merger plan neither will absorb the other. Each will give up its individual identity and the two will be welded as a single organization under a new name which, it is expected, will be indicative of both the old.
> Neither banking house will be abandoned. Business will continue to be conducted at the old Aquidneck Building on Thames Street and at the National Exchange Building on Washington Square.
> Although the details of organization are not complete, it is believed likely that Peter King, for a long time President of the Aquidneck Bank will be asked to assume the leadership of the merged institutions, and that Thomas B. Congdon, Vice-President and Cashier at the Aquidneck Bank, will become General Manager.
> Frederick B. Coggeshall is President of the National Exchange Bank, having been recently elected to succeed the late Edward A. Brown, but it has been learned that he volunteered his services only temporarily at a time when the merger negotiations were in progress.

The Boston "Herald" in its issue of Nov. 20, reported that William H. Claflin Jr., of the firm of Tucker, Anthony & Co., had been elected a director of the Second National Bank of that city to succeed Edwin F. Atkins, resigned. Mr. Atkins has served on the board of directors of the Second National Bank for many years, and is resigning from this and other boards in order to be relieved of many of his responsibilities.

As a preliminary step in the proposed merger of the Massachusetts Trust Co. of Boston with the Atlantic National Bank of that city, referred to in these columns last week, application has been made to the Comptroller of the Currency for the conversion of the former into a national institution under the title of the Massachusetts National Bank with capital of $1,000,000.

That the First National Bank of Philadelphia has organized a trust company to be known as the First Trust Co., was reported in a dispatch from that city appearing in the New York "Journal of Commerce" of Nov. 20. The dispatch stated that the new trust company would be capitalized at $200,000, all shares to be controlled by the First National Bank. Carl H. Chaffee, the Cashier of the First National Bank, it was said, would probably be President and the new company would handle all branches of trust business not permitted national banks under their trust charters.

The Board of Managers of the Girard Trust Co. of Philadelphia on Nov. 25 approved a proposed increase in the bank's capital raising the same from $2,500,000 to $3,000,000, according to the Philadelphia "Ledger" of Nov. 26. A special meeting of the stockholders of the institution has been called for Jan. 27 1926 to vote on the proposal. Shareholders of record as of Feb. 10 1926 will have the right to subscribe to the additional shares at par ($100 per share) on or before April 1 1926, in the proportion of one new share for each five shares of present stock held. Simultaneous with this increase the managers contemplate the declaration, it is said, of a cash dividend of 2%, payable March 1 next, and the transfer from undivided profits to surplus (at present $7,500,000) of the sum of $1,500,000, making the capital thereafter $3,000,000 and surplus $9,000,000, thereby preserving the present ratio of surplus to capital of three to one.

Paul E. Ludes, formerly an Assistant Cashier, and Edgar W. Freeman, Trust Officer, were lected additional Vice-Presidents of the Corn Exchange National Bank of Philadelphia on Nov. 24. Mr. Freeman will continue as Trust Officer, it is understood. Mr. Ludes has been with the bank since 1899.

State Secretary of Banking for Pennsylvania Peter G. Cameron announced on Nov. 18 that he had ordered the arrest of Alvin C. Osburn, a Vice-President and the Secretary of the Woodlawn Trust Co., Woodlawn, Pa., according to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg on that date, appearing in the Philadelphia "Ledger" of the following day. Mr. Cameron was reported in the dispatch as saying that the order for the arrest of Mr. Osburn was issued after his (Mr. Cameron's) examiners under John T. Stewart had discovered a shortage of $232,000 in the records of the institution. Mr. Cameron added, it is said, that he had been informed that the directors of the trust company at a meeting held that night (Nov. 18) had voted to make good the shortage and that the institution would open as usual the following day. A telegram from Beaver, Pa., on Nov. 20, printed in the Pittsburgh "Post" of Nov. 21, stated that Osburn was in jail at Beaver charged with the embezzlement of the $232,000 shortage at the Woodlawn Trust Co.; that he had made restitution in securities and other assets which it was said would cut the bank's loss down to $77,000. This amount the directors had made good and the bank was doing business as usual. The Woodlawn Trust Co. is capitalized at $125,000 and has deposits of $2,026,000, it is said.

Further referring to the affairs of the Norristown-Penn Trust Co. of Norristown, Pa., the Grand Jury in Norristown on Nov. 13 returned 22 true bills of indictment, containing 46 counts and covering a shortage of more than $104,000, against Walter R. Moyer, former Secretary and Assistant Treasurer of the institution. Immediately after filing the bills against Moyer, the foreman of the Grand Jury also filed an additional bill against J. T. Ebert, former Vice-President of the company, charging him with fraudulent omission of entries in the books of the trust company. With this bill, it is said, District Attorney Renninger has 72 charges against Ebert. The bills returned against Moyer were divided, it is said, as follows: Two charging fraudulently making a written instrument and uttering and publishing same, 10 charging embezzlement by a bank officer, six charging embezzlement by officer of a corporation, one charging making of false entries in trust company books and three charging fraudulent omission of entries in books of a trust company. We referred to the affairs of the Norristown-Penn Trust Co. in these columns in the "Chronicle" of Nov. 7.

Hugh Dougherty, a Vice-President, director and member of the executive committee of the Fletcher Savings & Trust Co. and the Fletcher Joint Stock Land Bank of Indianapolis, and long identified with financial and transportation interests in Indiana, died on Nov. 16 after an illness of two weeks. Mr. Fletcher was 81 years of age and his health had been failing for several years. In regard to his career the Indianapolis "News" of Nov. 17 said in part:

> Mr. Dougherty was born on a farm in Darke County, Ohio, July 28 1844 As a young man he taught school in his native county. In 1865 he entered the grain business with his uncle, John Studebaker, at Bluffton (Ind.), and soon after he became Assistant Cashier of the First National Bank of Bluffton, which was later merged with the Exchange Bank of John Studebaker & Co., a private bank of which the partners were John Studebaker, Peter Studebaker and Hugh Dougherty. In 1888 the bank was incorporated under the State banking laws and became the Studebaker Bank, at which time Mr. Dougherty became its President. He served as President until 1904, when he moved to Indianapolis and became President of the Marion Trust Co., serving as such until 1912, when the Marion Trust Co. was merged with the German-American Trust Co. and became the Fletcher Savings & Trust Co. Since 1912 he has been Vice-President, director and member of the executive committee of the Fletcher Savings & Trust Co. and the Fletcher Joint Stock Land Bank. He also was a member of the board of directors of the Fletcher American National Bank for many years. He served as a director of the Sixteenth Street Bank, an affiliated bank with the Fletcher Savings & Trust Co. He was one of the organizers of the Indiana Bankers Association and served as its President in 1900 and 1901 as well as filling many important committee assignments.
> In addition to his banking interests he was a pioneer in the development of independent telephone companies. He was President of the United Telephone Co. in 1896, which was one of the first independent telephone companies in the country. He served as its President until 1904. He also was President of the National Association of Independent Telephone Companies and was instrumental in successfully defending the rights of independent companies in the use of certain patents necessary in telephone operation.
> Mr. Dougherty was largely instrumental in pushing to successful completion the Fort Wayne Cincinnati & Louisville RR., and was superintendent of the construction of the section between Fort Wayne and Bluffton. He was also interested in the construction of the Toledo St. Louis & Kansas City RR. He was also one of the organizers and owners of the Marion & Bluffton Traction Co.

Myron R. Green, heretofore commercial manager of the Indianapolis Light & Heat Co., Indianapolis, was recently elected an Assistant Vice-President of the Fletcher American National Bank of that city, assuming his new duties on Nov. 16. Mr. Green is a graduate of the Indiana University and at one time worked as a reporter for Indianapolis newspapers, according to the Indianapolis "News" of Nov. 11.

Among the innumerable things which had to be done when the Union Trust Co. of Cleveland moved into its new building (May 1924) was the transferring of the contents of 1,938 safe deposit boxes into new boxes in the vault. This long and difficult job, it was conservatively estimated by experts, would require about two years' time and effort. Nevertheless the bank's Safe Deposit Department accomplished the task in the comparatively short space of sixteen months—a truly remarkable feat when one stops to realize even a few of the difficulties against which those engaged in the work had to contend. For instance. All the transferring had to be done in the immediate presence of the owner of each box between the hours of nine and three that it meant getting more than 1,938 individuals into the bank, which was accomplished only after the repeated sending of letters, and innumerable telephone calls; that in many instances the customers were out of the city for long periods of time; some were ill; others were taking extended trips abroad. In many cases there was joint ownership of the boxes so that perhaps two, three or more persons had to be coralled, as it were, into the bank to witness the transferring of the contents of a single box. And, of course, all the records incidental to the changing of the boxes had to be exchanged accordingly.

Plans for a consolidation of the Merchants Savings Bank & Trust Co. of Toledo and the Security Savings & Trust Co. of that city have been approved by the directors of both the institutions, and meetings of the respective stockholders have been called for Dec. 21 to ratify the directors' recommendations. In this regard the Toledo "Blade" of Nov. 19 said, in part:

> The proposed merger, which may be completed by Jan. 1, will give the combined bank total resources of approximately $16,000,000.
> Besides its main office in Superior Street, the Security has five branch banks. The Merchants' main office is in Summit Street, and it has a branch at Dorr Street and Detroit Avenue.

About 10,000 persons visited the attractive offices of the new Griswold National Bank of Detroit on Thursday of last week, when the institution was formally opened to the public according to the Detroit "Free Press" of Nov. 20. Large quantities of flowers, gifts sent by friends of the new bank to mark the occasion, were everywhere in evidence. An informal reception committee, composed of the officers and some of the directors, welcomed the visitors. After remaining open until 4 p. m. the bank was closed until evening, when it again opened from 6 to 9 p. m. to afford opportunity for inspection by those who had been unable to visit it during the regular banking hours. Considerable business was done by the bank, it is said, despite the holiday atmosphere attending the opening. A semi-private opening of the institution was held the previous night (Wednesday, Nov. 18) for officers of other Detroit banks and a few special guests.

On Nov. 24 the directors of the First National Bank of Chicago recommended to the stockholders that the capital stock of the First National Bank be increased from $12,500,000 to $15,000,000; the 25,000 shares, representing the increase, to be sold to stockholders, or their assigns, at $100 per share. The matter will be submitted to the stockholders of the bank at the annual meeting to be held on Jan. 12 and the subscription rights will be given to stockholders of record on that day. As the books close for the annual meeting three days before, this means, in effect, that stockholders of record at the close of business Jan. 8 will receive the rights. Stockholders will be given until Feb. 13 to pay for the additional stock to which they are entitled to subscribe. At the meeting of the directors of the First Trust & Savings Bank, a resolution was passed recommending the increase of that bank's capital from $6,250,000 to $7,500,000. This will be done by a transfer from the bank's undivided profits account and will not involve any payment of new money by stockholders. The additional stock of the First Trust & Savings Bank, will, like the present stock, be held in trust for the stockholders of the First National Bank of Chicago. After the increase, each stockholder of the First National Bank of Chicago will, have, as now, a beneficial interest of one-half share in the First Trust & Savings Bank for each share owned of the First National Bank's stock. At the same meeting John P. Wilson was elected a member of the board of directors of the First National Bank to fill a vacancy.

The National Bank of the Republic of Chicago on Nov. 23 announced the organization of a new subsidiary to be known as the National Republic Mortgage Co. This new company will confine its activities to the handling of all forms of real estate mortgage loans and real estate mortgage bonds. Adolph Radnitzer, former manager of the Real Estate Loan Department of the Union Trust Co., and more recently Vice-President of George M. Forman & Co., has been elected President of the National Republic Mortgage Co. Mr. Walter L. Johnson, for many years associated with the National Bank of the Republic, has been elected Secretary and Treasurer of the new company. It is believed that this company will be a very active factor in the real estate loan field in Chicago. The board of directors consists of John A. Lynch, D. R. Forgan, George Woodruff, H. E. Otte, Samuel W. White, Adolph Radnitzer and John T. Redmond. The new company will be located on the main banking floor of the National Republic Bank Building.

Plans for the expansion of the resources of the First National Bank of Detroit and its affiliated organizations, of large importance to the financial interests of that city, were announced by the directors on Nov. 25 through William J. Gray, the bank's President, according to the Detroit "Free Press" of Nov. 26. In this regard the "Free Press" said:

The directors have approved and will recommend to the stockholders for their consideration and action, a plan for increasing the authorized capital stock of the First National Bank by the issuance of 25,000 shares of new stock. The proposal will be submitted to the stockholders shortly for their approval and it is understood further details will be made public later.

Approval of the directors' recommendation by the stockholders will give the First National Bank organization, comprising the First National Bank, the Central Savings Bank and the First National Co. of Detroit, a combined capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of more than $20,000,000, exceeding that of any other banking organization in Detroit or Michigan and placing the First National organization among the largest in the country.

The increase in capital stock, providing it is approved by the stockholders, is a further indication of the financial growth of Detroit and the desire of the First National organization to keep pace with the city's development.

J. M. Strong, Chief Examiner of the Federal Reserve Bank in Richmond, Va., and a former State Bank Examiner in Missouri, has been elected a Vice-President of the Wachovia Bank & Trust Co., of Winston-Salem, N. C., according to the St. Louis "Globe-Democrat" of Nov. 18. Mr. Strong, it is stated, will assume his new duties on Dec. 1 and will be associated with the Asheville, N. C., office of the institution. The new Vice-President was born in Missouri and at the outbreak of the World War was Cashier of the Farmers' Bank of Dudley, that State. Bonsal Co., Hamlet's largest business enterprise, were appointed permanent receivers of the failed institution by Judge McElroy, of the Superior Court at Rockingham on Nov. 14.

Payment of a 30% dividend has been announced by Receiver H. F. Schilling of the First National Bank of Bandon, and it was stated $50,000 would be distributed during November. The money will go to depositors and creditors of the defunct institution. The checks, Receiver Schilling said, will be made out in Washington, returned to him and then distributed.

The First National Bank failed last April. An account which the bank expected to lose was the Thompson & Kelley mill debit in Marshfield, but it is believed this eventually will be liquidated by the sawmill firm.

The closing of the bank was reported in these columns in our issue of April 18 last.

THE WEEK ON THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

The New York stock market suffered further severe declines during the early part of the present week and losses ranging from 2 to 12 points were common in many of the stocks that previously made spectacular advances. Motor shares and industrial issues broke badly on Monday and Tuesday but the stocks that suffered the greatest declines on these days were the most buoyant in the sharp upswing on Wednesday and Friday. Except for brief rallies in the closing hour the trend of prices was again downward in the two-hour session on Saturday. Chrysler registered a net decline of more than 10 points and General Motors reached a new low on the present downward reaction at 123. Nash Motors lost 7 points and Mack Trucks moved down about 3 points. Specialities and industrials also participated in the general decline, American Can receding more than 5 points, American Locomotive 1¼ points, General Electric 1½ points and du Pont 8¼ points. Radio Corporation yielded 3 points in the early trading but recovered 1 point in the final hour. Stocks took a sharp tumble on Monday, particularly the high priced industrials where losses of from 2 to 12 points were sustained. United States Steel common yielded more than 2 points in the late afternoon, and many important issues lost practically all their early gains. Chrysler Motors was particularly weak and lost more than 9 points and General Motors yielded 7 points to 109. United States Rubber declined about 5 points and du Pont registered a net loss of 13 points. On Tuesday stocks were moderately strong in the first hour but the market soon began to sag and the price trend became much confused as the day advanced. The weak spot was again the motor group, Chrysler recording a further decline of 3½ points and General Motors yielded 2½, the latter making a new low for the present movement. Corn Products moved against the trend and recorded a net advance of 1 point. Railroad shares made little or no progress. The market improved on Wednesday, the biggest gains coming during the brisk rally at the close of the session. United States Steel common advanced 3 points and Sloss-Sheffield bounded forward 10 points to 125. Du Pont was in brisk demand and recorded a net gain of more than 11 points. Motor stocks were particularly strong, Chrysler moving forward more than 12 points, followed by General Motors, Jordan, and Mack Trucks with substantial gains. Industrial shares were also in strong demand at improving prices, substantial advances being recorded by American Locomotive, American Car & Foundry, General Railway Signal, United States Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry, and Foundation Co. Railroad stocks moved vigorously forward, Pittsburgh & West Virginia recording a new top at 120½. Other strong stocks in this group included Atlantic Coast Line, Atchison, Southern Railway, New York Central, Kansas City Southern and Norfolk & Western, the latter reaching a new peak at 149. All of the New York exchanges were closed on Thursday in observance of Thanksgiving. On Friday railroad shares assumed the leadership of the forward movement, Atlantic Coast Line forging ahead to a new high level, followed by Kansas City Southern common with a 3 point advance to 44¼. Specialties also were in strong demand at improving prices and steel stocks moved forward to higher levels, United States Steel common reaching 130⅝ and Sloss-Sheffield bounding upward 12½ points to 136½. Motor shares also were in sharp demand, substantial advances being recorded by Chrysler, General Motors, Mack Trucks, Hudson Motors and Packard Motors. Other strong stocks of the day included such representative issues as American Can, American Water Works, Sears-Roebuck and du Pont. The final tone was good.

Complete and exact details for the week covered by the foregoing will appear in our issue of next week. We cannot furnish them to-day, inasmuch as the week ends to-day (Saturday), and the Saturday figures will not be available until noon to-day. Accordingly, in the above the last day of the week has in all cases had to be estimated.

In the elaborate detailed statement, however, which we present further below, we are able to give final and complete results for the previous week—the week ended Nov. 21. For that week there is an increase of 9.6%, the 1925 aggregate of the clearings being $10,977,291,665 and the 1924 aggregate $10,017,820,366. Outside of New York City the increase is 9.4%, the bank exchanges at this centre recording a gain of 7.9%. We group the cities now according to the Federal Reserve districts in which they are located and from this it appears that in the Boston Reserve District the improvement is 6.3%, in the New York Reserve District (including this city) 9.7% and in the Philadelphia Reserve District 14.5%. The Cleveland Reserve District has again of 11.2%, the Richmond Reserve District of 6.8% and the Atlanta Reserve District (chiefly by reason of the increase at Miami) of 28.5%. In the Chicago Reserve District the totals are better by 6.3% and in the St. Louis Reserve District by 8.9%, but the Minneapolis Reserve District has a loss of 13.5%. In the Kansas City Reserve District there is an increase of 1.3%, in the Dallas Reserve District of 3.9% and in the San Francisco Reserve District of 17.8%.

In the following we furnish a summary by Federal Reserve districts:

THE ENGLISH GOLD AND SILVER MARKETS.

We reprint the following from the weekly circular of Samuel Montagu & Co. of London, written under date of Nov. 11 1925:

GOLD.

The Bank of England gold reserve against notes on the 4th inst. amounted to £147,230,350, as compared with £148,441,065 on the previous Wednesday. There was practically no gold available on the open market this week and requirements were met by withdrawals from the Bank of England.

The following movements of gold to and from the Bank of England have been announced since our last letter:

	Nov. 5.	Nov. 6.	Nov. 7.	Nov. 9.	Nov. 10.	Nov. 11.
Received	Nil	Nil	Nil	Nil	Nil	Nil
Withdrawn	£53,000	£535,000	£102,000	£111,000	£70,000	£127,000

The destinations of the £510,000 sovereigns withdrawn were announced as follows: £500,000 set aside for account of the South African Reserve Bank and £10,000 to the Straits Settlements. During the week under review £998,000 has been withdrawn, increasing the net efflux to £7,916,000 since the resumption of an effective gold standard.

The United Kingdom imports and exports of gold during the week ending the 4th inst. were:

The Transvaal gold output for October 1925 amounted to 812,832 fine ounces as compared with 797,247 fine ounces for September 1925 and 827,583 fine ounces for October 24.

The following statement has been issued by the Natural Resources Intelligence Branch of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa:

"It is now announced at Quebec that work on the new railway which will link up the Rouyn goldfields with the outside world is expected to start almost at once, and to be completed in fourteen months. . . . Mining people in the Quebec goldfields around Rouyn, Morin and other townships are awaiting the construction of the railroad before any attempt to take an ounce of quartz out of the ground, for it is pointed out that until the road is completed it will be impossible to dispatch any heavy mining machinery to the gold fields and to try and extract gold from the quartz without the machinery would be a very costly proceeding."

SILVER.

The silver market has not been so active and sales on China account have been a little less pressing. After a fall of 3-16d. in both prices on the 5th inst., the quotations fluctuated within narrow limits, business being on rather a small scale and the market therefore easily influenced. In the absence of selling, prices would have quickly responded to any inquiry, but buyers proved reluctant although a little support has been forthcoming from America. The Indian Bazaars have sent orders both to buy and to sell, but on the whole have shown little interest. The difference between the two prices, after having ruled at ¼d. during the week, narrowed yesterday to 3-16d., the demand for prompt delivery being rather less keen. A resumption of China selling to-day further depressed the market, both quotations being fixed 3-16d. lower at 32d. and 31 13-16d. for cash and forward deliveries, respectively—the lowest price for spot since Aug. 8 1925 and for forward since July 6 1925.

United Kingdom imports and exports of silver during the week ending the 4th inst. were as follows:

NOTE.—Beginning with the statement of Oct. 7 two new items were added in order to show separately the amount of balances held abroad and amounts due to foreign correspondents. In addition, the caption, "All other earning assets," now made up of Federal Intermediate Credit Bank debentures, has been changed to "Other securities," and the caption, "Total earning assets" to "Total bills and securities." The latter term has been adopted as a more accurate description of the total of the discounts, acceptances and securities acquired under the provisions of Sections 13 and 14 of the Federal Reserve Act, which are the only items included therein.

Foreign Exchange.—The sterling exchange market ruled quiet and fractionally lower, with quotations down to the gold-import point most of the time. In the Continental exchanges irregularity prevailed with semi-demoralization at times in French francs, accompanied by drastic declines. Small gains took place in lire and Belgian francs.

To-day's (Friday's) actual rates for sterling exchange were 4 80⅞@4 81 for sixty days, 4 84⅛@4 84¼ for checks and 4 84½@4 84⅝ for cables. Commercial on banks, sight, 4 84@4 84⅛; sixty days, 4 80¾@4 80⅝; ninety days, 4 79⅝@4 79¾, and documents for payment (60 days) 4 80⅝@4 80¾; cotton for payment, 4 84@4 84⅛, and grain for payment, 4 84@4 84⅛.

To-day's (Friday's) actual rates for Paris bankers' francs were 3.80½@3.83½ for long and 3.85@3.88 for short. German bankers' marks are not yet quoted for long and short bills. Amsterdam bankers' guilders were 39.73@39.75 for long and 40.09@40.11 for short.

Exchange at Paris on London, 124.56; week's range, 124.05 high and 127.45 low.

STEAM RAILROADS.

Repair of Freight Cars.—Class I roads on Nov. 1 had fewer freight cars in need of repair than at any time since February 1924, although the number of cars loaded with revenue freight this year has been the greatest on record, according to reports filed by the carriers with the Car Service

Division of the American Railway Association. The number in need of repair on Nov. 1 as 165,481, or 7.1% of the number on line. This was a decrease of 8,725 under the number on Oct. 15 and 25,062 cars under the number in need of repair on Nov. 1 last year, at which time there were 190,543, or 8.2%. Freight cars in need of heavy repair on Nov. 1 totaled 127,680, or 5.5%, a decrease of 8,102 compared with Oct. 15. Freight cars in need of light repair totaled 37,801, or 1.6%, a decrease of 623 compared with Oct. 15.

New Equipment.—Class I roads during the first ten months this year placed in service 119,243 freight cars, according to reports filed by the carriers with the Car Service Division of the American Railway Association. This was a decrease of 18,126 under the number installed during the corresponding period last year and 36,629 less than during the same period in 1923. Of the total number installed during the ten months period this year, 5,428 were placed in service during the month of October, including 2,086 box cars, 1,670 coal cars and 465 refrigerator cars. Freight cars on order Nov. 1 this year totaled 24,606, compared with 40,760 on the same date last year and 48,571 in 1923. Class I roads during the first ten months in 1925 placed in service 1,492 steam locomotives compared with 1,770 during the same period last year and 3,371 during the corresponding period in 1923. The same roads on Nov. 1 1925 had 218 locomotives on order, compared with 358 on the same day last year and 942 two years ago. During the month of October this year 150 locomotives were installed in service.

These figures as to freight cars and locomotives include new, rebuilt and leased equipment.

Car Surplus.—Class I roads on Nov. 7 had 103,969 surplus freight cars in good repair and immediately available for service, according to reports filed by the carriers with the Car Service Division of the American Railway Association. This was a decrease of 7,650 cars under the number reported on Oct. 31. Surplus coal cars in good repair on Nov. 7 totaled 37,726, a decrease of 5,223 cars within approximately a week while surplus box cars in good repair totaled 47,239, a decrease of 2,263 during the same period. Reports also showed 11,425 surplus stock cars, an increase of 467 over the number reported on Oct. 31 while surplus refrigerator cars totaled 1,281, a decrease of 264 compared with the previous period.

Car Shortage.—Practically no car shortage is being reported.

Interest of 5% for the year ending Dec. 31 1925 has been declared on the income bonds of the Brunswick & Western RR., payable on or after Jan. 2 1926 upon presentation of bonds at the office of the Safe Deposit & Trust Co. of Baltimore, Md.—V. 121, p. 2516, 2398.

Boston & Maine RR.—I.-S. C. Commission Decision on Application to Abandon Certain Branch Lines in Massachusetts.

The I.-S. C. Commission on Nov. 9 issued certificates authorizing the company to abandon its South Reading branch in Middlesex and Essex counties, a part of its Lawrence branch in Essex County, and parts of its Lowell & Lawrence and Salem & Lowell branches in Middlesex and Essex counties, Mass.

The application of the company for authority to abandon its Newburyport branch in Middlesex and Essex counties, Mass., was dismissed by the Commission without prejudice.

The report of the Commission says in substance:

The applicant represents that the lines for which abandonment is sought are unprofitable, and that its financial condition will not permit of their continued operation. It proposes to provide through the Boston & Maine Transportation Co. a substitute motor bus and truck service where the conditions warrant such service.

(a) South Reading Branch.—By its application filed Jan. 14 1925 the applicant seeks authority to abandon its so-called South Reading branch, which extends from Wakefield Center to Peabody, 8 miles, all in Middlesex and Essex counties, Mass. The applicant estimates the annual operating revenues and expenses based upon the operating results for November and December 1924 to be $22,405 and $61,294, respectively. Freight revenues are estimated at $3,899. If the entire system freight revenues from the branch line traffic were credited to the branch line the total would be approximately $5,000.

The only incorporated cities or towns on the line are Wakefield, Lynnfield and Peabody. Wakefield and Peabody are served by other lines of the applicant and Lynnfield is about 2 miles from West Peabody, a station on the applicant's Salem & Lowell branch. The tonnage originating at and destined to Lynnfield declined from 3,393 tons in 1921 to 466 tons in 1924. Passenger traffic consists of about 60 daily riders, mostly commuters using the stations of Lynnfield and Montrose, and going to and from Boston; and about 225 factory hands at South Peabody and Hunt-Rankin who travel to and from Peabody, a distance of 2 or 3 miles. If the line be abandoned the Boston & Maine Transportation Co. has in contemplation the operation of through buses between Peabody and Wakefield in the same number as trains are operated at present, with additional buses between Lynnfield and Wakefield. This proposed service is intended to supply facilities for all travelers excepting the factory hands going to and from South Peabody and Hunt-Rankin, who have access to a nearby trolley line.

Although this branch line has been in operation for 75 years it has failed to develop any substantial volume of traffic. The competitive reasons which induced its construction have long since disappeared. Upon the facts presented we find that the present and future public convenience and necessity permit the abandonment by the applicant of its so-called South Reading branch in Middlesex and Essex counties, Mass.

(b) Lawrence Branch.—By its application filed Jan. 14 1925, the applicant seeks authority to abandon that portion of its so-called Lawrence branch extending from Danvers to North Andover, 15 miles, all in Essex County, Mass.

The territory immediately adjacent to this line is well served by highways and by a through electric line which parallels the branch between Danvers and Middleton on the south end, and is not over 1½ miles from it at any point on the north end. The only township served exclusively is Middleton, which has a population of about 1,200.

The applicant estimates the annual operating revenues and expenses, based upon the operating results for Nov. and Dec. 1924 to be $25,198 and $110,337, respectively. The estimated annual freight revenue is $3,934. It is claimed by the applicant that if its entire system revenue from freight traffic originating or destined to points on the branch line were credited to the branch, it would increase the total branch revenue by about $60,000, which would leave a deficit from operation of about $25,000.

The number of passenger tickets sold at points local to the line has progressively decreased from 38,568 in 1920 to 16,836 in 1924, and the receipts therefrom have declined from $18,049 to $10,962. Total annual revenues from passenger traffic are estimated by the applicant at $21,233. It is testified that the average number of passengers making round trips daily is about 248. The record affords no assurance that future operations of the line would show a more favorable return. Upon the facts presented we find that the present and future public convenience and necessity permit the abandonment by the applicant of that portion of its so-called Lawrence branch in Essex County, Mass.

(c) Lowell & Lawrence and Salem & Lowell Branches.—By its application filed Oct. 2 1924 the applicant seeks authority to abandon (1) that portion of its Lowell & Lawrence branch extending from Pike's Siding in the city of Lawrence, to the point of switch at Tewksbury Junction, a distance of 5.2 miles (2) that portion of its Salem & Lowell branch extending from a point in the town of Wilmington to the point of switch at Tewksbury Junction, a distance of 3.2 miles, in Middlesex County and (3) that portion of its line in the town of Tewksburg extending from the point of switch at Salem Junction to the point of switch at Lawrence Junction, a distance of .42 of a mile.

Passenger service on both lines was discontinued in August 1924. The applicant estimates that the proposed abandonment will enable it to effect a saving in operating expenses of $26,140 a year. The elimination of a signal tower at Wilmington Junction is expected to increase the annual saving to about $35,500.

Upon the facts presented we find that the present and future public convenience and necessity permit the abandonment by the applicant of the lines of railroad in Essex and Middlesex counties, Mass.

(d) Newburyport Branch.—In dismissing the application of the company to abandon its so-called Newburyport branch, which extends from the point of switch at Water Street, Wakefield Centre, in a general northerly direction to the point of switch at Merrimack Street, Newburyport, a distance of 29.90 miles, the Commission said:

"Since the hearing was held the applicant in co-operation with the interested communities has undertaken to continue operation of the line with a reduced train service and plans to effect all possible econonies in an endeavor to eliminate or materially reduce the losses from operation. This arrangement has the approval of the Chairman and member of the Department of Public Utilities of Massachusetts who sat in the case. Under these circumstances it would appear that further consideration of the instant application is unnecessary. The application will be dismissed without prejudice."

Abandonment of Certain Branch Lines in New Hampshire.—The I.-S. C. Commission on Nov. 3 issued a certificate authorizing the company to abandon its Manchester-Milford branch in Hillsborough County, its Bethlehem branch in Grafton County, and its Belmont branch in Belknap County, N. H.

The Commission, however, denied the application of the company for authority to abandon its North Weare branch in Hillsborough and Merrimack counties, its New Boston branch in Hillsborough County, its Keane branch in Hillsborough and Cheshire counties, and the Peterborough Railroad in Hillsborough County, N. H.

The report of the Commission says in substance:

The applicant represents that all of these branch lines were originally built by other railroad companies for competitive or other reasons which no longer justify their existence; and that motor transportation, while acting adversely upon their traffic, at the same time provides a substitute means of transportation. The proposed abandonments cover 93.9 miles of line, of which 15.8 miles is operated under lease and the remainder is owned. The aggregate loss claimed of at least $225,000 per year due to operation of this mileage is represented to be a serious handicap upon the applicant's effort to earn a fair return and to recover good credit. The company is making a study of all its branch lines with a view to discontinuing those which may be shown to be unprofitable.

It is contended by the applicant that the substitute bus and truck service proposed through the Boston & Maine Transportation Co. will minimize local inconvenience resulting from discontinuance of steam operation, and that the broader interests of the Boston & Maine and the whole section which it serves should be the controlling element in considering these cases.

Applications similar to these have come to us from every section of the United States. A number have come from New England and the Boston & Maine has applied for authority to abandon lines in several of the States in which it operates. Applications for abandonment of steam railway operation appear to be only one of the many indications of disturbance resulting from the advent of the automobile and other new industrial forces. The steam railroad is laboring under conditions which resemble in certain respects those encountered by the stage coach when the steam railroad came into the field.

It will be admitted that people are entitled to the best and cheapest transportation they can get, and that they themselves must decide what is best and what is cheapest, all things considered. If people prefer to tax themselves to build great highways and to use commercial trucks and passenger vehicles in preference to the steam railroad, they have a right to their decision, but they must also assume the responsibilities, with the attendant consequences, of that decision.

The people of New England understand the importance to them of the Boston & Maine RR. This railroad and the people it serves are peculiarly interdependent and in these abandonment cases there must be kept constantly in view the necessity for the preservation of as much as possible of the present mileage in the service of the greatest number of the people. The evidence seems to be conclusive that not a few of the lines which it is now proposed to abandon should never have been built. Under present conditions they would not be built. At the time of their projection as independent enterprises it seems to have been understood that some of them were built for purely competitive or strategic reasons.

But irrespective of the origin of an existing line, people gather about it and create for themselves an interest in and a dependence upon it. Under these circumstances abandonment brings about the kind of hardships with which it is so difficult to deal. The sufferers in such cases have no redress against those guilty of the original error, nor were they responsible for that error. In some of the instant cases the extent of hardship which would probably follow abandonment would be very great, while in other cases it would be negligible. Differences of opinion exist with reference to the wisdom of certain festures of the Boston & Maine management for decades past, but discussion of these matters is unnecessary in this connection. The important thing is the vitality of the present Boston & Maine system. Not only New Hampshire, but all New England needs that system. The serious and difficult problem is how to sustain both the railroad system and New England territory as a whole without undue hardship on particular local territories. Benefits to the system of particular abandonments must be weighed against the inconveniences and losses which those abandonments will inflict upon the communities immediately affected. Benefits to particular communities of continued operation must be weighed against the burdens and retarding effect of such operation upon the development of the Boston & Maine system as a whole. A general verdict covering all of New England, or even a single State, is impossible. Decisions can only be made properly, wisely and justly on the basis of the facts in each case.

For the purposes of these applications we look upon the Boston & Maine RR. merely as a physical property, as it is now being operated in the interest of the people who live in the territory it serves. Nor can we look upon the Boston & Maine solely as it now exists. We must have some regard for what it should be in the future, in order that it may serve the New England of the future. We must assume that New England will not only retain the eminence which it has achieved in the past, but that its future will surpass this. The terminals at Boston alone require the expenditure of several millions of dollars in order to serve to the best advantage the commerce of New England which exists to-day and which will probably exist to-morrow. This aspect of the situation must not be overlooked. It is evident that the road must not be deprived of any legitimate and proper means of improving its present financial condition to the end that it may efficiently serve the public and protect the interest of those who have invested in its securities. It is to the advantage of all the people that its credit should be improved.

The powers of the respective corporations under the constitution and statutes of the State of New Hampshire were brought in issue by the protestants. These questions appear not to be connected with statutes which we administer, and their determination lies within the jurisdiction of appropriate judicial tribunals.

The individual applications will now be considered.

(1) The North Weare Branch.—By its application filed Dec. 1 1924, the applicant seeks authority to abandon the portion of its so-called North Weare branch extending from a point 200 ft. east of Kelleys Falls Bridge, Manchester, N. H., in a northwesterly direction in Merrimack and Hillsborough Counties, a distance of 22.77 miles to Henniker Junction, and substantially all of its so-called Manchester and Milford branch extending southerly from Grasmere Junction, a distance of 18.54 miles, to East Milford, all in Hillsborough County, N. H.

Upon the facts presented we are unable to find that the present and future public convenience and necessity permit the abandonment by the applicant of its so-called North Weare branch in Merrimack and Hillsborough Counties, N. H., between the points described in the application.

(2) The Manchester & Milford Branch.—The Manchester & Milford branch was built in 1900 by the Concord and Montreal, Boston & Maine RR., lessee, to block a threatened move of the Fitchburg RR. to reach Manchester. The reason for its existence disappeared a few months after it was constructed. All the roads mentioned are now merged in the Boston & Maine. The book value of the property is stated to be $418,837, as of Nov. 30 1924.

Upon the facts presented we find that the present and future public convenience and necessity permit the abandonment by the applicant of its Manchester and Milford branch in Hillsborough County, N. H. Our certificate will provide that it shall take effect and be in force from and after 60 days from the date it is issued.

(3) The New Boston Branch.—By its application filed Dec. 1 1924, the applicant seeks authority to abandon its so-called New Boston branch, a leased line, which extends from Parker Station on the North Weare branch in a southerly direction about 5 miles to New Boston, all in Hillsborough County, N. H.

Upon the facts presented we are unable to find that the present and future public convenience and necessity permit the abandonment by the applicant of operation under lease of its so-called New Boston branch in Hillsborough County, N. H.

(4) The Bethlehem Branch.—By its application filed Dec. 22 1924, the applicant seeks authority to abandon its so-called Bethlehem branch, which extends in a westerly direction from Bethlehem Junction to Bethlehem, a distance of 3.26 miles, all in the town of Bethlehem, Grafton County, N. H. The line, originally narrow gauge, was built in 1881 for summer tourist travel. It came into the ownership of the Boston & Maine in 1919, although theretofore operated under lease. The investment in road is carried on the applicant's books at $127,928.

Since the introduction of motor transportation the earnings of this branch have declined and in 1924 did not exceed $3,500. The present annual operating loss is estimated by the applicant at $9,664 without considering taxes, loss and damage, injuries, and general expenses.

Upon the facts presented we find that the present and future public convenience and necessity permit the abandonment by the applicant of its so-called Bethlehem branch in Grafton County, N. H.

(5) The Belmont Branch.—By its application filed Dec. 22 1924, the applicant seeks authority to abandon its so-called Belmont branch, which extends from Belmont Junction in a general easterly direction to Belmont, a distance of 4.18 miles, all in Belknap County, N. H.

The applicant's studies of operations for this branch indicate an annual loss ranging from $12,174 to $12,006 according to the months taken as a basis for computing freight revenue.

Upon the facts presented we find that the present and future public convenience and necessity permit the abandonment by the applicant of its so-called Belmont branch in Belknap County, N. H. Our certificate will provide that it shall take effect and be in force from and after seven months from the date it is issued.

(6) The Keene Branch.—By its application filed Dec. 22 1924, the applicant seeks authority to abandon its Keene branch, extending from Greenfield in a generally westerly direction to Keene, 29.35 miles, of which 12.52 miles are in Hillsborough County and 16.83 miles in Cheshire County, N. H.

The applicant's study of operation, based on freight traffic of two months and expenses estimated from actual costs, indicates total annual gross revenues to be $61,362, total expenses $146,584, and net annual loss $85,222. If freight revenues were based on sixth month's operations the indicated loss would be decreased by some $12,000. Taxes and general overhead expenses were not included.

It appears in this case, as in the case of the connecting Peterborough RR., that the proposal to abandon rail service now afforded is unjustified under the present conditions existing in these communities and their industries. In view of the improvement in the applicant's system earnings over previous years, and of the gradual increase in traffic which, from the evidence, may be reasonably expected in this territory, the financial prospect as regards the applicant continuing to operate the Keene branch is not serious. The effect of abandonment on all the property and investment in the territory adjacent to the line would be more or less damaging, if not in many cases disastrous.

Upon the facts presented we are unable to find that the present and futrue public convenience and necessity permit the abandonment by the Boston & Maine RR. of its Keene branch in Hillsborough and Cheshire counties, N. H., described in the application.

(7) The Peterborough Railroad.—By its application filed Dec. 22 1924, the applicant seeks authority to abandon the line and facilities of the Peterborough RR., a leased line extending from Wilton in a northwesterly direction 10.64 miles to Greenfield, all in Hillsborough County, N. H.

The applicant's study of operation, based on freight traffic of two months, and expenses estimated from actual costs, indicates total gross reveneus of $45,000, total expenses of $66,000, and a net annual loss of $21,000. If freight revenue were based on six months operation, the indicated net loss would be increased by some $2,000. Rental, taxes and general expenses were not considered.

Considering the Peterborough RR. as a portion of the continuous route across Hillsborough and Cheshire counties by which the latter county and the City of Keene are afforded rail communication with Concord, the capital, and Manchester, the largest city, its value and convenience must be compared with that of a bus line, but with no trucks for freight, operated over the State highway between Wilton and Keene, as proposed by applicant.

Under all the circumstances it appears that the development of facilities for continuous motor transportation in the section under consideration has not approached the point where the abandonment of rail service can be justified.

The cost of adequate motor facilities would involve delays, expense and inconvenience to the communities greatly out of proportion to the probable loss incurred in operating this line. It may be here noted that the system earnings of the applicant have materially improved this year, a circumstance which should be considered in connection with its showing of small earnings during previous years and its alleged inability to continue operating this and other similar branch lines.

Upon the facts presented we are unable to find that the present and future public convenience and necessity permit the abandonment by the Boston & Maine RR. of the line and facilities of the Peterborough RR. in Hillsborough County, N. H.

Canadian Pacific to Operate Lines in and Near Canada Now Leased to Boston & Maine.—

The executive committees of the boards of directors of the Boston & Maine and the Canadian Pacific have approved an arrangement under which lines in and near Canada which have been under lease to the Boston & Maine RR. will be operated by the Canadian Pacific Ry.

These lines, aggregating 104 miles, extend from Beebe Junction, Que., to Lennoxville, Que.; from Beebe Junction to Stanstead, Que.; and from Wells River, Vt., to Beebe Junction.

In negotiating this arrangement the management of the Boston & Maine was prompted by the belief that these lines, because of their extreme northerly location, could be operated to better public advantage by the Canadian road, with resulting operating economies to both roads.—V. 121, p. 2516, 2399.

Brazil Railway.—Interest Payments.—

Holders of the 5% First Mtge. 60-Year Variable Income Gold bonds (International Series) have been informed that the variable interest for the year 1924 will be paid on the English issue at the rate of £1 for each £100 bond, and on the Belgian issue, for each bond of frs. 500, 3s. 11d. (subject to British income tax unless accompanied by affidavit). This interest is now payable at the Bank of Scotland, 30, Bishopsgate, E.C.2, London, against surrender of Coupons Nos. 31 and 32, dated Jan. 1 and July 1 1925. (London "Stock Exchange Weekly Official Intelligence.")—V. 116, p. 175.

Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburgh Ry.—2% Com. Div.—

The directors have declared a dividend of 2% on the Common stock, payable Dec. 15 to holders of record Dec. 5. This makes total dividends for the year on the Common stock 4%, 2% having been paid on Aug. 15 last, and compares with regular semi-annual dividends of 2%, paid from Feb. 1919 to Aug. 1924, inclusive.—V. 121, p. 1674.

Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry.—Notice to Depositors Under Different Committees in Connection with Modification of Reorganization Plan.—

Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and National City Co., reorganization managers, in notifying security holders of the modification of the plan and agreement dated June 1 1925 for the reorganization of the company, state:

Depositors of Preferred stock or Common stock heretofore deposited under the plan may withdraw such stock on or before Dec. 24 1925, upon surrender to the depositary or sub-depositary which issued the same, of their certificates of deposit in negotiable form and upon payment of proper transfer taxes at the place of withdrawal and also a pro rata share as apportioned by the reorganization managers of the compensation and expenses of the reorganization managers and of the committee representing such stock. Every depositor of Preferred stock or Common stock who shall not so withdraw on or before Dec. 24 1925 shall be deemed to have assented to the modifications.

Under the terms of the plan and agreement the modifications do not entitle depositors of bonds to withdraw from the plan.

Securities not already deposited may be deposited under the modified plan without penalty on or before Dec. 24.

Deposits of Bonds Under Plan as Modified.—

The Roosevelt committee in a notice to the bondholders advises them that the committee has approved and adopted the plan as modified. Any depositor of bonds (or certificates of deposit representing bonds) with the depositary of the Roosevelt committee may, within 30 days from Nov. 21, file with such depositary notice in writing of dissent from the plan as so modified. If within the period of 30 days holders of certificates of deposit of the Roosevelt committee representing 50% of the principal amount of the deposited securities shall not file notices of dissent from the plan as so modified, then the plan as modified shall become effective as to all depositors with the Roosevelt committee who do not withdraw from the deposit agreement. In case the plan as modified shall become effective as above provided, the committee will publish notice to that effect as provided in the deposit agreement and any depositor who shall have filed notice of dissent as aforesaid may, within 20 days after the first publication of such notice, withdraw from the deposit agreement and, upon presentation and surrender of his certificates of deposit to the depositary, shall be entitled to receive the bonds (or certificates of deposit representing bonds) represented thereby.

All bonds not so withdrawn will forthwith be delivered by the Roosevelt committee to the respective depositaries for such bonds under the plan and agreement as so modified in exchange for certificates of deposit issued under the plan and agreement as so modified. The certificates of deposit so received (and certificates of deposit that may have been already deposited with the Roosevelt committee) will thereupon be distributed among the holders of certificates of deposit of the Roosevelt committee in exchange for the certificates of deposit of the Roosevelt committee and upon presentation and surrender thereof to the depositary.

Bondholders' Defense Committee Not Entirely Satisfied with Modified Plan.—

The bondholders' defense committee, Edwin C. Jameson, Chairman, in a notice to the holders of junior bonds, says:

The modified plan (V. 121, p. 2516) announced by the reorganization managers under the Kuhn, Loeb-National City Co. plan is a slight improvement on the original plan. However, this committee considers that it does not substantially meet the objections heretofore made and that, even as modified, the proposed plan of reorganization requires the security holders to make unnecessary sacrifices and is particularly inequitable to the junior bondholders. The modified plan contemplates a still further modification contingent upon the action of Congress. There are other contingencies which may favorably affect the treatment which may justly be accorded security holders.

This committee will continue its efforts to secure a more just and equitable treatment of the interests it represents and renews its invitation to all junior bondholders in sympathy with its views to deposit their bonds with it.

The modification of the reorganization plan dated June 1 1925 was outlined in V. 121, p. 2516.

Deering Southwestern Ry.—Final Valuation.—

Hartwell Railway (Ga.).—Final Valuation.—

Kansas City & Grandview Ry.—Control.—

See Kansas City Southern Ry. below.—V. 117, p. 2109.

Kansas City Southern Ry.—Control of K.C.& G. Ry.—

The I.-S. C. Commission on Nov. 14 approved the acquisition by the company of control of the Kansas City & Grandview Ry. by purchase of its capital stock.

The Grandview is a non-operating company. It was incorporated in 1923 in Missouri at the instance of the applicant to construct a line of railroad beginning at a point on the applicant's line at or near its intersection with Raytown Road in or near the former town of Leeds, now a part of Kansas City, and extending thence southerly to a connection with the applicant's line at or near Grandview, a distance of 13.48 miles, all in Jackson County, Mo. The actual construction of this line has not yet been started, but that it will be in the near future. It is the applicant's intention after completion of the Grandview's line to operate the same under lease or otherwise. No definite plan in this connection has been worked out.—V. 121, p. 2035.

Long Island RR.—Pennsylvania RR. Would Raise Rental.

The controversy which has been waged for the past two years as to what would be a just rent to be charged against the road for the use of the Pennsylvania's terminal facilities in Manhattan assumed a new phase Nov. 25 when the Pennsylvania came to the front with an effort to force an increase of $568,000 over the annual rent now allowed, which is $2,232,000. The increase would compel the Long Island to pay to the Pennsylvania about $2,800,000 a year.

The Transit Commission announced that it had just received a proposed modified agreement between the Pennsylvania Tunnel & Terminal RR. and the Pennsylvania RR. as its agent, with the Long Island, for the use by the latter of the station and the track facilities between that point and the Sunnyside Yard in Queens. It was accompanied by a petition from both parties asking the approval of the Commission to the proposed modification.

The proposed agreement would increase the rate of interest upon the cost of the trackage and other facilities outside the Pennsylvania Station proper from 4 and 4½% to 6% a year. The petition says that the rate allowed by the Commission in its approval of the rent agreement a few months ago, namely, 4% upon the general investment, and 4½% upon the cost of the distributing plant and power house, are inadequate and should be increased for the following reasons:

1. To pay the Pennsylvania Tunnel & Terminal RR., which owns the property in question, a reasonable return upon the money invested, and to enable it to pay a fair return to its security holders and to have some margin of profit so as to sustain its credit.

2. That the Long Island RR.'s use of the facilities is very much greater than the combined use of all other users, notably the Lehigh Valley RR., the Baltimore & Ohio RR. and the Pennsylvania RR., all of whom pay a 6% interest rate, and that therefore to charge the Long Island a rate below 6% results in an inequitable average interest return upon the terminal investment.

3. That 6% is recognized in the Federal Transportation Act of 1920 as a fair rate of return.

The petition and the modified agreement will come before the Commission at its meeting Dec. 1 for consideration. The movement is an outgrowth of the Commission's action last July in approving a new lease among the companies mentioned, to cover the Long Island company's rent.

In giving its approval to the new lease, the Commission disapproved an interest charge of 5%, directing that it be cut to 4½, which made a saving of $287,000, and also required the Pennsylvania to cancel an item of $3,070,384 in accrued deficits in operating expenses and taxes on the books of the Terminal company. The rent then allowed was $2,232,000.—V. 121, p. 195.

Midland Terminal Ry. (Colo.).—Tentative Valuation.—

The I.-S. C. Commission has placed a tentative valuation of $1,308,500 on the total owned, and $2,738,500 on the total used properties of the company, as of June 30 1919.—V. 119, p. 2758.

Midland Valley RR. (Ark.).—Tentative Valuation.—

The I.-S. C. Commission has placed a tentative valuation of $10,750,000 on the total owned, and $11,725,185 on the total used properties of the company, as of June 30 1919.—V. 121, p. 1566, 1225.

Montour RR.—Equipment Trust, Series B.—

The I.-S. C. Commission on Nov. 18 authorized the company to issue not exceeding $500,000 4½% Equip. Trust gold bonds, series B, said bonds to be delivered at par in connection with the procurement of 500 55-ton steel hopper cars at a cost of approximately $770,000.

The company proposes to enter into an agreement of lease with the trustee, to be dated Jan. 1 1926, under which the Union Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, trustee, will lease the equipment to the company for a period of 10 years from Jan. 1 1926. Upon the execution of the lease the company will pay to the trustee $270,000 in cash and it will also pay as rental $500,000 in 10 annual installments of $50,000 each, the installments to be represented by 4½% Equip. Trust gold bonds, series B. The payment of the principal and interest on the bonds will be guaranteed by the Pittsburgh Coal Co. Bonds are to be in the denom. of $1,000, mature annually $50,000 each Jan. 1 1927 to 1936, incl.—V. 121, p. 2399.

National Railways of Mexico.—Buys Terminal.—
A contract has been signed for the purchase by the company of the terminal of the National Oil Co. at Hermosillo, Mexico, for $272,000. —V. 121, p. 2153.

New Orleans Texas & Mexico Ry.—Control of Roads.—
The I.-S. C. Commission on Nov. 13 authorized the acquisition by the company of control of the Sugar Land Ry., the Asherton & Gulf Ry. and he Rio Grande City Ry. by purchase of the capital stock of those cos.

The report of the Commission says in part:
The railroads of the company and certain of its controlled companies, together with certain lines operated by it under trackage rights, form a continuous line from New Orleans, La., to Brownsville, Tex., commonly known as the Gulf Coast Lines. The applicant controls the International-Great Northern RR. through stock ownership, and is itself controlled by the Missouri Pacific RR., also by majority stock ownership.

The Sugar Land owns and operates a railroad extending from Cabells to Anchor, Tex., 38.94 miles. The total mileage, including yard tracks, is 50.98 miles. The line crosses the Galveston Harrisburg & San Antonio Ry. near Sugar Land, the Gulf Colorado & Santa Fe Ry. at Sugar Land Jct., and connects with the International's railroad at House and Anchor, and with the Houston & Brazos Valley, a subsidiary of the applicant, at the latter point. Between House and Houston, 22.62 miles, the Sugar Land operates over the International's railroad under trackage rights. The Asherton owns and operates a railroad extending from a connection with the International's railroad at Bart in a westerly direction to Asherton, Tex., 32.1 miles. The line does not connect with any railroad other than the International's. The Rio Grande has under construction a line of railroad extending from a connection with the St. Louis Brownsville & Mexico Ry., a subsidiary of the applicant, at San Fordyce, in a general westerly direction to Rio Grande City, 22 miles. The Sugar Land, the Asherton and the Rio Grande are all controlled by W. T. Eldridge through stock ownership.

On May 11 1925 the applicant contracted to purchase from Eldridge all of the outstanding capital stock and all of the issued and outstanding securities and indebtedness of the Sugar Land, the Asherton and the Rio Grande for $1,700,000. The railroad of the Rio Grande is being constructed with materials bought from the Government. Under the contract Eldridge agrees to complete the construction of the line and the applicant, in addition to the contract price, is to reimburse him for his total expenditures in constructing the railroad. It is estimated that the cost to the applicant will not exceed $16,000 a mile, as the applicant is to receive the benefit of the contract made with the Government for the purchase of the materials. Eldridge is to retain for his own use all subscriptions made by towns or individuals as an inducement for the construction of the line. In the event that Eldridge shall construct a dam across the Brazos River within 10 years from the date of the contract, the applicant agrees, subject to our approval, to extend the Sugar Land Ry. to serve the territory adjacent thereto. Upon the transfer of the capital stock and other securities to the applicant, the properties will be free from incumbrances except the lien of the mortgages securing the bonds, all of which will be owned by the applicant.

Authority to Issue Bonds.—
The I.-S. C. Commission on Nov. 14 authorized the company to issue $3,000,000 1st Mtge. bonds, Series A or Series B, $1,500,000 thereof to be delivered to certain vendors and $1,500,000 thereof to be sold, the Series A bonds at not less than 98% and int. and the Series B bonds at not less than 93 and int., and pending their sale to pledge them from time to time until Dec. 31 1927 as collateral security for any note or notes which company may issue.

The company proposes to purchase the securities or property of the following: (a) San Antonio Uvalde & Gulf Ry. Co.: Common stock, $315,000, and 1st Mtge. 5% Gold bonds, $4,413,000. (b) Asphalt Belt Ry., Common stock, $20,000; and (c) Live Oak Pipe Line: Property (investment May 31 1925), $43,580; and to finance their acquisition by the proposed issue of bonds. The Commission has authorized the applicant to acquire control of the San Antonio company through the purchase of all of its capital stock and bonds (V. 121, p. 2399).

By an agreement dated May 11 1925 between the company and W. T. Eldridge, and by another agreement dated May 13 1925 between the company and Frank Kell and A. R. Ponder, the company arranged to purchase all of the securities of the two railways and the property of the pipe line for $3,000,000. Pursuant to those agreements and to certain letters exchanged between the company and the National Bank of Commerce in St. Louis, dated Sept. 24 and Sept. 26 1925, the company will deliver to the vendors $150,000 cash and $1,500,000 of its First Mtge. bonds. If Series A bonds are issued they will be delivered at their principal amount, and if Series B at their current market value at the time of delivery. Any difference between the market value of the Series B bonds and their principal amount will be paid in cash. Payment of the remaining $1,350,000 will be effected by the company paying in cash a note for a like amount dated May 20 1922 and maturing on or before May 31 1927, made by W. T. Eldridge and Frank Kell, and payable to the executors of John T. Milliken, or order. This note was given to the executors in part payment for the purchase from them of the securities of the San Antonio Uvalde & Gulf Ry., and it must be paid in order to obtain delivery of the capital stock and bonds of that company. The holder of the note has agreed with the company to accept such payment. To reimburse it for the cash expenditures mentioned, the company proposes to issue $1,500,000 of First Mtge. bonds, Series A or B —V. 121, p. 2399.

New York Chicago & St. Louis RR.—Bonds Authorized.
The I.-S. C. Commission on Nov. 20 authorized the company to sell $9,575,000 Refunding Mortgage 5½% Gold bonds, Series B, at not less than 95 and interest, the proceeds to be used to pay certain notes.

The supplemental report of the Commission says in part:
By our order in this proceeding entered June 29 1925, we authorized the applicant to issue the foregoing amount of bonds and to pledge them a collateral security for a note of $8,138,750. By the same order we authorized to be issued two six months 4½% promissory notes, one for $8,138,750 and the other for $1,436,250. The proceeds of these notes were used to pay an equal amount of Toledo St. Louis & Western RR. Prior Lien 3½% Gold bonds which matured July 1 1925. These notes will mature on Jan. 1 1926 and to provide for their payment the applicant proposes to sell the $9,575,000 of bonds. It represents that it has not better means of meeting the payment of such notes than by the sale of these bonds.

The applicant represents that no contracts, underwritings, or other arrangements have been made in connection with the sale of the bonds. It proposes to sell them to the Guaranty Co. of New York at not less than 93 and interest. We will authorize their sale at not less than 95 and interest. On that basis the annual cost to the applicant would be approximately 5.807%.—V. 121, p. 2400, 2269.

New York New Haven & Hartford RR.—Regains Trolley Lines Divorced by Sherman Act—Not Competitive, Court Holds—Cites Lack of Offers to Buy Minor Roads.—Federal Judge Francis A. Winslow granted Nov. 21 the application of the company to resume control of the trolley lines in Westchester County and Southern New England, which were separated from the New Haven system by the Sherman law of 1914. The lines which are ordered returned are the Connecticut Co., the New York & Stamford Ry., the Berkshire Street Ry. and the Vermont Co. These lines are now in the hands of Federal trustees.

In his decision modifying the dissolution decree Judge Winslow said: "In considering the petition for modification of the decree, the court has taken into account not only the specific facts alleged in the petition, and the affidavits and testimony offered in support thereof, but has considered this record from the viewpoint of the present day, and in the light of existing conditions. Actual experience in the period intervening between the entry of the decree and the date of the petition for its modification is a safer guide than rigid adherence to all of the provisions of the very salutary and proper decree of 1914."

Judge Winslow refused the petition of the Connecticut Motor Stage Association, Inc., to intervene in the proceedings on the plea that its capital investment of $2,000,000 would be in peril if the New Haven became one of its competitors. That the trolleys have not seriously competed with the stages was indicated when it was disclosed that the trustees who have been in control of the trolleys tried unsuccessfully to sell them and that this failure resulted in the entry of the New Haven as the chief director of their operation. The trolley lines now returned to the New Haven control parallel the steam line and it was said that the trolleys have been making money since they received permission to charge 25 cents for three tickets. These trolleys are capitalized at $40,000,000.

Judge Winslow says in his opinion that there is no substantial competition with the petitioner so far as the Berkshire Street Ry. and Vermont Railways are concerned, and that:

"A trolley service from door to door cannot be competitive in a broad sense with a street railway service from station to station. No purchaser has been found for these properties. The proper alternative, in the light of the present day conditions, is the retention of the property by the petitioner."

Concerning the New York & Stamford Ry., the opinion says the court "cannot be blind to the most insistent and immediate problem of transporation congestion in this territory."

It is explained that the New York & Stamford Ry. is largely a feeder for the New York Westchester & Boston Ry., and the conditions now are different than when the decree was entered. This trolley line is not in competition with the main line of the New Haven. The opinion reads:

"The support of the petitioner, and concern with it, will be necessary to the proper development of the facilities of the New York & Stamford Ry. and the diversion of traffic from already overtaxed centres. It would hardly be equitable to require the petitioner to sell the shares of the New York & Stamford, assuming that it could be done, at a most ruinous price and at the same time compel it to supply substantial financial and business support."

"In regard to the New England Investment & Security Co.," Judge Winslow said, "I am satisfied that the petitioner has been wholly unable to dispose of the gold notes, although reasonable effort has been made to that end. The notes offer no attraction to the investing public. Economies in operation and relatively small capital outlay will result in better service to the traveling public. I am satisfied that the allegations of the petition regarding this property have been sustained."

Concerning the Connecticut Company, the opinion says that no purchaser has come forward with an offer for the property that was worthy of the slightest consideration. Judge Winslow adds that the testimony of Vice-President Buckland of the New Haven and Mr. Storrs, for many years President of the Connecticut Company, "is convincing that the Connecticut Company is not now in substantial competition with the petitioner."

Another part of the opinion reads:

"The evidence justifies the conclusion that the return of control to the petitioner will not result in the restraint of competition such as is prohibited by the anti-trust law.

"Motor bus transportation has developed since 1914 and it is common knowledge that motor bus feeders are a part of a widely extended policy to supplement railroad transportation. The law of Connecticut permits any one to operate motor buses, provided he shall first have received the permission of the Public Utilities Commission."

In its petition the New Haven company stated that it should be permitted to control the New York & Stamford Ry. in order to provide for the development for future suburban traffic; that the New Haven was now engaged in rehabilitating parts of the Western Massachusetts trolleys, and it was anxious to rehabilitate the Pittsfield, North Adams and Bennington properties, but that it ought not to be asked to put money into them if the company continued under obligation to sell them.

The petition stated that the I.-S. C. Commission has permitted it to retain control of the Sound lines, and it was said that the next move of the company would be to have these lines placed absolutely under its control without chance of interference from any governmental agency.

In the court hearings the Government was represented by United States Attorney Buckner and his assistants, Alexander B. Royce and William D. Whitney. They interested themselves only to the extent of seeing that all the facts in the case were brought out.

[In June 1923 the court modified the decree and directed the return of the Boston & Maine holdings to the New Haven. The Rhode Island trolleys were sold under a receivership in September 1920 at a heavy loss.]

New Haven Seeks Enabling Legislation.—
As a result of the decision, the company, through its counsel, F. A. Farnham, Nov. 24 filed a petition with the Secretary of State seeking enabling legislation from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Attorney Farnham in his petition asked "for legislation to enable the New York New Haven & Hartford RR. to acquire and hold the securities and property of the New England Investment & Security Co. and the securities and properties of any company or associations wholly or in part controlled or operated by said New England Investment & Security Co., or for legislation relative to the interests of the New Haven in the New England Investment & Securities Co. as may be desirable or necessary." No bill has as yet been filed to accompany the petition, but it is understood that it will be submitted prior to Dec. 1, when the time for such filing expires. —V. 121, p. 2518, 2270.

Gandy Bridge.—Was completed on Nov. 19 1924 and has been in successful operation since that date. This development is the logical outcome of the growth in wealth and population of the area surrounding Tampa Bay, the principal harbor on the west coast of Florida. The bridge property is about 5¼ miles from shore to shore spanning the outlet of Old Tampa Bay. It is so located that it constitutes the most direct motor route between Tampa and St. Petersburg.

Previous to the opening of this bridge, the shortest automobile highway between the two cities led around the northern end of the bay, a distance of 42 miles. The Gandy Bridge has cut 22 miles from the former route between these cities, reducing the distance by more than 50%. It also affords the most direct approach from Tampa and the interior towns beyond to the popular resorts and beaches of the Pinellas Peninsula, which stands between Tampa Bay and the Gulf of Mexico.

Tampa & St. Petersburg Railway, which owns and operates the Gandy Bridge, was incorporated in Florida in 1916 but does not engage in the railway business. It owns, subject to the usual rights of navigation, a right of way 400 ft. wide across Old Tampa Bay upon which the bridge is constructed, and also easements constituting its approaches 100 ft. wide extending east from the bridge 1,000 ft., and from the west end of the bridge to the city limits of St. Petersburg. The toll bridge is about 5¼ miles long and is illuminated by the latest type of highway lighting equipment. About half of this length is on a sand-filled causeway 400 ft. wide rising to 9 ft. above mean high tide. The other half is of reinforced concrete pile construction carrying a heavily reinforced concrete floor. In the channel is a bascule lift span though the upper bay is but little used. The roadway, which is 18 ft. broad on the fill and 24 ft. on the concrete section, connects at each end with the public highway, and has a maximum capacity of 1,500 vehicles per hour in each direction.

Security.—Secured by a direct first mortgage on the Gandy Bridge, including a strip of land 100 ft. wide across the fill and the right of way 400 ft. wide crossing the water, including the roadway, bridge structure, toll houses and equipment, together with the easements and rights of way constituting its approaches.

Sinking Fund.—Beginning June 1 1926, a cash fund amounting to $250,000 each year will be paid in equal semi-annual installments to the corporate trustee, who, after using it for the payment of interest on the present issue of $3,000,000 bonds, shall apply the remainder as a sinking fund to the retirement of these bonds by purchase or call. It is estimated that about 80% of these bonds will be thus retired by maturity. Whenever additional bonds are issued this fund will be increased by an amount sufficient to provide for their interest and the ultimate retirement of the same percentage of such additional bonds.

Data From Letter of Pres. Karl Brehme, San Francisco, Nov. 1.

Company.—A California corporation, organized for purpose of developing its valuable water rights on the waterways tributary to the North Fork of the Feather River in Plumas County, Calif. At the present time company is engaged in the construction of the first of the hydro-electric developments to be undertaken by it in the utilizing of its water rights in this vicinity. This project is known as the Bucks Creek Development and will harness the waters of Bucks Creek, Milk Ranch Creek and Grizzly Creek, all of which flow into the North Fork of the Feather River. The rights of the company to the use of the waters of these streams for the purpose of generating hydro-electric power have been firmly established by permits granted to the company by the State division of Water Rights of the State of California. All necessary permits for the construction of the Bucks Creek Development have been obtained from the Federal Power Commission. The California RR. Commission has jurisdiction over all of the company's undertakings and has approved the power contract which the Feather River Power Co. has executed with the Great Western Power Co. of Calif., by the terms of which the latter company agrees to purchase the power output of the Bucks Creek plant and will ultimately become the owner thereof.

Bucks Creek Development.—The Bucks Creek power house will be located on the left bank of the North Fork of the Feather River just below the mouth of Bucks Creek, across the river from the main line of the Western Pacific RR. and only a short distance from the main transmission lines of the Great Western Power Co. of Calif. The plant will be operated under a static head of about 2,548 ft., resulting in an effective head of about 2,368 ft. The installed generating capacity of the power house will be 40,000 k.w., consisting of 2 units of 20,000 k.w. each, capable of producing a mean annual output of 205,000,000 k.w.h. of primary power when operated at 63% plant factor. This project will utilize the regulated flow of Bucks Creek supplemented by diversions from the upper waters of Milk Ranch Creek and Grizzly Creek. The main storage dam will be located at the upper end of Bucks Creek and will create a reservoir of 103,000 acre ft. capacity which will be the main impounding reservoir of this development. This dam will be of the rock-fill type, 115 ft. in height with a length of 1,150 ft. along the crest. The Bucks Creek power plant will be completely equipped with all necessary exciters, switchboards, transformers, circuit breakers, &c. Energy with a generator voltage of 11,000 will be stepped-up to 240,000 volts for transmission purposes.

Company has entered into a contract for the construction of the project by R. C. Storrie & Co. of San Francisco, at a contract price not to exceed $7,691,889. This price includes lands, water rights, carrying charges during construction (including interest on these bonds), engineering and superintendence, and the office expenses of the company. Company is not obligated to pay any portion of the contract price in excess of the net proceeds received by it from the sale of these bonds and the 21,000 shares of its capital stock, which is now authorized by the RR. Commission to issue, and the proceeds of such further shares of its capital stock as the RR. Commission may hereafter authorize it to issue for the purpose of constructing said project and paying the contract price thereof. The construction contract calls for the completion of the development in good running condition, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances (except the lien of this bond issue) on or before Dec. 31 1927.

Drainage Area—Topography.—The Bucks Creek watershed tributary to this tributary to this project lies in the zone of the heaviest precipitation in this part of the Sierra Nevada range and conditions are favorable for an abundant water supply for the development of power. Bucks Creek, Milk Ranch Creek and Grizzly Creek, the waters of which are to be diverted, have their sources on the granite slopes of Spanish Peak, Bucks Peak and neighboring peaks. The drainage area totals 51.2 sq. miles and lies between an elevation of 4,200 and 7,200 ft. with the major portion well above 5,000 ft. The Bucks Creek Reservoir valley is at an elevation of 5,100 ft. The entire area is on the west side of high ridge and the heavily timbered slopes hold the heavy snowfall well into the summer. A study of precipitation records for stations in contiguous territory with which the Bucks Creek Watershed can be compared would indicate that the average precipitation on the Bucks Creek drainage area was about 78 inches annually for the 50-year period 1871-1921.

Power Output—Power Contract.—With an effective head of about 2,368 ft. and an over-all plant efficiency of 75% and with the amount of water available engineers have computed the mean annual output of the plant will total 205,000,000 k.w.h. of primary power when operated at 63% plant factor. The energy generated will be 60 cycle, 3 phase current and will be transmitted at 240,000 volts.

Company has entered into a purchase contract with the Great Western Power Co. of California under the terms of which the latter company agrees to purchase the entire output of the Bucks Creek plant at a 63% plant factor, at the flat rate of 4 mills per k.w.h. and, through such power purchase, will become the owner of the plant and all appurtenances and water rights in 35 years from time of completion. This contract runs for a period of 35 years from the date of completion of the project and thus will be concurrent with or extend beyond the last maturity of these bonds. Payments for power taken by the Great Western Power Co. of California are to be made quarterly and are to be paid directly to the trustee under the bond issue, with whom the power contract has been deposited. The trustee shall have sole custody of the funds received by it under this contract and shall apply them, first towards the payment of the operating expenses and taxes and then towards the sinking fund to be provided for the payment of the principal and interest of these bonds as they mature. By this contract the Feather River Power Co. has a definite and permanent market for the output of this plant to a responsible purchaser and therefore is relieved of the necessity of retail distribution.

Earnings.—Based upon a mean annual output of 205,000,000 k.w.h. at the flat rate of 4 mills per k.w.h., the gross revenue to be received by the trustee under the power contract would total $820,000 annually. In addition to this there will doubtless be revenue received from the sale of water for irrigation purposes and from the sale of secondary power generated in certain years. However, no estimate of such additional revenue has been made and no consideration given to it in determining the amount of income to be applied against the charges of this bond issue. Neither is any consideration given to the revenue which may be received from the sale of primary power at a plant factor in excess of 63%, which excess the Great Western Power Co. of California has the option to purchase. This additional power, according to engineer's report, has been estimated at 10,000,000 k.w.h. annually, producing a possible additional revenue of $40,000.

Assuming an annual gross revenue of $820,000, the operating expenses, maintenance and taxes incident to the operation of the plant should not exceed $176,000 annually, as estimated by engineer, leaving an annual net income applicable to bond charges of $644,000. The greatest amount of interest to be paid on this bond issue during any one year will be $330,000, the average amount to be paid will be $222,300 and the maximum amount required to pay the interest and maturing principal of these bonds in any year will be approximately $380,000. The net income of $644,000 is therefore 1.95 times the maximum annual interest charge, 2.90 times the average annual interest charge and 1.70 times the maximum annual amount required for payment of principal and interest, and thus affords a wide margin of safety.—V. 121, p. 2520, 1676.

Gary Ry.—Business Shows Increase.—
The company reports that in September a total of 1,229,956 passengers was carried. This was an increase of 24.82% over September 1924, when 985,364 passengers were carried.—V. 121, p. 977.

Georgia Ry. & Power Co.—Preferred Stock Authorized.—
The stockholders on Nov. 18 approved the issuance of $5,000,000 First Preferred stock, Series of 1926. The proceeds are to be used to pay for improvements and the development of hydro-electric properties in north Georgia.

At present the company has $10,000,000 in Common stock and $10,000,000 in 2d Pref. stock. After Dec. 1, if present plans are carried through, the company will have $25,000,000 in Common stock and no 2d Pref. Under the charter of the company it is provided that the 2d Pref. stock shall automatically become Common stock when dividends of 4% have been paid for three consecutive years, on both classes of stock. This condition has been fulfilled. See also V. 121, p. 2520.

Guanajuato (Mex.) Power & Electric Co.—Tenders.—
The United States Mortgage & Trust Co. will purchase $225,000 of 1st Mtge. 6% 30-Year Gold bonds at not exceeding 105 and int. Proposals for the sale of bonds are invited and will be opened at the office of the trust company, 55 Cedar St., N. Y. City, at noon on Dec. 15.—V. 119, p. 700.

(a) From the commencement of operations under Contract No. 3 and the related certificates, respectively, it has been the practice to include in all reports of operating expenses 14% of the gross operating revenue upon the Manhattan Division and 17% of the Subway Division, to cover maintenance and depreciation. These are the percentages fixed for the first year of operation in each case. Negotiations have been pending between the company and the Commission ever since the end of the first year to determine what, if any, changes in these percentages should be made for subsequent years. Prior to July 1 1923 the amount expended in excess of 14% upon the Manhatten was approximately offset by the amount under 17% expended upon the Subway Division. The net expenditures for maintenance in excess of the amounts therefore, included in "operating expenses, taxes and rental paid city for the old subway," are shown hereinabove as "maintenance in excess of contractual provisions."

(b) Under the plan of readjustment payment of the sinking fund is deferred until July 1 1926 on condition that, prior to that date, an amount equal to the deferred sinking fund be expended on additions or improvements to the property.—V. 121, p. 2402, 2156.

International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.—Listing.
The New York Stock Exchange has authorized the listing of $25,000,000 20-Year 5½% Conv. Gold Debenture bonds, due Sept. 1 1945.

The issue of $25,000,000 bonds was issued and delivered in temporary form to Western Electric Co., Inc. in part payment (the balance being payable in cash derived from the sale of International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. Common stock) for the entire Capital stock and certain notes payable of International Western Electric Co., Inc. The consideration for the issue of the bonds was received by International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. on Sept. 30 1925. The bonds were subsequently sold by Western Electric Co. and delivered in temporary form to J. P. Morgan & Co. J. P. Morgan & Co. offered the bonds for public subscription on Aug. 20 1925 (V. 121, p. 977.)

The purchase price paid for the Capital stock and certain notes payable of the International Western Electric Co., Inc. was determined as follows:

Gross price, Jan. 1 1925	$33,191,770
Less: Liabilities of International Western Electric Co., Inc., and its wholly owned subsidiaries to the public	4,425,493
	$28,766,277

Total	$31,293,927
Less: Amounts withdrawn by Western Electric Co. during first 9 months in 1925	1,987,393
Net purchase price	$29,306,534

* This amount will be more than offset by profits earned during the nine months of 1925, which will be left in the business.

The Conde de Guell, President of the Compania Trasatlantica Espanola, a director of the Compania Telefonica Nacional de Espana, and of other important industrial enterprises in Spain, has been elected a director of the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., to succeed the late Marques de Comillas.—V. 121, p. 2038, 1788.

Milwaukee Electric Ry. & Light Co.—To Inc. Stock.—
The stockholders will vote Dec. 21 to consider and act on the following proposals: (a) on increasing the authorized Pref. stock from $20,000,000 to $40,000,000, to consist of $4,500,000 6% Pref. stock and $35,000,000 of Pref. stock, issue of 1921; (b) on increasing the authorized Common stock from $20,000,000 to $40,000,000; and (c) on changing the par value of the Common stock from $100 per share to $20 per share.

The company, in a letter to the Preferred and Common stockholders on Nov. 21, says in part: "The company's present authorized capital stock consists of $20,000,000 of Pref. stock ($4,500,000 6% Pref. and $15,500,000 Pref. stock, Issue of 1921) and $20,000,000 of Common stock. In order to maintain its present high credit standing, and to avoid disproportionately increasing the amounts of se ior securities, it is essential that the proper proportion of capital requirements be raised by the issuance and sale of additional Pref. and Common stock. Of the authorized Pref. stock, less than $6,000,000 remains available for issuance to provide funds for further additions to plants and systems. The rate at which the business of the company has grown during the past several years indicates that the amount of the unissued authorized stock will not be sufficient adequately to provide for its capital requirements. It is therefore advisable that the present authorized Pref. and Common stock be increased."

National Public Service Corp.—Acquisition.—

It is understood that the entire Common stock of the Virginia Northern Power Co. has been acquired by the National Public Service Corp. The Virginia Northern Power Co. was represented in the negotiations by Messrs. Gannett, Seelye & Fleming of Harrisburg, Pa., and Parsly Bros. & Co. of Philadelphia, Pa.—V. 121, p. 2521, 1678.

New England Co.—Power Negotiations Completed—Recapitalization of Company—New Money Introduced.—

After many months of negotiations agreements of the principal parties in interest to a plan of "enlargement and reorganization" of the New England Co., owning the major hydro-electric power system of New England, have been secured. The plan embraces two principal features, recapitalization of the present company and the investment by new interests of $20,000,000 additional capital in the company. Owing to the complexities of the tax laws it has not yet been decided whether the plan will be carried out through the present company or whether a new voluntary association will be formed.

In the recapitalization, however, shareholders of the present company are generously treated. Holders of the $3,418,500 outstanding 6% 1st Pref. stock will receive 1 1-10 shares new 6% Preferred for each old share of 1st Pref., holders of $2,720,000 2nd Particip. Pref. will receive $115.50 par value of new Preferred and 7-10 share of new Common for each old share and holders of present Common will receive $165 par value new Preferred and one share of new Common for each share now outstanding.

New England Co. has outstanding $1,755,000 1st Preferred which is entitled to an additional 1½% annually in dividends until May 1 1932. This right is recognized under the plan by the provision that such stock is entitled to receive 1 1-6 share of new Preferred for each share in place of the 1-10 shares to which the balance of the 1st Preferred is entitled.

Beside this recapitalization the plan contemplates the issuance of 400,000 additional Common shares to be sold at $50 a share, thereby providing $20,000,000 new capital for the New England Co. Power System. Of these additional shares the International Securities Co., affiliated with the International Paper Co., will subscribe for 86,667 shares, interests affiliated with the Power Corp. of New York 173,333 shares and Stone & Webster, Inc., 140,000 shares.

Stone & Webster, Inc., may substitute for its own subscription other subscribers acceptable to the company and to the new interests. Several well-known New England public service companies have already signified their intention of taking a substantial amount of this underwriting.

Under the plan capital structure of the underlying companies of the system, of which the principal units are the New England Power Co., the Connecticut River Power Co. and the Bellows Falls Power Co., will remain unchanged. The water powers of the company at Bellows Falls, however, are to be sold to interests affiliated with the International Paper Co. on the basis of cost plus net operating and carrying charges and simple interest from the date of acquisition. This will consolidate water power rights at Bellows Falls into one ownership, making the power there available for economical development. It is expected that power from this development will be purchased by the system. Certain power rights on the Deerfield river owned by the Deerfield Co., in which certain large shareholders of the New England Co. are interested, will be sold to the system in exchange for an amount of new Preferred shares which it is estimated will not exceed 16,666 shares.

It is expected that arrangements will be made from time to time with the new interests in the company for the purchase from and interchange with them of power. No definite arrangements to this end are now being made. Affiliation of the company with interests having extensive water power interests should be of mutual advantage.

Following the recapitalization and the introduction of $20,000,000 new money the capitalization of the New England Co. or the successor voluntary association which may be formed will consist of 237,533 shares new 6% Preferred, which will be held by present shareholders, and 520,381 shares of new Common, of which 120,381 shares will be held by present shareholders and the balance by the new interests in the company.

William W. Brooks, (Treasurer, New England Co.); Charles A. Harris, (Treasurer, Battleboro Savings Bank), and Arthur H. Lowe, (President, Amoskeag Manufacturing Co.), constitute a committee to carry the plan into effect. A notice to the shareholders requests the deposit of their shares with the Old Colony Trust Co., depositary under the plan not later than Dec. 10. A special shareholders' meeting of the New England Co. will be held Dec. 14 to ratify the plan.—V. 121, p. 2157, 1909.

Philadelphia & Easton Transit Co.—New Control.—

The sale of the company to the Pennsylvania Edison Co. was announced on Nov. 18 The company has been operating trolleys between Doylestown and Easton, Pa., 32 miles.

An application is pending before the Pennsylvania P. S. Commission for a certificate of public convenience permitting the trolley company to operate a bus line between Doylestown and Easton. If the application is granted, trolley service will be discontinued.—V. 114, p. 80.

Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co.—To Increase Stock.—

The stockholders will vote Jan. 20 on increasing the authorized 7% Pref. stock from $3,000,000 to $18,000,000, par $50.

The City Council of Philadelphia has been requested by the company to assent to the issuance of $10,000,000 of 7% Pref. stock, par $50, retirable upon any dividend date at 55 and divs. The company's publication, "Service Talks," states: "A large amount of this stock will be sold direct to P. R. T. car-riders, in accordance with Mitten Management policy of having P. R. T. customers share in the ownership of the company which supplies them service. To this end P. R. T. common stockholders have been requested to waive their rights of subscription. The stock will also be sold to the public through P. R. T. bankers, in sufficient amount to assure the establishment of a market when the stock is put on the stock exchange, as heretofore promised.

"$5,000,000 of this Pref. stock will reimburse the treasury for the $5,000,000 temporarily taken from reserves for improvements and extensions for which securities would have been heretofore issued except that Pref. stock was not salable until after the upward of $200,000,000 valuation decision was approved by the courts. This cash fund will be held for the replacement of fixed capital—tracks, bridges, distribution system, substations, cars, carhouses, and other forms of fixed capital as set forth in the schedule of fixed capital account prescribed by the Pennsylvania P. S. Commission.

"$5,000,000 will be sold to meet payments for P. R. T. normal capital expenditures for improvements and extensions and to meet the existing capital obligations which must be paid off during the year; to purchase and rehabilitate the Frankford Tacony & Holmesburg Ry., as desired by the city; and to finance extensions necessary to adequate Sesqui-Centennial service and to the more rapid upbuilding of South Philadelphia."

T. E. Mitten, Chairman of the Executive Committee, in a letter to the City Council of Philadelphia, says in part: "P. R. T., in agreeing to at its own expense purchase, rehabilitate and operate the Tacony & Holmesburg properties, has about reached the maximum which it can undertake with its present earnings, and must therefore, in contracting to operate city-built subways, depend almost entirely upon the normal increase in trolley car earnings, which in this city should now approximate $2,000,000 per annum.

"P. R. T., to protect its normal increase in earnings and so be in a position to safely undertake the added burden of unprofitable subway operation in the interest of the city, has planned to purchase the principal taxicab company (Yellow Cab Co. of Philadelphia) now operating here. This undertaking, with proper allowance for the acquisition of other taxicab companies at a price commensurate with their present value, and with the necessary financial provision for new taxicabs, increased garaging, &c., will require an expenditure of approximately $5,000,000.

"Co-ordination of taxicabs with motorbuses and trolleys will constitute a monopoly, not for private interest, but for the benefit of the community served, because if the city will but make best use of the sinking fund now being provided from P. R. T. earnings for the purpose, the city can in 1957 secure control of taxicabs, motorbuses and trolleys free of cost, which with city-built subways would then give to the city a complete monopoly of all forms of city transportation.

"P. R. T. now asks the city's consent to the issuance of $5,000,000 Pref., to cover purchase and rehabilitation of city taxicab service, so that all earnings from city passenger transportation may go into the one pot, from which to help support the city-built subways."

William A. McGuirk, President of the Yellow Taxi Corp. of New York, which owns the entire capital stock of the Yellow Cab Co. of Philadelphia, admitted that negotiations were being conducted for the sale.—V. 121, p. 2039.

Company.—Formerly Virginia Ry. & Power Co., into which the Spottsylvania Power Co. was merged in Oct. 1925, was organized in 1909 in Virginia. Company through ownership or control furnishes electric light and power, transportation and (or) gas service in Richmond, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Williamsburg, Suffolk, Petersburg, Hopewell, Fredericksburg and Ashland, Va., and Weldon and Roanoke Rapids, No. Caro., and surrounding territory with an aggregate estimated population of about 500,000. The present industrial and commercial development of this territory affords unusual opportunities for increasing the electric light and power business. The combined properties, which are conservatively valued at mo e than $55,000,000, include electric generating stations with a capacity of 165,000 h. p., of which 28,000 is hydro-electric, also rights for further hydro-electric developments of over 100,000 h. p.

Security.—The $3,000,000 Series "A" 5% gold bonds will be direct obligations of the company by virtue of its indenture dated Nov. 2 1925, supplemental to the First and Refunding Mortgage indenture of Spottsylvania Power Co. dated Oct. 1 1925, and are secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first lien on electric light and power properties which have been valued at substantiall more than the principal amount of these bonds, a first lien by pledge on the stock of Virginia-Carolina Co., owning valuable rights for future hydro-electric developments, and a direct mortgage, subject to divisional mortgage bonds, on the other fixed physical properties and franchises of the company. The combined public utility properties now owned or controlled by the company are conservatively valued at over twice the principal amount of all bonds at present outstanding thereon.

Additional bonds are issuable under the indentures, without limit as to maximum amount, on the basis of 75% of the cost or fair value of additional property or for purposes of refunding, all under the conservative restrictions contained in said indentures.

Management and Control.—Company is under the executive management of Stone & Webster, Inc. A large majority of the Common stock is owned by Engineers Public Service Co. (See also V. 121, p. 2275.)

Bus Rights Upheld.—

An ordinance adopted last July by the Norfolk (Va.) City Council, under the provisions of which the Virginia Electric & Power Co. would assume control of motor bus transportation in Norfolk, as well as street cars, and provide a unified service, with transfer privileges, was upheld by the voters of that city in a referendum election on Nov. 17 by a vote of 4,075 to 2,511. Under the ordinance the independent operators who desire to sell their equipment to the traction company have 30 days within which it is to be appraised and inspected. If they do not offer it to the company within that time the company is not obligated to buy it.—V. 121, p. 2523.

Corporation.—Is one of the most important producers and distributors of electricity in Germany. It supplies by far the greater part of all the electricity used in one of the foremost industrial sections of Europe, serving directly more than 138,000 consumers, and supplying at wholesale most of the power requirements of local distributing systems which in the aggregate supply electricity to over 160,000 additional consumers. Among the consumers of electricity served directly by the company there are included many of the important industrial enterprises of Germany. In addition to electric light and power, manufactured gas is distributed to more than 19,500 consumers in 22 communities. The territory served by the corporation embraces an area of over 4,255 square miles in western Germany, including most of the very highly industrialized districts in the Ems, Lippe and Ruhr River valleys, and having a present population estimated at 2,900,000.

The property comprising the system includes 4 large modern steam electric generating plants with an aggregate installed generating capacity of 160,000 k. w.; a transmission system consisting of over 390 circuit miles of 50,000 volt and 100,000 volt transmission lines, carried on steel towers; 951 circuit miles of 10,000 and 25,000 volt transmission lines, and 817 miles of underground cable; 14 principal substations containing 91,000 kva. of transformers; 874 transformer and switching stations containing over 250,000 kva. of transformers; and an extensive distribution system reaching over 138,000 customers in 241 communities and including more than 1,516 circuit miles of overhead conductors and 653 miles of underground cables. A large part of the property is of recent construction and all is in first-class operating condition.

In addition, the company operates a hydro-electric plant having an installed capacity of 6,000 k. w. under a lease extending to 1948 from Ruhr Valley Stream Control Association (Ruhrtalsperre-Verein). Power is also purchased at wholesale on very favorable terms under contracts with various coal mining companies operating within the territory served. These contracts add approximately 33,000 k. w. to the power resources of the Westphalia United System.

Asbestos Corp. of Canada, Ltd.—Merger of Canadian Asbestos Companies.—The shareholders of this company will vote Dec. 18 on approving the merger of the company with other Canadian asbestos companies, mentioned below, into a new company known as Asbestos Corp., Ltd.

Pres. W. G. Ross in a letter to shareholders says in subst.:

New Company & Capitalization.—For many months past directors have been negotiating in an endeavor to better the condition of the asbestos industry. The early advances made to this corporation were not of such a character as to appeal to the directors, nor were the various subsequent propositions such as could be consistently recommended for your consideration. A plan has now been worked out which seems to promise a more advantageous status for the shareholders and better conditions for the asbestos industry as a whole. A new corporation has been incorporated [under laws of Dominion of Canada Oct. 16 1925] under the name of Asbestos Corporation, Ltd., with an authorized capital of $3,000,000 6% 1st Ref. Mtge. 15-Year bonds; $10,000,000 6% Gen. Mtge. bonds, $12,000,000 7% Non-Cumul. and Non-Partic. Preferred shares (par $100 each), and 200,000 Common shares (no par value). Of this authorized capital there will remain unissued and available for the future development of the company $5,200,000 6% Gen. Mtge. bonds and $4,500,000 7% Pref. stock.

Companies Entering Merger.—It is proposed that the new company shall in the meantime acquire the entire undertaking and assets of the following companies: (a) Asbestos Corp. of Canada, Ltd.; (b) Consolidated Asbestos, Ltd.; (c) Federal Asbestos, Ltd.; (d) Thetford-Vimy, Ltd.; (e) Maple Leaf Asbestos Corp., Ltd.; (f) Asbestos Mines, Ltd.; (g) Black Lake Asbestos & Chrome Co., Ltd.

Respecting some of the above companies, securities of the new company will be deposited with a trust company to be delivered only when they transfer their undertaking and assets with a clear title to the same.

Capital to be Issued.—The issued capital of the new company will not exceed the figures mentioned below and the division thereof will be approximately as follows:

(a) 6% 1st Ref. Mtge. 15-Year bonds (1) to be set aside for exchange and refunding of the 5% bonds of Asbestos Corp. of Canada, Ltd.	$1,699,200
(2) To be sold for the purposes of the company, including the re-imbursement of cash expenditure for purchase of certain bonds and stock of the Thetford-Vimy, Ltd. [It is reported that these bonds will be offered by Dominion Securities Corp., Ltd., and Dillon, Read & Co.]	1,300,800
(b) 6% Gen. Mtge. bonds (1) in exchange for stock, Preferred shareholders of Asbestos Corp. of Canada, Ltd.	$4,000,000
(2) To be set aside for exchange and refunding bonds of other companies	800,000
(c) 7% Non-Cumul. & Non-Partic. Pref. shares (1) Asbestos Corp. of Canada, Ltd.	$4,100,000
(2) Acquisition of other companies	3,400,000

(d) Common Stock.—In addition to the above, there will be issued 200,000 paid up shares of no par value Common stock, of which Asbestos Corp. of Canada, Ltd., will receive 70,000 shares. Of the balance, 65,000 shares will be used in the acquisition of other companies, and 37,500 shares will be delivered to the bankers as remuneration for their services and expenses. The remainder is to be held by a trustee and used as may be decided to be of advantage to the new company.

Management, &c.—The board of the new company consists of 9 members of whom 7 shall be the present directors of the Asbestos Corp. of Canada, Ltd., and they are entitled to hold office until the annual meeting in 1927. The charter of the new company provides for 3 management shares, to be held by three trustees: J. W. McConnell and F. P. Jones, Montreal; and A. F. White, Toronto, and these trustees, as holders of the management shares, will have the exclusive right of electing the board of directors of the new company and filling vacancies during the period commencing with the annual meeting in 1927 and terminating with the annual meeting in 1931.

Net Working Capital.—The new working capital is to be not less than $2,500,000.

Thetford-Vimy, Ltd.—During the negotiations directors of Asbestos Corp. of Canada, Ltd., acquired all the issued stock and $229,249 out of a total issued of $594,385 of bonds of Thetford-Vimy, Ltd., the present owners of the undertaking and assets of the Bennett-Martin Asbestos & Chrome Mines, Ltd., for the sum of $869,786.

Exchange of Securities of Asbestos Corp. of Canada, Ltd.—Considered from the standpoint of the Asbestos Corp. of Canada, Ltd., the outstanding features of the plan are these:

(1) The holders of the outstanding $1,699,200 bonds have a choice (until Nov. 1 1926) between retaining their present underlying 5% bonds or exchanging them for 6% 1st Mtge. bonds of the new company ($1,001,200 5% bonds now held in treasury of corporation shall be cancelled).

(2) Each holder of a share of Preferred stock in the present company will receive $100 in the 6% Gen. Mtge. bonds of the new comoany, plus one-fifth of a share ($100 par) of 7% Non-Cumul. Pref. stock, and one share of no par Common stock.

(3) Each holder of a share of Common stock in the present company will receive one share and a tenth of 7% Non-Cumul. Pref. stock, and one share of no par value Common stock in the new company.

In determining the total amount of the issued capitalization of the proposed consolidation, the chief factor kept in mind was that the capital structure should be kept as low as possible, in order that no criticism could be made as to the consolidation having been effected for the purpose of watering the stock. The total issued capitalization of the various companies, prior to the consolidation, was over $30,000,000. The new consolidated issued capitalization will be approximately $15,000,000 and 200,000 shares of no par value Common stock. The new consolidation will thus be able to assist materially in maintaining the asbestos industry of Canada in its existing commanding position.

Outlook for Earnings.—As regards future earnings, any forecast is extremely difficult, owing to the altered conditions caused by the consolidation, as also to the fact that most of the companies other than the Asbestos Corp. of Canada, Ltd., have been seriously affected by their shut-down or partially shut down condition and the prevailing low prices. Some of them will have to be closed until market conditions improve and there is a better demand for the product. It seems probable, however, that the new company will have a substantial earning power. This expectation is based on the fact that the profits of the Asbestos Corp. of Canada, Ltd., for the present year will not only equal the full bond interest of the new company but exceed it by a considerable amount, thus indicating that, after the consolidation and reconstruction period and placing the structure on an economical working basis, there should be a substantial surplus earned —V. 121, p. 1350, 1230.

Beaver Board Companies.—Offer Made to Pref. Holders.
Huntington Jackson & Co., New York, in a letter to the holders of voting trust certificates for the Preferred stock of the Beaver Board Companies, (which stock has paid no dividends), say in part:

"We understand that due partly to heavy operating charges during the past several years, the sinking fund provisions of the 8% Collateral Trust Gold Notes are considerably in arrears. Under the terms of the Preferred stock, this amount must be made up prior to the consideration of any dividend declaration on this stock. In view of this fact, and further because of the large capital expenditures, which we understand the management deems necessary, it is very problematical if earnings will justify the payment of any dividends for some time to come.

"While the immediate future would seem to offer little prospect of a return for the stockholders, it is possible that purchasers might be found for your holdings who have faith in the future operations of the company, and who might be willing to take on stock with no immediate prospect of a return. We believe that there may be holders of Voting Trust Certificates who in order to secure some immediate return on their holdings, would be glad to dispose of their certificates for cash, and we are therefore asking you to grant us an option on such certificates as you may hold for a reasonable period of time, and would suggest till the close of business Dec. 31 1925. Large holders of these certificates have already given such options at prices around $38 per share and slightly higher. We will endeavor to have options exercised at such prices as you may set, which we suggest should approximate the price indicated above." Bethlehem Steel Corp.—Construction Program Nearly Completed.—The company's publication, "Bethlehem Review," of Nov. 25 states in part:

Three years ago, upon the acquisition of the Lackawanna, Midvale and Cambria properties, Bethlehem undertook an $80,000,000 re-building and construction program. Its purpose was the moderization and development of the new plants with all the facilities for the economical production of steel and the addition of new finishing capacities at these and our other plants, to round out our properties and provide additional outlets for our steel. This program is nearly completed and the new units are rapidly going into operation. The results already obtained from the first new units give assurance that the benefits from the finished program will be even greater than were estimated at the time of authorizing the expenditures.

Last month the rebuilt open hearth furnaces at the Lackawanna plant started making steel. This week the second of the four new Gautier bar mills at the Cambria plant goes into operation. The first of the new structural mills at the Lackawanna plant will be finished before the end of 1925 and the new wire, rod and nail department at the Maryland plant will be ready for operation the early part of the coming year. Other important new units are now producing.

This rebuilding and extension program will result in (a) Lower operating costs; (b) better working conditions; (c) increased security of employment; (d) increased security of dividends.

Employees who purchased Preferred stock in 1924 under the first offering at $94 per share and have been making minimum monthly payments of $4 a share, after crediting the special benefit payment of $1 per share for the first year and dividends, will have their payments completed in December of this year. Certificates for the number of shares applied and paid for will then be delivered. Upon the completion of these payments more than $3,500,000 of 7% Preferred stock will be owned by employees, not including the stock now being paid for under the 1925 offering.

The underlying value of the Preferred stock as well as the assurance of regular payment of dividends is increased by: (1) The increased savings and earnings resulting from the expenditures being made for new improvements; (2) the current reductions in the funded debt, due to the payment or redemption of $17,000,000 of bonds from the first of this year to Feb. 1 1926; (3) the further retirement of funded debt at the rate of $5,000,000 per year. In the past three years, notwithstanding the extensive construction work in progress, earnings of the corporation have amounted to approximately 3 times the amount necessary to pay the dividends on the Preferred stock. Earnings will be substantially increased as the new units become productive.

A new offering of Preferred stock to employees, it is expected, will be made early in the coming year.—V. 121, p. 2160, 2043.

Blaw-Knox Co., Pittsburgh.—Extra Dividend.—
Herman A. Brassert of Chicago has been elected a director.—V. 121, p. 2524, 2407.

Boston Wharf Co.—Changes in Personnel.—

Brown Shoe Co., Inc., St. Louis, Mo.—To Readjust Capital—Reduction in "Good-Will, Trade Name, Patent Rights, &c.," Item Proposed.—President John A. Bush Nov. 20 says in substance:

The directors have given consideration to the plan to change the present authorized shares of Common stock having a par value of $100 each to shares without par value, and the adoption of this plan is now deemed advisable. At present the total authorized capital stock is $16,000,000, divided into $6,000,000 of Pref. stock and $10,000,000 of Common stock, par $100. Of the $6,000,000 Pref. stock which has heretofore been issued, $1,462,500 has already been repurchased, redeemed and cancelledby the company. There are outstanding 84,000 shares of Common stock, par $100 each.

Owing to the steady increase in the business of the company and the corresponding growth in its earnings, the market value of its Common stock has substantially increased. In the opinion of the directors the proposed plan under which 3 shares of no par value Common stock are to be exchanged for 1 share of the present Common stock, par $100, will facilitate the purchase of Common shares by employees and customers of the company and others interested in its business and development, and thereby create an advantageous financial interest in the company. It is accordingly proposed to change all of the previously authorized shares of Common stock into 500,000 shares of Common stock without par value. At the same time the authorized Pref. stock will be reduced by $1,462,500, the amount thereof which has heretofore been redeemed and cancelled. If this plan is adopted the capital structure of the company will be as follows: 45,375 shares of Pref. stock authorized, all of which is outstanding, and an authorized issue of 500,000 shares of Common stock without par value. Three shares of new Common stock without par value will be exchanged for each share of the present issued and outstanding Common stock, par $100, resulting in the issuance of 252,000 shares of no par value Common stock in place of the present issue of 84,000 shares of Common stock, par $100. There will remain authorized but unissued 248,000 shares of Common stock without par value. It is not the intention at this time to issue any of the additional Common stock, but such stock will remain available for future issuance for such corporate purposes as the directors shall deem advisable. In order to preserve the relative voting rights of the Pref. stock and Common stock, the holders of each share of Pref. stock will therefore be entitled to 3 votes for each share of Pref. stock so held wherever in the certificate of incorporation the Pref. stock has a right to vote, and each share of Common stock without par value will be entitled to one vote.

If the stockholders approve of this plan on Dec. 10, it is the expectation of the directors that a dividend at the rate of $2 per share per annum on the new no par value Common stock will be authorized. The business and net earnings for the year ending Oct. 31 1925 have shown a substantial increase; a detailed statement of the operations of the year is now in preparation. The prospects for the coming year are encouraging.

At present among the company's assets is the item of trade name, good-will and patent rights, &c., which is carried on the books at $4,966,365. Although the directors feel that the amount at which these intangilbe assets are valued is conservative, they nevertheless deem it advisable to revalue these items on the books of the company so that they will be carried at the nominal figure of $1. If the plan referred to above is adopted, a capital will be stated for each new no par value Common share so to be issued of $1 per share, and the directors expect to authorize a charge against the surplus so created of $4,966,364, the amount of the said propcsed reduction in the value of the trade name, good-will and patent rights, &c.

The stockholders will likewise be asked to change the location of the principal business office of the corporation from Millbrook, Dutchess County, N. Y., to New York City.—V. 121, p. 2524.

Business founded in Miami, Fla., in 1898, and since inception has been the leading store in that city. Beginning with an initial capital of about $300, the business has been developed to its present outstanding position entirely through the reinvestment of profits. Based on sales in August, September and October, the volume of business for the fiscal year ended July 31 1926 should exceed $8,000,000. The business is operated as a thoroughly modern and complete department store supplying practically all classes of high grade merchandise similar to that of other leading department stores of the country.

The profits for these three months alone were equal to over 1⅛ times a full year's dividend requirements on the Preference stock, and, after allowing for Preference dividends, were at the annual rate of over $5 per share on the Common stock to be outstanding.

Purpose.—Approximately 30,000 shares of the Preference stock are being purchased from the company and the remainder of the Preference stock and 45,000 shares of this issue of Common stock from those identified with the management of the company. Data from Letter of President Henry Ittleson, New York, Nov. 24.

Company.—A Delaware corporation. Through its subsidiaries, is engaged in a special field of banking, supplementing the usual functions of commercial banks. Business consists principally of financing manufacturers and merchants through purchasing notes and accounts rising from the sale of a large variety of nationally marketed products such as automobiles, electrical appliances and machinery. A considerable portion of the transactions differ from the usual bank loan or discount in that they represent the purchase of secured obligations resulting from completed sales of merchandise in moderate amounts to a large number of purchasers throughout the United States and Canada. A number of leading automobile manufacturers have contracts under which they obtain the services of the corporation in assisting their dealers to finance purchases and sales of cars. These companies include the manufacturers of the following cars: Dodge, Willys-Overland and Willys-Knight, Nash, Paige-Jewett, Hupmobile, Chandler and Cleveland.

The principal offices, located in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Toronto, supplemented by over 50 branch offices in other cities, provide nationwide financing facilities for manufacturers in the marketing of their products.

Commercial Investment Trust, Inc., the principal subsidiary company, which at present does approximately 78% of the business, is organized as an investment company under the Banking Law of the State of New York and is under the supervision of the State Superintendent of Banks.

The soundness of the corporation's business is shown by the fact that total credit losses not covered by indemnity bonds or insurance, for the period Jan. 1 1916 to Oct. 31 1925, have amounted to less than ⅛ of 1% of the total volume of business during that period.

Market Equity.—On the basis of current quotations of Common stock on the New York Stock Exchange, the market equity for the First Preferred stock represented by the Common stock now outstanding, but not including Common stock to be presently issued) amounts to more than $28,000,000.

Dividends.—Corporation has heretofore paid regular dividends on its Common stock at the rate of $2 50 per share per annum. At a recent meeting of the board of directors, a dividend at the rate of $3 60 per share per annum was declared for the period from Nov. 15 1925 to Dec. 31 1925, after which the dividend periods of the Common stock will coincide with dividend periods of the First Preferred stock.

Offering to Common Stockholders.—An offering to Common stockholders of 72,000 shares of additional Common stock has been underwritten, subject to like approval by stockholders of an increase in the corporation's authorized capital. Subject to like approval, the corporation has arranged for the sale for cash of an additional 10,000 shares of its Common stock and of additional Common stock purchase warrants entitling the holders to subscribe, on the terms of the warrants to be attached to the 6½% First Preferred stock, for 10,000 shares of its Common stock.

New First Preferred Stock.—After contemplated amendments to the certificate of incorporation, providing for increases in the authorized capital and certain modifications in the restrictive provisions of the 7% First Preferred stock, the terms of the 6½% First Preferred stock and of the 7% First Preferred stock will be alike in all respects, except as to dividend rate.

The directors have declared an extra cash dividend of 4% on the Common stock, par $25, payable Dec. 24 to holders of record Dec. 1.

Brown Shoe Co., Inc., St. Louis, Mo.—To Readjust Capital—Reduction in "Good-Will, Trade Name, Patent Rights, &c.," Item Proposed.—President John A. Bush Nov. 20 says in substance:

The directors have given consideration to the plan to change the present authorized shares of Common stock having a par value of $100 each to shares without par value, and the adoption of this plan is now deemed advisable. At present the total authorized capital stock is $16,000,000, divided into $6,000,000 of Pref. stock and $10,000,000 of Common stock, par $100. Of the $6,000,000 Pref. stock which has heretofore been issued, $1,462,500 has already been repurchased, redeemed and cancelledby the company. There are outstanding 84,000 shares of Common stock, par $100 each.

Owing to the steady increase in the business of the company and the corresponding growth in its earnings, the market value of its Common stock has substantially increased. In the opinion of the directors the proposed plan under which 3 shares of no par value Common stock are to be exchanged for 1 share of the present Common stock, par $100, will facilitate the purchase of Common shares by employees and customers of the company and others interested in its business and development, and thereby create an advantageous financial interest in the company. It is accordingly proposed to change all of the previously authorized shares of Common stock into 500,000 shares of Common stock without par value. At the same time the authorized Pref. stock will be reduced by $1,462,500, the amount thereof which has heretofore been redeemed and cancelled. If this plan is adopted the capital structure of the company will be as follows: 45,375 shares of Pref. stock authorized, all of which is outstanding, and an authorized issue of 500,000 shares of Common stock without par value. Three shares of new Common stock without par value will be exchanged for each share of the present issued and outstanding Common stock, par $100, resulting in the issuance of 252,000 shares of no par value Common stock in place of the present issue of 84,000 shares of Common stock, par $100. There will remain authorized but unissued 248,000 shares of Common stock without par value. It is not the intention at this time to issue any of the additional Common stock, but such stock will remain available for future issuance for such corporate purposes as the directors shall deem advisable. In order to preserve the relative voting rights of the Pref. stock and Common stock, the holders of each share of Pref. stock will therefore be entitled to 3 votes for each share of Pref. stock so held wherever in the certificate of incorporation the Pref. stock has a right to vote, and each share of Common stock without par value will be entitled to one vote.

If the stockholders approve of this plan on Dec. 10, it is the expectation of the directors that a dividend at the rate of $2 per share per annum on the new no par value Common stock will be authorized. The business and net earnings for the year ending Oct. 31 1925 have shown a substantial increase; a detailed statement of the operations of the year is now in preparation. The prospects for the coming year are encouraging.

At present among the company's assets is the item of trade name, goodwill and patent rights, &c., which is carried on the books at $4,966,365. Although the directors feel that the amount at which these intangilbe assets are valued is conservative, they nevertheless deem it advisable to revalue these items on the books of the company so that they will be carried at the nominal figure of $1. If the plan referred to above is adopted, a capital will be stated for each new no par value Common share so to be issued of $1 per share, and the directors expect to authorize a charge against the surplus so created of $4,966,364, the amount of the said propcsed reduction in the value of the trade name, good-will and patent rights, &c.

The stockholders will likewise be asked to change the location of the principal business office of the corporation from Millbrook, Dutchess County, N. Y., to New York City.—V. 121, p. 2524.

The business is operated as a thoroughly modern and complete department store supplying practically all classes of high grade merchandise similar to that of other leading department stores of the country.

Data from Letter of President Henry Ittleson, New York, Nov. 24.

Company.—A Delaware corporation. Through its subsidiaries, is engaged in a special field of banking, supplementing the usual functions of commercial banks. Business consists principally of financing manufacturers and merchants through purchasing notes and accounts rising from the sale of a large variety of nationally marketed products such as automobiles, electrical appliances and machinery. A considerable portion of the transactions differ from the usual bank loan or discount in that they represent the purchase of secured obligations resulting from completed sales of merchandise in moderate amounts to a large number of purchasers throughout the United States and Canada. A number of leading automobile manufacturers have contracts under which they obtain the services of the corporation in assisting their dealers to finance purchases and sales of cars. These companies include the manufacturers of the following cars: Dodge, Willys-Overland and Willys-Knight, Nash, Paige-Jewett, Hupmobile, Chandler and Cleveland.

The principal offices, located in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Toronto, supplemented by over 50 branch offices in other cities, provide nationwide financing facilities for manufacturers in the marketing of their products.

Commercial Investment Trust, Inc., the principal subsidiary company, which at present does approximately 78% of the business, is organized as an investment company under the Banking Law of the State of New York and is under the supervision of the State Superintendent of Banks.

The soundness of the corporation's business is shown by the fact that total credit losses not covered by indemnity bonds or insurance, for the period Jan. 1 1916 to Oct. 31 1925, have amounted to less than ¼ of 1% of the total volume of business during that period.

Market Equity.—On the basis of current quotations of Common stock on the New York Stock Exchange, the market equity for the First Preferred stock (represented by the Common stock now outstanding, but not including Common stock to be presently issued) amounts to more than $28,000,000.

Dividends.—Corporation has heretofore paid regular dividends on its Common stock at the rate of $2 50 per share per annum. At a recent meeting of the board of directors, a dividend at the rate of $3 60 per share per annum was declared for the period from Nov. 15 1925 to Dec. 31 1925, after which the dividend periods of the Common stock will coincide with dividend periods of the First Preferred stock.

Offering to Common Stockholders.—An offering to Common stockholders of 72,000 shares of additional Common stock has been underwritten, subject to like approval by stockholders of an increase in the corporation's authorized capital. Subject to like approval, the corporation has arranged for the sale for cash of an additional 10,000 shares of its Common stock and of additional Common stock purchase warrants entitling the holders to subscribe, on the terms of the warrants to be attached to the 6½% First Preferred stock, for 10,000 shares of its Common stock.

New First Preferred Stock.—After contemplated amendments to the certificate of incorporation, providing for increases in the authorized capital and certain modifications in the restrictive provisions of the 7% First Preferred stock, the terms of the 6½% First Preferred stock and of the 7% First Preferred stock will be alike in all respects, except as to dividend rate.

(John T.) Connor Co.—Boston Grocery Merger Announced. It was officially announced Nov. 25 that a merger of the John T. Connor Co., O'Keeffe's Inc., and the Ginter Co. under the name of First National Stores, Inc., has been agreed upon by the officials of the three companies, subject to formal action by their directors and stockholders. The precise stock basis for the merger will be determined on the completion of a uniform audit of the three companies now being made by Price, Waterhouse & Co. Full details will be given to the stockholders of the respective companies in the immediate future. No public offering of securities is contemplated at this time. It is the intention of the management that the three merged companies will continue their stores under the present names with the same merchandise and brands. New stores will not be placed in competition with existing stores.

A big development is planned in manufacturing foodstuffs, in establishing a model and large bakeshop, a single milk supply in an exceptional dairy section, and a large warehouse at a central point for the 1,675 stores of the consolidated corporation. Dodge Brothers, Inc.—Acquire Graham Brothers.—Purchase for cash of a majority interest in Graham Brothers, the largest independent motor truck manufacturers in the world, by the company has been consummated it was officially announced Nov. 23.

Clarence Dillon confirmed the report that Ray A. Graham, Secretary of Graham Brothers, has been appointed General Manager of Dodge Brothers, Inc. He also said that Joe B. Graham and Robert C. Graham, Pres. and V.-Pres. respectively of Graham Brothers will become members of the board of directors of Dodge Brothers, Inc. Frederick J. Haynes will continue as Pres. and in addition will succeed Edwin G. Wilmer as Chairman of the Executive Committee. Mr. Wilmer will become Chairman of the board. H. H. Springford will become V.-Pres., having supervision of the financial affairs of the company.

Graham Brothers have factories in Detroit, Evansville, Ind., Stockton, Calif., and operate in Canada as Graham Brothers (Canada) Ltd., with a factory at Toronto, Ont. Graham Brothers will continue operating as at present with no change in their executive personnel.

With the consummation of this deal, Dodge Brothers, already one of the world's largest producers of automobiles of all classes and standing first in the production of ¾ ton commercial cars, will take a big stride ahead in the industry. Dodge Brothers are the third largest producers of motor cars, and Graham Brothers rank first among all manufacturers of 1½ ton trucks, and are second in the production of 1½ and 1 ton trucks combined. The field constitutes about 75% of total truck production.

Graham Brothers production for the first 6 months of 1925 aggregated 11,000 trucks, equal to the entire 1924 output. Estimated output for the current year will more than double the 1924 output. Graham Brothers began building trucks in 1919, and in 1921 effected an arrangement with Dodge Brothers whereby they were to use Dodge Brothers engine as standard equipment and market exclusively through Dodge Brothers dealers. Since then their business has grown enormously. In 1921, the first year of their arrangement with Dodge Brothers, their output was 1,085 cars. This has been increased to 16,500 cars the first 10 months of 1925, an increase in five years of slightly more than 1,420%.

While total motor truck production for the country for the first 8 months of 1925 increased 23%, that of Graham Brothers for the same period jumped 105%.

Commenting on the acquisition of Graham Brothers by Dodge Brothers Inc., President Haynes said:

"While Graham Brothers have been operating for several months as a division of Dodge Brothers, we have had no financial interest in their business or participation in their earnings. Graham Brothers were a division of Dodge Brothers to the extent that they used Dodge Brothers motor and marketed their product through Dodge Brothers dealer organization. We fostered the development of Graham Brothers' business because we appreciated the importance of having a dealer organization highly trained in the marketing of trucks, as well as passenger cars, and because we naturally recognized the enormous potentialities of the truck market. It is significant, in this connection, that 85% of all trucks in use today are of the size and type manufactured by Dodge Brothers, Inc., and Graham Brothers.

"Rapid development of Graham Brothers' business has been due to the exceptional quality of Graham trucks and motor coaches and the capable management of the Graham Brothers.

"The bus field, in which Graham Brothers already are active, will be stressed in the new combination. Buses will be sold in increasing thousands every year, and the market is wholly without limit. Many fleets of Graham buses are in operation in all parts of the world. In Detroit alone 140 Graham buses are acting as feeders to municipal street car lines.

"Furthermore, the opportunities for expansion of the truck and commercial car business in the foreign field are tremendous, and Robert C. Graham, Director of the Commercial Car and Truck Division of Dodge Brothers, Inc. is now in Europe developing plans for the extensive increase of the foreign marketing organization."

[The report that the Graham Brothers personally have recently been very large buyers of Common stock of Dodge Brothers, Inc. and are increasing their investment in that company, was confirmed by Ray A. Graham, who said that he and his brothers are now among the company's largest stockholders.]—V. 121, p. 2408, 2278.

Listing.—Stocks listed on the Baltimor Stock Exchange.

Data from Letter of A. J. Fink, President of the Company.

Company.—Organized in 1920 and conducts a semi-banking business through the purchase of accounts receivable, acceptances, drafts and notes receivable from successful and well rated manufacturers and jobbers, who guarantee 100% of the payment thereof, although the company advances not more than 80% of the face value, retaining a minimum of 20% reserve against each account which is refunded when the account is fully paid. Company also purchases bills of exchange and drafts and at times makes loans against warehouse receipts, &c.

Company further purchases retail motor lien notes, repayable in equal monthly installments not exceeding one year, or an average life of not over 6 months, the down payment margin requirements being not less than 33 1-3%. These well secured assets being short term and self-liquidating, practically eliminate the possibility of depreciation in value. This type of business has been successfully conducted in Baltimore for over 15 years with an almost negligible loss ratio, the losses of the company since beginning operation averaging less than ⅛ of 1% of total volume.

Earnings.—The gross business of the company increased from $7,732,316 in 1923 to $8,821,141 in 1924, while the gross business for the first 6 months of 1925 totals $7,698,796, or at the annual rate of $15,397,593, exceeding a monthly average of $1,283,000. Net earnings increased from $112,887 in 1923 to $139,601 in 1924 and in the first 6 months of 1925 totaled $89,080, or at the annual rate of $178,160, equal to over 2½ times dividend requirements on the Pref. stock after payment of all interest charges, leaving over $10 50 per share available for dividends on the Common stock outstanding June 30 1925.

After giving effect to the sale of this $1,000,000 additional 7% Pref. stock and 10,000 shares Class "A" Common stock in units, and 5,000 additional Class "A" Common stock and giving benefit to the savings in interest charges alone from the use of this additional capital, but without the benefit of any increased volume of business, earnings for 1923 totaled $207,287 and increased to $234,001 in 1924, and for the first 6 months of 1925 totaled $136,280, or at the annual rate of $272,560, equal to nearly two times the dividend requirements on the entire $2,000,000 Pref. stock after the payment of all interest charges, leaving over $5 30 per share available for dividends on the entire 25,000 shares of Common stock to be presently outstanding. This is equal to nearly 18% on a value of $30 per share. On this basis earnings for the 2½ years ended June 30 1925 available for dividends on the entire 25,000 shares of Common stock equaled $3 64 per share.

Purpose.—This increase in capital is to provide for the company's growing business and by doubling the company's working capital through the sale of this stock it is conservatively estimated that both the volume of business and the net earnings will be more than doubled in view of the fact that the company has already developed an efficient and progressive organization capable of handling a much larger volume of business with comparatively no increase in overhead expenses.

Dividends.—Company has regularly paid 7% dividends on the outstanding Pref. stock since date of issue. Directors have declared the initial quarterly dividend of 50c. per share on the Common stock, payable Jan. 2 1926 to holders of record of Dec. 19 1925.—V. 121, p. 2045.

Fifth Avenue and 28th Street Realty Co., Inc.—Bonds Offered.—Hayden, Stone & Co. and Brooke, Stokes & Co. are offering at 100 and int. $2,000,000 1st (closed) Mtge. 6½% Sinking Fund Gold loan.

Penn. and Conn. 4 mills taxes, Maryland 4½ mills tax, District of Columbia and Mich. 5 mills taxes and Mass. income tax up to 6% refunded. Denom. $1,000, $500 and $100 (c*), with interest warrants attached. Red. all or part on 30 days' notice on any int. date at 103 and int. up to and incl. Nov. 15 1935; at 102 and int. thereafter up to and incl. Nov. 15 1939; at 101 and int. thereafter up to and incl. Nov. 15 1943; and at 100 and int. thereafter. United States Mortgage & Trust Co. of New York, mortgagee. Legal for the investment of trust funds under the laws of the State of New York, upon completion of the building.

Security.—This loan will be secured by a closed first mortgage on the southeast corner of Fifth Ave. and 28th St., N. Y. City, fronting 86 ft. 10 in. on Fifth Ave. and 125 ft. on 28th St. (an irregular plot containing approximately 11,100 sq. ft.), and a modern 24-story store, office and loft building to be erected thereon. The site, according to real estate authorities, is one of the most advantageous and desirable locations in N. Y. City for its purpose.

Construction.—Building will be modern, fireproof, sprinklered and built of steel, stone and brick. It will have a cubage of construction of at least 3,000,000 cu. ft., but if upon completion of the building this cubage of construction is less, the amount of the mortgage is to be immediately reduced according to schedule and such reduction credited to the sinking fund. The building will have an estimated total net rentable area of about 225,000 sq. ft.

Purpose.—Proceeds will be used as part payment for both the cost of the land and the cost of the construction of the building. So much thereof as is to be applied to the construction cost will be deposited with the mortgagee and will be advanced from time to time against the cost of the work, on certificates of construction to specified stages as certified to by Dwight P. Robinson & Co., Inc., engineers, who will in the interest of the certificate holders supervise construction for the mortgagee. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy not later than Dec. 1 1926.

Earnings.—Charles F. Noyes Co. and Thoens & Flaunlacher, Inc., have estimated probable rentals, and the averages of these estimates are as follows:

Annual gross rentals	$451,020
Expenses (including vacancies, taxes and operating)	148,851
Net annual income estimated	$302,169

This estimated net annual income is equivalent to about 2 1-3 times the $130,000 maximum annual interest requirements on these certificates.

Sinking Fund.—Semi-annual sinking fund payments beginning May 15 1928 are provided to retire $50,000 of certificates each year. Certificates for the sinking fund may be purchased in the open market up to and including the then call price, or they may be called by lot for redemption, all in accordance with provisions contained in the mortgage. Certificates acquired through the sinking fund must be canceled.

Fisk Rubber Co.—Offers Plan To Settle Accrued Dividends—Note Issue Proposed.—The directors have submitted to stockholders a plan for the payment of accumulated Pref. stock dividends and recommendations to provide additional working capital, and have called a meeting of the stockholders to be held Dec. 11.

The accumulated dividends on the 1st Pref. stock now amount to $26 a share and on the 2d Pref. stock to about $31 a share. In settlement of the dividends on the 1st Pref. stock it is proposed to offer stockholders $1 in cash and $25 in 1st Pref. (Conv.) stock, which will be entitled to 7% dividends ranking equally with the present 1st Pref. stock and will be convertible into four shares of Common stock at any time up to Dec. 31 1935. When all the dividends on the 1st Pref. stock are paid, it is proposed to offer to 2d Pref. stockholders in payment of their accumulated dividends Common stock to be taken at a valuation of not less than $25 a share.

The company points out that in view of the increase in the price of crude rubber to $1 a pound the working capital requirements will be greatly increased, and that although the company is now in a very strong position with net current assets of $28,000,000, of which $8,200,000 is cash, nevertheless it is desirable to procure additional working capital as insurance against contingencies which may arise. They consequently ask the stockholders to approve the issue of not to exceed $10,000,000 of short-term notes.

The company reports estimated net earnings available for dividends for the year ended Oct. 31 of $7,500,000. [Net earnings, after interest, reserve for Federal taxes, and other contingencies, for the year ended Oct. 31 1924, amounted to $2,736,664.]—V. 121, p.1683.

Fleischmann Co.—$1 Div.—Stock Split-Up Approved.—The directors have declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1 per share on the present Common stock, payable Jan. 2 to holders of record Dec. 15. On Oct. 1 last the company paid an extra dividend of $1 per share in addition to the usual quarterly of $1 per share (see V. 121, p. 1106).

The directors also approved the stockholders' action increasing the Common stock to 4,500,000 shares of no par from 1,500.000 shares of no par, each stockholder to receive three shares of new for one of old.

Fleischmann Interests Acquire Malting Plant.—An official announcement says:

The Fleischmann interests purchased the North Star Malting Co.'s plant at Minneapolis. However, this plant will not be used for the manufacture of malt syrup; it will be strictly a "malting" plant to the extent of malting 2,000,000 bushels yearly. The plant has a concrete grain storage capacity of 1,800,000 bushels, and will be utilized to full capacity.

With the addition of this plant to its present holdings, the Fleischmann interests will have a total capacity of aroung 7,500,000 bushels of malt yearly, operating malt houses at the present time in Chicago, Buffalo, Red Wing, another plant in Minneapolis, and Watertown, Wis., and in connection with these malt houses a chain of 24 country elevators are also operated by the Fleischmann Malting Co. throughout the States of Minnesota and South Dakota. The Fleischmann Malting Co. are the largest maltsters in the United States.

Grain elevators operated by the Fleischmann Malting Co.—In Minnesota: Bellechester, Bombay, Chandler, Edgerton, Fulda, Goodhue, Jackson, Lakefield, Minnesota Lake, Okabena, Welch, Winnebago and Zumbrata. Company.—Incorp. in Delaware in 1921. Business of company is the purchase of commercial paper secured by liens on automobiles. Practically all finance companies deal in automobile paper, but in the majority of cases they also purchase accounts receivable and finance installment sales of other articles. Corporation has confined its operations exclusively to automobile paper, with resulting lower overhead. The policy of the company is, with the exception of Ford paper, to take only retail paper guaranteed by the dealer and secured by the automobiles on which the purchaser has made a 33 1-3% cash payment. Practically all of the paper purchased runs 12 months or less. Fire, theft and transportation insurance is carried on all automobiles financed and the liens are recorded where necessary to protect the interests of the company.

In addition to purchase of retail sale paper, the company finances the stocking of cars for approved dealers upon a down payment of 10% to 20% of the wholesale price. Company takes a lien on the cars, which are fully covered by insurance. At the outset of the company's business purchases were confined to paper from dealers in territory adjacent to Baltimore, but the business now has grown to include more than 700 dealers, in 19 States handling Ajax, Buick, Cadillac, Chandler, Chevrolet, Chrysler, Cleveland, Dodge, Essex, Flint, Ford, Franklin, Hudson, Hupmobile, Jewett, Jordan, Lincoln, Marmon, Nash, Oakland, Oldsmobile, Overland, Packard, Peerless, Reo, Star, Studebaker and Willys-Knight.

Holland and Switzerland buying is especially good.

Roebling Building (117 Liberty Street, Inc.), N. Y. City.—Bonds Offered.—American Bond & Mortgage Co. has announced an offering of $1,200,000 6½% 1st Mtge. Serial Gold bonds at prices to yield from 6% to 6½%, according to maturity.

The bonds are secured by the Roebling Bldg., the 17-story office building to be erected at 117-121 Liberty St., New York. The bonds are dated Oct. 10 and will be matured in from two to ten year periods. The interest dates are April 10 and Oct. 10.

The Roebling Bldg. will be an addition to New York's downtown skyline and the old buildings now occupying the site are being razed for the preparation of the foundation.

The plot to be occupied by the building is 75 ft. on Liberty St. and 101 ft. deep. In appearance it will be of modernized Gothic design with the exterior of limestone for the first three stories, and the balance of light gray brick trimmed with terra cotta. The design provides for a set-back at the 14th floor on the front of the building, and at the 7th and 12th floors on the rear of the building. The ground floor space will be dividend into three stores, and the main corridor will be finished with marble, plaster and terrazzo with marble floors.

A feature of the basement will be a swimming pool 20x60 ft., and all the adjuncts of a gymnasium suitable for the headquarters of a health institute similar to those which have proved so popular among business men in the financial section.

The property is owned by 117 Liberty St., Inc., of which M. Meyerowitz is President. Mr. Meyerowitz states that the rental schedule for the building has been compiled at rates considerably lower than rents obtainable in buildings of this type in the vicinity, and that negotiations are already under way with a number of corporations which are desirous of obtaining several floors for housing executive offices. He also states that it is anticipated that a considerable proportion of leases will probably be signed for space in the building from plans during the actual work of construction.

Sunset Timber Co., Willapa Lumber Co. and Siler Mill Co., Raymond, Wash.—Notes Offered.—

Dated Oct. 15 1925; due serially, April 15 1926 to Oct. 15 1929. Principal and int. (Q-J) payable at offices of Freeman, Smith & Camp Co. at Portland and San Francisco, without deduction for any normal Federal income tax not in excess of 2%. Red. all or part on any int. date on 30 days' notice at par and int. and a premium of ½ of 1%. Notes retired prior to their maturity to be called in reverse of numerical order. Title & Trust Co., Portland, Oregon, trustee. Denom. $1,000, $500 and $100.

In event of violation of particular covenants of the trust indenture the lien securing these notes shall automatically become a first mortgage and, at the request of the holders of 25% of the notes then outstanding, such mortgage shall become immediately due and payable and at a premium of ½%.

Sunset Timber Co. was incorp. in 1906 to serve several sawmill companies operating on Willapa Harbor including the Willapa Lumber Co. and Siler Mill Co. who later purchased the interests of the other mills and now own all the stock of the Sunset Timber Co.

Sunset Timber Co. was organized to build logging railroads and conduct logging operations in the fine bodies of fir, spruce and cedar timber on Mill Creek, Pacific County, Wash. The logs produced are divided between Willapa Lumber Co. and the Siler Mill Co., in proportion to their stock ownership, which arrangement has proven an efficient and harmonious one for over 15 years. Willapa Lumber Co. has operated continuously at Raymond since it was established in 1905 and the Siler Mill Co. at Raymond since 1902. Both companies have their own large timber holdings in addition to the holdings of Sunset Timber Co.

The Sunset Timber Co. owns upward of 120,000,000 ft. of timber of good size and quality with favorable logging conditions and has purchase contracts from Weyerhaeuser Timber Co. and others covering large additional tracts of similar timber. It operates a well-built logging railroad and a four-side logging operation with monthly capacity of seven to eight million feet of logs. All railroad and logging equipment is in excellent condition. Oil burning donkeys and locomotives are used.

Secured Joint and Several Obligation.—This note issue is the joint and several obligation of Sunset Timber Co., Willapa Lumber Co. and Siler Mill Co., all of Raymond, Wash., whose combined net assets on depreciated valuations total $3,646,119 as of June 30 1925, or at the rate of $22,097 for each $1,000 note.

The trust indenture securing these notes provides that the Sunset Timber Co. shall maintain free of any encumbrances or liens that otherwise might run prior to the lien securing these notes a minimum of 65,000,000 ft. of standing timber on fee lands (conservatively valued at $4.50 per 1,000 ft.) until the first maturity of notes shall have been paid and thereafter to maintain the same ratio of standing timber to outstanding notes as 65,000,000 ft. bear to $165,000, the amount of this note issue. Balance sheet of Sunset Timber Co. shows net assets, after deducting all liabilities except this note issue, of $482,446, or $2,924 for each $1,000 note. The joint makership of Willapa Lumber Co., with capital and surplus of $1,438,250, and Siler Mill Co., with capital and surplus of $1,725,421, adds exceptional security to these notes.

Purpose.—Proceeds are to be used for extension of the logging railroad, to complete payments on timber purchases, and provide additional working capital.

The extra dividend of 75 cents per share, declared last week, is payable Dec. 15 from reserve for depletion. Treasurer H. F. J. Data from Letter of Charles U. Williams, President of the Company.

Company.—Incorp. in Illinois Nov. 7 1924. Is the largest manufacturer of electrically operated domestic oil burners in the world. Starting with the sale of one burner in 1919, sales have steadily increased until in 1925 the company expects to sell and deliver some 12,000 units. This growth has been financed entirely out of earnings. Company's first national advertising campaign started in May 1924, with a dealer organization of only 400. To-day this organization numbers 1,600 dealers located in every State in the Union, and the company plans to spend $600,000 for advertising in 1926.

The first Williams Oil-O-Matic installed in 1919 is still in operation and giving perfect satisfaction. The Williams Oil-O-Matic is an electrically driven unit designed for use in connection with the ordinary type of household heating plant, steam, hot air or hot water. This burner is capable of using a materially lower gravity fuel oil than that which can be used by any of its chief competitors. As lower gravity oil contains a greater number of heat units per gallon, and as the cost per gallon is materially less, cost of operation of the Williams Oil-O-Matic is lower than that of any of the other household burners now on the market. Proven cost of operation in many cases has been less than the previous cost of operating a coal fired furnace.

Chairman John Hertz says: "The consolidation of the General Motors Truck division and Yellow Cab Manufacturing Co. took place during the 3 months ended Sept. 30. Because of this deal and the fact that most of manufacturing and sales activities were either stopped or badly impaired during this period, the quarterly showing can hardly be accepted as any measure of business to-day.

"We did not get into full swing until November. This is largest month's business in the history of our Chicago plant. In the meantime our Pontiac and Detroit plants will show a substantial profit. It is our intention not to have our regular yearly shut-down for inventory.

"Orders on hand are sufficient to keep the Chicago plant filled to capacity up until February and our Pontiac and Detroit plants are filled well over their schedule into February."—V. 121, p. 2535, 1689.

Cost and freight Santos 4s were 22c. prompt and 5-6s 20¾c. Rio 7s for Dec. shipment offered at 16.90c. Rio 7s show a decline for the week of 1c.

Futures fell partly through a fear of big December notices of delivery and also because of lower firm offers, as the money situation in Brazil tightens. Rio dropped some 300 reis early in the week. Santos was irregular with exchange up 1-32d. at 7 5-32d. and the dollar rate 20 reis higher. Rio exchange declined ⅛d. to 7⅛d. and the dollar rate rose 60 reis. On the 24th inst. an oversold market advanced 32 to 55 points. Futures on the 25th inst. declined 16 to 30 points with further liquidation. To-day futures declined 10 to 34 points net with estimated transactions of 36,000 bags. There seems no likelihood of a loan to Brazil except for railroad and water supply purposes. Spot trade was slow. Brazilian advices of late to say the least have not been stimulating, although now and then there have been reports of a rather steadier tone. Final prices show a decline for the week of 75 points on December and 13 to 21 points on some of the later months. Prices closed as follows:

Spot unofficial	17¼	March	16.27@16.30	July	15.60@
December	16.55@	May	15.90@	September	14.95@15.00

SUGAR.—Cuban raws after transactions last week of over 500,000 bags, including resales of 175,000 bales by the United Kingdom, became quiet but firm at 2 5-16c., with sales of 1,000 tons of Philippine Island centrifugals early in the week at 4.08c. delivered, or the Cuban basis of 2 5-16c. The situation was rather tense, with reports that all available vessels for prompt and early tonnage from Cuba had been engaged by prominent Cuban interests. On the 23d inst. 2 5-16c. was freely bid. December was sold on the eve of notice day Nov. 24, but all months were higher. Trading was in 73,000 tons, nearly one-half switches, from December into distant months; switching into March was done at 15 to 18 points, July 39 to 41 points, January 8 to 9 points and September 48 to 49 points, May-September at 19 points and March-May at 14 points. Refined was quiet at 5.20 to 5.40c. Withdrawals made no poor showing for this time of the year. But East and West are supposed to be pretty well supplied for some weeks to come. Later, 2⅜c. was paid for Cuban. Sales of raw sugar reported later included 2,000 tons of Philippines, delivered second half December to an operator at 4.12½c.; delivered, 44,500 bags Cuba prompt at 2⅜c. c. & f. Further sales, it is believed, were made, making 80,000 bags of Cuba on the 25th inst. Of futures, 75,000 tons were sold and prices rose on the 25th inst. 6 to 9 points; 100 December notices appeared but were promptly stopped. December was in good demand from trade interests. Prompt raws sold up to 2⅜c. c. & f.

Havana cabled on Nov. 26 that Central Isabel of the Guantanamo Sugar Co. had started grinding. This is the second of its mills to begin operations. Central Preston started cutting cane last Saturday. Receipts at U. S. Atlantic ports for the week ending Nov. 25 were 47,868 tons, against 51,825 in previous week, 29,500 last year and 15,535 two years ago; meltings, 49,000, against 56,000 in previous week, 41,000 last year and 28,000 two years ago total stock, 57,085, against 58,217 in previous week, 19,709, last year and 48,044 two years ago. Central Rio Cautel started grinding last Saturday. It is the first mill to begin operations. Difficulties between labor and sugar mills of the Province of Camaguey have not been settled. A gunboat has been sent there by the Cuban Government. Central Limones, property of the defunct Banco Nacional de Cuba, has been authorized to grind this season. The Cuban Government is investigating a report that sugar mill owners in reprisal against planters for refusing to cut their cane have severed rail communications with the plantations. Guma-Meier, Havana, reported rain in the provinces of Santa Clara, Camaguey and Oriente, and gave the following statistics on the position of the old crop: Exports, 68,666 tons (United States Atlantic ports, 42,232 tons; Savannah, 3,000 tons, Europe, 22,791 tons; Yokohama, 643 tons); stock, 327,796 tons. H. A. Himely reported the weather cooler and favorable for grinding. He put the exports for the week ended Nov. 23 at 62,730 tons, including 34,811 tons north of Hatteras, 1107 tons to New Orleans, 3,000 tons to Savannah, 238 tons to the interior, 16,009 tons to England, 3,682 tons to France and 3,893 tons to Japan.

There is talk of further reductions in Cuban crop estimates. This and reports of labor troubles in Cuba and the fact that Cuban sugar was not being pressed for sale, attracted attention, especially as it was believed that the unsold remainder was mostly hedged on the New York exchange. To-day futures advanced slightly despite some 40 notices issued and reports that 7 mills were grinding in Cuba. Refined was 5 to 5.30c. with a light business. Prompt raws were reported firm at 2⅜c., at which price it is now said 100,000 bags were sold on the 25th inst. But to-day refiners seemed adverse to taking hold freely. Final prices show a decline in December futures for the week of 12 points, while May and July are up 10 points. Prompt raws, ending at 2⅜c., were ⅛c. higher than a week ago. Prices closed as follows:

LARD on the spot declined; prime Western, 16.20 to 16.30c.; city lard, in tierces, 15¾c.; in tubs, 16¼ to 17c. Compound, carlots, in tierces, 12½ to 12¾c. Refined, Continent, 17c.; South America, 18¼c.; Brazil, 19¼c. To-day spot lard was in fair demand. Prime Western, 16.45c.; refined, Continent, 17⅛c.; South America, 18¼c.; Brazil, 19¼c. Inspections of lard at all establishments during the month of October were 111,215,931 lbs.; compound and other substitutes, 49,411,604 lbs.; corresponding inspections for Oct. 1924, lard, 111,933,332 lbs.; compound and other substitutes, 55,814,935 lbs. These totals do not present actual production as the same lard or compound may have been inspected and recorded more than once in the process of manufacture. The packing of hogs during the month of October was officially placed at 3,314,553, against 3,498,135 in October last year and the total for 10 months ended October was 34,863,693, against 41,631,384 the same time last year. Futures declined on active trading with receipts large, hogs off 10 to 20c. on the 23d inst. and liquidation general. Packers and shorts bought. Prices fell 10 to 35 points. English cables were in some cases 3d. lower. Meats were dull. Ribs fell 10 points on the 21st inst. when English cables fell 1s. to 1s. 3d. Export demand was poor. On the 24th inst. futures rose 25 to 32 points on a good demand from cash interests and commission houses, firmer prices for hogs and higher grain markets. Yet English lard cables were 1s. 6d. to 2s. 3d. lower. American demand neutralized that fact. To-day futures declined after a steady opening, in response to a rise in grain. Liquidation set in later on. There was little demand except from shorts. They were not anxious seeing that cash trade was dull and corn later on lower. Yet hogs advanced 15 to 25 cents with the top $11 85. Western hog receipts were only 104,000, against 160,000 last year. Chicago expects 9,000 tomorrow. Last prices for lard show a decline for the week of 7 to 15 points, though at one time they were some 13 to 15 points higher than last Friday.

PETROLEUM.—Gasoline was firmer in the Mid-Continent with U. S. motor quoted at 10c. to 10½c. Locally it was quoted at 11½c. refineries. There was a good export demand reported. In the Gulf section U. S. motor was quoted at 11c. and 64-66 gravity at 15c. Cased gasoline has been stronger. Advices from Pennsylvania stated that a premium of 25c. was paid for crude oil by some refiners. Another advance in this direction would not be surprising to some. Kerosene was in better demand and firm at 8c. for water white at refineries and 9c. in tank cars delivered to trade. A larger movement was reported in cased kerosene. Locally the tank wagon price was firm at 14c., and an advance in this price is looked for soon. Bunker oil was firmer at $1 65 for grade C refinery. Stocks on hand are small. Diesel oil in good demand at $1 99½. Gas oil quiet at 5¼c. for 36-40 and 5c. for 28-34 gravity. Lubricating oils have been in fair demand and firmer. New York refined export prices: Gasoline, cases, cargo lots, U. S. motor specifications, deodorized, 27.15c.; U. S. motor bulk, refinery, 11½c. Kerosene, cargo lots, cases, 17.40c.; Greater New York prices: Furnace oil, bulk, refinery, 6½c.; petroleum, refined, tanks, wagon to store, 14½c.; kerosene, bulk, 46-46-150 W.W. delivered New York tank cars, 9¼c.; motor gasoline, garages (steel bbls.), 17c.; up-State, 16c.; single tank cars delivered, New York, 12½c. Cased kerosene has latterly advanced ¼c. Gasoline has been in better export demand and firmer of late. Bunker oil also shows no little firmness.

Pennsylvania crude oil in Pittsburgh was advanced 10 to 25c. early in the week. New prices are: Pennsylvania grade in New York Transit and Bradford district in National Transit lines, $3 40; Pennsylvania grade in National Transit and Southwest Pennsylvania lines, $3 30; Gaines grade in National Transit lines, $2 95; Pennsylvania grade in Eureka lines, $3 25; Pennsylvania grade in Buckeye lines, $3 05. All these grades are 25c. higher. Cabell grade in Eureka lines, $2 10; Somerset medium in Cumberland lines, $2 20; Somerset light in Cumberland lines, $2 35. These grades show an advance of 15c. Ragland grade in Cumberland lines was advanced 10c. to $1 10. Corning grade in Buckeye lines remained unchanged at $1 80. The Magnolia Petroleum advanced gasoline 1c. a gallon at service stations and tank wagons in Oklahoma where the price had been under 19c. The Humble Oil & Refining Co. posted new schedule of prices for Mid-Continent crude, which meets those posted by the Prairie Oil & Gas Co. on Aug. 27. The Humble's had been slightly higher on lower gravities of crude and lower on higher gravities. The Texas Oil Co. changed its price schedule for light oils in Texas to make it match those in Oklahoma. The Texas Co.'s entire Mid-Continent schedule is on the same basis as that of the Prairie Oil & Gas Co.

The Magnolia Petroleum Co. announced new crude oil prices in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas on Nov. 23 as follows: Below 28 gravity, $1 07; 28 to 28.9 gravity, $1 15; 29 to 29.9 gravity, $1 23; 30 to 30.9 gravity, $1 31. Other grades were unchanged. Corsicana heavy crude was quoted at $1 05.

RUBBER late last week moved up sharply again, that is 3 to 4c., with London 1½ to 2¼d. higher and Singapore up ½ to 1⅛d. London was stirred by a fear of a reduced total in the stock statement of the 23d inst. Here first latex crepe spot was $1 14 to $1 16; November, $1 13 to $1 14; Dec., $1 12 to $1 13; Jan.-Mar., $1 09 to $1 10; April-June, $1 04. On the 21st inst. first latex crepe spot was $1 13 to $1 15; Nov., $1 12 to $1 13; Dec., $1 11 to $1 12; Jan.-Mar., $1 08 to $1 09; April-June, $1 01 to $1 03. Ribbed smoked sheets, spot, $1 11 to $1 12; Nov., $1 10 to $1 11; Dec., $1 09 to $1 10; Jan.-March, $1 07 to $1 08; April-June, $1 02 to $1 03. London was unchanged to ½d. lower. Singapore fell ⅛ to ½d. Later on spot was dull here at $1 12 to $1 13 for first latex. Distant months were wanted, however, at higher prices; only 5c. separated spot and April smoked ribs; it was 8c. on latex. Factories bought and braced later deliveries. First latex crepe spot, $1 12 to $1 13; Nov., $1 11 to $1 12; Dec., $1 10 to $1 11; Jan.-March, $1 09 to $1 10; April-June, $1 04 to $1 05. Ribbed smoked sheets, spot, Nov.-Dec., $1 09 to $1 10; Jan.-March, $1 08 to $1 09; April-June, $1 04 to $1 05; Brown crepe, thin clean, $1 05. In Lodon imports and deliveries were about equal to last week. The present stock is 4,505 tons, against 4,503 in the previous week, 5,132 a month ago and 34,538 a year ago. London on the 23d inst. was irregular but an early drop was followed by a rally leaving prices unchanged to ½d. higher. Spot. Nov., 54 to 54½d.; Dec., 53¼ to 53½d.; Jan.-March, 52¼ to 52½d.; April-June, 49 to 49½d. Singapore on Nov. 23 was up 5/8d. to 1d. owing to a strong tone in London and New York. Spot, Nov.-Dec., 50½d.; Jan.-March, 49½d.; April-June, 46½d. There is a free fight on in Mincing Lane to buy rubber shares with too little room in the Exchange. There are plans for a rubber crop in Louisiana. Later New York declined with London and with trade less active. First latex crepe spot, $1 08 to $1 09½; Nov., $1 07 to $1 08; Dec., $1 06 to $1 07; Jan.,-March, $1 05 to $1 06; April-June, $1 to $1 01. Ribbed smoked sheets, spot, $1 06 to $1 07; Nov., $1 05 to $1 06; Dec., $1 04 to $1 05; Jan.-March, $1 04 to $1 05; April-June, $1 00 to $1 01. Brown, crepe, thin, clean, $1 02; specky, 98c.; No. 1 rolled, 98c.; amber No. 1, $1 02; No. 3, $1 00; No. 4, 98c. Para-Up-River fine, spot, 99c.; coarse, 66c. London on the 26th inst. lost all the rise of the week, falling 2¼ to 3d. on profit taking. Spot, 51d. to 51½d.; Dec., 51 to 51¾d.; Jan., 50¾d. to 51¼d.; Jan.-March, 50½d. to 51d.; April-June, 47 to 47¾d. Singapore on Nov. 26 fell ¼ to 5/8d. Spot, Nov.-Dec., 50⅛d.; Jan.-March, 48¾d.; April-June, 45¾d.

HIDES were quiet though there was rather more inquiry at times for city packer. Prices show little change. Country hides have been dull despite rather more looking around by buyers. And so with River Plate. Business has been stagnant. Common dry hides have been neglected at the recent declines in prices. Orinoco 22½c.; Native steers 15 to 16c.; butt Colorado 14c. The last sale of Uruguay steers was at $40, or 18 3-16c. Frigorifico hides sold at 17 3-16c. Ocean freights were in better demand for grain tonnage at firm rates. Business increased later and rates advanced.

COAL declined in spite of colder weather. The output of soft coal is large and seems likely to continue large, despite Lewis's objections. The nominal range of navy standard at Hampton Roads was $5. to $5 25. Coke run of oven, Connellsville, dropped to $5 50 to $6; crushed about $6 to $6 50. West Virginia low volatile nut, egg and lump possibly $9 25 to $9 75 in New York City. Navy standard at piers f.o.b. $5 60 to $5 85; Navy supplementary, $5 45 to $5 60; superior low volatile, $5 15 to $5 40; high grade low volatile, $4 75 to $4 90; high volatile steam, $4 50 to $4 70; low sulphur gas, $5 10 to $5 23. Some twenty cities and towns in the anthracite region are trying to end the strike. Lewis and Markle have been in conference. Lewis is supposed to have threatened a soft coal strike. President Coolidge refuses to interfere. The attempt to get him to intervene may possibly be a sign that the strikers are weakening. Last week's output of soft coal of 12,650,000 tons was the highest in 5 years.

TOBACCO has been in fair demand for seed leaf. Sumatra and Java wrappers have been attracting some attention. Prices have been steady. The new Havana crop, according to some reports, is turning out much better than had been expected. Joseph W. Alsop, President of the Connecticut Valley Tobacco Association, declares that unless the tobacco farmers in the Connecticut Valley not only curtail acreage but refuse to raise any tobacco at all next year, the product will not reach a normal price level for more than 10 years. It is customary to have on hand about a year's supply in November. But this year there is practically a two years' supply in storehouses and warehouses. Tobacco manufacturers, he adds, now are arguing that the price of raw material should be lowered because of the large quantity on hand. This is sound business reasoning. But if the price is lowered as little as 10c. a pound every farmer in the valley will suffer a loss that in the aggregate will be in the millions.

COPPER has been quiet and easier at 14⅜c. and it was rumored that business could be done for delivery this year under that price, perhaps 14¼c. The European situation is very discouraging. Most all metals there have been weak. Standard copper in London on the 24th inst. declined 7s 6d to £60 for spot and £61 for futures. Sales appear to have been made at as low as 14¼c. delivered. Rather more export demand has latterly appeared. London advanced 2s 6d on the 25th inst. Standard spot £60 2s 6d; futures £61 2s 6d.

TIN declined to 62½c. for spot Straits and 62¼c. for futures in sympathy with a lower London market, where prices on the 24th inst. fell £4 10s. on spot standard to £282 10s. and futures declined £3 to £278 10s. There was good buying on the reaction, however. Latterly London has risen £2 15s. to £285 5s. for standard spot; futures £1 10s. higher at £280. Spot Straits here old at 62⅝c.; distant futures 62⅜c., with the tone firm at home and abroad but only a fair business in this country.

LEAD has been quiet but steady. The American Smelting & Refining Co. still quotes 9.75c. New York and the leading producer in the Middle West asks 9.50c. East St. Louis. Lead ore prices dropped $5 per ton to $125, though very little was offered at that level. Spot lead in London on the 24th inst. dropped 10s. to £36 and futures fell 8s. 9d. to £36 8s. 9d. Latterly lead has been dull and more or less depressed. East St. Louis, 9.60c. Spot fell in London 5s. to £35 15s.; futures dropped 1s. 3d. to £35 7s. 6d.

ZINC has been the strongest of the metals. Spot sold at 8.80 to 8.85c. East St. Louis or about $1 a ton under the high price of the year reached about two weeks ago. Zinc ore was unchanged at $58 per ton. Demand for zinc was quiet, but December metal has been scarce. Spot zinc in London on the 24th inst. advanced 8s 9d to £39 10s and futures rose 13s 9d to £38 17s 6d. Latterly zinc has been in light demand at 8.82½ to 8.85c. for spot; December was said to be obtainable at 8.80c. London spot £39 10s; futures £38 17s 6d.

STEEL.—Galvanized and black sheets advanced $3; galvanized now 5½c.; black, 4.35 to 4.50c. Pittsburgh mills have had a better business in November than in October. Billets sheets and bars have sold more readily at $2 on sheets for the first quarter of 1926. Sales of steel by the U. S. Steel Corp. exceed, it seems, by 10,000 tons a day its output. Of sheet bars the supply has been inadequate and higher prices have prevailed. The demand for them is more urgent. Shipments of finished steel in some cases exceed output. It is said that American Sheet & Tin Plate Co. is sold ahead at its western plants for seven months. Reports are to the effect that the sales of rails for 1926 are now slackening, but that the total this far is nearly 2,000,000 tons. October exports of steel gained considerably on those for September. Tin plate sales have been, it is said, to Japan to the amount of 30,000 boxes, with British mills also selling 30,000 boxes to Japan. Structural material was sold by British mills to Japan at $9 per ton under the American price. Both output and consumption of steel is concededly heavy.

PIG IRON has been in rather better demand and firmer at $21 to $22 per ton for this quarter and $21 per ton for first quarter of 1926. There is $1 per ton differential between Nos. 1-X and 2-X iron instead of 50c., owing to the rise in coke. Eastern Pennsylvania iron is called $23 base; possibly, it is said, 50c. less might be accepted on a big order. Continental iron sold at $22 25 per ton seaboard, duty paid. Virginia iron is $24, having stood there for 60 days. Furnace coke $5, or slightly less. Foundry coke $6 to $7 per ton. Both have been quiet. Threats of a soft coal strike have been ignored. Furnace coke is $1 lower than recently; spot shipments are $4 to $4 50. There were rumors that furnace coke was to be had at $4, Connellsville. Trading in iron, however, has been on only a moderate scale.

WOOL has been firm with only a moderate or at best fair business. Carpet wools have been dull. Most of the business is being done in Australia or South America. Washington advices on Nov. 24 said that South African wool has been arriving freely since the middle of September and is selling at prices about 3 to 5% above the equivalent on the recent London wool sales according to a report just received by the Department of Commerce from Port Elizabeth, South Africa. It is said that the competition of French and German buyers in that market is holding it on a basis above the London quotations. Wool grown in Oregon, Washington and Idaho is moving this month more freely than at any time since shearing. Many carloads are moving daily to fill sales made for Philadelphia and Boston accounts. New York quotations were as follows:

Ohio and Pennsylvania fine delaine, 55 to 57c.; ½ blood, 53 to 55c.; ⅝ blood, 53 to 55c.; ¼ blood, 53 to 54c. Territory, clean basis, fine staple, $1 32 to $1 35; medium French combing, $1 25 to $1 30; medium clothing, $1 16 to $1 20; ½ blood staple, $1 20 to $1 22; ¾ blood, $1 05 to $1 10; ¼ blood, 98c. to $1 00. Texas, clean basis, fine 12 months, $1 28 to $1 30; 10 months, $1 23 to $1 25; 6 to 8 months, $1 14 to $1 17. Pulled, scoured basis, A super, $1 10 to $1 15; B, 90c. to 95c.; C, 75c. to 80c. Domestic mohair, best combing, 75c. to 80c.

At Montevideo prices were slightly lower. London opened the sixth series on November 24th when 170,000 bales offered or rather more than was at first proposed. The auctions will close on December 16th. In London colonial wool auctions, sixth series on Nov. 24th opened with merinos both greasy and scoured 5% above the closing rates of the previous series for average to inferior wools. Superfine wools were 5 to 7% higher. Fine crossbreds were firm and medium to low qualities were up 5 to 7%. Sliped wools were firm. So were Capes and Punta Arenas. Scoured New Zealand average to inferior crossbreds were lower. Yorkshire and America bought little; the Continent freely. In London on Nov. 25th the offerings were 10,347 bales. Demand brisk from the home trade and Germany Cape of Good Hope and Natal grades were unchanged to 5% higher. New South Wales scoured merinos from the Wembly Exhibition brought 5s 3d. On November 26th the sale was postponed on account of fog.

At Brisbane on Nov. 20 the sales closed; superfine and good merinos unchanged; poorer grades weaker. At Geelong on Nov. 20 8,550 bales offered and mostly sold; good demand. The top on merinos was 42½d.; on comebacks, 34½d. At Napier on Nov. 20 13,500 bales offered and 12,900 sold. Demand good, especially from Yorkshire and the Continent. Prices firm, comparing well with the Wellington sale on the 16th inst. Crossbreds prices at Napier were: 50-56s, 17½d.; 48-50s, 14¾ to 19¾d.; 46-48s, 13 to 19d.; 44-46s, 13 to 16¾d. 40-44s, 11¾ to 15d.; 36-40s, 11½ to 13½d. A year ago 56-60s were as high as 33½d. In Liverpool on Nov. 20 at the opening sale 2,688 bales of River Plate stock were offered and only 300 bales sold. Prices 10% higher than in September. High limits checked trading. About 2,529 bales of ordinary Peruvians were also offered but mostly withdrawn. Fine scoured descriptions steady. At Wanganui, N. Z., on Nov. 24 11,100 bales offered and 8,500 sold. Selection fair. Demand spasmodic. Prices about the same as at Napier last Friday.

At Sydney, Australia, on Nov. 23 11,600 bales offered, of which 10,700 sold. Selection very good. Demand well distributed. Yorkshire bought freely. Merinos fell 5%; crossbreds generally steady. At Sydney, Australia, on Nov. 24 prices rather easier. In Buenos Aires on Nov. 20 prices were a little lower. Offerings were 5,154,256 kilos. Private holdings larger. Fine crossbreds, 12.5 to 17 pesos; medium, 12 to 16.5 pesos; coarse, 11 to 14.7 pesos; yearlings, fine, 13 to 14.5 pesos; coarse, 9.5 to 12.5 pesos. In Buenos Aires on Nov. 21 wool was less active. Prices declined slightly, especially on coarse wools. Fine wools were firm. Yearlings were in good demand and firm. The offerings were 5,339,696 kilos. Prices: Fine crossbreds, 13 to 19 pesos; medium, 12.1 to 16 pesos; coarse, 11 to 14 pesos; yearlings, 11.5 to 15 pesos. In Buenos Aires on Nov. 23 offerings were 5,630,450 kilos. Private holdings increased. Fine crossbreds sold at 13 to 20.50 pesos; medium 13.50 to 16 pesos; coarse, 11 to 14 pesos. At Buenos Aires on Nov. 24 demand moderate. Offerings 5,898,217 kilos. Prices were: Fine crossbreds, 11 to 18 pesos; medium crossbreds, 13 to 16 pesos; coarse crossbreds, 11 to 13.50 pesos; yearlings, 9.50 to 15.50 pesos. At Buenos Aires on Nov. 25 offerings were 5,898,217 kilos. Prices: Fine crossbreds, 11 to 18 pesos; medium crossbreds, 13 to 16 pesos; coarse crossbreds, 11 to 13.50 pesos; yearlings, 9.50 to 15.50 pesos. At Buenos Aires on Nov. 26 demand small. Offerings 6,168,740 kilos. Special holdings were unchanged. Fine crossbreds were quoted at 13 to 17 pesos; medium, 12 to 15 pesos; coarse, 11 to 14.20 pesos; yearlings, 12 to 16 pesos.

NOTE.—Exports to Canada.—It has never been our practice to include in the above tables exports of cotton to Canada, the reason being that virtually all the cotton destined to the Dominion comes overland and it is impossible to get returns concerning the same from week to week, while reports from the customs districts on the Canadian border are always very slow in coming to hand. In view, however, of the numerous inquiries we are receiving regarding the matter, we will say that for the month of October the exports to the Dominion the present season have been 28,299 bales. In the corresponding month of the preceding season the exports were 22,292 bales. For the three months ended Oct. 31 1925, there were 48,545 bales exported, as against 37,021 bales for the corresponding three months of 1924.

In addition to above exports, our telegrams to-night also give us the following amounts of cotton on shipboard, not cleared, at the ports named:

* Estimated.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has at times been active, especially on the 21st inst., when prices advanced 70 to 80 points, or 100 to 115 points from the "low" of the morning. That was due to a Government crop estimate of 15,298,000 bales, or 88,000 bales less than the previous total and 150,000 to 175,000 less than some private estimates. The ginning was an even greater surprise, not to say shock, to the shorts. It was only 12,249,935 bales up to Nov. 14. Some private guesses had been 12,450,000 to 12,619,000 bales. For the period from Nov. 1 to Nov. 14 the total was only 1,051,275 bales, against 1,678,660 in the period from Oct. 18 to Nov. 1 and 1,446,592 from Nov. 1 to Nov. 14 last year, despite the fact that the 1924 crop was some 1,670,000 bales smaller than this one. In other words, the crop is put at 15,298,000 bales, against 13,628,000 last year, 10,139,000 in 1923, 9,761,000 in 1922, 7,953,000 in 1921 and 16,135,000 to go back to 1914. The ginning of 12,249,935 bales to Nov. 14 compares with 11,162,235 up to the same date last year. Liverpool was strong. Spot markets advanced sharply; 1 to 1 1-16-inch white cotton was hard to buy. The basis rose. Even that on low grades became firmer. Some of the mills bought them more freely. It is believed that they will have to be accepted by many mills for lack of grades for which they have contracted but cannot obtain. The supplementary report of the Bureau pointed out something that attracted general attention. It said that from a third to a fourth of the crop is still in the fields in Arkansas, Oklahoma, northwest Texas and New Mexico and about half in Missouri. The rest of the crop in Missouri is being gathered under great difficulties. In all these States the final yield is still dependent on weather conditions. The grade of the lint and seed still in the fields in some sections, it adds, has already been reduced to such an extent that at the present low prices there is a tendency to leave some of the cotton unpicked. In other words, the evidence accumulates that this is a low grade crop. Of late Liverpool and the Continent have been buying. The Continent bought in Liverpool as well as New York. Japan is taking American cotton freely this season. It is said to have contracted for some half a million bales for shipment up to next February. Cheap francs and lire still help French and Italian exports of goods; Germany has no choice but to produce goods freely; it is favored by low wage costs; money is dear and prices of merchandise low; Germany competes to a certain advantage with England, if not with America, for the foreign trade.

On the other hand, prices declined on Wednesday under the influence of a fall in Liverpool, unfavorable political news from Paris, demoralization of the franc, and finally, a better weekly weather report. There were stories that the decline in the franc had led to cancellations of French orders to buy cotton, with francs more than 25 to the dollar. The December premium over January fell to 61 points, as against 90 recently. January was the strongest month. Some were encouraged to believe that the better weather in the Southwest will have various effects; first, it will improve the grade; second, it will increase picking and ginning; third, swell the receipts and increase the hedge selling. Large spot houses sold December, but at the same time, it is understood, bought March. Much stress was laid by some people on the improvement in the weather at the Southwest. The weekly report made it plain that very good progress had been made in picking and ginning in Texas, Oklahoma, Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee and North Carolina. Arkansas had reports of improved grade. In some quarters it is believed that the ginning, owing to the recent improvement in the weather, will be larger for the period of Nov. 14 to Dec. 1 than it was in the previous period of Nov. 1 to Nov. 14. Some stress that idea rather than any expectation of a material increase in the crop estimate on Dec. 8. Some, however, do look for an increase in the Government total on the crop on Dec. 8. Liverpool on Wednesday was a seller as well as Wall Street and the South. There was a certain amount of hedge selling. Not a few evened up before the Thanksgiving holiday. In parts of the South there was said to be less demand. New Orleans, on the other hand, reported a larger demand for export to Japan and Germany. Georgia and the Carolinas were said to be buying rather more freely. Germany was taking the lower grades. At one time there was a rally of 20 points on the 25th inst. on reports of a good spot demand. But later prices again eased. There was less snap to the market. Manchester was quieter after having reported some increase in the demand for cloths earlier in the week. In Bombay trade was dull in piece goods and yarns. Worth Street showed no particular life. It might have done more business if it would have lowered prices. That it declined to do. The Lancaster mill, according to a Boston dispatch, passed the dividend on the common for this quarter. Exports of raw cotton of late have been fair, but they have not equaled the large figures of last week. Receipts at the ports have run above 5,000,000 bales for the season. Speculation is still for the most part quiet, being unable to compete with the attractions, for the time being at any rate, of stocks and grain, though Wall Street and the West at times have bought to a certain extent.

To-day early prices were slightly higher, with the cables steadier than expected. Lancashire refusing to curtail further in the American department, spot markets reported firm and Liverpool and spot houses, as well as shorts, buying. It was not a large market, but for a time it acted steady. Later on, however, there was enough liquidation to cause a reaction from the top of some 20 to 30 points, with small exports, decreased spinners' takings and more or less liquidation by those who prefer to go slow until they can see what the next Government report says, particularly about the ginning. Some expect an increase in the latest period as contrasted with that from Nov. 1 to Nov. 14, when the total was some 12,250,000 bales. Only one December notice was issued and the December premium increased 7 points, reaching 68 over January. The total issue of notices this week is stated at about 26,000 bales. In New Orleans, where the stock is 415,000 bales, none had been issued, something which is regarded as rather significant. The ending to-day was at a net decline of 6 to 13 points. For the week there is a net advance of 45 to 64 points. Spot cotton declined 5 points to-day, to 21.35c., showing a rise for the week of 55 points.

Discontinuance of the semi-monthly reports on condition and estimated production of cotton is proposed in a bill drafted by Representative Aswell of Louisiana, ranking Democrat on the Agricultural Committee. It provides for a continuance of the regular monthly reports on condition of the crop and authorizes a report Dec. 10 on its size. The first monthly report, July 8, would include the acreage under cotton; that of Oct. 8 would give the acreage abandoned.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT REPORT ON COTTON PRODUCTION AND YIELD PER ACREAGE.

The Agricultural Department at Washington on Saturday, Nov. 21, issued its report on cotton production and yield per acre as of Nov. 14, and the following is the complete official text of the report:

Nov. 21 1925, 11 a. m. (E. T.).

A probable United States cotton production of about 15,298,000 bales of 500 pounds gross, if average crop influences prevail during the remainder of the harvesting season, is indicated by reports as of Nov. 14 on condition, abandonment, probable yields, ginnings, &c., received by the Crop Reporting Board of the United States Department of Agriculture from crop correspondents, field statisticians and co-operating State Boards (or Departments) of Agriculture and Extension Departments. This report is preliminary and the final outturn of the crop may be larger or smaller than the Nov. 14 indications, as developments during the remainder of the harvesting season prove more or less favorable to the crop than usual. The indicated production on Nov. 14 last year, the first report for that date, was 5% below final ginnings. Last year the production was 13,627,936 bales, two years ago 10,139,671, three years ago 9,762,069, four years ago 7,953,641, and five years ago 13,439,603 bales.

The probable United States yield, from Nov. 14 indications, is 165.5 pounds of lint cotton per harvested acre, compared with a final yield per acre last year of 157.4 pounds, two years ago 130.6, three years ago 141.3, four years ago 124.5 and five years ago 178.4 pounds.

The next report, to be issued on Dec. 8, showing revised harvested acreage and per cent of acreage abandoned, yield per acre, and total production, by States, will be the last report until the revision in June next after the final ginnirg report.

COMMENTS CONCERNING COTTON REPORT.

The United States Department of Agriculture, in giving out its cotton report on Nov. 21, also added the following comments:

A cotton crop of 15,298,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight each is indicated by prospects on Nov. 14 as reported to the Department of Agriture by growers and others. This estimate is 88,000 bales, or 0.6 or 1% below the estimates based on reported prospects on Nov. 1.

During the first half of November heavy or frequent rains caused considerable losses to open cotton, particularly in Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Tennessee and Missouri. High water has also caused some losses in the lower Mississippi Valley. The rains have resulted in some further lowering in the grade of unpicked cotton in the States affected. From a third to a fourth of the crop is still in the fields in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Northwest Texas and New Mexico. In Missouri only about half has been gathered and the remainder is being gathered under great difficulties. In all these States the final yield is still dependent on weather conditions. In some sections the grade of the lint and seed still in the fields has already been reduced to such an extent that at the present low price there is a tendency to leave some cotton unpicked.

In the Carolinas, Georgia, Florida and Southern Texas, the crop was mostly picked without serious weather injury.

The quantity of cotton ginned to Nov. 14 is reported by the Bureau of the Census as 12,249,935 running bales compared with 11,162,235 bales ginned to the same date last year. Last year the number of running bales ginned to Nov. 14 represented 81.9% of the number of equivalent 500 pound bales ginned during the season. The number of bales ginned to Nov. 14 this year represents 80.1% of the number of 500 pound bales now expected.

The price paid for picking has this year averaged about $1 27 per hundred pounds of seed cotton. The average last year was $1 25. The price this year ranges from an average of 86c. per hundred in South Carolina to double that figure in Arizona and California. Comparing with last year, the price of picking averaged 10% lower in Texas and South Carolina, somewhat lower in North Carolina and Virginia, and the same as last year in New Mexico. Elsewhere the price was higher than it was last year. This year's price of picking has averaged about $19 per bale.

COTTON GINNING REPORT.

The Bureau of the Census on Nov. 21 issued the following report showing the number of bales of cotton ginned in each of the cotton-growing States the present season up to Nov. 14 in comparison with corresponding figures for the preceding seasons:

The statistics in this report include 216,739 round bales for 1925, 265,675 for 1924 and 213,494 for 1923.

The statistics for 1925 in this report are subject to slight corrections when checked against the individual returns of the ginners being transmitted by mail. The corrected statistics of the quantity of cotton ginned this season prior to Nov. 1 are 11,208,872 bales.

Consumption, Stocks, Imports and Exports—United States.

Cotton consumed during the month of Oct. 1925 amounted to 543,679 bales. Cotton on hand in consuming establishments on Oct. 31 was 1,216,437 bales and in public storage and at compresses 4,499,382 bales. The number of active consuming cotton spindles for the month was 32,425,206. The total imports for the month of Oct. 1925 were 12,402 bales and the exports of domestic cotton including linters, were 1,421,482 bales.

World Statistics.

The preliminary estimated world's production of commercial cotton, exclusive of linters, grown in 1924, as compiled from information secured through the domestic and foreign staff of the Department of Commerce is 23,377,000 bales of 478 pounds lint, while the consumption of cotton (exclusive of linters in the United States) for the year ending July 31 1924 was approximately 19,982,000 bales of 478 pounds lint. The total number of spinning cotton spindles, both active and idle, is about 159,000,000.

CONSOLIDATED COTTON REPORT.—The Bureau of the Census and the Agricultural Department made public Saturday (Nov. 21) their consolidated cotton report, which is as follows:

Nov. 14 1925—Consolidated Cotton Report.

Ginnings to Nov. 14, 12,249,935 running bales. Indicated total production, 15,298,000 bales 500-lbs. gross.

Census Bureau.

Census report shows 12,249,935 running bales (counting round as half bales) ginned from the crop of 1925 prior to Nov. 14, compared with 11,162,235 for 1924 and 8,369,498 for 1923.

Agriculture Department.

A United States production of 15,298,000 bales (500-lbs. gross weight), based upon Nov. 14 indications, is shown by the Crop Reporting Board of the United States Department of Agriculture.

FOREIGN COTTON CROP PROSPECTS.—A report of the latest available information since Nov. 4 as to cotton production in foreign countries has been compiled by the Foreign Service of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics at Washington and was made public on Nov. 21 as follows:

The third official estimate for the Egyptian cotton crop is 1,630,000 bales of 478 pounds, of which 727,800 bales are Sakel, according to a cablegram received from the International Institute of Agriculture. The second estimate was 1,538,400 bales, including 702,000 bales of Sakel. Last year the November estimate was 1,322,000 bales and the final figure 1,471,000 bales. In Lower Egypt picking was general the last of October and the result was considered satisfactory in quality as well as in quantity.

Reports are less favorable from India. The crop in the Central Provinces has been adversely affected by dry weather, and scarcity of rain in the Broach-Surat districts has caused crop deterioration.

Cool weather was experienced throughout the cotton-growing areas of Brazil during the first ten days of October, and dry weather favored picking which was in progress from Maranhao to Bahia. The yield is said to have been satisfactory as regards quantity, but the quality was below normal in some areas. Irregular rains in central and southern Brazil favored growth and planting, which was in progress in Minas Geraes, Matto Grosso, Goyaz and Sao Paulo. Other reports are generally favorable. In Uganda crop progress has been good to excellent and early picking is expected. Planting in Paraguay was making good progress early in October and pointed to a crop more than double that of last year provided damage from pests is not severe.

CENSUS REPORT ON COTTON SPINNING IN OCTOBER.—This report, complete, will be found in an earlier part of our paper in the department headed "Indications of Business Activity."

GEORGIA COTTON REPORT.—Cotton production for Georgia is estimated at about 1,150,000 bales (500 pounds gross weight) in the official report issued on Nov. 21 by the Georgia Co-operative Crop Reporting Service at Atlanta, Ga. The indicated yield per acre is 158 pounds. The estimate of production is based on the reports of about 1,500 crop correspondents, covering yield per acre, percent of acreage abandoned, percent of crop picked and ginned, condition at time of harvest, and other material available, as of Nov. 14.

Practically all the cotton has been out of the field for several weeks, so that only a very small percentage of the crop has been exposed to rains of latter October and early November. As was pointed out in the last report, growers in practically all parts of the State have realized better yields than they estimated earlier in the season, although the crop turned out very poorly in many north-central and northeastern counties owing to severe drought damage throughout the growing season.

Production as distributed by districts shows some slight changes from the district figures shown in the Nov. 1 report, due to more accurate late estimates on the part of the correspondents; but these variations are offsetting, leaving the State estimate unchanged from the previous report.

Ginnings for Georgia up to Nov. 14, as reported by the Census Bureau, amount to 1,145,000 running bales.

In the next report, to be issued on Dec. 8, will be given the harvested acreage, percent of acreage abandoned, yield per acre, and total production. This will be the last report, until the revision in June next after the final ginning report.

TEXAS COTTON CROP REPORT AS OF NOV. 15.—Geo. B. Terrell, Commissioner of Agriculture at Austin, Texas, issued on Nov. 19 his crop estimate as of Nov. 15 for the State of Texas. The report is as follows:

The estimates are some higher than the estimates of Sept. 1 and Oct. 1 The Texas crop is placed at 3,980,000 bales and the United States crop at 14,755,000 bales. The report follows:

Careful tabulation of reports of our correspondents representing all cotton producing counties and analysis of recent ginning reports indicates a crop for Texas of 3,980,000 bales.

TEXAS REPORT BY DISTRICTS.

District—	No. of Counties.	Production 1924.	Estimated Production 1925.
Eastern	48	619,553	885,000

Southwestern	38	556,299	340,000
Northwestern	62	946,749	975,000
All others		81,000
Total		4,851,000	3,980,000

Ellis and Williamson counties have led in the production of cotton heretofore, but Collin and Hunt counties will likely lead this year because of the extreme drouth in central Texas.

It is estimated that 80% of the Texas cotton crop is picked.

The average price paid for picking is about $1 50 per hundred pounds. Several thousand extra hands are needed in the Western and Northwestern districts to finish picking the cotton crop. Cotton picking will not be finished in those districts until after Christmas.

A small top crop is reported in the Eastern and Northwestern districts.

Some damage is reported from recent heavy rains which will lower the grade of the cotton now in the field.

The average price paid for cotton seed is reported at $28 per ton.

There will be 30% more wheat and 40% more oats planted this fall.

There is only about 50% of enough feed grown to supply the State next season. About 75% of the counties failed to make enough feed and about 25% of the counties have produced a surplus of feed.

There will be a great deal of damaged and unspinnable cotton and probably not more than 14,000,000 bales of spinnable cotton. At present rate of consumption the world can use 15,000,000 bales of American cotton, which fact indicates a million bale shortage of good cotton. Good cotton, classing middling, and above, with staple of fifteen-sixteenths inch and above, will command a premium and should not be sold on present low market.

NORTH CAROLINA COTTON REPORT.—The Department of Agriculture of North Carolina on Nov. 24 issued its cotton report as of Nov. 14. The report in part follows:

The cotton report released Nov. 21 by the U. S. Department of Agriculture showed 1,065,000 bales indication for North Carolina, this estimate representing a decline in prospects of 15,000 bales since Nov. 1.

The reduction in prospects is due to the fact that the crop matured possibly earlier than ever before. Farmers estimate that 93% of the crop was picked by Nov. 14. Of this amount 945,535 bales had been ginned prior to Nov. 14 and this is estimated to represent 88% of the crop expected. Seven per cent of the crop ermained to be picked after Nov. 14. The ginnings were 175% compared with ginnings to Nov. 14 last year and 113% compared with that date in 1923.

The above estimates indicate a yield this year of 238 pounds of lint per acre, compared with an average of 196 picked last year. Farmers estimate that the size of bolls this year was about 90% of the usual size, and that of the acreage planted this season 2% will be abandoned due to failure from either weather, insect damages or other causes. This leaves 2,139,000 acres for harvest.

The price paid for picking this year averaged $1 16 per hundred pounds of seed cotton. This is slightly less than was paid last year and a little below the usual.

Since Nov. 1 several heavy frosts have occurred throughout the cotton belt. The first really killing frost occurred about Oct. 11, and other heavy frosts have continued through October and November. A large number of late bolls have been cold-hurt and will not open. These damged bolls amount to only a small per cent of the crop, however, as most of the crop had been picked prior to the frosts and most of the unpicked cotton was open and will be saved. There will probably be more bollies saved than for several years.

Late cotton is being picked rapidly. Many fields are observed that have not been picked, but the per cent of the total crop unpicked is very small. Farmers throughout the belt state that cotton yields are better than they expected. Any change that has occurred in the crop since Nov. 1 may be attributed to curtailment of late cotton by frosts and rains. It is possible that about 5% of the total crop has been subjected to weather damages. The grade of this cotton will be lowered as a consequence. The heavy rains that have fallen during November will do considerable damage by causing the cotton on the half-open bolls to rot and very few of the green bolls now on plants are expected to mature, as the late frosts will kill them before they have an opportunity to open.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 24 1925.—The Cotton Crop Reporting Board, meeting on Nov. 21, had a vast amount of information concerning cotton at its disposal. From all statistical indications available, the estimate for North Carolina was placed at 1,065,000 bales. This State has seldom had an average season more favorable to cotton. The Piedmont section was extremely dry and many counties in this section will fall far short of what they might have made had they had some good rains. However, counties through the Coastal Belt are producing an unusually large crop. It is quite possible when the final ginnings have been made that the number of bales produced may exceed 1,100,000.

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—Reports to us by telegraph this evening indicate that the weather during the week has been generally favorable for cotton. Picking and ginning have made rapid progress, many localities report that little or no cotton now remains to be picked. There have been many light local showers during the week, but most parts of the cotton belt received no rain.

BREADSTUFFS

Friday Night, Nov. 27 1925.

Flour was steady at a recent advance due to the rise in wheat. Not that trade improved much, if at all. An inveterate habit of buying only as much as they need for the time being has fastened itself on buyers. They are the more confirmed in this by the conviction that the recent advance in wheat was unwarranted, or at any rate, too rapid. They content themselves with buying a little when they have to and ordering shipments on recent purchases. The tone became stronger as wheat advanced, but trade did not increase. At the Northwest it was slower. But big mills there have orders enough to keep them grinding, it is said, until well into next spring. Demand from Germany and Southern Europe has recently increased somewhat, though mostly for Canadian flour. Clearances late last week from New York were 86,957 sacks, of which 57,000 were for China and 16,408 for Hamburg. Far Eastern clearances have excited comment. Clearances from New York on the 21st inst. were 7,799 sacks, mostly for Liverpool. Clearances for all last week were 211,471 sacks, against 178,428 sacks the week before. Clearances from New York on the 23d inst. were 25,737 sacks, of which 9,650 were for Rotterdam and the rest for scattered Continental ports. Minneapolis reports that the flour trade is slackening and the output is only 50% of mill capacity.

Wheat advanced for a time and then declined, only to rally sharply on bad crop news from Argentina. The market had got "long" at one time on an over-rapid advance. On the 23d inst. prices fell 4c. on December from the early top and 3½ to 3¾c. on other months. Winnipeg and Northwestern markets also declined. Buenos Aires declined slightly and this pulled down Liverpool, which had been firm. It ended 1¾ to 2¼d. lower on the 23d inst. World's shipments last week were large. The American visible supply increased last week 990,000 bushels, against a decrease last year of 1,294,000. The total now is 44,314,000, against 96,924,000 a year ago. On the 21st inst. prices advanced. More bad crop news came from Argentina. A sharp advance occurred in Liverpool, i. e. 1⅞d. to 3¾d., whereas it was due to decline ⅝ to 1d. This told plainly. Chicago prices rose 3c. to 3⅞c., Winnipeg 3⅜c. and Buenos Aires 7¼ to 7¾c., as if in confirmation of bad crop news. Rosario advanced 3 to 4c. On the 24th inst. new high on this movement was reached, with Argentine crop news still bad. Export sales were 3,000,000 bushels. Liverpool rose 3¾d. to 5¼d. and Buenos Aires 5½ to 5¾c. Rains, hot winds and black rust were reported from Argentina. Serious damage was spreading, it was said, in northern Argentina. Scarcity of immediately available wheat in Europe accounted for the excitement in Liverpool in connection with the Argentine news. English buyers had counted on a good crop in Argentina and had for months ignored America. Argentina's exportable surplus was estimated at 125,000,000, another recent reduction of 15,000,000 bushels. On the 24th inst. Chicago at one time was 6¼c. higher on the bad Argentine crop news. On the 25th inst. prices declined ¼ to 1¼c., with reports of better weather in Argentina and disappointing cables from Europe, though Buenos Aires advanced 3 to 7¼c. on big buying on frost reports. Argentine weather reports were somewhat contradictory. Conditions were reported favorable early in the day, but later cables reported rains in the north and frost in the south. Black rust has appeared in the western part of the province of Buenos Aires. N. C. Murray cabled that in Argentine southwest conditions were favorable, with prospective yields ranging from 10 to 35 bushels per acre. Broomhall estimated the exportable surplus at 168,000,000 bushels, or about 38,000,000 bushels more than the average of private figures. American export sales were only 200,000 bushels. Europe may yet have to buy freely on this side, but it may be of Manitoba, as American spring and winter is above the export limits. Chicago has bought 110,000 bushels to come from Minneapolis. An estimate on the Argentine surplus was 147,000,000 bushels, compared with 160,000,000 previously. But beneficial rains were reported in Australia. Good weather prevailed in the American Northwest. The country movement and car lot receipts in Canada continued large. Winnipeg, however, sold 1,000,000 bushels for export. A private Argentine cable said: "Exportable surplus 3,500,000 metric tons (128,450,000 bushels); expect market to get better; black rust spreading." The same authority last week placed the surplus at 4,000,000 tons (146,800,000 bushels). Buenos Aires, Nov. 24, cabled: "Wet weather and hot winds favoring the spread of rust. To-day received first complaints of rust from the central territory." To-day prices at one time were 4 to 4¾c. higher, winding up at a net rise of 2 to 3c. Winnipeg was ½ to ¾c. lower than on the American holiday on Thursday. Chicago trading was heavy. New highs were reached on this swing. Buenos Aires advanced 6 to 7¼c. in two days, Liverpool 3¾ to 4¾d., and Winnipeg 4¾ to 5c. net. Argentine markets were very excited; inflamed by constant reports of damage to the crop. They alarmed Europe, and yet export sales to-day were, it appears, only 600,000 bushels. Chicago rather lagged behind other markets. Receipts were fair. Cash markets were firm. Winnipeg receipts and country marketings were rather large. Some of the Argentine crop reports were not so bad as others. But, as already intimated, Argentine prices were strong. December at Buenos Aires was at one time to-day $1 70, as against about $1 65 at Chicago's closing, and with Winnipeg December $1 47⅜. That looks like a chance in the European market for American wheat, though Canada still has much the advantage. Argentine forecast was for rains. North American exports for the week are 11,733,000 bushels, against 11,474,000 last year. It looks as though the world's shipments this week might approximate 13,770,000 bushels, against 13,570,000 last year. Compared with the low point of Nov. 9, Buenos Aires February has risen 38c., Winnipeg May 24c., Liverpool 25c. and Chicago 20c. Final prices for the week show a rise since last Friday of 5½ to 9c., the latter on new July.

Indian corn declined, owing to favorable weather in the belt and general selling. Export sales were made on the 23d inst. of 300,000 bushels, but prices on that day fell ¼ to ¾c. net. All months were down to nearly the lowest prices of the season. The American visible supply increased last week 54,000 bushels, against a decrease in the same week last year of 272,000 bushels. The total is still only 1,512,000 bushels, against 7,013,000 a year ago. Western farmers are discontented with corn trade conditions. They want the Government to help them. Reduced acreage, smaller crops and diversification of crops would help more than anything else. A. E. Anderson, Director of Extension, South Dakota State College of Agriculture, said: "Recent declines in corn prices are discouraging to producers who depend mainly upon feed grains for their income. The average Oct. 15 farm price was only 83c. a bushel, compared with 99c. in September and well over $1 in October a year ago." Chicago wired: "The corn situation is bearish. Cash premiums have declined 3c. to 8c., compared with the delivery basis on the low grades within a week on large receipts from the country, due to more favorable weather. Indications point to a liberal movement from farms, weather permitting, and lower prices are predicted by most of the trade leaders, who say that it is too early to begin bulling corn until the effect of the new crop movement is seen. Prices in the country are low and consumption promises to be heavy, but there is so much corn that the strength in wheat is not having the usual effect." The tendency is to increase the short interest to a vulnerable size. Sudden bullish developments may stampede the shorts. It would be nothing new. Iowa farmers want larger credits to relieve what was declared to be a tense situation due to the fact that Iowa's corn crop, estimated at 477,386,000 bushels, is the largest yield in its history, and prices have fallen this season seriously. On the 25th inst. prices declined ¾ to 1c. on good weather and increasing receipts. But the market was short and later covering caused a rally, so that final prices showed practically no net change. But cash prices fell, with No. 4 mixed and white selling at about a delivery basis, as compared with December. No export demand appeared. To-day prices were at one time ⅞ to 1c. higher, partly in response to a rise in wheat and also because of rains over much of the belt. Also, there was not a little buying, partly to cover. Some export business, amounting to only 100,000 bushels, had a certain sentimental effect for a time. But hedge sales reined up the advance. Also, the receipts were some 850 cars over the holiday. They depressed the cash market. In the end this affected futures. Liquidation set in. The ending was at a net decline for the day of ¼ to 1c. The rank and file of traders are bearish, regardless of wheat. "Too much corn" is the word of order. Chicago opinion is that there will be 1,000 cars of cash corn at that market on Monday. Final prices show a decline of 1½c. on December, with May unchanged and July up ½c.

Oats declined, owing to lower prices for corn, with fine weather. Liquidation of oats and supposedly some short selling had their natural effect. The American visible supply decreased last week, it is true, some 431,000 bushels, against an increase in the corresponding week last year of 245,000 bushels. The total is now 64,402,000 bushels, against 67,484,000 last year. Of barley the total after an increase last week of 332,000, against 64,000 last year, is up to 6,412,000 bushels, against 5,590,000 in 1924. On the 25th inst. elevator interests bought December and sold May at 4½c. difference, compared with 3⅞c. a few days ago. Prices were in the main somewhat firmer. To-day prices were irregular within a range of ⅜ to ½c. The ending was slightly lower to a shade higher, by ¼c. in each case. There was not much life in the trading. A moderate amount of covering was done. Commission houses are divided in their opinions. They both bought and sold. Receipts were rather large. The demand was small. Cash oats declined slightly. The weakness in corn was naturally not without its effect on oats. Last prices show a decline for the week on December and May of ¼ to 1c., the latter on December, while July ended ⅛c. higher than last Friday.

Rye fluctuated within narrow limits for a time. No interesting features developed. Trade was slow and uneventful. The American visible supply increased last week 411,000 bushels, against 787,000 in the same week last year. The total is now 10,937,000 bushels, against 22,530,000 a year ago. No export business was reported early in the week. On the 25th inst. trade was only fair, but offerings were not large, and after an early decline of ⅞ to 1c. part of the loss was regained. To-day prices closed 2¼c. higher. It sympathized with a good advance in wheat. Also, the offerings were small. And there was more foreign inquiry. England actually bought a little. Scandinavia was reported to be inquiring. Germany, it is thought, will be compelled to buy American rye heavily later on. Russia, it is intimated, may yet come into the American market. The outlook is more hopeful for American rye. Towards the close there was some reaction. But at one time prices were up 3½ to 4c. to-day. There was more life and snap in the market. Trading was larger. The tone was generally more cheerful. Final prices show a rise for the week of 4½ to 5c.

WEATHER BULLETIN FOR THE WEEK ENDED NOV. 24.

The general summary of the weather bulletin issued by the Department of Agriculture, indicating the influence of the weather for the week ended Nov. 26, follows:

The prevalence of high pressure over most of the country, and especially the South, was the dominating feature of the weather of the week. There was no general storm track over the United States, and the couple of depressions that moved eastward over the Canadian Provinces had no material effect on the prevailing weather in this country.

At the beginning of the week subnormal temperatures prevailed over the Eastern States, with a gradual warming up to near normal about the middle, but much lower temperatures prevailing at the close, when killing frosts and freezing temperatures overspread the Southeast, extending into northern Florida. Between the Mississippi River and Rocky Mountains rather warm weather for the season obtained, as a rule, especially in the North, with moderate warmth during most of the week in the States west of the Rocky Mountains. No unusually low temperatures were reported in the Northern States, the lowest for the week ranging, in most cases, from 8 degrees to 16 degrees above zero.

Chart I shows that the week, as a whole, was warmer than normal in the Northeast and over the northern half of the trans-Mississippi area. In the northern Great Plains the weekly mean temperatures were 9 degrees to 13 degrees above normal. In parts of the Southeast they were 6 degrees to 8 degrees below normal, and in the southern half of the Pacific coast area from 3 degrees to 8 degrees above.

The week was exceptionally free from stormy and rainy weather. The first half brought some rain to the west Gulf area, with locally heavy falls in parts of southern Texas; but otherwise the amounts generally were unimportant. The last half had fair weather throughout the country, except for light rain or snow in the Lake region, and fairly good rains in the extreme southern and extreme northern Pacific coast sections. On the otner of the more western States the entire week was practically rainless.

Chart II shows that the weekly totals of rainfall were very light, except in a few local areas. With the exception of parts of the west Gulf area, the Northeastern States, and locally in the Pacific coast sections, very few stations reported a measurable amount of rain. The week was sunny, especially in the States between the Mississippi River and the Rocky Mountains where considerable areas reported from 90 to 100% of the possible amount of sunshine.

For the country, as a whole, the prevailing fair weather, mostly moderate temperature, and much sunshine made the best week of the fall for farming operations, especially for the gathering of corn and cotton. Conditions were ideal for field work throughout nearly all of the area between the Mississippi River and the Rocky Mountains, and seasonal operations made exceptionally good advance, while much better progress was made than recently in the Eastern States. The ground was mostly bare in the North-Central States between the Lake region and Rocky Mountains, which permitted stock to range freely on pasture and harvested fields, with a consequent saving of much feed.

The week was mostly favorable for truck and minor crops in the South, except that it was too dry on some uplands of Florida, and there was some frost damage in parts of the Southeast, as well as in south-central Texas. West of the Rocky Mountains it continued too dry in most of the Pacific Coast States, though the light showers that occurred were beneficial. Streams are low for the season throughout the Pacific Coast area, because of the continued deficiency in rainfall. There was some local frost damage in the Imperial Valley of California.

SMALL GRAINS.—Early-seeded winter grains are generally good. Oklahoma reports condition of wheat excellent, but this crop is small in Kentucky and scarcely growing. Wheat is still being sown in the south Atlantic area, Tennessee, Arkansas, and the Pacific Coast States, but much of the usual acreage has not been sown in Missouri. Practically no additional wheat was seeded in Illinois and the late sown is germinating and growing very slowly. Early sown wheat is being pastured in Oklahoma and Kansas, but it is furnishing less pasture than usual in the latter State. Rice threshing has progressed rapidly in Louisiana and Arkansas the past week, but has been delayed by rain in Texas. Threshing buckwheat continues in West Virginia and there is some buckewhat still out in Michigan.

CORN.—Husking and cribbing corn made good to excellent progress in practically all parts of the country. In the heavy-producing sections of the upper Mississippi Valley, and also throughout the Great Plains States, the moderately warm, dry, and sunny weather made ideal conditions for the gathering of the crop, while good progress was reported in the Ohio Valley States, notwithstanding fields continued too soft in some sections of that area. There is still considerable complaint, however, of a high moisture content of grain.

In Iowa fields are now dry enough to haul full loads and the grain sufficiently dry to prevent damage in crib; husking is more than half done in that State. Husking and cribbing made good progress in the Atlantic Coast States and throughout the South, while this work is largely completed in the upper Great Plains.

COTTON.—The gathering of the cotton that remained in the field made good progress, with the favorable weather prevailing for field work. It was ideal for harvesting in the northwestern portion of the belt, and the dry, sunny weather, with low humidity, was much more favorable for open cotton.

Picking made very good progress in Texas, but the previous rains have greatly lowered the grade in that State, while that remaining out in Oklahoma is mostly of low grade; considerable cotton is still unpicked in the more western portion of the belt. In Arkansas picking is practically completed in many localities, while harvest made good advance in North Carolina, the northern portions of Alabama and Mississippi, and in Tennessee.

The Weather Bureau also furnishes the following resume of the conditions in the different States:

North Carolina.—Raleigh: Killing frost to Wilmington on 17th and freezing to coast on 23d; favorable for killing hogs. Considerable wheat and rye sown during week; early-sown grain good stand. Good progress in picking and ginning cotton, threshing peanuts, stripping and marketing tobacco, and planting lettuce in southeast.

South Carolina.—Columbia: Weather favorable, though nights rather cold; week closing with freeze. Wheat, oats, and rye in good condition, with some grazing on early fields. Plowing and planting continue. Sweet potato and peanut harvests practically finished. Hardy truck in interior and tender truck on coast improved. Sirup making continues.

Georgia.—Atlanta: Mostly fair with frost at beginning and close of week; lowest temperatures for season in north on Tuesday morning. Progress in planting cereals good; condition excellent. Truck in coast districts doing well. Cotton oil mills closing down until next year. Cutting and grinding cane continues.

Florida.—Jacksonville: Too dry on some uplands of peninsula and low temperatures, about freezing, to north-central counties unfavorable for truck, except celery, lettuce and cabbage. Cold weather improved citrus fruits; large shipments. Strawberries fair to good progress. Oats doing well; local seeding continued. Harvesting sweet potatoes and grinding cane active. Soil good condition and farm work advanced.

Alabama.—Montgomery: Mostly fair with freezing temperatures nearly to coast at close; probably much injury to truck, vegetables, and pastures generally. The little open cotton remaining in fields, mostly in northwest, in poor condition account damage by recent rains; some will be picked. Harvesting corn and sweet potatoes finished in many sections. Sowing oats general; early-planted doing well. Planting cabbage in coast region. Sugar cane grinding progressing in south. Shipping satsumas in carload lots in full progress.

Mississippi.—Vicksburg: Generally fair, except light precipitation on Wednesday night or Thursday. Good to excellent progress in picking and ginning cotton, housing corn and general farm work. Previous inclement weather severely damaged unpicked cotton fiber and seed. Pastures damaged by cold in north and central; fair to good progress in south.

Louisiana.—New Orleans: Light to moderate rains first few days, followed by fair and colder; favorable for ripening sugar cane. Frost caused slight local damage. Fair progress in grinding cane, ginning cotton and digging sweet potatoes. Rice threshing progressed rapidly. Truck and pastures fair to good.

Texas.—Houston: Cool, with frost to coast on 23d; damage to truck moderate in south-central portion. Moderate to generous rains in coastal section; none to light elsewhere and field work made very good progress outside coast section where rice threshing further delayed. Progress and condition of pastures, wheat and oats mostly good, although freeze did slight damage to oats. Progress of picking and ginning cotton very good; earlier rains greatly lowered grade of staple, but with continuation of dryness, close picking will prevent material reduction in quantity. Progress of truck rather poor; citrus good.

Oklahoma.—Oklahoma City: Week had ideal weather for harvesting late crops. Very good progress in picking and ginning cotton, but staple mostly low grade; picking practically finished in some sections, while one-fourth or more in fields in some western counties. Gathering corn, kafir and feed crops nearly finished. Wheat generally excellent condition and pasturing early-planted.

Arkansas.—Little Rock: Low humidity, light rainfall and but one rainy day favorable for work, and gathering cotton and corn picking advanced rapidly, except in some fields on lowlands where still too wet; practically completed in many localities. Some reports of improved grade of cotton now being picked. Weather favorable for growing crops. Some wheat, oats and rye still being sown. Threshing rice progressing rapidly.

Tennessee.—Nashville: Fair weather permitted long-delayed harvesting of corn and cotton and sowing of wheat which progressed well last few days; considerable amount of cotton brought in recently was grabbed, making it trashy. Early-sown wheat good. Other crops made fair progress. Roads improved.

Kentucky.—Louisville: Dry and cool. Corn in shock practically dried out; good progress in gathering. Wheat small and scarcely growing, but condition and stands generally good. Rye and pastures still fairly good. Grass making little growth. Roads improved.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE

Friday Night, Nov. 27 1925.

A little more activity developed in markets for textiles during the past week. Distribution of seasonal merchandise continued on a satisfactory scale, particularly in the Western and Southern sections of the country. Elsewhere consumers were said to have heeded the "shop early" campaigns and, as a result, holiday buying started sooner than usual this year in a number of industrial centres. Many retailers said they were doing a much better business than had been expected at this early period. Close observers of the markets have noticed that premiums were easily obtained on wanted items owing to the fact that buyers have been backward in placing advance orders. This policy of deferred buying has strongly manifested itself recently in some lines of goods for fall use. Thus far this has worked to the benefit of retailers. The assertion that retail business has continued full has been substantiated by the large movement of merchandise on past orders and the frequent filling in business. The best activity has continued to be centred in silks, rayons, floor coverings and worsteds. Orders in the latter were said to be from 10 to 20% ahead of those of a year ago. In regard to the floor covering division, conditions continue satisfactory, including maintenance of firm prices and active business. Good headway appeared to be assured for well into the new year at least. Mills have been carefully proceeding on actual orders, profiting by their experience of last year, when much of the manufactured merchandise went into warehouses. Plants were estimated to be working approximately from 75 to 80% of capacity.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS: With the interruption of the Thanksgiving holiday, markets for domestic cotton goods continued to rule relatively quiet during the week. Factors were chiefly concerned with preparations for the holiday trade and were generally unwilling to run up big inventories at this time of the year. Sales continued to be widely scattered, although certain items were in more urgent demand than others, a feature being the increasing call for ginghams owing to the larger consumer and retailer demand. These goods were also selling in the tailor accessory trade for use in connection with tailored collar and cuff sets. As a result, stocks in mills' hands were claimed to be smaller than for some time past. Recent decreases in production schedules have also been partly responsible for this condition. Percales were likewise said to have been enjoying a satisfactory volume of sales, and it is expected that business will show a consistent improvement. Prices, as a rule, held steady during the week. This was principally due to the Government cotton crop report issued on Saturday last. The official estimate placed the total production this year at 15,298,000 bales, which was a reduction of 88,000 bales below the Nov. 1 report. Cotton ginned prior to Nov. 14 totaled 12,249,935 bales, compared with 11,162,235 bales to the same date last year. Thus, while some further price readjustments were expected there is no general expectation that there will be any such drastic reductions as many buyers have been trying to force. Mills have been more willing to accept business, and as a result numerous inquiries recently "hanging fire" were turned into actual orders. Print cloths, 28-inch, 64 x 64's construction, were quoted at 6¾c., and 27-inch, 64 x 60's, at 6¼c. Gray goods, 39-inch, 68 x 72's construction, are quoted at 10½c., and 39-inch, 80 x 80's, at 12⅜c.

WOOLEN GOODS: Little transpired in the markets for woolens and worsteds to change buyers' opinions. With the exception of worsteds, distribution of which continued full, business generally became less active, owing to relatively unseasonable weather and the doubts currently entertained concerning the maintenance of raw wool prices at recent levels. In regard to the new blanket lines, formal pricing has been held back owing to the apparent indifference among buyers. Nevertheless, the American Woolen Co. announced the new prices for their 1926 lines on Wednesday. As expected, opening levels were lower than those of last year. Considerable attention was accorded the now ombre patterns in double weaving. It was believed that the lower prices would prove to be attractive and assure a successful year.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS: A fair volume of seasonal business was transacted in the markets for linens, although the total sales failed to equal expectations. A disturbing influence has been the comparative absence of orders for the January white sales. In former years a considerable amount of this business has usually been placed for shipment when the sales began. It is generally believed that orders this year will be placed in bulk at the last moment. In the meantime, shipments in the sheer and cambric divisions have been rather steady. Demand for white handkerchiefs was particularly active owing to retarded covering of staple requirements among retailers. Consumer buying of handkerchiefs from now until Christmas is expected to be about the best on record. Novelty boxed sets are being featured and have met with considerable favor. Burlaps have ruled quiet and easier. Light weights are quoted at 9.05 and heavies at 12.10 to 12.15c.

THE TRANSPORTATION ACT OF 1920.

The railroads of the United States are now operated under the Transportation Act of 1920. On March 1 1920 these railroads, which had on Jan. 1 1918, as a war measure, been taken over for operation as one system by the United States Railroad Administration, were, in so far as still under its control (the short lines having previously been surrendered), restored to their owners. Federal control was terminated pursuant to a proclamation issued on Dec. 24 1919 by the President of the United States and subject to the terms of the Transportation Act of 1920, approved by the President on Feb. 28 1920. The complete text of the Act was printed in the "Chronicle" of Feb. 21 1920, pages 715 to 732, with an amendment in V. 110, p. 2250.

On Sept. 1 1920 the Government guaranty of income which had been granted to assenting roads for the six months following the end of Federal control expired by limitation.

On March 1 1922, two further provisions of the Transportation Act expired by limitation, namely: (1) The provision of Section 15 (a) making it incumbent on the Inter-State Commerce Commission when adjusting freight and passenger rates during the two years beginning March 1, to aim at establishing such rates for the railroads of the country as a whole or in districts as should afford "as a fair return" on the tentative valuation which was fixed by the Commission in July 1920, at $18,900,000,000 (against a book value of $20,040,572,611), a sum equal to 5½% per annum and in addition at the discretion of the Commission an additional ½ of 1% to make provision for improvements, betterments or equipment; (2) The provision in Section 210 (a) permitting the carriers to apply for loans from the Federal Revolving Fund, within two years from the termination of Federal control.

Rate of Return Allowed by Commission.

On May 24 1922 the Inter-State Commerce Commission, as required by the Act, made known its decision as to what would be a new reasonable rate of return on the investment of the roads, for use when fixing rates for passenger and freight transportation. The decision of the Commission was reached in considering the question of rate reductions, and the full text of the Commission's report and opinion in that case, in which a horizontal cut of 10% in freight rates was made, was given in the "Chronicle" of May 27 1922, pages 2317 to 2329; the conclusions as to the rate of return will be found on page 2327. The Commission ruled: "That on and after March 1 1922 a fair return on the aggregate value of the railway property of the carriers defined in Section 15a of the Inter-State Commerce Act, determined as therein provided, will be 5.75% of such aggregate property value as a uniform percentage for all rate groups or territories designated by this Commission." The Commission in July 1920, as already stated, fixed the tentative values of the properties at $18,900,000,000.

Following a decision handed down March 17 1923 by the Federal Court at New Orleans upholding the constitutionality of the provision in the Transportation Act generally known as the "recapture" clause, which was regarded as a test case (see V. 116, p. 1723), the Inter-State Commerce Commission on Mar. 23 1923 issued an order requiring all railroads to report by May 1 1923 as to their earnings during the year 1922 and to pay over to the Government under the Transportation Act one-half of the amount by which such earnings exceeded a 6% return on the value of the investment (V. 116, p. 1243). On Jan. 7 1924 (V. 118, p. 163) the United States Supreme Court also upheld the constitutionality of the "recapture" clause. The proceedings attacking the constitutionality of this clause were brought by the Dayton-Goose Creek Ry. of Texas, but when the action reached the U. S. Supreme Court, nineteen trunk lines had become parties to the brief filed in behalf of the road. (See V. 117, pages 2176-2179.)

The Inter-State Commerce Commission on April 4 1924 issued an order requiring all railroads whose net railway operating income exceeds 6% of the value of the property for the calendar year 1923 to file with the Commission, before May 1 1924, a report in the matter. This requirement is now a regular one each year. The Commission also announced that pursuant to a ruling of the Comptroller-General of the United States, interest on amounts of excess railway operating income payable to the United States under the Transportation Act will be required at the rate of 6%, beginning four months after the termination of the period for which the excess income is computed. The railroads, however, claim much higher valuations than those fixed by the Inter-State Commerce Commission, and in most of the cases where income has been large enough to lay the basis for an apparent claim to excess payments the right of the Government to the money is in dispute. The annual eport of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, issued in Dec. 1924, in referring to this matter, said:

We call attention to the fact that the excess income reported by carriers is not computed upon values fixed by us, and it may be that the number finally determined to have earned excess income will differ from the number reported. Of the carriers reporting excess income, 53 paid to us during the year the aggregate sum of $4,858,522 17, which added to $96,675 10 paid prior to Nov. 1 1923, makes the total payments $4,955,197 27. The majority of payments have been made under formal protests and reservations, and, therefore, the contingent fund, composed primarily of such payments, has not been made available for the uses contemplated by the statute.

Changes in Wages and in Transportation Rates.

The Transportation Act of 1920 was designed to enable the railroads as a whole to meet their financial problems caused by the war and Federal operation, and to assist them in their future financing by giving them a reasonable, though extremely moderate, return on their investment. Operating costs had enormously increased under Federal control and big advances in transportation rates were necessary to place the roads on a solvent footing. Furthermore, on July 20 1920 the U. S. Railroad Labor Board awarded wage increases aggregating over $625,000,000 a year. Accordingly, on July 31 1920 the Inter-State Commerce Commission authorized advances in rates calculated to add $1,500,000,000 to the yearly revenues of the roads. The immediate effect was most disappointing, owing to a precipitate decline in railroad traffic (V. 113, p. 1732 to 1734). The railroads were therefore obliged as one of their first steps to curtail their expenses drastically and to seek a reduction in the wages of their employees. Comparative statistics show the following results for Class I railroads (those with annual operating revenues above $1,000,000), exclusive of switching and terminal companies (see also nine-year statement, appearing on another page of this compendium, containing property investment, revenues, expenses, fixed charges, dividends, train, traffic and wage statistics in more detailed form). The figures have been compiled by the Bureau of Railway Economics from the records of the Inter-State Commerce Commission:

Calendar Year.	Average Yearly Wage.	Total Labor Cost.	Gross Operating Revenue.	Net Operating Income.	Return on Prop. Value.
1917	1,004	1,739,482,142	4,014,142,747	934,068,770	5.26%
1918	1,419	2,613,813,351	4,880,953,480	638,568,603	3.51%
1919	1,486	2,843,128,432	5,144,795,154	454,984,953	2 46%
1920	1,820	3,681,801,193	6,178,438,459	17 226,902	0.09%
1921	1,666	2,765,218,079	5,516,798,242	600,937,356	3.07%

1923	1,617	3,004,071,882	6,289,580,027	961,955,457	4.66%
1924	1,614	2,826,025,230	5,921,490,100	973,870 978	4 54%

These figures show the return on the investment in road and equipment without any reference to materials and supplies on hand or to working capital.

In April 1921 the Railroad Labor Board ordered the abolition on July 1 1921 of some of the provisions of the "National Agreements" which the railroad managers claimed had cost the railroads of the United States $300,000,000 per annum, but laid down 16 cardinal principles that must be maintained (V. 112, p. 1580, 1581; V. 113, p. 34, 805, 893, 915, 916, 1326, 1429, 1644, 1731, 1732).

Subsequently, in 1921-22, the national agreements were revised by the Labor Board, removing some of their most burdensome f atures in the case of railroad labor other than trainmen's brotherhoods. See below.

In May and June 1921 the Labor Board announced its decision that the exigencies of the situation demanded a substantial decrease in railroad expenses, and for that reason railroad wages on the larger roads should be reduced on the average 12%. A strike against this decrease and to forestall any further changes in wages and working conditions was ordered by the four trainmen's brotherhoods and the switchmen's union; but on Oct. 27 1921, on the eve of its becoming effective, was declared off, as below stated.

In Nov. 1921, after many reductions in freight rates had been made (since Aug. 1920), the railway executives, in order to be able to further decrease these rates as demanded by the public, posted notices of a proposed additional wage cut of about 10% with the intent of wiping out the remainder of the wage advance of 1920. The railroads agreed to pass on all benefit from this further wage cut to the public, and in anticipation of same put in effect on Jan. 7 1922 an experimental reduction of 10% on agricultural products for all parts of the country, this reduction to stand during the six months in which the plan to reduce wages would come before the Labor Board. See also V. 113, p. 2153, 2470, 2876. It was not until May 1922 that the Labor Board announced its decision as to further wage reductions, and it then promulgated decreases in the pay of the shop craft employees, maintenance of way men, freight car men, signal men, clerks, &c., effective July 1 1922, which it was computed would effect a saving to the carriers of $135,000,000 per year. This led to a prolonged strike, as noted further on in the article on Railroad Wages. V. 114, p. 2432, 2541, 2784. The maintenance of way men, who did not join in the strike, had a portion of the decrease remitted to them on a rehearing, the remission amounting to 2 cents an hour. In 1923 and 1924 wage increases of one kind or another again became common, not as a result of orders of the Railroad Labor Board (with few exceptions), but as a result of the action of many different roads.

An increase in freight rates, amounting to 5%, is now being sought by the Western railroads. Hearings on the application were opened before the Inter-State Commerce Commission on Sept. 8 1925 (V. 121, p. 36, 292, 802).

Government Holdings of Equipment Trusts.

Late in 1921 and early in 1922 the Federal Government sold a large amount of its holdings of equipment trusts (see below), and used the proceeds to settle its accounts with the railroads.

The sale of these equipment trusts and the improved fin cial outlook late n 1921 led the Federal Administration to withdraw their support of the so-called Funding Bill, which, as an amendment to the Transportation Act of 1920, would have permitted the settlement of the large amounts due by the Government to the railroads on account of compensation, guaranty, &c., and the funding of $500,000,000 of indebtedness due by them to the Government for expenditures made during Federal control on additions and improvement account. Compare V. 113, p. 2371, 2043, 2042, 1730, 1115, 910 to 914, 805, 696, 488, 487, 149.

Valuation of Properties by Commerce Commission.

For tentative valuations of 150 roads filed in 1921, see V. 113, p. 1008, 1011, 1539. Further tentative valuations have been noted in subsequent issues of the "Chronicle" in our "General Investment News" department. See also V. 115, p. 1798. To date the I.-S. C. Commission has set final valuations on 104 carriers, as in the table below. A petition presented by the National Conference on Valuation of American Railroads, of which the late Senator La Follette was the head, to have the proceedings of the I.-S. C. Commission in the physical valuation of the railroads of the country recommitted to the Bureau of Valuation, was denied by the Commission on Dec. 3 1923 (V. 117, p. 2617). The Conference sought to have the Commission establish the original cost of property investment and labor in railroads, as well as other data. All the existing valuation work of the Commission was attacked as unsound. The Commission held that its procedure in ascertaining information with respect to aids, gifts, grants or donations, was in substantial compliance with the Valuation Act, and that analysis of method of arriving at final value was not required by the law.

a The U. S. Supreme Court on Oct. 19 1925 refused to review the case of the Kansas City Southern et al. against the I.-S. C. Commission involving the question of the valuation of the road. The carrier sought to have the Supreme Court review a decision of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia affirming the decision of the Superior Court of the District of Columbia in which court the railroad endeavored to compel the I.-S. C. Commission to increase its valuation (V. 121, p. 2035).

b The I.-S. C. Commission in a supplemental tentative valuation report, increased the single-sum value for rate-making purposes as tentatively reported on June 7 1923 for the property of the Los Angeles & Salt Lake RR. (formerly the San Pedro Los Angeles & Salt Lake RR.) wholly owned and used as of June 30 1914 from $45,000,000 to $45,200,000, the increase being attributable to an adjustment in the amount allowed for working capital from $1,000,000 to $1,200,000. The company had brought suit in the U. S. District Court at Los Angeles, Calif., to set aside the Commission's tentative valuation and had submitted additional evidence which the Court certified to the Commission for its consideration. The Commission then re-opened the case and took some additional testimony and after further consideration made the above change (V. 121, p. 2153).

Proposed Plans of Consolidation.

The Transportation Act of 1920 contemplates the ultimate consolidation of all the railroads of the United States into a limited number of competing systems, and under one of the provisions of the Act the Inter-State Commerce Commission is directed to prepare a plan to that end. The provision is not compulsory as far as the roads are concerned. In the process of carrying out the requirement, the Commerce Commission directed Prof. William Z. Ripley of Harvard University to prepare a plan of consolidation, and with that as a basis, the Commission prepared a tentative plan which was put forward in September 1921 "in order to elicit a full record upon which the plan to be ultimately adopted can rest." The plan was outlined in V. 113, p. 1429 to 1431, 1950 to 1952. A table showing the grouping of roads in the plans of consolidation under consideration by the I.-S. C. Commission was given in V. 119, p. 628 and 629. Hearings were held on the different systems proposed, principally the Northern Pacific-Burlington, the Great Northern-St. Paul, the Union Pacific-Northwestern, the Frisco-Katy-Cotton Belt, the Baltimore & Ohio-Reading, the New England-Great Lakes, the Pennsylvania and the New York Central Systems, but a final determination has not yet been made. The hearings terminated Dec. 4 1923. Oral arguments on the proposed consolidations were concluded Jan. 12 1924. (See also V. 120, p. 540.)

Outline of Transportation Act.

The following outlines the Transportation Act of 1920, which was published in full in the "Chronicle" of Feb. 21 1920, p. 715 to 732, with an amendment in V. 110, p. 2250

RATES MUST BE ADJUSTED SO AS TO YIELD A FAIR RETURN.—The Commission is from time to time to determine and make public what percentage of the aggregate property value constitutes a fair return thereon. Such percentage must be uniform for all rate groups or territories which may be designated by the Commission. In making such determination it shall give due consideration, among other things, to the transportation needs of the country and the necessity (under honest, efficient and economical management of existing transportation facilities), of enlarging such facilities in order to provide the people of the United States with adequate transportation. Provided, That during the two years beginning March 1 1920 the Commission shall take as such fair return a sum equal to 5½% of such aggregate value, but may, in its discretion, add thereto a sum not exceeding ½ of 1% of such aggregate value to make provision in whole or in part for improvements, betterments or equipment, which, according to the accounting system prescribed by the Commission, are chargeable to capital account.

The Commission in a decision handed down in May 1922, as noted on page 3 (inside of second column) stated "that on and after March 1 1922 a fair return upon the aggregate value of the railway property will be 5½%."

Pending the completion of its valuation of the railway properties in the United States, the Commission is required to make tentative valuations of the several roads as a basis for rate-making. In July 1920 the Commission placed a tentative value on all the railroads in the United States of $18,900,000,000 as against a book value of $20,040,572,611.

DISTRIBUTION OF EARNINGS IN EXCESS OF 6%.—Net railway operating income in any year in excess of 6% of the value of the property shall be utilized as follows: (a) One-half of such excess shall be placed in a Reserve Fund maintained by the railroad; (b) the remaining one-half shall go into a General Railroad Contingent Fund (see also page 3 of this publication).

REFUNDING OF CARRIERS' INDEBTEDNESS TO THE UNITED STATES.—The net indebtedness of each carrier to the United States for additions or betterments may be funded for a period of ten years (or less at option of company) from the termination of Federal control, with interest at 6% per annum, subject to the right of the carrier to anticipate the payment of the whole or any part of the indebtedness. Any remaining debt to U. S. to be evidenced by 6% notes running one year or less.

CONSOLIDATION OF RAILROAD PROPERTIES—STOCK CONTROL, &c.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission is directed to prepare and adopt a plan for the consolidation of railroad properties into a limited number of competing systems, and consolidations are authorized when in harmony with the plan as adopted and approved by the Comission. See remarks above and plans as proposed in 1921, V. 113, p. 1429 to 1431, and 1950.

The Commission shall also pass on any proposed measures for the control of one road by another by consolidation, lease, stock ownership or otherwise. In any consolidation the total amount of outstanding stock and bonds of the consolidating company shall not exceed the value of the consolidated properties as determined by the Commission.

JOINT USE OF TERMINALS.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission whenever in its opinion there exists an emergnecy may require such joint or common use of terminals, including main-line tracks for a reasonable distance outside of such terminals, as in its opinion will best meet the emergency and serve the public interest.

INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSION MAY INITIATE RATES.—In the exercise of its power to prescribe just and reasonable rates, the Commission can initiate as well as modify and establish rates.

CONTROL OVER SECURITY ISSUES.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission is given exclusive control over the issuance of all railroad securities, except notes maturing in less than two years when the total issues of said notes of the railroad amounts to less than 5% of its capitalization. See regulations, V. 111, p. 1814, 1049, 587.

LABOR BOARDS TO ARBITRATE DISPUTES BETWEEN WAGE-EARNERS AND EMPLOYERS.—The law authorizes a system of labor boards of adjustment to be established by employers and employees. A central railroad labor board of appeal is created with power to hear disputes and initiate investigations.

The members of this board, three of whom are to represent labor, three railroad managers, and three the public, to be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate. There are no penal provisions for the enforcement of the decisions of this board. [See list of members on page 248.]

Federal Control—Standard Return.

The proclamation of President Wilson assuming control of the roads was dated Dec. 26 1917. See V. 105, p. 2509; V. 106, p. 35; V. 108, p. 2081.

CONTRACTS FOR GOVERNMENT CONTROL—RENTAL PAYMENTS.—The form of contract which the Government executed, with slight variations, with the railroads, will be found in V. 107, p. 1157, 956.

The Act of Congress approved March 21 1918 (cited in V. 106, p. 1421) authorized the President "to agree with and to guarantee' to any carrier "that during the period of such Federal control it shall receive as just compensation an annual sum (herein called standard return) for each year . . . not exceeding a sum equivalent as nearly as may be to its average annual railway operating income for the three years ended June 30 1917." In a few cases for special reasons extra compensation was granted. Disputes however, arose, and when Federal control was terminated Feb. 29 1920 there still remained a number of roads concerning which the question of compensation, whether the standard return or a larger sum, was still to be determined.

Out of the aforesaid compensation as supplemented by the company's non-operating income, including interest and dividends on any bonds or stock owned, and other outside items each company was required to pay all Federal (war) taxes, interest and other fixed charges, and also any dividends allowed on their capital stock.

A list of the compensation contracts finally executed up to Sept. 15 1920 will be found, with the amounts of the compensation agreed upon, on pages 6, 7 and 252 of the issue of this publication for Nov. 27 1920. Others have been noted from week to week in subsequent issues of the "Chronicle."

Nine-Year Statement of United States Railroads—Property Investment, Revenues, Expenses, Fixed Charges, Dividends, Traffic, Train and Wage Statistics.

The Bureau of Railway Economics, Washington, D. C., in a bulletin designed as a convenient reference for statistics of railway operation in the United States, gives the following tabulations, which are based upon official summarie of the Inter-State Commerce Commission for the calendar years ended Dec. 31 1916 to 1924. The tabulations cover the operations of railways of Class I only, namely, carriers with annual operating revenues above $1,000,000 (switching and terminal company statistics are not included). Class I railways operate approximately 90% of the total railway mileage of the United States and earn about 96% of the total revenues.

a "Material and supplies" and "Cash" as shown for years 1918 and 1919 represent the average on hand as of Dec. 31 1917 and Dec 31 1920.

b Total operating revenues and mail revenue for the year 1920 includes $64,508,260 of mail pay applicable to the years 1917, 1918 and 1919, of which $7,584,084 was earned in 1917, approximately $30,000,000 in 1918, and $26,924,176 in 1919.

Note.—The figures of "Investment in road and equipment" cover Class I roads and their non-operating subsidiaries. The figures of "Investment" are those taken from the annual reports of the carriers and do not include investment of some proprietary companies which do not render annual reports, notably the proprietary roads in the Baltimore & Ohio system. For the years 1916 to 1921 they also include some duplications in the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe system. If these facts were taken into account, the total shown for 1919 would be increased by $265,525,964. Data for the years 1918, 1919 and 1920 represent the combined results of the Federal and Corporate operations of Class I roads under Federal control, also data for Class I roads not under Federal control, but do not take into account the general administrative expenses of the United States Railroad Administration.

a Labor expenditures do not include that portion of payroll chargeable to capital account. Amount of employees' compensation chargeable to operating expenses for 1916 to 1920 inclusive, partially estimated by Bureau of Railway Economics from data submitted before Inter-State Commerce Commission—Docket 13293—Respondents Exhibit Nos. 47, 58 and 59; and for years subsequent to 1920 compiled and published by the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

b Includes uncollectible railway revenue.

Note.—Data for years 1918, 1919 and 1920 represent the combined results of the Federal and corporate operations of Class I roads under Federal control, also data or Class I roads not under Federal control, but do not take into account the general administrative expenses of the United States Railroad Administration.

Increases and Decreases in Railroad Rates.

During the period of Government control operating costs had been so enormously increased that the roads fell far short of meeting their expenses and charges, leaving a heavy deficit for the Government to make good. With the return of the roads to private control, therefore, it hence became necessary to arrange for increasing rates for the transportation of both passengers and freight. The extension of the guaranty period for six months after the roads had been turned back to their owners was for the purpose of allowing time in which to make the adjustment. Just as the Inter-State Commerce Commission was ready to announce its decision, there came the decision of the RR. Labor Board on July 20 1920 awarding increases in wages aggregating $625,000,000 or more per year. The roads had asked for increases in rates to yield additional revenue of $1,017,766,000 per annum. Following the award of the Labor Board the roads petitioned the Commission for further additions to revenue in the amount of the increase. On July 31 1920 the Commission having placed a valuation of $18,900,000,000 upon the railroad properties, against a book value of $20,040,572,611, undertook to allow them 6% upon the property investment, which would mean a total of $1,134,000,000 with which to cover the increased cost of wages and supplies and to pay for improvements, &c. (compare V. 111. p. 653, 549, 459, 347 to 350, 329). The decision of July 1920 increased:

Increases and Decreases in Railroad Rates.

(a) Freight Rates.—40% in the East, 25% in the South, 35% in the West and 25% in Mountain-Pacific territory. (b) Passenger Rates—20%, the amount asked by the railroads, or about ½ of 1 cent additional per mile. (c) Pullman Rates—A surcharge to the roads of 50% on rates. (d) Excess Baggage Rates—20% advance. (e) Milk Tariffs—20% advance. (f) Coastwise and inland steamship lines and electric railway companies were permitted to increase their freight rates in proportion to the increases of the railroads in the same territory. (V. 111, p. 848.)

These increases in rates were expected to add $1,500,000,000 to the yearly revenues of the roads. But, unfortunately, a sudden decline in traffic caused an alarming falling off in railway operating income, notwithstanding the higher rates received. (V. 113, p. 2155.) It then became necessary to reduce both rates and wages.

On Nov. 17 1921 the Railroad Executives, in anticipation of a wage cut of 10%, announced a 10% reduction in rates on farm products for all parts of the country, except New England (and in New England also it was voluntarily accepted by most of the railroads), the old rates to be restored at the end of six months in case the expected lowering of railroad wages had not been accomplished. (V. 113, p. 2154, 2470, 2786.) This move followed numerous and important rate reductions on many products since Aug. 26 1920, when the general advance mentioned above was ordered. The 10% reduction in rates on farm products it was estimated would save shippers about $55,000,000.

In May 1922 the Inter-State Commerce Commission ordered a horizontal reduction of 10% in rates, effective July 1 1922. For full text of decision see "Chronicle" of May 27 1922, pages 2317 to 2329. In the case of grain, grain products and hay in Western territory the Commission had the previous autumn ordered a freight rate reduction of 16½%, which went into effect Jan. 1 1922. That reduction was allowed to stand without change, the 10% cut not in any way affecting it.

On April 17 1923 reductions were permitted in freight rates to meet Panama Canal competition on certain heavy commodities to Pacific Coast and intermediate points. The reductions apply to all Western lines, including those like the Atchison and Southern Pacific, that reach the coast by the Southern route, and the Union Pacific that goes by the Central route, as well as the Northwestern roads. Some time before the Inter-State Commerce Commission had refused to permit those lines to charge a higher rate to intermediate than to Pacific Coast points. Further reductions by the same lines were ordered to become effective June 1 1923. The latter ran as high as 50%, t was stated, on some commodities. (V. 116, p. 2089, 1014.)

Railroads operating through the Southwest and the lower Mississippi Valley were ordered by the Inter-State Commerce Commission on March 15 1923 to make a general revision of commo ity freight rate schedules, effective June 30 1923. (V. 116, p. 1138.)

Excerpts from Letter of Chairman H. C. Hall of the Inter-State Commerce Commission to Senator Smith, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Inter-State Commerce, Dated May 28 1924.

Since July 1 1922 there have been no general reductions over the country as a whole or throughout any of the major rate groups. Many reductions have been made in individual cases, but they have been relatively unimportant as compared with those made previous to and including the general reduction of July 1 1922. Readjustments of rates on some 30 commodities in the Southwest, involving both increases and reductions, but not designed to affect the carriers' aggregate revenues, became effective Nov. 27 1923. Other commodity rates in that territory are now in the course of similar revision.

It has been estimated that from July 1 1922 to the end of 1923 the shippers and consumers of the country have paid nearly $800,000,000 less in charges for transportation of property than would have accrued if no reductions had been made below the basis established on Aug. 26 1920. Of this, it has been roughly estimated that more than $175,000,000, or about 22% of the total, represents decrease in freight charges on livestock and the products of agriculture. The latter constitute approximately 15% of the tonnage.

In the attached statement, marked "Appendix I" [given below] will be found a list of important general rate reductions between Oct. 26 1921 and July 1 1922.

The attached statement marked "Appendix 2" [given below], shows representative rates now in effect on lumber, base bullion, packing-house products sugar and iron ore as compared with the rates in effect on Aug. 26 1920. The percentage relationship of the present rates to the Aug. 26 1920 rates is also shown.

APPENDIX 1.

Important General Rate Reductions Between Oct. 26 1921 and July 1 1922, Inclusive.

1. A 10% reduction in rates on all products of farm, garden, orchard and ranch—other than grain, hay and their products, and livestock—which became effective about Jan. 1 1922.

2. A reduction of 10% in rates on livestock between any two points, both of which are located west of the Indiana-Illinois State line or the Mississippi River, where such rates were 50 cents per 100 pounds or less. This reduction became effective about Jan. 1 1922.

3. Reductions in rates on grain, hay and their products made by the order of the Commission effective about Jan. 21, between any two points located west of Lake Michigan or the Indiana-Illinois State line and east of the Rocky Mountains; on wheat, hay, and their products, such as flour, cornmeal, bran, alfalfa meal, &c., 13%; on corn, oats, barley, and other so-called coarse grains, and their products, 21%.

4. Reductions ranging from 1 to 15% on forest products from Southern, Southeastern and Southwestern producing territory to points in Eastern Trunk Line and Central territories, including points in Illinois and Wisconsin. These reductions became effective about May 16 1922 and were the result of the Commission's opinion in the Southern Hardwood Traffic Association case, Docket No. 12995.

5. Material reductions in rates on coal, both bituminous and anthracite, from Lake Superior docks to points in Minnesota, and also in South Dakota on and east of the Missouri River. These reductions were made effective about April 1 1921, and were the result of the Commission's decision in the Holmes & Hallowell case, Docket No. 6194.

6 General reductions in rates under the Commission's opinion in Reduced Rates, 1922, Docket No. 13293. These reductions became effective July 1 1922 and applied to all classes and commodities. The general effect was to make a reduction of 10% in the rates of June 30 1922, except in cases where prior thereto and subsequent to the general increase of Aug. 26 1920 reductions had been made by that per cent or more. Generally speaking, no rates were to be higher than 90% of the Aug. 26 1920 rates.

$81,995,100 of 4% bonds and $75,000,000 of 5% bonds (issued in Aug. 1924; V. 119, p. 809). The 5% bonds are not subject to redemption before Apr. 1 1945. All or any part of the 5% bonds may be repurchased by company on April 1 1945, or any int. date thereafter, on 3 months' notice and upon payment of a premium of ¼ % for each three months from the date of repurchase to the date of maturity. The prior lien 3½% bonds due July 1 1925 were accepted at 100% and int. in payment for the 5% bonds.

Southwestern Division First Mortgage 5s.

These bonds were issued under the Southwest Division 1st mtge. of Baltimore & Ohio RR., dated Jan. 1 1899, in extension of the 3½% bonds for a like amount maturing on July 1 1925 (which were accepted in payment for new bonds at 100 and interest) and the principal and interest at the rate of 3½% per annum are secured by the lien thereof. Because of the provisions of the refunding and general mortgage, the additional interest on these bonds will not be secured under the Southwestern Division first mortgage, but the company will agree in a supplemental indenture that in the event that it should hereafter place any new mortgage upon the property on which these bonds are a first lien, and on which the ref. & gen. mtge. bonds are also a lien, the additional 1½% int. which these bonds bear is to be secured thereon by a lien prior to any bonds issued under such new mtge.

These $45,000,000 bonds are secured through the deposit and pledge with the trustee of the mortgage of $45,000,000 first mtge. bonds and all the other funded indebtedness and all the stock of Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern RR., which owns the properties. The Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Division bonds are thus in effect secured by a first lien on 910 miles of first main track, extending from the western approach of the bridge of Baltimore & Ohio RR. across the Ohio River at Belpre, Ohio, to and through the city of Cincinnati and through the States of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois to the City of East St. Louis, Ill., a distance of 528 miles, together with branches or divisions connecting with the main line, comprising an additional 154 miles, and 228 miles comprising the Springfield Division extending from Shawneetown, Ill., to Beardstown, Ill., together with all extensions, lands, buildings, appurtenances and other property, franchises, &c., all as described in the mortgage. This issue of bonds, constituting a closed mortgage, is thus outstanding at the rate of $49,450 per mile of first main track.

The bonds are not subject to redemption before July 1 1945. All or any part of the bonds may be redeemed on July 1 1945 or any interest date thereafter on not less then three months' previous notice, upon payment of their principal amount plus a premium of ½% for each 6 months from the date of redemption to the date of maturity. V. 120, p. 1743.

Pittsburgh Lake Erie & West Virginia System mtge. refunding 4% gold bonds (authorized amount $75,000,000) are a lien on 1,629 miles, forming a direct connection with Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Fairport, Lorain and Sandusky, subject to underlying bonds outstanding thereon (see table above). The unissued bonds are reserved to retire underlying bonds V. 74, p. 266; V. 79, p. 2793; V. 80, p. 1423; V. 86, p. 479, 1528; V. 87, p. 36; V. 88, p. 451, 685; V. 105, p. 715.

Convertible 20-year 4½s $63,250,000, dated March 1 1913, were convertible into common stock up to Feb. 28 1923 at $110 per share and redeemable beginning March 1 1923 at 102½. These 4½s are secured by the new blanket mortgage below described pari passu with the new bonds. See V. 96, p. 134, 200, 651, 715, 1088, 1421; V. 97, p. 727.

Refunding & General Mortgage of 1915 due Dec. 1 1995 (V. 101, p. 1884) The initial $60,000,000 5% bonds of this issue was brought out in Dec 1915. See below; also V. 101, p. 1884; V. 102, p. 975; V. 103, p. 1989. On Dec. 31 1924 $10,000,000 Series "A", $24,250,000 Series "B," and $10,000,000 Series "C" bonds were pledged as collateral for long-term debt and $860,000 Series "C" bonds were in treasury, insurance and sinking funds. In June 1924 $35,000,000 Series "C" bonds were sold. V. 118, p. 2703.

Security.—Secured on practically entire system, 4,985 miles of first track, 4,993 m. of 2d track and sidings, and equipment or interest therein, having in 1924 a net value of over $149,069,544. Also covers the passenger and freight terminals in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Chicago and the freight terminals on Staten Island, N. Y., in Cincinnati and Washington, as well as one-half stock interest in the Washington Term. Co. and one-half ownership of joint yards at Washington. A direct lien upon about 2,289 m. of first track, and a lien, through deposit of bonds, and in most cases all, and in no case less than 96% of stock, of the co. owning remaining mileage.

Reservation of Bonds.—The mortgage reserves bonds to retire about $282,000,000 prior liens on various parts of the system and the $63,250,000 convertible gold bonds [these last being secured by the new mortgage pari passu with the bonds issued thereunder] and provides for the reservation of bonds for construction, improvements, new equipment and the acquisition, directly or indirectly, of properties and securities. The right is reserved to refund the Prior Lien 3½s into 1st M. 4s of 1898 due 1948, and to extend the due date of the S. W. Div. 3½s to date not later than July 1 1950.

The authorized issue is limited to an amount which, together with all the prior debts of the Railroad Co., after deducting therefrom the bonds reserved under the provisions of the mortgage to retire prior debts at maturity shall not exceed 3 times the then outstanding capital stock, with the additional limitation that when the aggregate amount of the bonds outstanding and the bonds reserved to retire prior debts shall be $600,000,000, no additional amount of bonds shall thereafter be issued, except the bonds so reserved to retire prior debt, without the further consent of the stockholders of the railroad company, and such additional bonds may be issued only to an amount not exceeding 80% of cost of work done or property acquired Toledo-Cincinnati Div. Bonds.—In July 1917, following foreclosure sales, 391 miles of the former Cincinnati Hamilton & Dayton Ry. System was reorganized per plan in V. 102, p. 1059; V. 105, p. 715, 908, as the Toledo & Cincinnati RR. Co., whose outstanding securities ($5,000,000 capital stock, $16,250,500 First & Ref. Mtge. bonds and $20,000,000 Adjustment & Improvement bonds) were then acquired by the B. & O. RR. The aforesaid 391 miles embrace: Main line Cincinnati to Toledo, 202 miles (including 142 miles leased from Dayton & Michigan RR. (a very profitable lease; see caption of that company); Tontogany to North Baltimore, 19 miles; Deshler to Findlay, 18 miles; Hamilton to East Middleton, 19 miles; Piqua to Troy, 9 miles; Cincinnati to Dayton, 60 miles; Dayton to Ironton Jct. 125 miles; other, 5 miles.

The B. & O. RR. having acquired all the securities issued by the Toledo & Cincinnati RR., made a deed of trust covering the same to secure not exceeding $35,000,000 collateral bonds, which are intended ultimately to be made as far as possible a direct lien on this division. Of these new B. & O. bonds, $11,250,500 of 4% and $5,000,000 of 5% were issued forthwith under the plan. In addition, $2,447,000 Series "C" bonds have been issued for capital expenditures. The remainder were reserved to retire at maturity or earlier the bonds undisturbed by the plan as shown in table above, or for acquisition of underlying stocks, branch lines, branch line bonds, aid for refunding additions and betterments, or to acquire First & Ref. Mtge. bonds of new company issued therefor. V. 105, p. 2364.

The $35,000,000 6% Secured Bonds dated July 1 1919 have as security: $6,065,000 Reading Co. First Pref. stock; $14,265,000 Reading Co. Second Pref. stock; $10,002,500 Reading Co. Common stock; $15,000,000 B. & O. Ref. & Gen. Mtge. 6% bonds, Series "B," $2,000,000, Series "A" and $7,500,000 Series "C," due Dec. 1 1995. The trust indenture provides that the aggregate value of the collateral deposited shall always be maintained at least equal to 125% of bonds outstanding. V. 108, p. 2628; V. 109, p. 71.

The trust indenture provides that the company in each year, beginning July 1 1919, after providing for its fixed charges, will set aside out of net income accruing after that date, not less than $3,500,000 p. ann. until a total of $17,500,000 has been set aside, such sums to be used, from time to time solely for capital expenditures theretofore made, to pay loans incurred or maturing funded obligations. Moneys set aside in any year in excess of $3,500,000 may be credited against moneys required to be set aside in subsequent years. Balance of total set aside in 1923. V. 108, p. 2628.

Promissory Note.—The company has issued a promissory note for $9,000,000 dated March 1 1920, payable to the Director-General of Railroads ten years after date with interest at 6% p. a., payable semi-annually. The following collateral has been pledged as security: $9,250,000 Ref. & Gen. Mtge. Series "B" 6% bonds, $3,000,000 Ref. & Gen. Mtge. Series "A" 5% bonds. V. 112, p. 468.

The Boston & Maine Transportation Co. was organized in June 1925 for the purpose of operating motor coach routes. Compare V. 120, p. 3308; V. 121, p. 702, 2151.

On Aug. 29 1916 the Boston & Maine RR. was placed in temporary receivership on account of inability to pay its maturing obligation of nearly $20,000,000. Pres. James H. Hustis was appointed temporary receiver and continued in this position until reorganization and consolidation of the system on Dec. 1 1919. The reorganization plan (V. 107, p. 1918, 2375, 2475), which became effective Dec. 1 1919, provided for the consolidation of the Boston & Maine RR. with its seven directly leased lines and the assumption by the consolidated company of all sub-leases and other obligations.

The final valuation of the Boston & Maine RR. as of June 30 1914 was found by the I.-S. C. Commission to be $234,189,816 for all properties owned or used. The value of properties owned and used was found to be $101,712,971, and of properties used but not owned, $132,476,845.

The Commission found that the investment in road and equipment, including land, was $90,653,840 on the valuation date. The cost of reproduction new of total properties used was found to be $223,317,897, and the cost, less depreciation, $170,629,869.

Reorganization Plan (as Amended), Dated Sept. 1 1925.

Principal Features Contemplated by the Plan.

The plan contemplates the creation of a new 7% prior preference stock having priority over all existing stock and the sale of $13,000,000 of this new stock to provide funds for additions and improvements; the surrender of certain percentages of their present holdings by existing stockholders who elect not to purchase their allotments of this new stock; the extension to later dates of maturity of $43,522,000 of bonds maturing in the years 1925 to 1932, inclusive, or the refunding of said bonds under the terms of the railroad's existing mortgage dated Dec. 1 1919, with an agreement on the part of the railroad to convert these extended or refunded bonds into the new 7% prior preference stock; and the readjustment of the rights of the holders of the various classes of stock now outstanding.

New 7% Prior Preference Stock (par $100).

Shall have voting powers and it shall have priority over the present 1st pref., pref. and common stock as to divs., which shall be cumulative, and also in liquidation at par and accumulated divs. It shall be callable as a whole but not in part on any div. payment date after Jan. 1 1930 at the price of $110 per share and accumulated divs. but in case of any such call made on or before Jan. 1 1940 a period of at least 90 days shall intervene between the first publication of the call and the date fixed for redemption, and during said period any bonds which are convertible may be converted into prior preference stock without regard to the limitation upon the amount of bonds convertible in any calendar year, and the stock to be called and redeemed shall include all shares issued in exchange for bonds so converted, but in this event the conversion privilege on all bonds not so converted within the period of 90 days shall terminate at the end of the period.

$13,000,000 of this stock is to be sold at the present time to provide funds for improvements and additions to the property of the railroad and shall be paid for in semi-ann. installments, the first of which shall be 10% of the purchase price and the others of which shall each be 15% of the purchase price.

In order to comply with statutory provisions this stock must be first offered to stockholders proportionately at par, and the balance not taken by stockholders under this offering must then be offered for sale at public auction at not less than par.

The plan involves, however, the election by each stockholder either (1) to purchase at par a certain amount of prior preference stock (which amount is not based on the proportionate allotment of said stock among all stockholders), or (2) to surrender a portion of his old stock.

For the different classes of stock the election to purchase new stock or to surrender old stock is as follows:

(a) Holders of 1st Pref. Stock, Classes "A" and "E": Will either purchase at par $12 par value of prior pref. stock for each share of old stock held, or surrender 12% of old stock, retaining 88%.

(b) Holders of 1st Pref. Stock, Classes "B" and "C": Will either purchase at par $12 par value of prior pref. stock for each share of old stock held, or surrender 8% of old stock, retaining 92%.

(c) Holders of 1st Pref. Stock, Class "D": Will either purchase at par $12 par value of prior pref. stock for each share of old stock held, or surrender 6⅓% of old stock, retaining 93⅓%.

(d) Holders of Pref. Stock: Will either purchase at par $15 par value of prior pref. stock for each share of old stock held, or surrender 12% of old stock, retaining 88%.

(e) Holders of Common Stock: Will either purchase at par $20 par value of prior pref. stock for each share of old stock held, or surrender 32% of old stock, retaining 68%.

Extension or Refunding of Bonds.

The present funded debt of the railroad (excl. of bonds of leased roads amounting to $2,750,000, which fall due from 1941 to 1944, and excl. also of equip. trust notes) amounts to $124,123,479. Of this amount $48,685,479 are held by the United States of America and $75,438,000 are outstanding in the hands of the general public. Of this last amount $43,522,000 fall due in the years 1925 to 1932 incl., and these are the bonds to be extended or refunded. Their due dates are to be severally extended for a period of 15 years; they are to bear int. as at present until their present due dates and thereafter during the extended period at 5% per annum, and are to be callable in whole or in part at 102 and int. on any int. date after Jan. 1 1930, but not before their present maturities. On the bonds, which are now overdue or which shall hereafter fall due before their extension or refunding, int. will be paid at the rate of 5% per annum from their respective maturities.

It is intended that in addition the extended or refunded bonds shall, in so far as may be permitted by State or Federal legislation now or hereafter in force, be made convertible at par at the option of the holders thereof into shares of the 7% prior pref. stock at any time on or after Jan. 1 1930, and before Jan. 1 1940, or if any of the bonds are called for redemption between said dates, then before the date fixed for redemption which shall be not less than 60 days after the date of the call, subject to the limitation, however, that if in any calendar year from 1930 to 1933 incl. $7,500,000 of said bonds shall have been so converted, then no further bonds shall be so converted during the same calendar year except such as have been or shall be thereafter called for redemption during that year, and subject to the further limitation that said conversion privilege shall terminate after 90 days if the prior pref. stock as a whole shall be called for redemption.

Stock Readjustment.

The rights of the various classes of stock are to be readjusted as follows:

The preferential rates of dividend upon the 1st pref. stock, classes "A," "B," "C," "D" and "E," and upon the pref. stock are to remain unchanged. The holders of 1st pref. stock are to surrender the divs. already accumulated and unpaid on this stock, and also divs. accruing thereon after July 1 1925, and on or before July 1 1927, except so far as said last named divs. may be declared and paid on or before July 1 1927 and said holders shall remain entitled to cumulative divs. after July 1 1927. The 1st pref. stock shall be given priority in liquidation over the pref. and the common stock, not only for all divs. accruing after July 1 1927 and unpaid, but also for the par value of the shares, but shall receive nothing further in liquidation. The 1st pref. stock shall also be entitled to further limited payments after the common stock has received divs. of 6% in any year, as explained in the following paragraph:

If in any calendar year the holders of the common stock shall have received divs. equal in all to 6%, then out of any further divs. declared and payable on the common stock in the same calendar year one-half in amount shall be distributed among the then holders of the 1st pref. stock upon which the accumulated divs. are surrendered, such distribution to be in proportion to the annual rates of the preferential divs. to which said holders respectively are entitled, but in respect to each share of said 1st pref. stock this provision shall cease to apply or be operative when the aggregate of the amounts so distributed from time to time upon said share is equal to one-half of the accumulated from time to time upon said share is equal to one-half of the amount of the accumulated divs. on said share which have been surrendered as herein provided.

The accumulated divs. upon the 1st pref. stock which are to be surrendered shall be kept alive and subject to the disposition of the committee, which may deal with or utilize said divs. in such manner as seems to it best calculated to carry out the plan and accomplish the results contemplated. CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS.—(See Map.)—In 1919 a company under the name of "Canadian National Railway Company" was incorporated by the Dominion Government with the intention of having that company take over or operate the railways owned or controlled by the Government. This company was organized in October 1922.

In Jan. 1923 an amalgamation was effected between the above company and the Grand Trunk Ry. of Canada, the result being a new company with the name "Canadian National Ry. Co." and which new company became vested with the properties of the two amalgamating companies and became liable for the obligations of said companies. Pursuant to the agreement between the Dominion of Canada and the Grand Trunk Ry. Co. all the capital stock of the Grand Trunk Co. became vested in His Majesty the King on behalf of the Dominion of Canada and as a result of this and of the above amalgamation there was issued in favor of the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada in trust for His Majesty as above $180,424,327 70 of capital stock of the new Canadian National Ry. Co. This amount represented the previously outstanding capital stock of the Grand Trunk Co., there being no capital stock outstanding of the previous Canadian National Rys. Co. The Canadian National Rys. now operates 21,872 miles of railway all under control of the same directors and the same general and executive officers, whether acting respectively as directors or officers of one or another of the companies included in the Canadian National Rys. System.

HISTORY.—Reorg. in 1887 without foreclosure; V. 44, p. 714, 716; V. 105, p. 1707. Concerning coal properties, see Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co. and Lehigh Coal & Navigation under "Industrials." In 1901 Reading Company acquired control, owning $14,500,000 stock. The latter company will dispose of its holdings under its dissolution plan. V. 113, p. 1469, V. 112, p. 743, 2304; V. 72, p. 86, 136, 241, 391, 721. In Sept. 1913 the Govt. brought suit alleging violation of both the Sherman law and the commodities clause of the I.-S. Commerce Law. In Oct. 1915 final decree of U. S. District Court dismissing said suit ordered that this company must dispose of its interest in the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co. within 90 days. Both parties appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court. On April 26 1920 the U. S. Supreme Court sustained most of the Government's charges. The plan for the disposal by the company of all the stock of the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co. owned or controlled by it (as embodied in the dissolution decree of the Reading Co. dated Feb. 14 1921), provided that the stock be disposed of within six months after entry of the decree or previous to any other later date which may be fixed by the Court. Announcement was made on Nov. 17 1921 that the company had sold its 169,788 shares of Coal Co. stock to a syndicate for $32,500,000. See V. 114, p. 737, 946, 2578; V. 115, p. 182, 644, 868; V. 117, p. 669, 1555; V. 113, p. 1982, 2184, 2719; V. 112, p. 743, 2641; V. 101, p. 1464, 1807; V. 110, p. 1816. Full Crew Law, V. 105, p. 1897, 2093. Rebate decision in V. 109, p. 1891.

Tentative Valuation.—The I.-S. C. Commission has placed a tentative valuation of $103,473,706 on the total owned property of the system and $125,111,211 on the total used property as of June 30 1918. The tentative valuations include Central RR. of New Jersey, the Dover & Rockaway RR., the Easton & Western RR., the Hibernia Mine RR., the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Co. Owns $8,837,900 of $11,000,000 Hocking Valley com. stock; for court decision in 1917, see V. 105, p. 908, 997. In July 1917 purchased 8,000 acres of coal land through the Western Pocahontas Fuel Co. V. 105, p. 180; V. 106, p. 1911.

During the year 1918 the Pond Fork Ry. Co., Gauley & Meadow River RR. Co., the Kanawha Bridge & Terminal Co., the Logan & Southern Ry. Co. and the Piney River & Paint Creek RR. Co. were merged with the Chesapeake & Ohio Ry. Co. (V. 83, p. 436; V. 109, p. 786). The stockholders voted May 3 1918 (V. 106, p. 1343, 1796, 2122) to acquire by purchase or otherwise all the property of Chesapeake & Ohio Northern Ry. Co. The Elkhorn & Beaver Valley Ry. was merged in 1920. In April 1921 the stockholders approved the lease of the Ches. & Ohio Ry. of Ind. V. 113, p. 2719. The I.-S. C. Huntington interests acquired by O. P. Van Sweringen. V. 116, p. 175; V. 115, p. 2904.

Merger.—In Sept. 1924 O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen made a proposal for the unified control and operation of the railroads of The New York Chicago & St. Louis RR. Co., The Chesapeake & Ohio Ry. Co., The Hocking Valley Ry. Co., Erie RR. Co. and Pere Marquette Ry. Co., for details of which see The New York Chicago & St. Louis RR. Co. below.

The stockholders on March 30 1925 approved the lease of the road to the new Nickel Plate system.

Chancery Judge William A. Moncure, at Richmond, Oct. 13 1925, in dismissing a bill by minority stockholders asking the Court to enjoin the railway from effecting the lease, decided that full power over the leasing of the Chesapeake & Ohio Ry. to the Greater Nickel Plate System rests in the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

The minority stockholders asked the Court to restrain the general meeting of stockholders on March 30 1925, when the leasing project was ratified. At the conclusion of a five-day hearing Judge Moncure allowed the meeting to be held when attorneys for the railway agreed not to take any action affecting the lease until a decision could be handed down. Attorneys for the minority contended that the I.-S. C. Commission was without authority in the leasing project and that the jurisdiction lay in Virginia courts.
